What To Watch For Tuesday

The comparative total vote of Republicans and Democrats. Four years ago Eisenhower received 31,087 votes here to 14,422 votes for Stevenson.

—o—

The size of the total vote cast. In 1952 a total of 46,248 ballots were cast in the Presidential election.

—o—

Will the Democratic strength here prove increased over that of four years ago, not only on the national level but on the state offices as well?

—o—

The contest for Representative in the 4th Middlesex District. Will the Republican candidates, Rawson and Whittemore prevail over the Democratic candidates, Cannon and Cooke.

—o—

In this same contest, will Rawson, the only candidate of the four seeking reelection be returned to the office he holds or will two of the other three prevail over him.

—o—

The vote of Curtis and Holtz in the Tenth District Congressional race. Curtis carried the city by a large margin the last time but barely nosed out Holtz in the district.

Local Interest Will Center In Two Representative Contests

A total of 50,269 voters in this city will be eligible to go to the polls Tuesday and cast their ballots for candidates of their choice. This number of voters is an all time high for this community and interest will center, to a large extent not only in the many contests, but in the amount of the Democratic vote cast here in this normally Republican community.

In the 1952 election, 46,248 ballots were cast in the Presidential election and despite some predictions, it is likely that between 40,000 and 48,000 will be cast at the polls next Tuesday.

While general interest will be in the contests on the national and state levels, the contests for Representative in the 4th and 5th Middlesex District and the contest for State Senator in the Middlesex and Suffolk District will run a close second in interest. For the first time, the Republican aspirants for the office of Representative in both districts will be opposed by an equal number of Democratic candidates.

In the Fourth Middlesex District, veteran Representative George E. Rawson (R) will be seeking reelection and the other three contestants for the two places in this district will be John W. Whittemore (R), Leo M. Cannon (D)

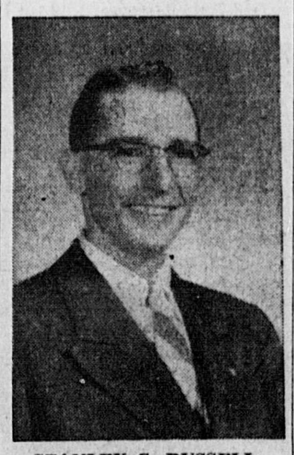
Red Feather Fund At 44 Percent of Quota



STANLEY G. RUSSELL

Total subscriptions of $133,094.54 were recorded in Newton's 1957 United Red Feather Campaign following the 3rd residential report last Monday (Oct. 29) night in the twelve villages. This is 44 percent of Newton's $300,000 objective, according to Franklin N. Flaschner, general chairman.

Fourth residential report night is scheduled next Monday, November 5.

The first of six Metropolitan "Dutch Treat" report luncheons was held Monday at Red Feather headquarters in Boston. The overall campaign total for the 48 Greater Boston cities and towns had reached 42 percent of the $6,567,000 goal. Total subscriptions amounted to $2,-

Halloween Sets All-Time Record

Last night's Halloween, celebrated at 400 parties held throughout the city, with an attendance of around 16,000 Newton school children, was the largest and most successful celebration in the 16-year history of this city-wide event.

Not only did the number of parties and the attendance set up a new record, but the programming for the separate parties showed an unprecedented degree of care, ingenuity and excellence, and reflects great credit on the 1600 men and women committee members who arranged and directed the activities.

In reviewing the celebration, Dr. R. Emerson Sylvester, General Chairman of the Halloween Committee, said:

"Newton has just celebrated its 16th year or successful Halloween parties. Again this year we have had the largest celebration in the history of the parties. The number of locations as well as the number of children participating has increased. Halloween continues to be a thrilling and wondrous time in the lives of our children. To the grade school child it is the masquerade of the

Religious Authority is Named To A-N Theological Chair

REV. DR. NELS FERRE

The Rev. Dr. Nels F. S. Ferre, Professor of Philosophical Theology at Vanderbilt University in Nashville, Tennessee, an internationally known lecturer and author on religious subjects, will become Abbot Professor of Christian Theology, the oldest chair of theology in America, at Andover Newton Theological School in Newton Centre, it was announced this week by school officials.

Dr. Ferre is widely known for his lectures and is author of many books in the religious field. He is currently lecturing at Manchester University in England.

Born in Sweden, the son of a Congregational minister, Dr. Ferre was ordained to the ministry in Dorchester in May, 1934, and graduated by Andover Newton the same year. He was a graduate from B. U. in the class of 1931 with high honors and was the valedictorian of his class. He holds Phi Beta Kappa honors and has been an Augustus Howe Buck Scholar and Fellow for many years. He received his Ph.D. degree from Harvard in the

951 X-Rays Taken During Survey Here

The Newton Tuberculosis and Health Association reports that 951 X-rays were taken in its free chest X-ray survey held at the Hawthorn Playground in Nonantum last week. Despite rainy and cold weather during most of the survey hours, an average of 48 persons per hour passed through the mobile unit.

Although no adult who came was refused an X-ray, the survey was especially intended for adults 45 years and over and most especially the older residents of the Nonantum area. First reports indicate that the survey was successful in reaching this group of people.

Reports on the findings of the survey which is one of the local tuberculosis control programs supported solely by the sale of Christmas Seals in Newton, will be ready in about four weeks.

Study Of Highland Branch Being Made

Studies aimed at converting the Boston & Albany's Highland Branch into a part of the MTA system for service to Newton and Brookline are under way, it is reported.

Inspectors of the MTA who have been riding Highland Branch trains recently are engaged in an engineering study to determine the feasibility of MTA operation.

Informed sources say that when the study is completed the Authority may file a bill in the legislature seeking permission to incorporate the B & A branch line into the transit system.

Cost of the project still is unknown, these sources insist, but they concede that a guess of $11,000,000 may not be very far out of line.

It is presumed that the MTA buses would act as feeders on the local routes through Newton to one or another of the existing stations. The MTA already has franchise rights in Newton and only approval of routes by the Department of Public Utilities would be needed.

There is no indication now that the MTA has any interest in the Boston & Albany main line, or that the forthcoming decision of the Massachusetts Turnpike Authority whether to use that line for a toll road extension from Weston to Boston would have any effect on the proposed Highland Branch change.

One More Lily Jumps Gun Here

Spring in October has sprung in earnest in the Newton area.

The early-blooming Easter lily pictured in blossom in last week's issue of The Newton Graphic in a Newton Highlands garden, evidently started a trend.

Another such phenomenon, an Easter lily with two blooms on one stalk, has been reported in the back yard of 88 Harvard street, Newtonville. Miss N. C. Drake is the horticulturist.

POLITICAL OVERTONES

Poll Indicates Eisenhower Will Carry Massachusetts . . . Whittier-Furcolo Race Close; McCormack Given Edge . . .

A poll conducted by this newspaper indicated clearly that President Eisenhower will carry Massachusetts over Adlai Stevenson next Tuesday.

That undoubtedly means that Ike will be reelected. If he is running ahead in this basically Democratic State, it is safe to assume that he also is leading in the nation as a whole.

The results of the straw vote that was gathered pointed to an Eisenhower plurality of between 100,000 and 150,000 votes.

Late developments in the campaign could increase or lessen that margin. It would appear, however, that the President's lead at this point is great enough to withstand the impact of any 11th hour shifts.

Ike seems almost as strong as he was four years ago. In some sections he may even better his 1952 performance.

year, and to the high school student a grand and glorious prom. No longer is the thought of vandalism uppermost in their minds, but rather good, clean organized fun.

"Entire families are working together to make this the outstanding project of the year for family participation and enjoyment; it is a tremendous relief and comfort to know where our children are, and what they are doing this night of nights.

"I feel that as parents, we owe a tremendous vote of thanks to a relatively small department of our city that has been the backbone of these parties since their beginning, the Recreation Department. Special thanks to Commissioner C. Evan Johnson, whose keen interest and experience have helped us to unravel the many problems of organization. To Mrs. Ragna Hovgaard, whose tremendous drive and thoughtfulness continue to make these parties so successful, I should like to say thanks, from all of us parents, her leadership is an inspiration. And to Mr. Nicholas Tedesco, who handled the refreshments so ably I extend my sincere appreciation.

"Further, I wish to convey my gratitude to Mayor Howard Whitmore, Jr., and the many municipal departments without whose ready assistance we could not function so smoothly and safely. To the superintendent of schools, Dr. Harold B. Gores, the principals, teachers and custodians, we extend appreciation.

"We are indebted to the clergy of all faiths for their active support. The chamber of commerce, with Mr. Frank Battles, president, and Mr. Lorenz F. Muther, have solicited many business organizations for contributions, which when added to the funds received from citizens, and the funds provided in the budget of the Recreation Department, supply the ever essential means to carry on the programs and to provide refreshments.

"Thanks also to the Red Cross, the Parent-Teacher Associations, the Civilian Defense Organizations, and the various civic organizations whose spirited aid is indispensable.

"I am most grateful to Mr. Emil F. Haberstroh, and to the local newspapers for excellent publicity coverage. To Bob Emery for his wonderful cooperation in arranging the Halloween program on WBZ-TV.

"To Mr. Monte Basbas, and Mr. John Whittemore, for their excellent counsel and cooperation as assistant chairmen.

"We must never forget how much gratitude we owe Mr. Douglas F. Farrington, owner of the Totem Pole Ballroom and Normandie Room, for continuing the policy of Mr. Thomas L. Gill in making their facilities available exclusively for the Halloween dances of our young people.

"It has been an enriching experience to work with so many wonderful people who are helping to make the parties such a worthwhile project. I wish only I might thank each one personally for the job you have done; may I thank all of you for your wonderful support."

Mayor Whitmore, in a message to Newton parents, and to all others who have the welfare and happiness of our children at heart, said:

"This year's Halloween celebration established an all-time record. Party locations increased from last year's 40, to 50; more than 400 separate parties were held, in which 16,000 school children of all ages participated; and 1600 men and women unselfishly gave their time and energy to the planning of programs. And may I add that these programs showed a degree of care in preparation that has, perhaps, never been equalled; certainly, that fact must largely account for the glorious success of last night's event.

"The people of Newton are justifiably proud of these city-wide parties, and derive great satisfaction in knowing they live in a community which displays such spirit and enthusiasm, and freely offers so much cooperative effort in carrying through an enterprise which touches every neighborhood and almost every home in this delightful city.

"It goes without saying that I am grateful to the thousands who have worked so prodigiously in behalf of all Newton's school children. All, I am sure, feel a sense of reward for a job well done.

"Much as I should prefer to, it is not, of course, possible for me to thank each worker individually. But my appreciation for what each has accomplished, nonetheless comes from my heart. I do wish, however, to express my very special gratitude to Dr. R. Emerson Sylvester, who has, for the second successive year carried heavy responsibilities as General Chairman of the Halloween Committee. How well he has discharged those responsibilities—how his inspiring leadership has helped make the entire Halloween organization notably effective—all now know. For myself, I can only extend to him my deepest, most heartfelt appreciation. He engineered a tremendously successful celebration.

"And again, to all who played their parts so well, go my sincere thanks and warmest congratulations."

Commenting on the 1956 Halloween, C. Evan Johnson, Recreation Commissioner, said:

"Halloween night 1956. The annual Newton Halloween Parties are truly festivals of fun and community activity.

"Throughout the city, parties were going along with full enthusiasm and participation by children and adults alike. The tremendous effort by parents and friends throughout the city in preparation for these affairs truly has been rewarded by the achievements of this night.

"More children and parents were in attendance. More planning and organization for the improvement of program. More spontaneous and enthusiastic interest by all who shared in this great program. These are the rewards to all of Newton for sharing in this great program.

"The Recreation Department is proud of your achievement. To all who participated from the youngest child to the oldest (young) adult, our sincere appreciation for your efforts and interest in this program.

"The Newton Recreation Department and entire staff is proud that we can share with you the pleasure of promoting this great community celebration."

In a recent bulletin to campaign workers, Mr. Flaschner cited the achievements of several volunteers in the campaign. Mrs. Stanley Pearlstein of Oak Hill Park became the first residential team captain to record over 100 percent. Charles F. Weden, chairman of Advance Gifts in Auburndale reported over the top, becoming the first village chairman in that division.

The staff of the Norumbega Council, Boys Scouts, were the initial Red Feather agency to report its employees 100 percent signed up for the "Ten Plus Club." Employees at the Newton-Wellesley Hospital recorded 100 percent of its employees subscribing to be the first hospital in the Metropolitan area to have its employees so signed up.

The first industrial unit to record oversubscription of their goal are the employees at Beacon Plastics Company, 82 Needham street, Newton Highlands. Employees at Datamatic Corporation increased their per capita giving from $6.43 to $7.39 this year. Mrs. Mary E. Krogman is company chairman.

Posting of village thermometers is being handled by Boy Scout troops in the twelve villages. The village and troops are: Auburndale, Troop No. 24; Chestnut Hill, Troop No. 25; Newton Corner, Troop No. 11; Newton Centre, Troop No. 19; Newton Highlands, Troop No. 4A; Newton Lower Falls, Troop No. 23; Newton Upper Falls, Troop No. 14; Newtonville, Troop No. 49, Nonantum, Troop No. 25; Oak Hill, Troop No. 50; Waban, Troop No. 9 and West Newton, Troop No. 7. After last night's report, top village percentage was recorded by Auburndale with 81 percent. Other top villages were Lower Falls and Oak Hill with 76 and 66 percent respectively. Village goals are indicated at the top of each thermometer and represent the combined objective of the residential, retail and advance gifts teams in each area.

The three largest communities in the Metropolitan area, Newton, Cambridge and Brookline are staging a three-way fight and have challenged one another on which community will achieve the highest percentage in the 1957 campaign. Details on what is to happen to winner, middleman and loser have not been announced as yet.

IMPORTANT LETTER To SUMNER G. WHITTIER

Dear Sumner:

From reading the newspapers and listening to television, I regret to say that your opponent is distorting unbelievably your record just as he did mine two years ago.

For the first time in any of the seven statewide campaigns in which I have participated I was compelled to take the air and charge my opponent with distortions, misrepresentations and half-truths of my record.

Apparently he will not learn that our citizens will not be misled by outright and deliberate misrepresentations of the record of a public official.

You can be justly proud of your record. Unscrupulous distortions cannot change it. I know you will win on November 6th.

Tigers Held to 7 to 7 Upset Tie By Medford Mustangs

Plagued by injuries to key men, the Newton Tigers were held to a 7-7 upset-tie by the Medford Mustangs at Dickinson Stadium. It was a fine, crisp fall afternoon and the Tigers were hoping to get back on the winning trail after dropping a close one to Arlington.

Newton received the kick-off but were penalized and yielded the ball to Medford on the Orange and Black 43-yard line. Dom DeVincenzo and Bobby Dell Isola led the team with a good running attack, but a penalty forced them to punt. Newton's offense failed to jell, and a poor pass from center LaTona on fourth down resulted in a blocked punt, and gave the Mustangs the first big break of the game. They moved to the Tiger 25 in three plunges, but a holding penalty forced them back once more. An intercepted pass by Newton's defensive ace Donny Christenson was returned to midfield, but Newton failed to move.

With two first string linemen out of action and a third playing with an injury, the Tiger forward wall was not opening up the holes, and Newton's attack was fruitless.

Midway in the second quarter Newton finally started to roll, after allowing three scoring chances to slip from their grasp. On a fourth down punt situation for Medford, Newton's junior end, Jimmy Yancey burst through and blocked the punt, with Ronny Connelly recovering on the thirteen yard line.

Two passes went for naught, and Newton lost the ball on the twelve. On the first play from scrimmage Medford fumbled and Connelly pounced on the bounding ball and Newton was knocking at the door once more. Keeping on the ground and hitting the ends, Vento led his squad to the one yard line, but ran out of gas and the Blue and White line closed the door. The third break came, and this time the Tigers took advantage of it. A bad pass from center gave Newton the ball on the Medford seven, and Vento kept his team on the ground and punched his way to the one yard line, where Medford gave way to the hard running of Manny Connerney and Newton led, 6-0. Jimmy Yancey split the uprights and Newton led seven to nothing at the half time.

This spirited Medford team came roaring back to tie the game in the third quarter, with a surprisingly strong aerial attack. The forty yard TD march was sparked by short passes to ends Maguire and Young, and a 21 yard sprint by halfback Carl DeBenedictus. With the ball on the Orange and Black two yard line, the penalty returned to haunt Medford, driving them back to the Newton fifteen yard line. This time, quarterback Pete Sullivan faded back and tossed a perfect spiral to end Davy Young for the score, and the extra point by Young tied up the ballgame.

The penalty continued to play an important part in the game, when Manny Connerney broke loose for a sparkling forty two yard touchdown run, only to be called back for a back-field in motion penalty on the Tigers.

Both teams battled without much progress until the final two minutes when Medford made one last bid to pull the game out of the fire. The Blue and White drove sixty-four yards to the Newton thirteen yard line, and on the last play of the game sophomore quarterback Pete Sullivan found a man clear in the end zone and completed a pass, which was called back for an offside penalty. Seconds later the gun went off, sounding the game's end.

It was a tough game for the under-manned Tiger squad and their lack of depth was evident to all present. This situation looms even more damaging next Saturday, when the Tigers invade.

With possibly the best running back in Class A football, Lynn English has posted a 4-1-1 record this season. Lorne "Tippy" Johnson is about the whole attack as he runs, passes, blocks, kicks, punts, and does about everything; and he does them well.

English tied Beverly 13-13 in the season's opener for them, and since then have lost to Peabody in a big upset, beat Nashua, and swarmed over Saugus. They are a strong team with lots of experience in that forward wall. A smart quarterback in Al Cook, and with their amazing halfback Johnson, they could give this injury-riddled Newton club a real beating. Newton will do well to stay within one touchdown of this club. Until Thanksgiving, Newton will stay on the road as they are in for two tough games. Lynn English this Saturday, and then their arch rivals. Waltham.

Power of A Vote

Around Election time, some people always grumble about the uselessness of voting: "How can my one little vote count?"

The American Heritage Foundation and the Advertising Council, who are jointly conducting the current nationwide Get-Out-The-Vote campaign, have some interesting answers to that. Here are a few examples of close elections they've collected—proving that a few votes could, and did, make the difference.

In 1954 Averill Harriman was elected governor by an average margin of less than one vote per election district. Connecticut's Abraham A. Ribicoff, in a balloting of nearly 1,000,000, marched into the Governor's mansion after he topped his opponent by only 3,115 votes.

In 1948 Lyndon Johnson squeezed into the U. S. Senate when he edged out his competitor by only 87 votes . . . out of 1,250,000 cast in the whole State of Texas. But in West Virginia this year, Campbell Stevens pulled off an even more breathtaking victory. He nosed out George Rairden for the nomination to the U. S. House of Representatives by just two votes.

For that matter, the mayor of the fourth largest city in Minnesota won his election last year by a single vote.

The power of a small number of votes has also been demonstrated in Presidential elections. In 1952, Eisenhower received the entire electoral vote of four states—Illinois, Mississippi, Rhode Island and Tennessee—in which the difference between his votes and Stevenson's was less than 10 percent of their combined votes. Similarly, Stevenson took Kentucky and South Carolina by 10 percent of the total vote. In each of these six states, if no more than five persons in a hundred had voted the other way, the state would have gone the other way.

And what happened in Maine, only a few weeks ago? The two candidates for Representative of the First Congressional District ended their contest with less than 30 votes separating them . . . out of 115,000 ballots.

Almost 105 million Americans will be of voting age by the time Nov. 6 rolls around. Maybe you think your one little vote won't count. But when you renew your faith in the franchise and go to the polls on Election Day, your vote can easily make the difference.

RECENT DEATHS

Dr. Harlan F. Newton

Funeral services for Dr. Harlan Fay Newton, 61, of 556 Dedham street, Newton Centre, senior associate in surgery at the Peter Bent Brigham Hospital, were held last Friday, Oct. 26, at 2 p.m. at the Harvard Congregational Church, Brookline, with Rev. Charles H. Stem officiating. Dr. Newton died Thursday, October 24, at the hospital after a brief illness.

Dr. Newton had served as clinical associate in surgery at the Harvard Medical School; chief surgeon at the Middlesex Sanatorium in Waltham, medical director and consulting surgeon of the Tuberculosis Unit at Burbank Hospital in Fitchburg and had been on the active surgery staff at Faulkner Hospital.

A graduate of Phillips Andover Academy, he received an A.B. degree from Yale in 1916 and an M.D. from the Harvard Medical School in 1920.

His internship was served as house officer in pathology at City Hospital from 1920 to 1921. From 1921 to 1926 he served at Peter Bent Brigham at surgical house officer, assistant resident surgeon and resident surgeon.

Dr. Newton was an Austin Academy Teaching Fellow in surgery at Harvard from 1924 to 1927; Workman Fellow in physiology, Harvard 1926-27; Moseley and Peter Bent Brigham Hospital Traveling Fellow in Surgery, 1927-28 and again Austin Teaching Fellow in surgery at Harvard, 1928-31.

He served as an instructor in surgery at Harvard Medical School from 1931 to 1934; as a junior associate in surgery at Peter Bent Brigham, 1934-36 and an associate in surgery at Peter Bent, 1936-37.

Dr. Newton had published many papers on surgery. He was a member of the Harvard Club of Boston.

He leaves a wife, Barbara (Hedges); a son, Seth W.; two daughters, Mrs. Robert S. Jones and Mrs. William L. Harvey; a brother, Dr. Francis C., a surgeon at Peter Bent Brigham Hospital; and a sister, Mrs. Christine M. Means.

Dr. Newton was a member of the American Board of Surgery, Founders Group; American Board of Thoracic Surgery, Founders Group; American Association for Thoracic Surgery; American College of Surgeons; New England Surgical Society; Boston Surgical Society, Inc.; Massachusetts Medical Society; and the American Medical Assn.

Burial was in Pine Grove Cemetery, Westboro.

Paul A. Waters

Funeral services for Paul A. Waters, 61, of 24 Rotherwood road, Newton Centre, vice president of a Boston wool firm, were held Wednesday, Oct. 31, with a 10 a.m. solemn requiem mass in the Sacred Heart Church, Newton. He died Sunday at St. Elizabeth's Hospital, Brighton.

A native of Newton, he was a graduate of Boston College, class of 1917, and attended Harvard Business School.

He was president of the Paul A. Waters Top Co., Inc., and its subsidiary, Bellingham Textiles, Inc., until their merger in 1954 with Nichols and Co., of which he was vice president.

Waters was president of the Sacred Heart parish Holy Name Society and a member of the St. Vincent DePaul Society. He was a former president of the Boston College Club of Newton and a prominent member of the Boston Wool Trade Association.

He leaves a wife, Eileen; a son, Paul A. Jr. of Newton; four brothers, Rt. Rev. Patrick J. Waters, pastor of St. Brigid's Church, South Boston; Rev. David B. Waters of St. Petersburg; John S. and James A. Waters, both of Newton Center, and two sisters, Mrs. John Dargin of Dorchester and Margaret V. Waters of Florida.

Burial was in Holyhood Cemetery.

Shifting and changing sentiment made it impossible to obtain a clear picture of the fight for the Governorship between Sumner G. Whittier and Foster Furcolo.

There were some signs that the two may be running a close race as they sweep down the home stretch toward election day.

Furcolo appeared to be leading Whittier when the poll was started.

The pattern of the returns while the straw vote was being compiled, however, indicated that Whittier may be coming fast and heading into a strong finish.

A good deal of uncertainty still surrounds the outcome of the gubernatorial conflict.

Boston City Council President Edward J. McCormack, Jr., nephew of Congressional Majority Leader John W. McCormack, appears to be clearly ahead of Attorney General George Fingold in their struggle to determine which of the two will be the State's chief law enforcement officer. for the next two years.

In a sense the pattern formed by the poll returns was a political paradox.

The straw vote showed that President Eisenhower once again is running with great strength and is seemingly invincible. Yet, it revealed that Statewise a Democrat current may be flowing.

The Democratic trend, if there is one, seems to be having no real effect upon President Eisenhower. Whether he will be able to help blunt it for the members of the Republican State ticket is something that only time will determine.

A strong closing surge by Ike could help Whittier and his running mates on the GOP State ticket.

A factor which adds to the difficulty of forecasting the outcome of the gubernatorial election is that the voting lists are down in the cities, where much of the Democratic strength is concentrated, and up in the towns ,which are normally Republican.

But where the new vote in the towns will go is a question that none of the experts are able to answer with any degree of assurance.

One positive prediction that can be made is that President Eisenhower will carry Massachusetts.

Minor Offices to Follow Top of Ticket

No attempt was made to determine the trend of the voting for the lesser State offices.

In all probability the fight for Lieutenant Governor between Charles Gibbons and Robert F. Murphy will follow the pattern of the Whittier-Furcolo clash at the head of the State ticket.

If Whittier is elected Governor, Gibbons is likely to be the next Lieutenant Governor. If Furcolo emerges the victor from the gubernatorial race, Murphy is likely to be his right hand man in the next State administration.

Big, colorful State Senate President Richard I. Furbush is pressing Secretary of State Edward J. Cronin hard in their fight, and Joseph A. Nobile is giving State Auditor Thomas J. Buckley as stiff a battle as he has had in a number of years.

Furbush and Nobile may be handicapped to some degree by the fact that the Republican voters ordinarily do not go all the way down the ballot, as is indicated by the fact that in both 1952 and 1954 the State elected a Republican Governor, Lieutenant Governor and Attorney General and a Democratic Auditor, Treasurer and Secretary of State.

Both Nobile and Furbush will poll some Democratic votes. Nobile will cut heavily into he big Italian-American vote, while Furbush also has strong Democratic contacts.

A strange figure in this campaign is State Treasurer John F. Kennedy who is running his own race and paying little or no attention to the rest of the Democratic ticket. Even stranger than his strategy is the fact that he'll probably be elected, although Robert H. Beaudreau has made a good fight against him.

Aside from the Presidential election, the two contests attracting the most attention and arousing the most feeling are the battle between Furcolo and Whittier for the Governorship and the fight between McCormack and Fingold for the post of Attorney General.

In some areas McCormack shapes up as the strong man of the Democratic ticket. He's young, colorful and dynamic. The one issue on which Fingold has attacked him is his youth. He's 33 years old. That could help rather than hurt him.

McCormack is generating some of his strength to Furcolo and is helping the latter. He is the one new face on the Democratic State ticket, who was not on it two years ago, and there is no question but that he is giving it a terrific lift.

Furcolo and Whittier Skilled Campaigners

Whittier and Furcolo are extremely interesting gubernatorial candidates. Each has a reservoir of strength on which he is depending in the coming election.

Lieutenant Governor Whittier is probably the most active, energetic standard-bearer the Republican party in Massachusetts has had in modern times. He covers a tremendous amount of ground. In the past four years he has attended events in virtually every city and town in the Commonwealth, and he has personally met thousands upon thousands of voters.

In a space of four years, Furcolo has built himself to the point where he is now one of the dominant Democrats in Massachusetts, with a huge organization behind him and an established ability as a vote-getter.

A little more than four years ago, Furcolo was virtually unknown in this section of the State. Then he resigned his seat in Congress from a western Massachusetts district to accept an appointment from ex-Governor Dever as State Treasurer.

He was elected Treasurer in 1952, was nosed out by Senator Leverett Saltonstall in a stiff race for the U. S. Senate in 1954 and is now battling Whittier for the Governorship.

One of the issues on which Whittier is blasting Furcolo is the latter's close relationship with ex-Governor Dever. Whittier is maintaining that Dever would be a powerful influence in the State government if Furcolo were elected to the Governorship.

There is no question but that close ties exist between Furcolo and Dever. Furcolo was appointed State Treasurer by Dever, and Dever has aided him in all his campaigns. Whether that will hurt Furcolo in his present campaign, however, is another matter.

Adlai Made Visit To Draw Strength

Both political parties were moving up their heaviest artillery this week in their last great push to election day.

Adlai Stevenson has made his invasion of Massachusetts and gone his way. He, however, was seeking to draw strength from the State ticket not to furnish it, and there was no indication that he altered the flow of the political tide materially.

President Eisenhower is expected to wind up his campaign here next Monday night. If he does, he may give a real boost to the Republican State ticket.

His visit on the eve of election would have great psychological impact. It is not possible to weigh its effect in advance, but it certainly would help GOP chances. That is one of the reasons the political experts are not going too far out on a limb in predicting the outcome of the gubernatorial race.

Governor Herter and Senator Saltonstall also were wading into the thick of the election battling in an attempt to turn the tide for Whittier.

A great deal will hinge in the gubernatorial race on the effectiveness of the jobs done by the rival parties in getting out the vote next Tuesday.

Curtis-Holtz Fight Bound To Be Close

Two conflicting influences appear to be operating in the battle between Congressman Laurence Curtis and former Assistant U. S. Attorney Jackson J. Holtz for the seat Holtz now holds in Congress.

Curtis should benefit from the tremendous strength of President Eisenhower. There is no doubt but that Ike will carry Curtis' district by a substantial margin over Adlai Stevenson.

Some of the President's popularity should rub off on Curtis, for in the public mind the Presidential election has a closer link with the Congressional contest than with any other fight.

Holtz, on the other hand, should benefit from any Democratic tide that is running. All the tests that have been made disclose that a great many voters will shift to the Democratic candidates after marking their crosses and pulling the levers on voting machines beside Mr. Eisenhower's name. Whether they'll shift back to the Republican side when they come to the Congressional candidates is a big question.

Both Curtis and Holtz have waged strong campaigns. They have big energetic organizations working for them. They have attracted large crowds to their meetings. Curtis drew a throng of nearly 2000 persons to the Longwood towers last Sunday.

On their past performances Curtis rates as a slight favorite over Holtz. The two battled it out two years ago, and Curtis won by a slender margin after a tight, tense race. President Eisenhower was not on the ballot then, as he will be next Thursday, and that should be an added factor in Curtis' favor. Sitting Congressmen also are not often defeated.

Holtz, however, has proven that he is a strong vote-getter. He proved it in the 1954 election and again in the September primary. If a more powerful Democratic tide is running than prevailed two years ago and if it affects the congressional voting, Holtz conceivably could ride it to victory.

One thing that is virtually certain is that the Curtis-Holtz battle will be close.

* * * *

Herter, Jr. Assured of Victory

Ex-Representative Christian A. Herter, Jr., of Newton appears virtually assured of election to the Governor's Council from the third councillor district in next Tuesday's voting.

An extremely able public leader in his own right, the Governor's son and namesake has made a strong and vigorous campaign. He has stumped up and down the big, sprawling district, which runs from Rhode Island the full breadth of Massachusetts up to the New Hampshire line.

He is being supported by Democratic and Independents as well as Republicans, and he should roll up a very impressive vote when the returns are counted next Tuesday night.

---the informed citizen---

A Weekly Column written and prepared by the Newton League of Women Voters and devoted to the principle that an informed citizen is a good citizen.

One of the most exciting days on the American calendar is Election Day. In the year of a Presidential election, it is especially exciting. We listen to the candidates, read their speeches, discuss the campaign and the big issues. Often, we generate more heat than light, becoming so involved in our discussions of candidates and issues, we tend to forget the jobs our favorites aspire to.

Will he be able to handle his duties and responsibilities? What kinds of problems will be What kinds of problems will he be called upon to face? In order to help the individual voter evaluate the candidate and his ability to handle his job, the League of Women Voters presents brief descriptions of the jobs we will fill on November 6.

THE PRESIDENT is elected for a four-year term at a salary of $100,000, plus expenses. He is responsible for formulating and administering national policy on such matters as agriculture, atomic energy, foreign policy, and labor. With the consent of Congress, he appoints cabinet members, ambassadors, and federal judges. He signs or vetoes bills passed by Congress. The Chief Executive of the United States is also Commander-in-Chief of all the armed forces of the United States.

THE VICE PRESIDENT is also to serve a four-year term at a salary of $35,000, plus expenses. He presides over the Senate, but does not vote, except in the case of a tie. During the absence of the President, he temporarily presides as Chief Executive. In the event of the death, resignation or impeachment of the President, the Vice President takes over the office of the Presidency.

We elect 14 to Congress from Massachusetts to serve a two-year term at a salary of $22,500 plus $2,500 for expenses. Together with the Senate, the House of Representatives make all federal laws, including those controlling currency and provisions for national defense. Congress alone has the power to declare war, propose ways to amend the Constitution and regulate all federal courts except the Supreme Court. A two-thirds vote in both houses of Congress may override a presidential vote. All bills, except those dealing with taxes and appropriations, may originate in either the Senate or the House. Money bills must originate in the House.

Senators are elected for a six-year term. No Senator is elected from Massachusetts this year.

The Constitution of the Commonwealth provides for the election of the following for two-year terms:

THE GOVERNOR, at a salary of $20,000 is Chief Executive of the State with broad appointive powers. He may sign or veto bills passed by the General Court. He is Commander-in-Chief of the Massachusetts National Guard. He acts as President of the Governor's Council, but has no vote.

THE LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR, at a salary of $11,000, acts for the Governor, in his absence. He is a voting member of the Executive Council, except when he acts in the absence of the Governor.

Eight members of the EXECUTIVE COUNCIL (in addition to the Lt.-Gov.), at salaries of $3,000, act as an advisory board to the Governor, approve the Governor's appointments, state contracts, and pardons.

THE SECRETARY OF STATE, at a salary of $11,000, is responsible for keeping all the records of the Commonwealth. He issues ballots for state elections and keeps records of vital statistics.

THE STATE TREASURER, at a salary of $11,000, is custodian and administrator of all state funds.

THE ATTORNEY GENERAL at a salary of $15,000, represents the Commonwealth in important civil and criminal cases. He gives legal services and opinions when requested by the legislature or state officials. With the approval of the Governor and the Governor's Council, he may settle any claims made against the State for less than $1000.

THE AUDITOR, at a salary of $11,000, checks the accounts of all state officers and departments.

THE GENERAL COURT, the lawmaking body of the Commonwealth, is composed of the Senate and the House of Representatives, elected every two years at salaries of $5,000, plus expenses. The legislature enacts laws dealing with such matters as appropriations, taxation, public works, housing and education. Bills passed by one House may be amended in the other. A bill may originate in either House.

There are 40 Senators elected each year, from districts of about 60,000 voters. One representative, to a total of 240, is elected for each 10,000 voters within a district. (Newton is in the 4th and 5th Middlesex districts.)

An important, but frequently overlooked, group of elected officials are the County officers. In Middlesex County, we will elect the following:

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS (2 for each County, this year) are elected to four-year terms at salaries of $6,000. They have charge of the property and management of county business and provide for the erection and repair of court houses, jails and other county buildings. They have quasi-judicial functions with respect to land takings for county and town highways, certain tax appeals and minor parole matters. They also appoint minor county officials.

THE SHERIFF of Middlesex County is elected for a six-year term at a salary of $8,400, plus full maintenance for himself and his family. He appoints his own deputy sheriffs to assist him to preserve the peace, serves processes, keep the jail and preserve order in the county courts.

THE DISTRICT ATTORNEY is usually elected to a four-year term at a salary of $10,400. The District Attorney for Middlesex County is being elected to serve the remaining two years of the unexpired term of the District Attorney elected in 1954. The District Attorney prosecutes all criminal and civil cases within his district which come before the Superior Court if the Commonwealth is a party to them or in any way interested. He also enforces laws and often initiates investigations into matters which especially interest him.

Other county officials, none of whom we are to vote for, are the County Treasurer, Clerk of Courts, Register of Probate and Register of Deeds.

Fraser Wright Wins Trophy

The directors' trophy, in memory of Harold A. Wiper, a founder member of the Waban Baseball Associates and former Ohio State athletic great, was awarded to Fraser Graham Wright, 38 Larchmont avenue, Waban, for athletic ability, team value and sportsmanship.

The 16 year old youth was the outstanding player on the Waban Chiefs during the past season, and previously played several seasons of Little League baseball with the Waban Braves. Now a 3rd year student at Mt. Hermon School, he was presented with the trophy on Oct. 28, at the home of the president of the Associates.

The following officers were re-elected to serve during 1957: G. Kendrick Bringhurst, president; William A. Durbin, vice-pres. and secretary; Philip Ver Planck, treasurer. New directors: Nicholas P. Arenella, Donald H. Gosch, W. Hardy Prentice.

A committee, headed by Hugh Munro and Harold S. Piper, will determine upon a suitable memorial to perpetuate the memory of the late Ira M. Conant, founder of the Associates.

During the past season, 274 Waban boys registered for the several teams sponsored by the Associates. This was the largest number to date, and included boys from 8 years of college age.

Religion In American Life Month Proclaimed

Mayor Howard Whitmore officially opened the local Religion in American Life Program with a proclamation issued today.

Calling on all residents to participate in the program, Mayor Whitmore in his proclamation designated November as Religion in American Life Month for Newton. During this month churches and synagogues are called upon to especially emphasize the importance of religion in personal and community life. The proclamation states:

"Our world today calls for men and women of good will to exercise their Faith by consistent, positive action. We must be strong and uncompromising in holding to the spiritual principles on which our nation was founded.

"Faith in Divine power was stamped on the nation's first money with the words "In God We Trust.' Our religious beliefs have steadfastly endured as the foundation of our way of life.

"The freedoms we enjoy today are the gift of God, no matter in what terms or creed we worship Him. It is our great privilege to exercise this freedom by giving thanks at our houses of worship.

"Religious Faith stabilizes the family and holds it together. By attending regularly the worship services of our choice, we build ...oral character for the individual, the community and the nation.

"To this end, the non-sectarian Religion In American Life Program calls on all of us to designate November as a period of dedication to a renewal of our religious Faith.

"NOW, THEREFORE, I, Howard Whitmore, Mayor of the City of Newton, do hereby proclaim November, 1956, as "Religion In American Life Month" in Newton and I urge that every resident participate in this program through regular attendance in a house of worship."

Governor Signs Rep. Rawson's Elevator Bill

An improved elevator inspection bill was among the legislation signed into law by Governor Herter at the close of the 1956 session of the General Court by petition of Representative George E. Rawson of Newton and Adam D. Strachan of Needham, chairman of the state board of elevator regulations.

The act, House Bill 299, provides that the Commissioner of Public Safety shall divide the state into districts for the purpose of inspecting elevators, each district to have at least one full-time elevator inspector for all elevators therein.

A city or town having existing elevator inspectors may have its inspectors designated as such by the commissioner, the bill states. Any city or town may constitute a district or may be a part of a district. If inspectors are not designated in a given district, the commissioner shall select an inspector and change the cost of inspection in the district.

It is understood that Massachusetts has the best elevator safety code in the country. Authorities have felt that adequate periodic inspection to enforce the provisions of the code is all that is needed to produce complete safety for the public using elevators and the persons operating elevators. Supporters of the new act believe that it will accomplish this result.

Newton Children Contribute Halloween Money For Needy

The children of Newton, 14,000 strong, for the second year shared their Hallowe'en "treats" with the 600 million needy youngsters around the world as part of the United Nations' observance.

Sponsored by the World Affairs Council of Newton and with the cooperation of the School Department, the United Nations Children's Fund (UNICEF) project has again been carried out through an educational program conducted in the elementary and junior high schools of the city.

The committee, under the chairmanship of Mrs. E. Tyler Parkhurst, has made available to all principals and social studies teachers a selection of film strips and other material for use in class room studies or in assembly programs.

As part of the project, Mrs. Ralph R. Shrader, co-chairman, has spoken to groups in approximately a third of the schools, and has shown the film, "The Children," which tells the story of UNICEF.

Envelopes with information describing the assistance that "UNICEF Pennies" can contribute, have been given out through all the schools, and have been voluntarily filled by the children from their own allowances or savings and given to a "UNICEF Mother" at the city and P. T. A. sponsored Hallowe'en parties.

Exact figures on this year's contribution by Newton youngsters have not as yet been ascertained, but the total of their efforts last year was well above $1500, the second largest amount collected in the state. This year, the Newton Committee, with the assistance of the newly-formed Massachusetts Committee for UNICEF, of which Dr. Harold B. Gores, superintendent of schools, Mrs. Parkhurst and Mrs. Shrader, are members, has increased the educational program and believes that the final returns will be larger.

The UNICEF "Treat for the World's Children" project was started spontaneously by the children of America in one community in 1950. Last year it was carried out in over 6000 communities in forty eight states. In many cities it takes the form of door-to-door "Trick or Treating," but Newton's "Trick or Treat off the Street" project, originated to meet the two-fold need of UNICEF education and cooperation with the established city-wide parties, has been followed in other communities throughout the country. Individual groups from churches and other organizations, identified by the official armband, are also soliciting door-to-door on days other than Hallowe'en and will add their collection to the UNICEF fund.

UNICEF, as an agency of the UN, is the only inter-governmental organization concerned solely with children. Newton residents may contribute to the fund by sending checks made out to World Affairs Council of Newton, or "UNICEF Pennies" to Mrs. E. Tyler Parkhurst, 64 Parker street, Newton Centre 59.

Experience Is Stressed By Curtis in Reelection Bid

Congressman Laurence Curtis was hailed by a crowd of 2000 persons at a reception held in his honor this week at the Longwood Towers as he neared the climax of his drive for reelection to a third term.

Spokesmen for a number of civic, veteran and labor organizations, meanwhile, expressed the belief that Curtis will be reelected next Tuesday on the strength of the record he has achieved during the past four years.

A former State commander and former national senior vice commander of the Disabled American Veterans and a member of the Amputee Veterans Association, Curtis was receiving strong backing from veteran groups as he came down the home stretch of his race.

While campaigning vigorously in his own behalf, Curtis also paid tribute to President Eisenhower's administration and declared that it has produced "a record of outstanding accomplishment.

"During the past four years," Curtis said, "peace has been restored, fighting has been stopped in Korea, inflation has been halted, and employment is at the highest peace-time peak in the history of our nation."

Curtis reviewed in detail his own record of service to the people of the 10th congressional district, as he asked for their support in next Tuesday's election.

He pointed out in speeches at house parties and meetings that the experience he has gained on Washington's Capitol Hill during the past four years will be of tremendous value during the next two years and will enable him to provide an even higher quality of service for the people of his district.

Congressman Curtis said that he has maintained offices in both Boston and Washington to serve the needs of the people of the 10th district. "And I think they have rendered excellent service," he added.

He declared that he has held periodic meetings with constituents throughout the district. Curtis asserted that on every measure to come before Congress he voted in the manner he felt would best serve and protect the interests of the people of his district.

"For example," he stated, "I voted against rigid, high price supports on certain farm products because the supports proposed would have increased the cost of living for the people of the 10th district."

As a member of the House Judiciary Committee, Curtis said, he supported liberalizing amendments for a more fair and less discriminatory immigration law and filed a bill to accomplish that objective.

He said that he worked in committee and spoke on the floor of the House for a civil rights bill which gave greater protection to the rights of minority groups to vote in Southern States.

Congressman Curtis recalled that he was extremely active in behalf of veterans. "I was particularly interested," he stated, "in the DAV bill for more adequate compensation and in the Legion bill for more liberal provisions for veterans over 65 years of age. I am strongly opposed to the recommendations of the so-called Bradley Report and heartily agree with the stand of the American Legion on it."

Curtis declared that he worked with other Massachusetts Congressmen to maintain a high level of employment at the Boston Naval Shipyard and other federal installations and participated in a successful fight to keep the Murphy General Hospital open.

Congressman Curtis asserted that he has presented the facts and the truth to the voters in his campaign for a third term.

He said his opponent resorted to tactics of deception in a pamphlet purporting to attack Curtis' record in Congress. This pamphlet lists votes on issues dating back to 1947," Curtis stated. "As everyone knows, I did not become a member of Congress until 1953.

"I am standing for reelection on a record of accomplishment and service," Curtis declared. "I believe it is a good record — a record of sound and diligent service to the people of the 10th district.

"If I am elected next Tuesday, I will maintain the same high standard of service and I feel that with the experience I have gained I will be able to provide even better representation for the residents of the 10th district.

"In Congress, as in many other fields of endeavor, there is no substitute for experience," Congressman Curtis declared.

Gov. Herter Warns Against Return of Dever Machine

Governor Herter warned today that a return to "Deverism" in the State government would mean a "crippling loss of employment opportunities for Massachusetts citizens."

He made that statement as he urged the election of Sumner G. Whittier as the next Governor of Massachusetts.

Herter declared that the Bay State had an unhealthy economic climate when he assumed the Governorship in January, 1953.

Owners of business and industrial plants were moving out of Massachusetts and into other States," Herter asserted.

"Business leaders looking for new plants were avoiding Massachusetts," the Governor declared.

"They had lost confidence in Massachusetts and in the leadership in our state government.

"The result was a serious decline in job opportunities for our citizens

"As factories and industrial plants closed, workers were confronted with the choice of finding new employment or of pulling up their roots and moving their families to other parts of the country.

"Some of our communities were listed as distressed areas and were in serious danger of becoming ghost towns.

"That situation has been corrected and the trend reversed since January, 1953" the Governor went on.

"We have been able to attract a tremendous number of new industries and businesses to Massachusetts, and as they have come and located here they have provided new jobs and greater prosperity for our citizens.

"It would be a tragic thing if the gains we have made for our citizens were lost through election of the wrong man to the Governorship of our State.

"It would be a tragic thing if the discredited political machine which caused the exodus of business and industrial plants were to come back into power," Herter went on.

"The losers, if that were to happen, would be the workers of Massachusetts.

"Cold facts and figures, which cannot be disputed or denied, will show that the policies followed during the past four years have brought new business to our State, have attracted a large number of highly diversified increases that have steadily built the prosperity and economic well-being of our State.

"Lieutenant Governor Whittier can be depended upon to continue the policies that have maintained a healthy economic climate in Massachusetts.

"His opponent, the product of a political machine that brought Massachusetts to the brink of economic disaster, can only be expected to listen to his master's voice," Governor Herter stated.

Herter declared bluntly that the election of Foster Furcolo would mean that ex-Governor Paul A. Dever "would return to the Governor's office by the back door."

"Furcolo would be Governor in name only," Herter asserted. "Dever would be pulling the strings. I urge all citizens who want to protect the economic health of our State to unite behind Sumner G. Whittier."

Tech H. S. Faculty At 50th Conference

The entire 22-member faculty of Newton Technical High School this week is attending the fiftieth anniversary conference in Northampton, Mass., in observance of "Vocational Education Week."

Established in 1908 in Northampton under a Massachusetts legislature law, the first vocational school was supported by state aid to provide for training workers for the many Bay State industries. Four years later, in 1912, Newton's own vocational school was set up, and during the years has advanced with industrial and technological needs.

In attendance at the two-day Friday and Saturday conference are: director James Forbes, assistant director Warren M. Switzer, George C. C. Batt, Edward P. Boulter, Orrin M. Brawn, J. Arthur Brouillette, Nelson E. Burnside, Richard B. Carter, Frank Clonti, Robert C. Densmore, Alfred P. DiPoli, Lawrence G. Drury, Edwin R. Hale, Edward A. Hingston, Philip L. Houle, William G. Johnstone, John H. Murray, Anthony N. Penta, Nicholas Penta, Frank J. Toscano, and Leon L. White, and Ernest P. Reppucci.

and Lawrence E. Cooke (D), all seeking election to this office for the first time. Two years ago, however, Cannon gave Senator Richard Lee a close battle for Senator and observers are watching his vote this year with particular interest. There are some who feel he has an excellent opportunity of winning one of the two berths on the ballot in this traditionally strong Republican city.

In the Fifth Middlesex District, Representatives Thresher and Heaney, both Republicans and both seeking reelection, will be opposed by Democrats Cahill and Walsh.

Representative Donald L. Gibbs (R) of this city this year is contesting for State Senator, Senator Richard Lee not being a candidate this year. He will be opposed by John F. Melia (D) of Boston, and upon the plurality which Gibbs receives in this city will depend to a large extent, the outcome of this contest. This district comprises the entire city of Newton and one ward in Brighton and one ward in Cambridge.

There is little doubt that President Eisenhower will not be accorded a tremendous vote in this city Tuesday, despite the inroads that the Democrats are reputed to have made here. In the 1952 election, Eisenhower received 31,087 votes here compared to 14,492 for Stevenson.

Another contest of interest to voters here will be that for Councillor in the Third District of which Newton is a part. Here Christian A. Herter, Jr., (R) will be opposed for this office by Frederick M. Donovan (D) of Boston. A former State Representative from this city, Herter should pile up a large plurality here over Donovan, and unless a Democratic landslide is in the making throughout the State, Herter should win this office Tuesday. A son of the Governor, nevertheless, the younger Herter has made his way in public on his own and has established an enviable public record not only locally but in national assignments as well.

An interesting contest to watch this year, and particularly as to the vote of Newton, will be that for Congressman for the 10th District. Here Laurence Curtis (R) will again be opposed for reelection by Jackson J. Holtz (D) of Brookline. Two years ago Curtis won this office by a relatively small margin and it will be interesting to observe whether he has gained votes during the past two years or lost some strength. Many feel he has done the former and that he will emerge the victor.

The voting strength eligible to cast ballots in this city, taken ward by ward with a comparison of the registration as of June 1, of this year, is interesting. Following is a tabulation of the total vote in each ward on June 1 and the present voting list eligible to go to the polls Tuesday. The comparison is as follows:

Ward	June 1	New Registrations	Total to Date
1	3,295	586	3,881
2	6,371	1,045	7,416
3	6,433	1,204	7,637
4	4,174	610	4,784
5	11,163	2,177	13,340
6	7,880	1,362	9,242
7	3,247	722	3,969
Totals	42,563	7,706	50,269

Of the 50,269 eligible to vote, there is at present no way of knowing whether the Democrats in the city have increased their strength or whether the Republicans have. This can only be determined by an analysis of the vote which is cast next Tuesday. This will be an interesting phase of the election here to watch as Newton has always been traditionally Republican by a large margin.

Election officials and observers believe that an exceptionally high vote will be cast throughout the city Tuesday and all are in agreement that every registered voter who can possibly do so, should go to the polls Tuesday, regardless of the weather, and cast the votes for the candidates of their choice.

The showing of Gibbs against Melia here in the contest for State Senator. Gibbs has entered this contest after serving in the House of Representatives and is a Newton resident. Melia is entering his first political contest and resides in Brighton.

—o—

Will the percentage of votes cast this year be greater than four years ago when it reached an all time high?

—o—

The vote that Christian A. Herter, Jr., receives here in his bid for Councillor in the Third District against his Democratic opponent, Frederick M. Donovan of Boston. Herter, for many years a resident here, should carry the city by a wide margin.

—o—

The vote for Representative in the Fifth Middlesex District. The two Republican incumbents, Thresher and Heaney, will be challenged for reelection by two Democrats, Cahill and Walsh.

—o—

The vote for Governor between Whittier, the Republican standard-bearer and Furcolo, the Democratic candidate. Likewise the vote for Attorney General, Fingold the Republican seeking reelection and McCormack, the Democratic contestant.

—o—

Also the several other contests on the ballot as well as the vote on the three liquor questions, which incidentally carried by safe margins four years ago.

—o—

In the 1952 election, there were 48,845 eligible to vote here. This year there are 50,269 eligible to cast their ballots next Tuesday.

School.

Mr. Cabot further states that the Mayor's Citizens' Committee, appointed Sept. 6, consisting of nearly 80 citizens serving on several important sub-committees, has already made one report of its activities. It is vigorously pursuing its program with respect to the problem confronting the city.

The Mayor's Committee opposes the extension of the Toll Road through Newton and this position has been fully endorsed by the Mayor.

The Committee has urged all citizens to participate with its effort to this end and welcomes support. Every citizen who has asked to be included on the Mayor's Committee has been assigned to a sub-committee for a specific activity.

The work of the Committee has been planned so as to form one united group for the purpose of protecting the city and its people and property. It is hoped that the crisis facing the city will not be used for any selfish individual or group interest.

In connection also with the meeting called for Friday evening, Rev. John O. Fisher, pastor of the Unitarian Church, West Newton, stated to The Graphic Wednesday morning that his group, which issued a statement on the proposed toll road several weeks ago is not taking any position on this public meeting Friday night nor is it in any way endorsing the meeting."

The Real Truth!

The record of Congressman Laurence Curtis has been most shamefully misrepresented. This must be exposed!

1. Support of the President's program:

   The Congressional Quarterly, a reliable index, ranks Laurence Curtis among the strongest of President Eisenhower's supporters.

2. Our Veterans:

   It has been falsely charged that Curtis approves the reduction of existing veterans benefits. The facts are that Curtis opposes any such action. He opposes the Bradley Report itself in this regard.

3. The Curtis voting record has been deceitfully attacked! It is a sound record. President Eisenhower endorses Curtis and his record. What more need be said?

Whittier Says Opponent Proposed Slave Labor Plan

SUMNER G. WHITTIER

Lt. Gov. Sumner G. Whittier revealed the details of his opponent's plan for an "American dictatorship" and a "slave labor program" as he continued his hard-hitting campaign for the Governorship.

In television addresses and in speeches Lt. Gov. Whittier expressed shock and disbelief at the details of the 25-year labor-draft plan his opponent proposed while a member of Congress.

Early this week the Lieutenant Governor began a whirlwind tour which will take him to most of the major cities in all parts of the State. He is expected to continue to rake his opponent's record while documenting the program made during the past four years under the Herter-Whittier Administration.

The Furcolo proposal, said Lt. Gov. Whittier, quoting directly from the Congressional Record, "will involve gearing our Nation to a wartime economy for many years, a wartime economy even if our men are not actively engaged in combat any place in the world." The Lieutenant Governor noted that if his opponent's plan had been approved, economic restrictions would be in force today.

Pointing out that the program called for appointment of a civilian director, he said that this "dictator" could "pull you out of your job."

"And if the civilian dictator can pull you out of your job and direct you to work for whatever salary he thinks is proper; he can tell you where to work, what hours to work and prescribe every other condition of employment. You could not choose what kind of work you want, you would not be allowed even to decide where you want to live. And, of course, you would not be allowed to strike for better wages or working conditions.

"Not even in the darkest days of wartime," charged Lt. Governor Whittier, "has any responsible American proposed a law that would do such violence to the liberties we cherish."

The Lieutenant Governor said the policy outlined by his opponent in the "Blueprint for Security" can rightly be called totalitarian. And, he continued, any official with the power to execute the policy called for in the proposal "can rightly be called a dictator."

Guild of St. Monica Plan Activities

A meeting was held recently at the Rectory of Our Lady, Newton, of the officers of the Guild of St. Monica, to discuss fund-raising plans for the coming year.

The Guild, composed of the mothers of scouts of the parish, is devoted to the assistance of the entire program of scouting in the parish, boys and girls, both in active work with the children and adults engaged in the program, and in raising the funds to support the activities.

Plans have been made for an active year, beginning with a cake sale November 4 in the cafeteria of the high school, at which cakes, made by the members of the Guild will be available for sale after all the Sunday masses.

The series of Home Card Parties, begun last year, will be continued and expanded this year as an additional source of revenue.

Hynes Endorses McCormack In Att'y General Contest

Boston's Mayor John B. Hynes today appealed to all the voters throughout Massachusetts who respect his judgment to join with him in helping to elect Edward J. McCormack, Jr., as the next Attorney General of the Commonwealth.

Hynes declared that while he was in Europe recently in connection with the Crusade for Freedom, McCormack served as Acting Mayor of Boston "and did an excellent job of keeping the municipal government operating smoothly."

He described McCormack as "my right arm in Boston's city government."

The Mayor said that he sees in McCormack the same fine qualities that he saw a quarter of a century ago in the late Maurice J. Tobin.

Hynes expressed the conviction that McCormick has the experience, the background and the will to make an "excellent Attorney General."

He said McCormack "would be the lawyer of all the citizens."

"I have watched Edward McCormack for the past three years, first as a member of the Boston City Council and this year as president of the body," Mayor Hynes declared. "I have come to know him well.

"I know him as a young man who is able—as a young man who is honest—as a young man who is conscientious, a young man with independence of thought.

"He has vigor and the enthusiasm of youth. He has sincerity of purpose and the desire to serve his fellow man," Hynes continued.

"I see in Edward J. McCormack, Jr., the same fine qualities that I saw just a quarter of a century ago in another young man then starting a career in the public service—the late, beloved Maurice J. Tobin.

"When I see Councillor McCormack campaigning today in the full bloom of youth—when I watch him presiding over a City Council meeting—or hear him speaking out for the things in which he believes — my thoughts go back down memory's lane to the days when Maurice Tobin was starting to carve out his brilliant career.

"My close and intimate association with Maurice Tobin is one of my most cherished memories," Hynes went on. "Today I have a close and intimate association with Edward J. McCormack, Jr., and the similarity between the young Maurice Tobin and the present-day Edward J. McCormack, Jr., is striking.

"Boston and Massachusetts are fortunate in having a young man of Edward McCormack's background, training and all-round ability who is willing to make the sacrifices that must be made in order to serve his fellow citizens in high public office," Mayor Hynes declared.

"Edward McCormack has the qualifications, the experience, the background and the will to make an excellent Attorney General. He would be the lawyer of all the citizens. He is the type of young man who would place the public interest above all other considerations.

"He would not be a headline hunter. He would work in cooperation and harmony with our District Attorneys and not against them.

Edward J. McCormack, Jr., now brings before the great jury of Massachusetts voters an abundance of the qualities which are so sorely needed if our State and nation are to know progress and vigorous and intelligent leadership.

"He is the sort of man I believe will serve the people with great distinction as Attorney General. I will deem it an honor to cast my vote for him.

"I ask all voters throughout the Commonwealth who respect my judgment to join with me in electing Edward McCormack Attorney General," Mayor Hynes stated.

EDWARD McCORMACK, JR.

Rep. Rawson Opposes Toll Road

"If the Toll Road is to be continued from its present terminus in Weston into Boston, additional bonds would have to be sold," Representative George E. Rawson stated this week.

"It is rather interesting to learn," he continued, "that the bankers are not interested in underwriting such bonds. How could they expect the public to purchase such bonds at par when turnpike bonds are now selling at around 89 to 93? In fact, an authority on such bonds has stated that since the passage of the Federal Roads Act requested by President Eisenhower, whereby a state will be reimbursed by the Federal Government to 90% of the cost of its roads, there will be no more toll roads built.

"The insurance companies are the largest purchasers of the public authority. It is inconceivable that they would buy bonds of an issue that has aroused a furor as this project has stirred up. Insurance companies depend upon good public relations. They cannot afford to knowingly purchase such bad public relations as would be involved here.

"This is most interesting to me because I have fought against the extension of the Toll Road through Newton with every means at my command, and will continue to do so as long as I represent Newton in the House of Representatives. I opposed the original Toll Road Act and with the other three Newton Representatives, am so recorded in the House roll call taken May 9, 1952. I also opposed the bill which would give the Toll Road Authority the power to make a study of a North-South Toll Road, and the $400 thousand appropriation for same, on the ground that some other community might face the same threat as the one at the heart of Newton. On the roll call taken in the House on the proposition at this year's session, all four Newton Representatives were recorded as voting against the bill. These are facts which the people of Newton should know."

Furcolo Appeals for Better Government In Mass. For the People

FOSTER FURCOLO

Foster Furcolo, Democratic nominee for Governor, with a scant few days remaining before election day, last night pointed up the need for everyone to "pitch in and begin working toward a better Massachusetts."

He called for shoulder to shoulder support to help make Massachusetts a "better place to live, a better place to work, and a better place for children to grow."

The former Congressman and State Treasurer outlined his position on numerous issues, declaring that "we must address curselves in a bi-partisan manner, to eliminating the shortage of teachers in public schools as well as providing more and adequate schools for the children of Massachusetts."

He also proposed a program procedures on a statewide basis in which the mechanical and clerical duties now imposed upon teachers would be lightened.

"In addition, I have suggested that we establish a series of Community colleges under the State University, to the end that more youths will be afforded the opportunity of a college education.

"I have suggested as well the need for programs to provide scholarships and incentives, particularly for our young people who wish to become nurses, doctors, and scientists," he said.

Furcolo said that the state must "go forward with real programs that will improve the lot of elder citizens, including steps to eliminate the burden imposed upon those receiving assistance by the rise in the high cost of living."

He said that in addition to bringing new industry into the state and revising the tax structure, he is calling for establishment of a Consumer's Council to help combat inflation and the high living costs.

"A Consumer's Council, representing the public at all rate-making boards and hearings, will help keep down the rising cost of living," he asserted.

To help the aged, he said that housing must be provided for the 38,000 elder citizens who have not been helped. He further advocated the establishment of a Department of Geriatrics within the Department of Health.

"I intend, if elected Governor, to enlarge and establish effective programs to improve the health of our people and to fight cancer, heart disease, arthritis, and other dread diseases.

"Special emphasis must be given to programs which will bring more jobs and new industry to Massachusetts. We must do all within our power to assist our textile industry and our depressed areas.

"We must also take immediate steps to promote the vacation industry of Mssachusetts, and to provide parks, beaches, and other recreational facilities for our people,

"I favor a sound program of road building and planning and a development of our natural resources. Perhaps most fundamental, I favor a frank re-examination and revision of our tax structure."

"Because so many of these and other programs are closely related to the activities of the federal government, I submit that my experience as Congressman and State Treasurer and Receiver-General has given me a background essential to modern-day effective state leadership," Furcolo said.

The Democratic nominee for Governor asserted that certain qualifications and proven abilities should be brought to the office of Governor, listing among them experience both in law and in State and Federal government.

"I am proud to say that I served two terms in Congress in Washington," he said. "And I am proud to say that I served as State Treasurer and Receiver General of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

"I don't think there was a city or a town in the whole state that wasn't in my office at one time or another, with problems that concerned every man, women, and child in the State."

Furcolo declared that to be Governor, "a man should have the support and good wishes of the leaders and the leading groups in the State.

"I'm proud to say that I have been endorsed by United States Senator John F. Kennedy, by the Mayor of Boston, and many others. And I have the complete support of the American Federation of Labor and the CIO. I am honored to have this support and all the more eager to justify their faith if I am elected Governor," he said.

Furcolo said that a Governor should also have a sound program for progress and improvement, "to make Massachusetts the best place possible for us to live, to work, and to raise our children."

"I have such a program," he said, "parts of it you may have heard before, because in all my years as a public servant I have always fought for laws which would improve the living conditions of every man, woman, and child in Massachusetts.

"I mention this because I don't think it is enough to talk about what has been done and then ignore the job that remains to be accomplished.

"My program calls for action," he said. "It calls for a better way of life for every person in the Commonwealth. And this better life can be ours if we all join hands and work together for it."

Furcolo, in the recent state primary, amassed the largest vote ever accorded to a Democratic gubernatorial candidate in Massachusetts' political history.

He is an alumnus of Yale College and Yale Law School, a navy veteran, and a former member of the Board of Governors of the Massachusetts Bar Association.

In Congress he was a member of the Appropriations, Armed Services, Steering, District of Columbia, and the Katyn Forest Massacre Congressional committees.

He holds the highest award from Free Poland, "Knight Commander, Order of Polonia Restituta," and is a recipient of Italy's highest award, "The Star of Solidarity."

Furcolo is married to the former Kathryn Foran of New Haven. They live in Longmeadow with their five children—Mark, 16; David, 11; Foster, Jr., 11; Hope, 4; and Richard, 2. They are parishioners in Longmeadow of St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church.

College Notes

Newly elected president of the senior class at Mount Ida Junior College, Newton Centre, is Miss Barbara Ferguson, daughter of Mrs. William Ferguson, 77 Eliot street, Chestnut Hill, a senior in the Merchandising course.

Miss Barbara Becker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Becker, 549 Boylston street, Newton, a senior in the medical secretarial course, was chosen to represent senior day students on the Social Committee of the Student Council.

Warren Jr. H. S. Notes

On October 23, 1956 through the courtesy of the Levi F. Warren P. T. A. the pupils of grades seven and eight were privileged to see the twirling performance of Miss Marjorie Gilbert and Mr. Harold McNeil. With their batons these Twirling Dervishes, demonstrated such twirling techniques as tosses, pretzels and rolls.

Miss Gilbert and Mr. McNeil are holders of many titles and are nationally known as teachers, judges, and directors of contest twirling. Their performance was thoroughly enjoyed by the audience.

In a battle at Weeks Junior High School on Thursday, October 18, Warren's star quarterback, Charlie Nelson, using double-flanker, end sweeps, line plunges and pass plays found himself confronted with a hard fighting Weeks' team. The game was even all during the 1st, 2nd, and 3rd periods. During the 4th period Warren's left half back, Bob Peredna threw a long pass to right end David Kellock which was incomplete on Weeks' 10-yard line. In the last few seconds of the game Weeks' offensive quarterback threw a "bullet" pass to the left end on the 4-yard line. Just then, the time ran out and Warren was saved from a possible defeat.

Charlie Nelson, a seventh grader, has showed outstanding talent in the quarterback spot. He has earned the right to be on the first string.

On the whole, Weeks showed great strength on both offense and defense and has proven to be a hard prospect for any other Junior High School.

At the grade seven assembly on October 16, 1956 a film entitled, "Instruments of the Orchestra" was shown. The members of the London Symphony Orchestra played the leading role in the film. Each instrument was introduced separately by the conductor with all instruments joining in the finale.

After the film, Miss Geraldine Seaver, the music teacher, led the grade in group singing. Some of the songs were: "The Marine Hymn," "Faith Of Our Fathers" and "Down by the Old Mill Stream."

The assembly, under the over-all direction of Mr. Roberts, assembly chairman, was concluded with the singing of the National Anthem.

Auburndale Woman's Club

The Scholarship Bridge and Hair Style Show proved a great success for the Auburndale Woman's Club when about 150 members and their guests attended the dessert bridge and hair style show Friday, October 26, at the Auburndale Clubhouse. Mrs. John B. G. Palen, chairman, and Mrs. R. Emerson Sylvester, co-chairman of Education, and their committee are grateful to Mr. Henri for his lecture and demonstration, following his introduction by Mrs. Charles S. Butler, program chairman. Models for the demonstration were club members Mrs. Earle D. Wood, Mrs. William A. Medlicott and Mrs. Charles A. Higgins, Jr.

Ladies in charge of special assignments were Mrs. Henry R. Graves, merchant table; Mrs. Frank Meyer and Mrs. William M. Rauha, candy sale; Mrs. Annis G. Asaff, refreshments; Mrs. Charles A. Higgins, Jr., tickets, and Mrs. Windsor H. Hunter, tables.

Proceeds from this event, held every year, are given toward a scholarship for any girl at Newton High School who qualifies and is a resident of Auburndale.

Corpus Christi Guild Guest Night

The Corpus Christi Guild of Auburndale will hold its Annual Guest Night next Thursday, November 8, at 8 p.m. in the Church Auditorium. Feature of the evening will be the well-known radio star of Station WBZ, Carl de Suze, and his topic, "Misadventures Behind the Mike." This is one of his most amusing and hilarious topics, befitting a man who starts his radio day at 6 a.m.

Mrs. Henry W. Lundquist is program chairman and Mrs. Eric Martenson will be hostess.

Tickets will be available at the door or from any officer of the Guild. Members are invited to bring family and friends.

Auburndale Garden Club

The Auburndale Garden Club will meet Monday, November 5, at 2 p.m. at the home of Miss Bessie and Miss Beatrice Tower, 18 Myrtle street, Auburndale.

Emil Freeman of Winslow Nurseries will speak on "House and Chhristmas Plants and their Care."

Writes For Teachers' Magazine

Mrs. Virginia K. Ridlon, 4 Highland terrace, Newtonville, teacher of grade 5 in Bowen School, Newton Centre, is represented in the November issue of "The Instructor," nationally circulated teachers' magazine.

A feature of the special children's book supplement of the issue, Mrs. Ridlon's article, "All Kinds of Books Are Interesting," tells about a dramatic activity carried out by her class. Photos taken during the dramatization of portions of "Mr. Bell Invents the Telephone" and "The Pirate Don Durk of Dowdee" appear with the article.

Three Liquor Questions On Ballot Nov. 6

Because of the prominence given the high office elections this year, there is concern locally that voters may neglect to vote on the three questions which involve the sale of alcoholic beverages in each of the cities and towns in Massachusetts. Through these questions the citizens of each community are given the right every two years to choose either a continuation of orderly control of the sale of alcoholic beverages, or a return to Prohibition and the twin evils of bootlegging and racketeering which are normally an immediate result.

On the economic side, it is a well-recognized fact that a return to Prohibition would bring with it loss of employment to thousands of Massachusetts working men and women whose livelihood is gained from the manufacture, distribution, and sale of alcoholic beverages and associated products. In addition, resultant losses in tax revenue paid to the Community, State, and Nation would seriously disorganize the State's economy ,thereby causing financial hardship to all of its citizens by making it necessary to further increase personal income taxes, and possibly depriving its nedy and old age citizens of present welfare benefits.

In 1954 over half a million Massachusetts voters neglected to vote on these important questions which affect their individual rights and privileges. It is obviously the duty of every citizen in his own behalf to register his opinion on this vital issue by taking the short time necessary to locate, study, and vote upon the local license referenda.

Royal Lodge No. 10, K. of P. Installs

Grand Chancellor Israel N. Samuels and his board of officers, installed officers of the newly formed Royal Lodge No. 10, Knights of Pythias at ceremonies held last week at the Andover Newton Theological School, Newton Centre.

The order of the Knights of Pythias was founded 92 years ago when this country was torn by a Civil War and the benevolence, offers particularly to young men, an opportunity to meet upon an equal footing the highest class of our citizenry and to cultivate friendships which may be and usually are life long.

primary purpose was to help bind the wounds caused by the dissension of North and South. Abraham Lincoln granted a charter, through an act of Congress, to help broaden the scope of the fraternity.

Today, Pythianism, based upon friendship, charity and

Candidates Speak Against Toll Road

Three candidates for state representative, George E. Rawson (R), Lawrence E. Cooke (D) and Leo M. Cannon (D) spoke at a Men's Breakfast at the West Newton Unitarian Church last Sunday, and concurred in their opposition to a toll road on the B. & A. tracks.

Explaining the political background to the toll road situation was Casper Dorfman, Newton resident and former assistant attorney general, who also opposes the B. A. roadbed as a possible site for the proposed toll road.

Following the breakfast prepared by Nicholas P. Arenella, a new committee was formed by Robert L. Townsend and other members of the Unitarian Church to organize further protest meetings to which public officials concerned will be invited.

DEVER AGAIN? NEVER AGAIN!

"After a brief period in Congress, the Democratic candidate for Governor was induced by Dever's promise of future support to leave the Federal service and accept appointment as State Treasurer. Dever delivered. In 1954, the Democratic nomination for United States Senator. This year, the Democratic nomination for Governor.

"Given this background, is it not reasonable to assume that the election of Dever's boy would mean a return to the incompetence, the inefficiency and the subservience to improper political pressures against which the people of Massachusetts rebelled in 1952?

"You face a choice between Sumner Whittier, a man of proven ability, seasoned by twenty years of experience in the problems of State government, and a creature of the Dever machine.

PETER E. FOLEY OF NEWTON CENTRE puts finishing touches on a poster announcing the $550,000 Sacred Heart Church building fund appeal. Admiring classmates at the parish school look on. Campaign canvassing by volunteer parish workers starts this Sunday. The contributions will be used to construct a new convent building and a parish activities center.

Archbishop Cushing to Address Parish Workers Tomorrow Night

Archbishop Richard J. Cushing, former pastor of Sacred Heart Church, Newton Centre, will be the featured speaker at a rally of volunteer workers in the parish $550,000 building fund campaign tomorrow night (Friday) in the Sacred Heart School hall.

His Excellency will instruct and exhort over 300 parishioners who have volunteered to make a house-to-house canvass of the parish starting on next Sunday, November 4. Pledges of contributions from families and individuals are to be paid over a period of thirty months. The appeal is the first in thirty years for major construction work in the parish.

Contributions received from this $550,000 appeal, Most Rev erend Eric F. MacKenzie, pastor of the Church and auxiliary Bishop of Boston stated, will be devoted to construction of a new convent building for the eighteen Sisters of St. Joseph who operate the parish school. The present convent structure is over ninety years old. Remaining funds will be applied toward construction of the proposed parish activities center which will include a combination gymnasium and social hall and other facilities for youth and adult social and recreational activities.

The volunteer parish committee for the building fund campaign is headed by William Brennan, assisted by George Burke and Daniel Griffin. Dr. William Egan and Ray Jones head a special gifts section with John Foley and Cleo Jaillet in charge of basic gifts solicitations.

Madam Induk to Speak At Second Church

Wednesday, November 14, Madam Induk Pahk of Korea will speak at the Second Church, West Newton under the auspices of the Woman's Council. Madam Pahk, born in Korea and educated in the United States, is a well known lecturer and author. Her latest book is "September Monkey" much in demand just now. She has appeared on many T.V. programs in this country as well as other countries.

Madam Pahk will lecture about her native Korea and the cooperative Christian school she hopes to establish there. It will be called "Berea in Korea" as it will be patterned after Berea College in Kentucky.

Newton women heard this charming Korean when she lectured before the United Church Women at the Newton Centre Methodist Church during the World Day Of Prayer in 1955. Again the women of Newton will have a chance to hear this interesting speaker as the guests of the Woman's Council of Second Church. The meeting will be held in the Young People's Chapel of the Church at 1:45 p.m.

All Newton women are invited to come to the Second Church West Newton on November 14 to hear Madam Induk Pahk of Korea.

Open House At Family Service Bureau Sunday

This Sunday, from three to five o'clock members and friends of the Family Service Bureau of Newton together with invited community leaders are invited to an Open House at the Bureau headquarters, 74 Walnut park, Newton. The Bureau is a Red-Feather Agency.

The event will honor Mrs. Bertrand E. Taylor, an early sponsor of the work of the Bureau when it was known as the Newton Welfare Bureau. Mrs. Taylor will be well remembered as a prime force in many community activities and especially for her work as president of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs and of the Hospital Aid Association of the Newton-Wellesley Hospital. During the years of her special support and work for the Family Service Bureau the agency took on new significance as a Family Agency, and in 1938 changed its name to the Family Service Bureau of Newton, Inc., by which it is since known. The Bureau's purpose is an attempt to "clarify to the community its interest in the family as a social instrument, to better express the belief in the family and to impart the agency's interest in those professional services related to the strengthening of wholesome family life."

To carry out these functions the Family Service Bureau maintains a strong professional staff, under the leadership of its executive director, Mrs. Catharine Holden. In addition there is a group from the Newton community of Board members and officers, whose work is concerned with an interpretation of the community to the Agency, and of the Agency to the community it serves.

Fun Festival To Be Held This Weekend

The long awaited "Fun Fest" at Central Congregational Church of Newtonville takes place this weekend. Starting Friday evening, Nov. 2, with a delicious home cooked ham supper, the festivities get under way. Gay with color, Central Church is being decorated in the spirit of a Carnival. It comprises a midway with booths of chance; a large country store full of gift items; a comedy-cartoon theatre for the children; the pantry cupboard filled with homemade goodies; Mrs. Barbara Holt, famous handwriting analist will give a full hour demonstration following the Friday night's supper; Herb Downs, well known local magician will perform for the children and grownups alike, plus Bobo the clown, which will make this evening long to be remembered.

Opening again Saturday morning at 10 a.m. with more of the same program, luncheon will be served at noon. A gala auction starting at 4 will wind up the fun festival . . . Incidently, admission is free.

Two Hundred and Fifty At Camp Fire Girls Breakfast

Two hundred and fifty fathers and daughters attended the Camp Fire Girls - Red Feather Breakfast held at the Newton YMCA last Saturday morning. Camp Fire Girl Judy Gilbern, chairman of the occasion, presented the following guests at the head table: Mr. Franklin Flaschner, chairman of the Newton Red Feather Campaign, and daughter Ronna; Mr. Alex Miller, executive secretary, YMCA, and Clarice Patton, composer of the Red Feather Marching Song; Mr. Norman Crew, and daughter Donna, 1st Prize winner of the Poetry Contest; Mr. Archie Hayes, and daughter Carol, and Mr. Frank DeLosh.

After the singing of the Camp Fire grace, Mr. Miller presented greetings from the YMCA. Winners of the Poetry Contest were announced as follows: 1st Prize, Donna Crew; 2nd Prize, Dianne Myerson; 3rd Prize, Ellen Snyder. The poems were judged by John Harrer, Kenyon Teacher of English, at Newton High School.

After a brief talk by Mr. DeLosh about the annual Camp Fire candy sale, a group of fathers and daughters from the Auburndale district sang a song composed by Mrs. Peter Coogan honoring fathers of Camp Fire Girls. The chorus included Mr. Dominic Dougherty and daughters Eileen and Joan, Mr. Paul D'Agostino and daughters Claire and Jean, Mr. Leonard Martin and twin daughters Pat and Pam. Mr. Archie Hayes, of Auburndale, was named Camp Fire Father of the Year, and was joined at the head table by daughters Kathie, Sheila, Janice, Marjorie and Carol for the presentation.

Jane Hopengarten, Blue Bird, and holder of the National Open Juvenile title for baton twirling led the Presidents of Camp Fire groups who presented the money they had collected for Red Feather to Mr. Flaschner, to the tune of a Red Feather Marching Song written by Clarice Patton. The presidents included: Sheila Cavello, Mimi Kay, Susan Tarlin, Deirdre Smith, Leslie Flagg, Nacy Forman, Kathie Babers, Marsha Hurst, Jan Currie, Maxine Finn, Carol Ransom, Marilyn Weitz, Frances Denty, Martha Hayes, Janet McDonald, Loretta Ryan, Janice Murphy, Lynn Rosoff, Evelyn Krongard, Mary Lou Asbell, Isobel King. Blue Bird pages who assisted were Lynn and Lory Rosoff, Kathie Hayes, Josephine Hunt, Linda Nash, Janet Onthank, Elizabeth Arac, Sandra Appel and Deborah Weiss.

The Breakfast was served by Horizon Club members as follows: Janet, Sheila, and Marjorie Hayes, Charlotte and Gail Riley, Sheila Cavallo, Joan Hunter, Joan Lally, Kathleen Tom, Sally Cahill, Martha Tracey, Joan Carey, Jean Rawson, and Joan Dougherty.

Mr. Franklin Flaschner complimented the girls and their fathers on a colorful and successful party, and gave a brief talk on the progress of the Red Feather Campaign in Newton. The entire audience joined in the singing of America, while Charlotte Riley, Horizon Club, Claire Beck, Camp Fire Girl, and Phyllis Vaccarro, Blue Bird, presented a tableau on the stage. Mrs. Peter Coogan accompanied on the piano.

Ready Details For Phoenix Fair On November 15 and 16

The last sewing day for the Eliot Church Phoenix Fair Festival saw great activity at the Hunnewell House on Tuesday. Dolls and dresses, pajamas and aprons, infants' wear, kitchen wares, gifts and gadgets were all there for the last stitches under the able direction of Mrs. George Harvey, sewing chairman.

Even the Phoenix has received some beautiful colored feathers on some of the posters announcing the Sale and Festival, for the story goes: "The Phoenix was a fabulous, sacred bird closely resembling an eagle in size and shape. According to tradition, at the end of its long life, it flew to the temple altar and there was burned to ashes. Soon thereafter a new Phoenix appeared, already fully feathered, more beautiful than its parent. It saluted the priest, and flew away to live out its days.

The Eliot Church endeared to a countless number of people has been burned, but thanks to the generous response of so many, and to the numerous plans for the days ahead, a new and finer Eliot will rise from the ashes of the old.

The Phoenix Fair Festival, sponsored by the Woman's Association assisted by various groups, and all members of Eliot, has as its purpose the raising of money for the equipment and furnishing of the kitchen and parlor of the new church, and to meet the budget of the Woman's Association for its many services here and across the world."

The Phoenix Fair Festival, November 15 and 16 at the Hunnewell House, 84 Eldredge street, Newton affords a great opportunity for everyone to assist the new church to rise phoenix-like from the ruins of the old.

Herter Jr., Says That Eisenhower Has Eliminated Discrimination

Former Representative Christian A. Herter, Jr., declared today that greater progress has been achieved during the Eisenhower administration toward the elimination of discrimination because of race, color or religion than in any four-year period since the Civil War.

Herter cited facts and figures to show that tremendous strides have been made in wiping out prejudices that have existed back through the sweep of the years and in establishing a true equality of employment opportunity.

He said this has been done quietly and without fanfare by the Eisenhower administration but that the prestige and power of the executive branch of the national government have been used effectively to break down the barriers of racial intolerance and discrimination.

The Governor's son made these statements in addresses at a number of meetings in his campaign for election to the Executive Council.

Ex-Representative Herter said the record of the Eisenhower administration in the field of human rights and its efforts toward a true equality without regard for race or color, was responsible for the endorsement which Democratic Congressman Adam C. Powell, Jr., of New York City last week gave to President Eisenhower.

Herter pointed out that Under-Secretary of Labor Ernest Wilkins is the first negro ever to hold a post that high in the federal government.

He said that under President Eisenhower 400 negroes are occupying policy-making positions in the national government.

Former Representative Herter declared that the first negro secretary ever employed at the White House, Mrs. Lois Lippman of Boston, and the first negro member of the White House staff, Fred Morrow, were appointed during the Eisenhower administration.

Herter asserted that under President Eisenhower segregation has been completely eliminated in the armed forces, in all schools on military bases, at 47 Veterans' Administration hospitals and at all the major naval bases, including those in Norfolk, Va., and Charleston, S. C.

Discrimination because of race or color has been eliminated in all airport construction work under federal jurisdiction, Herter stated. "The Department of Commerce will not award a contract unless there is complete equality of employment," he pointed out.

"The President's Committee on Government Contracts, of which Vice President Nixon is chairman, has put teeth into the so-called non-discriminatory contract clause by insisting that the big employers use an entirely non-discriminatory hiring system and extend the non-discriminatory clause to cover promotions and transfers," Herter continued.

"That means," he said, "that every person, regardless of race or color, is given a fair chance to move ahead and to obtain promotion to a better job.

"This has accomplished by showing employers that the system has worked," he declared.

Herter cited that when Ralph Bunche was requested by former President Truman to go to Washington, he refused to do so, declaring the barriers of intolerance and prejudice in the nation's capital made it an unfit place to raise his family. Bunche recently acceded to a similar request by President Eisenhower.

The President's Committee, Herter reported, persuaded the two biggest employers in Washington—the Capital Transit Co. and the Chesapeake & Potomac Telephone Co.—not only to employ negroes but to give them the same consideration as white employees. Herter paid special tribute to John Roosevelt, son of the late FDR, and Max Rabb, secretary to the Cabinet, for that accomplishment.

"Until the Eisenhower administration colored mail clerks did not have the same promotion rights as their fellow workers," Herter pointed out.

"This is but a part of the remarkable record of the Eisenhower administration in the field of human rights, but it is enough to show the tremendous progress that has been realized," Herter declared.

Special Telephone Number for Users Of "Goodwill Bags"

A special telephone number for 200,000 Goodwill Bag users throughout Greater Boston was established today by the Morgan Memorial Goodwill Industries.

The new number will be HUbbard 2-1894.

Wendell S. Moore, director of Goodwill in Boston, which was established in Boston 54 years ago and has spread to 115 cities throughout the country, said that hundreds of calls each day have frequently swamped the regular switchboard.

The new number will be in operation 24 hours daily—with clerks to take the messages during the day, and a tape recorder to listen to the request and address at all other hours.

Usable equipment and clothing sent to Goodwill Industries makes it possible to keep 325 handicapped persons at work. Many are trained in various skills so that they can accept jobs in private industry.

Moore said that Goodwill receives about 84,500 calls each year from an average 76,454 persons who use Goodwill Bags.

The new number will be linked to four private lines so that if any one of the first three are busy, the call will automatically be switched to the last one. "This should guarantee fast, efficient service," said Moore. "We thank our thousands of friends who have made our non-profit program possible for nearly six decades for their wonderful cooperation in making it possible to help the handicapped and unfortunate."

Capacity Audience Attend Candidates Meeting Here

Discussion and debate on issues ranging from a sales tax in Massachusetts to Federal aid to education took place at the Candidates' Meeting sponsored by the Newton League of Women Voters on October 22 at the Meadowbrook Junior High School.

A full house heard Congressman Laurence Curtis, candidate for re-election and his opponent, Jackson J. Holtz agree that we should do nothing hasty in the event that Red China should be admitted to the United Nations. However, Mr. Holtz scored his opponent's attitude toward government which, he said, shows "resistance to social progress in legislation." In rebuttal, Mr. Curtis said that he would support any liberal social measure if it were administered so that it could be paid for currently and without a huge bureaucracy.

District Attorney Ephraim Martin, Republican, and James L. O'Dea, Jr., his Democratic opponent, discussed ways in which the District Attorney could help solve the problems of juvenile delinquency in Middlesex County. Mr. Martin said that the legislature has never given the District Attorney a hand in cases of juvenile delinquency, and that the best way to keep the crime rate low was sound law enforcement. Mr. O'Dea, who wrote the legislation which provides for the appointment of school adjustment counselors claimed that there ar 47 unsolved bank robberies in Middlesex County.

Candidates to the General Court, Mrs. Irene Thresher (R), Arthur G. Heaney (R), George F. Cahill (D), Joseph L. Walsh (D), George E. Rawson (R), Leo M. Cannon (D), and Lawrence E. Cooke (D), were asked, "How do you feel about a general Sales Tax for Massachusetts? Most of the candidates were opposed to it, Mrs. Thresher cited the increased demands on government in the past ten years, and the need for funds to pay for these demands. Mr. Cahill said that the graduated income tax is the fairest and best way to raise money. Mr. Heaney called a general sales tax discriminatory and no substitute for the income tax. Mr. Rawson stated that we had reached the "bottom of the barrel" of revenue sources. A modest sales tax, he said, would raise more money and allow 60% of the revenue to be returned to the localities. Mr. Walsh said that he was opposed to any sales tax that was called a "general" sales tax. In answer to a question from Mr. Heaney, Mr. Walsh stated that "Home rule is a misnomer for misrule." Mr. Cooke called a sales tax a "regressive form of taxation which hurts those least able to afford it. Although uncertain whether a sales or graduated tax is better, Mr. Cannon said that he is against any tax which would add "additional cost to the housewife at the market."

The question of traffic problems which would be created by the termination of the toll road in Weston was discussed by the State Senatorial candidates. Mr. Donald Gibbs, Republican candidate, and Mr. John F. Melia, Democratic candidate, agreed that a freeway was preferable to a toll road.

Republican candidate for the Governor's Council, Christian Herter, Jr., was asked to express his views on capital punishment. He said that he was neither for nor against the abolition of capital punishment. However, he spoke in favor of a sales tax, since he believes that other sources of income are "dried up." In view of the state's fixed expenses, Mr. Herter thinks a graduated tax tax might be better than our present income tax.

The present Democratic Sheriff of Middlesex County, Howard W. Fitzpatrick, described changes he had made to improve the House of Correction in Billerica when he became sheriff. He said that he had returned surplus funds to the state during the years he has been sheriff.

H. Herbert Applin, Republican County Commissioner who is a candidate for re-election stated that the most important of the many functions of the county commissioners is the preparation and presentation of the county budget.

Candidates who were unable to be present were: Frederick Donovan (D), candidate for Executive Councillor; John F. Cahill (R), candidate for Sheriff; John W. Whittemore (R), candidate for Representative from the 4th Middlesex District; and Edward Buckley (D), Patrick McGlinchey (D), William Andrew (R), candidates for County Commissioner.

Edward Hickey, Jr. acted as moderator of the forum. Mrs. Richard Mintz, acted in the absence of Mrs. Seymour Getter, League President.

Standing: Mmes. Raymond Miller and Harry Parritz, chairmen of hostesses, and Mrs. Harry Intrilligator, general chairman of the luncheon. The luncheon will take place in the Community Hall, Newton, Nov. 28 and 29.

Whittemore Wages A Strong Campaign for Representative

publican nominee for Representative from Wards 1, 2, 3, and 7 has waged a most vigorous campaign throughout the primary election right down to the closing days before election.

In the primary election Whittemore polled more votes than any candidate from the respective wards for this office. Mr. Whittemore is the present Aldermen at Large from Ward 2 and has served his city well and efficiently through the years he has represented the city as an Alderman at City Hall. He has served on major City committees and has devoted many years of civic organizations. He has been a life long resident of Newton, and resides on Otis street, Newtonville.

As the campaign draws to a close Alderman Whittemore makes the following statement to the Newton Graphic:

"I want to thank all of my workers and the voters of my ward for their overwhelming support in the past primary to give me the largest vote of any candidate for the office and to nominate me as your representative. I assure you that I have been working with you to go on to victory next Tuesday. With your continued support I am sure we will have a great victory. I assure you that I will work for your interests, the city's interest and the interest of our State as your representative on Beacon Hill. I sincerely hope that every citizen will vote in the election. It is our duty as American Citizens."

Gibbs Out In Front In Senate Race

Representative Donald L. Gibbs of Newton is out in front in his campaign for election to the State Senate, according to a cross-section telephone poll of voters in the Middlesex and Suffolk District. Gibbs has support among Independents and Democrats as well as solid backing from Republicans, who consider him qualified by training and experience for the Senate post vacated by Senator Richard Lee.

Representative Gibbs received his education in the Newton Schools and the Bryant and Stratton School in Boston. After attending Bryant and Stratton, he became a successful businessman. He is vice-president of the Kendall Paper Company of Cambridge and a past president of the New England Paper Merchants Association. Formerly, he was treasurer of the Laminated Papers, Inc. of Holyoke and the Waterproof Papers, Inc. of Worcester.

Gibbs was first elected to the House in 1953 to fill the unexpired term of Christian A. Herter, Jr. In the House he has been a member of the Committee on Taxation and the Committee on Labor and Industries. He was also named to a special commission to study tax laws and a recess commission to study and investigate state and local relationships in government.

In addition to his service in the House, Gibbs served on the Newton Board of Aldermen for nine years and was chairman of the Finance Committee for two years. Very active in civic affairs, he is a director and member of the Investment Committee of the Rezecca P. Pomroy Home of Newton former vice-chairman and director of Newton Chapter, American Red Cross, being chairman of the Red Cross Fund Drive in 1952. He nas served in various capacities in Community Fund drives and has been active in the fund drives of Newton-Wellesley Hospital, Salvation Army and Newton YMCA. He was president for several years of the Newton Players, Inc.

Avery Lecture

Delegations and delegations come to Warsaw and Prague. Industry is bent to a new pattern—and crops run short. Who plans all this, and why? Miss Avery is just back from her fourth visit to Prague and to Warsaw, but the first since Communism took over. En-route from Russia to Yugoslavia, Miss Avery stopped to see the ruins and the re-building of Warsaw—the unchanged but different Prague. In all Europe there is no experience quite like this for one who has known these countries well and wishes to understand tomorrow.

Centre Businessmen's Ass'n. Square Dance Huge Success

Seldom has so much good, wholesome entertainment been provided for the teen-agers of the city as occurred at the square dance conducted by the Newton Centre Businessmen's Association. Everyone, even the merchants who pernaps have gotten a little beyond the jitterbug stage, enjoyed the festivities to the fullest degree. All are hoping that many more such events will be held in the not too distant future.

In addition to the festivities, many of those in attendance received valuable gifts, all donated by the merchants of Newton Centre. The grand prize of the evening, a portable TV, was awarded to Judith Casey of 136 Dickerman road, Newton Highlands.

Following are the names of the winners:

Programs of Rehabilitation Record of Sheriff Fitzpatrick

Sheriff Howard W. Fitzpatrick has served the citizens of Middlesex County for the past seven years. During that time he has worked for all parties, all races, and all creeds. His responsibilities in the conduct of this highly important county administrative office have been to all the people of our county.

The voters of Middlesex County have traditionally looked to their Sheriff for honest, efficient and humane conduct of that office. Sheriff Fitzpatrick's administration has been based on those principles.

Experience and training are valuable assets in the administration of the Sheriff's Office and Sheriff Fitzpatrick points to his many years of business experience in addition to the seven years he has held this office. He has served faithfully and efficiently and wishes to serve his fellow citizens for another term. He respectfully seeks their support in the coming election on November 6th.

Sheriff Fitzpatrick was appointed to the post of Sheriff in 1950, defeating Dr. A. Warren Stearns, former Commissioner of Correction. Sheriff Fitzpatrick brought to the office many years of successful business and administrative experience.

During Sheriff Fitzpatrick's able administration, inmates of the East Cambridge Jail, and the House of Correction at Billerica, have been humanely treated, with emphasis on programs of rehabilitation. His record has been remarkably successful. The spiritual welfare of prisoners at the county penal institutions has been carefully provided for with accomodations for men and women of all religious faiths. Their health has been guarded by regular checks by competent physicians and dentists, and the rights of men and women awaiting trial have been preserved under Sheriff Fitzpatrick's administration.

Sheriff Fitzpatrick is a veteran of the U. S. Marine Corps, with service during World War I. He is an incorporator of the Malden Savings Bank, Director of the Fellsway Co-operative Bank, Treasurer of Malden Housing Authority, Trustee of the Malden Hospital, Treasurer of Fitzpatrick Brothers, Inc., and Fitzpatrick Brothers Canteen Service. He has served as chairman of the Malden Hospital drive to raise $500,000, and is a member of numerous charitable, civic and fraternal organizations. He was honored in 1952 with the St. Vincent de Paul medal, awarded annually to the outstanding American citizen each year for works of charity.

FELICIA MONTEALEGRE, left, stage and television star, discusses dramatic sketches she will present at the Boston section, National Council of Jewish Women "Emerald Luncheon" Dec. 20 at Hotel Statler with Mrs. William Giddon, center, luncheon program chairman, and Mrs. Harvey Shapiro, right, luncheon chairman. One hundred women serving as hostesses at the "Emerald Luncheon" celebrating council's 60th birthday will be guests at a luncheonette on Nov. 7 at the home of Mrs. Irwin Benjamin, 7 Woodchester drive, Newton Centre.

Rep. Heaney Answers Opponents

In reply to charges made by one of his opponents in the forthcoming election, Rep. Arthur Heaney has issued the following statement:

"As we approach Election Day, and try to bring some order out of the chaos of charges, counter-charges, criticisms and defense of the record, sincere promises and rash promises, it is well to pause for a moment to take stock.

"On the State level, casting aside the camouflage, the basic issue boils down to this: has the Republican administration done a good job for the people of Massachusetts during its leadership, and if so can it be expected to continue to do so? The only honest answer to the first part of the question is "Yes," and it follows logically that the second part of the question deserves the same answer. Details of the achievements of the past four years have been repeated again and again and cannot be refuted. Real advances have been made in many fields—labor, business, public welfare, education, the penal and probation system, the court system, roads, and others. Let it not be forgotten, too, that these advances, some involving greatly increased expenditures, have been made without any increase in any tax rates. Of course there is more to be done—there is always more to be done, but I am proud to have had a small part in these accomplishments during my three years of service in the Legislature.

"My opponents seem to be campaigning on a platform of promises that they can do more for the City of Newton, Yet one of them, answering a question at the candidates' meeting of the League of Women Voters last week, flatly stated he was opposed to more home rule for cities and towns and strongly indicated his belief that Newton should not have any voice in projects which might vitally affect our community, both financially and physically.

It is obvious that my opponents, if elected, would be subject to a leadership which has always been hostile to the interests of Newton at the State level.

"The office of State Representative is the one closest to the people. It calls for someone who has become familiar with the needs and problems of the district through active participation in its affairs, someone with the civic background to prove his sincere desire to give service, someone with the business experience to act wisely on matters involving such things as a 350 million dollar budget.

"I honestly believe my record shows these qualifications, and am confident the people of the 5th Middlesex District will vote on election day to retain me as their Representative to the General Court."

Furbush Rests Case with Local Solons

Senate President Richard I. Furbush, Republican candidate for Secretary of State, this week rested his case with the voters of Massachusetts with a suggestion that they contact their state legislative representatives to inquire as to his qualifications to serve as State Secretary.

Senator Furbush stated that he is confident that 99 per cent of those who have served with him in the Massachusetts General Court for the past eighteen years—both Democrats and Republicans—would gladly recommend his candidacy for State Secretary or verify his qualications for this high office.

"If you have the least doubt," said the Senate President, "as to who is better qualified to serve as Secretary of this state—the third highest constitutional office in the Commonwealth—I recommend that you contact your local Representative or Senator or any man or woman who has held state office during my eighteen years in the Massachusetts Legislature.

"It is only fair to assume

that those who know my qualifications best are those with whom I have worked over the years to bring about better service by the state to the residents of this great Commonwealth."

Senator Furbush is seeking the office of State Secretary upon completion of eighteen years of public service in the state Legislature and holds the distinction of being the only man in 150 years to have been elected by his fellow Senators to serve three terms as Senate President.

Senator Kennedy sponsored the coffee hour and reception in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Holtz Tuesday at the K. of C. Hall in West Roxbury. Senator Kennedy made a personal appeal on behalf of the candidacy of Jackson Holtz who is seeking the congressional seat in the 10th district.

Retires Today After 36 Years With Hancock

Roland A. Mangini of 43 Palmer road, Waban, director of planning for the John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Company, begins his retirement today (Thursday) after 36 years of service with the Company. Mr. Mangini plans to continue his association with the insurance industry as a consultant on methods and procedures.

He joined the Company in 1920 as a section head in the Auditing Department. He transferred into the Ordinary Policy Department in 1923 and became Supervisor of the Dividend Division two years later. In 1936, he organized and managed the Monthly Policy Department and in 1938 became responsible for planning and methods under the Ordinary Policy Department.

A veteran of World War I, Mr. Mangini also served in World War II, attaining the rank of Colonel.

After his World War II service he returned to the John Hancock in 1945 and in February, 1947, he was appointed manager of the Planning Department, and in 1952 he was named director of planning. Long interested in office planning and procedures, Mr. Mangini is a member of the Life Office Management Association, the National Office Management Association, the Association for Computing Machinery, and president of the Boston Chapter of the Systems and Procedures Association of America.

Active in civic and community affairs, Mr. Mangini is a member of the Waban Neighborhood Club, the Men's Club of the Union Church, the Reserve Officers Association, the Citizens Committee for the Hoover Report, and is currently serving as a director of the Waban Baseball Association.

Miss Cecilia Colledge, well-known professional figure skater will be in charge of group instruction of Junior High pupils who will start six weeks of figure skating lessons at the Boston Skating Club, Soldiers' Field road, Allston, on Monday, November 5 at 3 p.m. under the sponsorship of the Newton Council of Parent-Teacher Associations.

Miss Colledge is a professional instructor at the Skating Club of Boston—assistant director of the "Ice Chips"—former British, European and World Amateur Champion—former Open Professional Champion—Star of the Stoll Theatre, London and the Roxy Theatre, New York—holder of the Gold Ice Dance Test and the Gold Instructor's Certificate.

Her assistants will be Mrs. Alfred Trenkler, Marsha Ganzel, and Mrs. Bunty Brennan.

Mrs. Bunty Brennan is a professional instructor at the Providence Skating Club and a former figure skating instructor at the Boston Arena.

Junior High pupils have a wonderful opportunity to learn the fundamentals of figure skating from this fine group of professional teachers. It is the hope of the Skating Committee that this new program will be so successful that it will become a permanent part of the Skating Program in the Newton Schools.

Newtonville Square Century Ago To Be Depicted At Fair

Newtonville Square as it appeared a century ago will look down upon the Town Square Fair of the Newtonville Methodist Church Thursday and Friday, Nov. 15 and 16. And just as at an old-time New England fair, genuine hospitality, good food, fine wares at reasonable prices, and a happy, holiday spirit will await the visitor.

Features of the wares for sale will be dolls of foreign lands, hand-made ceramic figurines, Ginny doll clothes in abundance, aprons of all descriptions, food worthy of the reputation of New England housewives, plant and flower arrangements, toys and clothes for children, jewelry, inexpensive but charming hats, table-tree-and house decorations for the Christmas season, hand-made gifts of wood, copper and other materials, hand-knits at reasonable prices, books and magazines both new and used. Here will be found Grandma's Attic shop, a heaven of treasures and trash for those who like to "rummage around". Madame Weda, the gypsy fortune teller, will ply her trade just as the gypsies so often did on old New England greens. The village post office will sell mysterious packages, postmarked from far-away places, and stamps to please collectors, old and young.

For small children there will be a nursery, and for older children movies in the afternoon. Pop-corn, fresh and tantalizing, grabs, and inexpensive items to suit small budgets will please the young visitors.

Luncheons, cafeteria-style, will be served both days from 12 to 2 p.m. A roast beef dinner on Thursday night will be served to those who make reservations early with Mrs. Henry W. Webster, La 7-5116. Afternoon tea will refresh the weary in the afternoon.

Mrs. Janis Kalnajs is chairman of the Fair, with Mrs. Earl Loew and Miss Florence Cobb as co-chairmen. Mrs. John Morgenthau and Mrs. Frederick Garret are in charge of the Thursday luncheon; Mrs. John Farrington and Mrs. Wilbur Witty of the Friday luncheon; and Mrs. Harry Abells and Mrs. John Newton of the Thursday dinner. Mrs. Theodore Koch and Mrs. George Taylor, Jr. will serve afternoon tea. Mrs. Sanford C. Simpson is in charge of the nursery for small children.

Decorating for the Fair is under the chairmanship of Mrs. Charles Scott. Publicity has been handled by Mrs. George Kent and Mrs. Arthur Gregorian. Madame Weda is the Gypsy alias of Mrs. Alexander Munro.

Table chairmen, whose work and enthusiasm have guided the many women involved in preparing the wealth of items for sale, are as follows: Aprons: Mrs. Edward Martinez and Mrs. Philip Livingston; Arts and Crafts: Mrs. Earl Atkinson and Mrs. Robert Toher; Attic Shop: Mrs. Loring Powell and Mrs. John Rambeau; Books: Mrs. Carl Swan and Miss Alice C. Smith; Candy: Mrs. Willis Gray and Mrs. David Lombard; Children's: Mrs. Albert Gray and Mrs. Harry Kinsel; Christmas: Mrs. Lawrence Farnham and Mrs. Arthur Hare; Dolls: Mrs. Edward Heckman and Mrs. Edward Raphel; Food: Mrs. Clarence White and Mrs. George Taylor, Sr.; Jewelry: Mrs. Albert Newell and Mrs. Louis Peck; Millinery: Miss Anna Kingham and Mrs. Dana Clark; Parcel Post: Mrs. Edward Sabatini; and Plants: Mrs. Bernard Brooks and Mrs. John Garing.

NEWTON LEADERS, Combined Jewish Appeal Women's Division, now aiming for 100 percent card coverage to help make campaign closing dinner, Sunday, November 4, at Hotel Somerset, a Victory Dinner are, left to right: Mmes. Samuel Diegott, chairman, and Joseph Soltz, vice chairman. Funds raised support 201 Jewish health and welfare agencies here and internationally. Additional gift to Survival Fund is used to rescue and resettle North African Jews in Israel.

JUNIOR RED CROSS
By Barbara Olans
9th Grade

The Bigelow Junior Red Cross is meeting this year under the supervision of Mrs. Cheever.

Two able students are elected from each homeroom to represent their class at the meetings. We know that these representatives will help us to make this year in Red Cross a very profitable one.

The officers were elected at the first meeting of this season. Barbara Olans is the President; Pamela Wilson, Vice President; Lillian Rich, Secretary, and Jason Fredman, Treasurer.

The drive has not started yet. We hope this year, as in the previous years, to make a larger contribution to the American Red Cross than any other junior high school in Newton.

PROJECTORS CLUB
By Ellen Gilman
7th Grade

This year Mr. Sinewitz is the faculty advisor to a very interesting group called the projectors club. The purpose of the club is to install an Audio-Visual Aids program throughout the school. Each room is to have a representative fully trained to run and maintain the machinery.

There are no officers as yet, but elections of these privileged people will take place in the near future.

All this work is in the building process, and it is hoped that the organization will eventually be completed.

SCHOOL LIBRARY
By Judith Nissen
9th Grade

There were 187 applicants for the library staff, from which our school librarian, Miss Myer, chose 42. These students represent all three grades of our school.

The library staff assists in the library. The students work at the desk, prepare the books for circulation, repair the books, and work on special projects (exhibits). At present there is quite a display of book jackets on the second floor, in the showcase.

The library staff meets during activity period on the first and third Fridays of each month. At these meetings the librarians are informed of the activities in the library and its needs, so that they may conduct themselves accordingly.

The meetings are conducted by the President, Barbara Hayes; Vice President, Gerald Kaplan, and Secretary, Peggy Rosenbaum.

A student supervisor is chosen each month to see that things run smoothly (checking fines, counting of circulation, checking of the passes of students admitted to the library, warning students in the library (before the end-of-period bell rings) to be sure that their books are checked out and that the library is left neat. The Student Supervisor for this month is Robert Kravitz.

The library received 185 new books and there are 87 more coming. This number includes Science, Art, History, Biography, some interesting novels, and two sets of Encyclopedias.

Our library receives 28 magazines and three newspapers.

Our collection of college catalogues is also up-to-date (this is especially helpful to the ninth graders in their guidance unit on future plans).

At any time our books may be supplemented by a loan from the Newton Free Library. At present we have 150 books that we have borrowed from them.

SPORTS SCENE
By Jeffrey Cohen
9th Grade

Bigelow outplayed Meadowbrook to take the varsity second game 13-7, making their season's record two wins and no losses.

Both of Bigelow's touchdowns were scored on passes from quarterback George Pappas to halfback Brooks Burlingame. The first score came in the first period when on the opening kick-off Bob Beauregard recovered a Meadowbrook fumble on the Meadowbrook 25 yard line. A few plays later, quarterback Pappas connected with Brooks who took the pigskin over the goal for the score. Halfback Burlingame then rushed the ball over for the extra point.

Then in the second quarter the same combination connected again. The extra point failed this time.

Meadowbrook's tally came in the closing moments of the first period. It would have happened much sooner had not John Lansed made a flying tackle to stop the Meadowbrook left halfback who almost got into the open.

George Pappas not only called a brilliant game as quarterback, and threw two touchdown passes, but was elected permanent captain before the game.

MUSIC
By Toni Pompeo
9th Grade

Music and singing, a source of pleasure and enjoyment, is well on its way again this year to being one of the most popular activities for seventh, eighth and ninth grade students at Bigelow.

A glee club has been established: Boys' Glee on Thursday and Girls' Glee on Tuesday. To participate, the girls must be in the eighth or ninth grade, while boys starting in the seventh are welcome because of their high voices, which lend a note of variety to the singing. The glee clubs are under the able guidance of Miss Hubbard.

The singers are accompanied by the talented pianists.

Our aim is to have music enjoyment for students, teachers and parents alike. Music and singing both are relaxing pleasures for all.

Bazaar hours, ten a.m. to ten p.m.

College Notes

Matthew J. Murtha, Jr., 75 Clinton place, Newton, was elected vice president of the Middlesex Chapter, Bentley Alumni Association, Bentley School of Accounting and Finance, at a recent meeting of the Chapter.

Mr. Murtha was graduated from Bentley School in 1938 and is now compltroller for the Sanborn Company in Cambridge.

George P. Kineman, 53 Court street, Newton, was elected Director of Administration for the Association. He was graduated from the Bentley School in 1949 and is now comptroller for the Standard Duplicating Machines Corporation, Everett.

Cahill Making Aggressive Bid For Representative Seat

One of the most aggressive and personalized campaigns in Newton's history is being waged by George F. Cahill, 74 Manet road, Chestnut Hill in his campaign for State Representative for the 5th Middlesex District, covering Newton Wards 4, 5, and 6. Turning his busy law office over to his associates, Cahill has devoted full time to the campaign and has visited every home in his District and talked to over ten thousand voters personally.

Cahill, a life-long resident of Newton and a graduate of Newton High School, has surrounded himself with a large group of aggressive, and successful Newton executives who are helping him make a personal contact with every home and business in Wards 4, 5, and 6. The successful Democratic nominee, George F. Cahill stated to the GRAPHIC, "I do not think that presenting yourself for public office is something that should be taken lightly, whether for election or re-election. I want the voters of my District to see me, to hear me, and to decide for themselves if I am the man they want for Representative. I have walked the streets, rang doorbells, and talked to the merchants of my area and it has been the most satisfying experience of my life."

Cahill is the son of the late prominent attorney George F. Cahill and received his A.B. from Holy Cross College in 1949 where he was the president of his class. He received his law degree from Northeastern University in 1952 and has been engaged in private practice with offices at 18 Tremont street, Boston. He has served two years with Army Intelligence, being discharged last January. His brother, Attorney Charles A. Cahill, has been called to active duty with the U. S. Navy as an Ensign.

At Newton High, Cahill was active in the school affairs being Chairman of the Civics Board, a track star and originator of the Newton Student Canteen. He was a recipient of the Lt. Stafford L. Brown scholarship. At Northeastern University he was awarded the prize of senior scholastic achievement:

Cahill has built his campaign around the theme "Give Newton's New Generation a Chance" and he has sharply criticized the "routine, ineffective" representation Newton has received. He called attention to the two mailing cards of his opponents and their "absolute identical make-up which indicates that some one is handling them like puppets." Cahill has received considerable comment on his public mailings.

The program on which Mr. Cahill is running, and which has received the support of such Newton residents as John P. Curley, Graduate Manager of Athletics at Boston College; Mrs. John C. McClintock, prominent civic leader; Morris R. Spelfolge, Jewish community leader; and Louis J. Vassalotti, well-known Newton industrialist, is based on these five points:

For complete investigation and appraisal of the toll road situation.

For revision of the tax structure to alleviate the present unwarranted burden on real estate.

For re-establishment of an economic climate within the Commonwealth for the benefit of industry.

For expansion of our educational program.

For reporting directly to the people on legislation before the General Court.

At present Mr. Cahill is a member of the Boston and Massachusetts Bar Associations, the Military Intelligence Association of New England, and is a Vice-President of the Holy Cross Club of Boston. Since his return from service he has been a member of the Newton Junior Chamber of Commerce and was active in the Newton Cancer Drive.

Senior Play to Be Presented November 16-17

The performances will be held Friday, November 16 at 3:00 and 8:15, and on Saturday, November 17 at 8:15.

Rehearsals are well under way and the entire cast in rushing against time in order to get the show "on the road."

College Notes

Susan Jacobson, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Bernard Jacobson of 185 Collins road, Waban, has been elected President of Beecher House, her dormitory at the University of Chicago. She will be in charge of planning and carrying out all activities of her dormitory.

Miss Jacobson attended Newton High School, Newton, and Mt. Holyoke College, where she was active in student government, before transferring to the University of Chicago.

College Notes

Donald E. Loew, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl R. Loew of 60 Hull street, Newtonville, has recently been elected Social Chairman of his dormitory, North Caswell. This is one of the undergraduate dormitories on the Brown campus. Donald is a member of the Class of 1959. A graduate of Newton High School, he is a candidate for the Bachelor of Arts Degree.

Annual Cub Leaders Pow Wow Is Planned for Sunday

The annual Cub Leaders Powwow for all adults connected with Cub Scouting in Newton, Wellesley and Weston will be held at 1:30 p.m. Nov. 4, at the Beethoven School in Waban.

All of the Packs will be represented at the Powwow. There will be exhibits of things the Cubs have done and also a Midway of games used for pre-opening activities. The exhibits are under the leadership of John Emery of Newton Centre. The Midway is under the leadership of Hy Kaplan of Newton.

There will be four sections to the actual program of the Powwow. They are: Games handicraft, ceremonies, skits, and stunts, and pack administration. Heading up these sections are Dr. Thomas Ford of Newton Centre, Gerald Matthews of West Newton and William Kuske of Wellesley.

General chairman is Norman Steele of Wellesley.

The games section will teach how to lead Den and Pack games. It will provide many new games that are related to the themes of the month throughout the coming program year.

The Handicraft Section will present many handicraft ideas to Den Mothers and they will actually make the things presented.

Ceremonies, skits and stunts are important parts of all Den and Pack Activities. Pack committeemen and cubmasters will be among those in attendance at this section. There will be plenty of new ideas on ceremonies. Skits and stunts are at their best when they are planned by the Cubs themselves. This section will show how to accomplish this. Among those helping out in this section will be G. A. Zucker of Arlington who gave such a wonderful demonstration last year.

The Pack Administration section under the leadership of Bill Kuske will, for the first time in many years, make administration interesting and full of gimmicks. This section will give the know-how. It is designed for Pack chairmen and committee members.

It all takes place at the Beethoven School which is just off Beacon street in Waban.

Art Exhibit

The Arts and Crafts Committee of the Newton Centre Woman's Club announce the annual exhibit by the Newton Art Association to be held at the Woman's Club House. The exhibit will open Friday evening, November 9, and a tea will be served for exhibitors and their friends on Saturday, November 10, from three until five o'clock. This exhibit will be shown in the gallery for two weeks.

Mrs. Howard Kline, Mrs. Parker Pond, Mrs. Cornell Appleton and Mrs. Ralph Hudson are in charge of arrangements with Mrs. Harold Keller, chairman of the Art Committee.

Pourers at the tea will be Mrs. Martin Connelly, Miss Priscilla Ordway, Mrs. Amos Kent and also Mrs. Hugo Jahu, the vice-chairman of the Arts and Crafts Committee.

Chamber Backs Mayor's Toll Road Committee

The directors of the Newton chamber of commerce Tuesday night voted to endorse the recommendations of the Mayor's Citizens' Committee on the Toll Road. They also voted to oppose a resolution pending before the Board of Aldermen to curtail the present manufacturing zone on Elmwood street in Newton Corner.

The current recommendations of the Mayor's Citizens' Committee, a group comprising about 80 citizens who are studying the various phases of the Toll Road problem with the Mayor, may be summarized as follows:

1. Opposition to any extension of the Toll Road into Boston through Newton.

2. Preference for a Freeway to service the traffic needs of communities west of Boston, using Federal and State funds on a 90-10 basis.

3. The route of the Freeway should be located so as to best service Newton and adjacent communities. A more specific recommendation as to route location should be further studied, but it should follow, broadly speaking, the Charles River Northern boundary.

4. That the Mayor, in his judgment, seek a conference with the top officials of the New York Central to express to them the desire to retain rail, freight, and commuter services to Newton and neighboring communities and to discuss all phases of the matter with them.

In the discussion on the proposed cut-back of the existing manufacturing zone, it was pointed out that the city needs more business and manufacturing enterprises to help pay for the ever increasing costs and demands made on it by the expanding population in residential areas, and that there is now in Newton no substantial tract of land available for further industrial growth which is not under option, under operation or under water.

Considered Ideal Choice By Party

A vigorous campaign is being conducted for the office of District Attorney of Middlesex County by Ephraim Martin, a veteran of both world wars, a lawyer of 34 years experience and first assistant district attorney of Middlesex for 14 years, is considered by his party as the ideal choice to wage a successful fight in those 54 cities and towns to keep the prosecutor's post in the Republican column. He has said he is motivated to seek the office by the sole desire to retain for the county the high quality of law administration it had under Judge Thompson and under former Governor Robert F. Bradford, who was Thompson's predecessor.

Speaking on what kind of a district attorney the residents of Middlesex County want, Mr. Martin says, "The people who live in Middlesex, irrespective of their political persuasion, like the very low incidence of crime in the county, and the fair, able and impartial administration of the law that keeps crime down. They want their county, which is so largely residential, kept clean in all respects, a decent and safe place in which to live."

Miss Mary Tudbury RN, former clinical instructor of Psychiatric Nursing at the Boston State Hospital, has been awarded a scholarship for her Master's Degree in Psychiatric Nursing at Boston University, School of Nursing, granted by the National Institute for Mental Health.

Hearing-

Gov. Whittier, Attorney General Fingold, William F. Callahan, chairman of the Massachusetts Turnpike Authority and local officials to attend. Attorney Arenella state that the meeting would be conducted on a style of the old town meeting with the people of Newton asking questions of their officials.

The Citizens Committee Against the Toll Road has no connection with the citizens committee appointed by Newton Mayor Howard Whitmore more than a month ago to discuss the toll road issue.

The meeting on Friday was initiated by a group of citizens when they failed to receive definite answers concerning the path of the extension. Callahan, the turnpike chairman, has steadfastly maintained his department is still "studying" the matter.

Serving on the committee are Robert Townsend, John F. Taplin, Mrs. Hazel Ledwith and Casper T. Dorfman, former Asst. Atty. General.

o

Newton Students On Committees At Jr. College

A number of Newton area students are among those helping to organize various boards and committees at Newton Junior College under the direction of members of Student Council.

Assisting the board of publications in organizing the college yearbook and a proposed weekly newsletter is Robert M. Flynn of Newtonville, Student Council chairman. Flynn was business manager of the "Reflector," the college 1956 yearbook.

A student building improvement committee, headed by John P. DiBenedetto of West Newton with Michael E. Flynn of Newton as student council liaison man is working with Newton civic groups and city officials on buildings and grounds projects.

Myra Wolffers of Newtonville heads the house committee charged with executing plans, and Norman G. MacLean of Waltham is serving on the athletic board with Frank M. Simmons, Newton's director of physical education, as an advisor. Chief of the International Club is Sylvia Diamond of Newton.

CORRECTING THE RECORD
Congressman Curtis said at a debate in Newton - he had not voted against statehood for Alaska and Hawaii.
The truth: On March 10, 1955 Curtis voted to recommit the statehood bill to committee, joining those using this well-known device to kill the bill. Thus Curtis voted against statehood.
Signed: Mrs. Jean LeCompte

Hold All-Day Prayer Clinic Tomorrow

Under the auspices of the United Church Women of Newton an all-day Prayer Clinic will be held at the Central Congregational Church, Newtonville, tomorrow (Friday), starting at 10:30 a.m. Mrs. Mary Welch, an ordained minister of the Methodist Church has conducted these clinics or Spiritual Life Missions in 41 states and Canada during the past eight years. She has received invitations to 19 foreign countries.
"Corporate Prayer and the Church" will be the subject of Mrs. Welch's talk. The aim of her Spiritual Life Missions is to help people discover and remove those mental, emotional, physical and spiritual blockages that keep them from experiencing in everyday living the "life more abundant" that Jesus Christ bestows on all believers. All interested women are invited. Those planning to stay for both morning and afternoon sessions should bring a box lunch. Coffee will be provided.
Mrs. Wallace M. Ross, Chairman of Christian World Missions for the United Church Women of Newton, is in charge of this meeting. Anyone wishing more information may call her at BI 4-5927.

Local Students Named Officers At Junior College

Three students from the Newton area were elected last week to executive posts on the Student Council of Newton Junior College for the 1956-1957 term.
Robert M. Flynn, of Linwood avenue, Newtonville, a second-year liberal arts student, was named chairman of the council. A graduate of Newton High School in 1956, he is holder of the Newton Elks scholarship for this year, he is also business manager of the "Reflector", the College yearbook.
The Council chose as vice-chairman and treasurer J. W. Wilson of Waltham, veteran and father of two, who is a first year student at the college. Miss Diana Joyce, of Newton, only re-elected councillor, is a second-year student appointed secretary of the council.

News of Day

Last week Tuesday evening was P.T.A. "Back to School Night" at the Frank A. Day Junior High School. It was one of the largest attendances in Day P.T.A. history.
Staffs have been elected by the boys and girls of the various 7th, 8th and 9th grade divisions: Student Council, Library Council, Cafeteria Staff, boys and girls, and Playground staff, boys and girls.
This coming Friday, Day will have a staff induction assembly of those boys and girls on the councils and staffs. Charles Aucoin, President of the Student Council, will preside and Francis Zolli, former Day student and president of this year's High School Junior class will be a principal speaker.
The first Day football "game" was against Meadowbrook. It was merely a scrimmage and practice as the Meadowbrook boys had just received their uniforms. The next regular game comes this Friday, October 26, Bigelow versus Day at Albemarle at 3:00 p.m.
New officers of the Library Council are President, Janice Morrison; Vice President, Salma Kalnajs; Secretary, Sandra Crook.
Also Michael Jewitt was elected Vice-President of the Junior Red Cross, Newton InInterschool Council.

Diabetes Week To Commence November 11

November 11 is the opening day of Diabetes Week. It marks the inauguration of the ninth annual Diabetes Detection Drive sponsored by the American Diabetes Association and conducted locally by the Charles River District Medical Society.
Through the cooperation of the newspapers, radio and television, the public will be reminded that the search for the undetected diabetes in Needham, Wellesley, Weston, Waltham, and Newton will be in full swing (November 11) when Test Kits will be available in limited numbers at local drug stores and tests are offered by cooperating physicians.
There are about 1,000 persons in the United States who have the condition but are not aware of it. The purpose of Diabetes Week is to find as many as possible so they may receive proper medical treatment and thus avoid the serious complications that follow neglected cases of the ailment.

Adult Education Courses to Start November 7

The School of Jewish Studies, conducted by Temple Emanuel of Newton will begin its courses Wednesday, November 7, for a period of six successive Wednesday evenings. Lecturers this year will be Dr. Albert I. Gordon, Dr. Eliezer Berkovits and Dr. Martin Goldstein. Two courses in Elementary and Intermediate Hebrew will be offered at 8 p.m. on Wednesday evening with Cantor Gabriel Hochberg and Mr. Carl Cohen as instructors.
Dr. Berkovits and Dr. Gordon will lecture on "How To Live As An American Jew". The first lecture will be given by Dr. Gordon, Rabbi of the Temple, on "A Philosophy For Jews Today". Other lectures in the series will be delivered by Dr. Berkovits, former Rabbi of Congregation Adath Jeshurun of Roxbury. Dr. Berkovits is presently Chaplaincy Co-ordinator for the Jewish Chaplaincy Authority, serving Boston and the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. His latest published work is "Judaism: Fossil or Ferment". The Art of Living as seen by "Ecclesiastes" will be the subject of Dr. Martin Goldstein's lecture series. News of Day

Last Friday's assembly at Frank A. Day Junior High School was the Staff Induction Assembly. Presiding was Charles Aucoin as president of the Student Council. The devotional exercises included the singing of the Lord's Prayer by Mr. John Eldert accompanied by Mr. Robert Carr. The student guest speaker was Francis Zolli, formerly of Day now president of the Junior Class at High School. Chairman of the assembly Aucoin then presented the ceremony's main speaker, Miss Bettina King, principal of Meadowbrook Junior High School. Next on the program was the singing of America the Beautiful by members of the Eighth and Ninth Grade Elective Clubs with colored slides shown by Miss Helena Glenn, assistant principal of the Weeks Junior High School.

Finally all newly elected members of the Student Council, Library Council, Cafeteria and Playground Staffs were inducted by principal Ralph H. Morse.

The Student Council has issued its third report which includes current under consideration cafeteria changes, division projects and outside trips, such as to Sturbridge Village, and after school social activities. A Seventh Grade get-together party is in the offing also.

Many boys, especially Seventh Graders, have signed up for the Projectors Club with Mrs. Favre, Mr. Studer and Paul Kerivan of Grade 9. Girls are also joining the Cheerleaders and Pep Club with Miss Crowley, Girls' Physical Education teacher.

Last week the Library Council, the Teen-age Book Club, and Divisions 12-M and 12-G joined forces and attended The Seven Wonders of the World at the Boston Theatre. A parent Mrs. V. DiBenedetto and Mrs. Holmes and Miss Gianferante accompanied the boys and girls.

Another trip last week was one to Sturbridge Village by Mrs. Fahringer's divisions, 13-F and 13-J.

The Junior Varsity team came through by beating Bigelow 20-7. Varsity news of the moment is the eleceion of Ronald Greenwood and William Wallace as co-captains.

The first edition of the school newspaper, the Daytonian, is coming out this week. Names of the editorial staff were given in recent news. In addition, the following boys will work with Mr. Frye on the printing end: David Butler, David Devore, Lee Leighton, Pius Bishop, Arnold Vogel, Arthur Weiner, Jeffrey Green, and Paul Kerivan. Mrs. Fahringer and Mr. Barker are helping the regular editorial staff in matters of distribution and finance.

Members of the school Publicity Committee which, among other duties, operates News of the Day are Addison Cowles, chairman; Natalie Sherman, Roslyn Newman, Judith Tromblay and Ruth Pinson.

Regular Vesper Services At Stone Institute

A regular, every Sunday afternoon, series of vesper services was inaugurated last Sunday at 4 p.m., at Stone Institute and Newton Home for Aged People in Newton Upper Falls.

In accordance with its policy that it is the duty and privilege of the church to go to those unable to come to it, the 24 member churches of the Newton Council of Churches, together with Mrs. Helen C. Stevens, Matron of the Home, have completed arrangements to provide vesper services every Sunday at the Home. Ministers of all member churches will have the privilege of comprising a rotating staff of clergymen for the conduct of these services. The inaugural service was conducted by Rev. E. J. Helms, pastor of the Newton Lower Falls Methodist Church.

The 4 p.m. vesper service Sunday, November 4 will be led by Rev. N. M. Guptill, pastor of First Church in Newton (Congregational), to be followed Sunday, November 11 by Rev. H. Beukelman, pastor of First Methodist Church in Newton (Newton Upper Falls). Sunday, November 18. Dr. R. A. Eusden, pastor of Eliot Church (Congregational in Newton) will conduct the service, and Sunday November 25 Dr. Ross Cannon, pastor of Second Church in Newton (Congregational in West Newton) will lead the service.

Veteran's Day—November 11, observed November 12.

JOHN J. WHITE

Gives Talk To Bank Women

John J. White, vice president of the Newton-Waltham Bank and Trust Company recently addressed the National Association of Bank Women, Northern New England Group at the Brae Burn Country Club in West Newton. Mr. White spoke on the subject "Do You Have An Atomic Will?"

In his address Mr. White defined an atomic will as one which often "blows up in the faces of the very people it was meant to protect" because it was improperly written. He stressed the necessity of careful consideration before determining the type of will or trust ararngement which will be most beneficial to the individual's needs. Once the decision is made, he stated, a competent attorney should then be consulted. Mr. White added that it is foolish to try to save expense by writing one's own will or having it written by someone not qualified to do so. Wills with origins of that sort, he declared, often turn out to be "atomic wills".

Several women in the Newton-Waltham Bank and Trust Company are members of the National Association of Bank Women. Among them are: assistant vice-president Ruth Burns, assistant treasurer Marguerita D. Collins, assistant trust officers Alice Slattery and Polly Wood and Newton Centre office manager Margaret Burns, Newton Highlands office manager Edna Hammell, and West Newton office manager Mary G. Sheridan.

Rawson, Whittemore, Thresher and Heaney Win House Contests

Slightly more than 93 per cent of the registered voters here went to the polls Tuesday in the Presidential election. Of the 50,269 eligible to vote, 46,818 cast their ballots.

As has been true in the past, this city remained traditionally Republican, although in some instances by a slightly reduced margin. All Republican candidates received a majority of the votes cast here Tuesday.

President Eisenhower was accorded a fine vote, receiving 29,546 votes to only 16,650 for the Democratic candidate Adlai Stevenson. But although the president received this splendid vote, Christian A. Herter Jr., in his contest for Governor's Councillor, received the highest vote of all candidates here in the election. His total vote in Newton was 29,808, a remarkable tribute to his popularity.

On the local level, interest centered in the two contests for Representative in the 4th and 5th Middlesex districts. In both contest the Republican candidates were the victors.

In the 4th Middlesex district for this office, veteran Representative George Rawson (R) received 10,653 votes while another Republican, John W. Whittemore was also elected, receiving 10,163 votes. The Democratic candidates, Cannon and Cooke, trailed with 8,719 and 8,373 respectively.

In the 5th Middlesex district, the two Republican candidates seeking re-election for the House of Representatives also won their contests easily. Here Arthur Heaney received 14,942 votes and Irene K. Thresher, 14,386. Their two Democratic opponents, Cahill and Walsh, were decisively defeated, Cahill receiving 10,042 votes and Walsh, 7,593 votes.

Representative Donald Gibbs, in his bid this year for the State Senate, a eared to have won his contest over John Melia(D) of Brighton by a substantial margin. In this city, Gibbs received 28,626 votes to only 16,872 votes for Melia.

In the contest for Congressman, Laurence Curtis (R) seeking re-election, appears to have outdistanced his opponent, Jackson Holtz, for a second time by a margin of close to 6,000 in the district. In Newton, Curtis was given a fine vote of 26,831, compared to 19,269 for Holtz.

In the contest for Governor, as was true in all other contests for State offices, Sumner Whittier, the Republican candidate received here a total of 26,517 votes compared to 19,684 for Foster Furcolo, the Democratic candidate. It is interesting to note in this respect that in this city, Whittier ran about a thousand votes behind Gibbons and Furbush, the Republican candidates for Lt. Governor and Secretary of State respectively.

Open Classroom Doors To Citizens Nov. 11-17

Newton's public schools will throw open their doors next week to all residents of the Garden City in a "meet the public" celebration to mark American Education Week.

The celebration will reach all the way from kindergarten through Newton Junior College to show taxpayers, whether parents of local school children or not, just how their money goes. Visiting days, open houses, displays of classroom work, parent-teacher association meetings, classes open to visitors and special programs are on the schedule both during American Education Week of November 11-17 and afterwards.

Close to 16,000 youngsters are enrolled in the local school system, and a good portion of the tax dollar goes to support the city's educational plant. Education Week will give Newtonites a first-hand opportunity to see what value they are getting for their money.

'As Goes Education, So Goes Our City' — Gores

By DR. HAROLD B. GORES
Superintendent of Schools

Two-thirds of the year, almost to the da have passed since half a thousand people of Newton gathered in a blizzard's wake to discuss education. From every round table of that meeting the free discussion of free people had but one import: as goes education so goes our city.

Now, during Education Week, we again have special reason to reflect about education. And when we do, asking ourselves the question "What education is of most worth?" we come inevitably to a second conclusion reached by Newton's White House Conference, namely: that the key to quality in education is the caliber of the people who teach.

If this be true, how then does a school system secure persons of high caliber?

An observation at this point is in order. There is still a high level of missionary zeal among teachers and teachers-to-be. Teaching ranks high among the professions in personal satisfaction and sense of usefulness to mankind. Because of these intangibles — and they are great — the amount of salary paid does not necessarily determine whether a person of high ability will choose teaching as a career and stay with it.

Yet the problem of securing able teachers remains unsolved and for this reason: general salary levels determine where such persons will choose to teach. It is important to each Newton child, and therefore to this city, that a high proportion of the best teachers of the nation select Newton (and in these days they can select) as the place to teach.

To safeguard our children insofar as the quality of their public instruction is concerned will not be easy nor will it be inexpensive. But we are sustained in the thought that our problems are those of a live and burgeoning suburb rather than those of a dying city from which its inhabitants desire but to escape.

Red Feather Hits 60% Of Quota in Final Week

Newton has raised $182,104 or 60 per cent of its $300,000 goal for the 1957 United Red Feather Campaign, Franklin N. Flaschner, general chairman of the drive, reported following Monday's Residential Report Night in the various village headquarters.

The fifth and final report night is scheduled next Tuesday.

Volunteers in the Newton drive, from general chairman to solicitor, are working feverishly this week to bring the Garden City home first over the 100 per cent mark in the three-way race with Brookline and Cambridge. These three communities repersent the largest money raising units in the Metropolitan area. While Brookline led at the first report luncheon in Boston, the Newton team was ahead at the second day's count. At the third report luncheon Tuesday noon, Newton's per centage was still tops.

Victor M. Kumin, chairman of the Residential division, urged all workers in his groups to complete all remaining calls this weekend so that final returns can be made next Tuesday night. Newton residents who have not been visited by a volunteer solicitor are asked to visit or telephone Campaign headquarters at 93 Union street, Newton Centre, LAsell-7-5120.

Kumin reported his satisfaction with the manner in which Newton residents have accepted the Ten-Plus Club in the Red Feather drive. He praised the volunteers for their work in promoting and explaining the membership requirements.

All contributors giving at least a penny for each of the 277 agencies supported by Red Feather, provided this year's gift is 10 per cent or more over a year ago, qualify as Ten-Plus Club members.

The first three team captains in Residential division to be over the top are Mrs. Prescott D. Stevenson, 294 Lake avenue, Newton Highlands; Mrs. Stanley N. Pearlstein, 7 Cavanaugh path, Oak Hill and Miss Lorraine Phipps, 21 Bontempo road, Oak Hill.

How the Red Feather operates in Newton is shown in "New Cogs", monthly bulletin of the Newton Girl Scout Council which has a striking cover for its November issue. It shows an outline map of the city of Newton with the names of 13 Community Chest agencies positioned on 13 red teathers throughout the map. The question is asked of the reader: "What would Newton be like without our Red Feather services?"

Red Feather funds help support, in addition to the 13 local agencies, 264 more organizations located in the neighboring communities of Greater Boston. These private voluntary agencies provide a full range of services from family counseling to hospital care to recreation and depend on generous contributions from the public, rather than tax support, for their maintenance.

Increasing their gifts by 52 per cent over a year ago, members of the Newton Fire Department reached 117 per cent of thir goal, according to Chief Frederick A. Perkins. Department chairman is Capt. William H. Fitzgerald.

Open House At Homest'd On Sunday

Featuring a special display of rare antiques, the second "Open House" of the season will take place Sunday afternoon from 3 to 5 o'clock t the Jackson Homestead, 527 Washington street, Newton.

As part of the "Open House," Mayor Howard Whitmore Jr. will cut a satin ribbon to officially open the new "Archive Room" at the Homestead.

The antique exhibit is from the Americana collection of Mark and Llora Bortman of Newton Centre. Among rare silver pieces to be shown are two Revere spoons, a child's cup by Moody Russell, ajoure-type sugar tongs by Samuel Johnson, a plaque of George Washington and a large caster by Samuel Edwards.

Also in their collection are several delicate miniature portraits on ivory, including one of Mrs. John Quincy Adams by Barber and one of Benjamin West by Malbone.

Old documents on display include holograph sermons, a 1770 issue of the Boston Gazette carrying the versatile Paul Revere's advertisement for fitting and making false teeth, a bill rendered by George Washington, an old Indian Bible, and a facsimile of a letter by Rev. John Eliot describing his Gospel work among the Indians.

Another unusual item is an old Quaker loom, loaned by Mrs. Henry A. Blake and set up by Mrs. Orin E. Skinner.

Hostesses for Open House on Miss Adelaide B. Ball's committee will be Mrs. J. Newell Trask, Mrs. Eugeni: Copeland, Mrs. Morgan S. Campbell, Mrs. Howard C. Thomas, Mrs. Edmund Miller and Mrs. Frederick J. Wood.

To Ask Approval Of Eliot Church Plans Tomorrow

Plans for the new Eliot Church will be presented tomorrow (Friday) night to members of congregation at the Newton Methodist Church.

The Building Plans committee intends to ask approval of the membership so that construction can begin immediately. Complete architect's plans were submitted to the committee about a month ago, generally following plans adopted by the church last June.

Mayor Urges Support Of Newton's Seal Sale

Because this year many Newton residents may receive a new seal sent out from the Boston area, Mayor Howard Whitmore Jr. has issued a special proclamation urging all Newton residents to purchase the traditional Christmas Seals they will receive during the next week from the Newton Tuberculosis and Health Association, the only voluntary tuberculosis association serving the Newton area.

The official opening day of sale by the Newton Tuberculosis and Health Association remains in Newton for our own local voluntary tuberculosis control programs.

The mayor's proclamation points out that the Christmas Seals supporting our own local association are easily distinguished by the red double-barred cross, registered trademark of the National Tuberculosis Association and all of its affiliates.

This year marks the fiftieth anniversary of the Christmas Seal sold by these recognized voluntary tuberculosis associations throughout the United States, Alaska, Guam, Virgin Islands, Canal Zone, and Puerto Rico.

Education Fits Youth To Make Better World

By HENRY W. KEYES
Chairman of the Newton School Committee

What is education?

One person will tell you that it is the process which fits a child to earn his living, another that it is intended to enable the individual to live a happy and useful life, another that it is the total effort of a civilization to perpetuate itself.

Some people think of education strictly in terms of courses of study in school, others consider all the additional influences of family and friends, religious faith, and the experiences of the child himself.

Diverse though the ideas of all of us may be, the purpose of the American people has long been clear. In all history, ours is the only nation which has tried to give at least twelve years of schooling to all its citizens. Our policy in this respect is fully as important to the development of democracy as our various constitutional rights and economic opportunities; for we are determined that every child born in these United States shall have a fair chance to develop himself and either to

2-Day Newton College Program Open to Public

Newton College of the Sacred Heart, joining with other schools and colleges throughout the country to observe American Education Week, has arranged a two-day program to show what the college is trying to accomplish.

Noted literary critic William K. Wimsatt Jr., associate professor of English at Yale, will speak at 5 p m. Wednesday. Next Thursday night the public has been invited to attend six of the college's regularly scheduled classes and a brief play by the distinguished English novelist and critic, Charles Williams.

Mr. Wimsatt will base his talk, "Epilogue to the History of Literary Criticism," on the concluding chapter of a work on which he is now collaborating with Cleanth Brooks of Yale.

For the open house on Thursday night, classes will be given from 7:45 to 8:35 in the fields of philosophy, English, education, economics, physics and sociology.

After the classroom demonstration, the Newton College Players will present Williams' lively and unusual morality play "Grab and Grace." The

Arthritis Fund In Urgent Plea For Volunteers

An urgent appeal for solicitors for a local door-to-door drive Dec. 2-8 in behalf of arthritis has been sent out by Ernest G. Angevine, Newton chairman of the Massachusetts Chapter, Arthritis and Rheumatism Foundation.

Stressing the need for door-to-door workers, Chairman Angevine said, "Householders cannot be reached effectively unless we have a corp of selfless volunteers who will ring doorbells and talk to the men and women in our community.

"I know that all of us are genuinely and deeply concerned with the health problems posed by arthritis and the rheumatic diseases. I know further that the health-minded men and women of our community will give, and give generously, if they are contacted by similarly health-minded volunteers."

Angevine said that latest

Ike Proves He Is Above All Trends and Groundswells . . . Republican Party in State Faces Huge Rebuilding Job . . .

Until Tuesday's election returns flooded in to shock and stun them, political experts would have considered it impossible for a candidate for President to roll up a 400,000-vote plurality and not carry his party's State ticket in with him.

Yet, that happened in Massachusetts, and the only explanation which can be offered is that a Democratic tide was running but that President Eisenhower's personal popularity is so tremendous that it placed him in a political bracket all by himself, far above trends and groundswells that hit lesser candidates.

The Republicans in Massachusetts put up an attractive, well balanced ticket, but the GOP slate was ground down and left in a shambles by the sweep and the surge of the Democratic drive.

Part of the answer is that a Democratic current was flowing, even though it had no effect whatever upon Ike. That was proved in Maine early in September. It was proved again by the fact that the Democrats retained control of Congress in the face of the Eisenhower landslide.

It also is a fact that Massachusetts is basically a Democratic State, even though one might not think so from the Presidential returns.

Don't Value Life Cheaply: Protect Home Against Fire

By NEWTON FIRE PREVENTION BUREAU

How much do you value a human life?

This is a question that might easily be asked anyone. Their answer would vary according to the persons interpretation of living standards which they are used to having.

The way that lives are being lost in fires all over the nation it seems as if life was held fairly cheap by most people.

On November 26, it will be 13 years since the Cocoanut Grove Disaster swept away nearly 500 lives in a few short minutes. Their lives came to close with little chance for them to escape from the building. The history of the fire's origin, the lack of necessary precautions that should have been taken or safety measures made, the stories of heroism and the long court trial of this needless tragedy at that time were well-known all over the country.

What kind of an impression did this event make on you as an individual? Has it made you "Fire Conscious" to the point of always trying to help prevent conditions that would cause a fire? Unless you knew or had someone taken by death or someone that was hurt in this holocast or have a natural dread of fires, it probably did not mean too much—just another fire.

Since then, many laws, rules and regulations have been passed or adopted to try to combat such re-occurances. Permits and licenses are now required for various conditions or the handling of hazardous items. Inspections are constantly being made, but it is impossible for any one agency to constantly maintain inspectors at every place they are required.

This places the bulk of the responsibility on the owners or operators to see that all safety regulations are adhered to, for the protection of their clientele and employees and to ensure their staying in business.

There is no doubt that in plenty of buildings housing families, owners might well hesitate to dwell therein, knowing the existing conditions in case of a fire. Still they feel that it is all right for someone else to live there. Maybe if the owners did have to live there, they would do something for their own protection as well as for the other families living under the same conditions. It would help improve their property as well as safeguard their investment.

In spite of all of the new regulations that have been adopted, the death toll of the nation is steadily increasing each year, not so much in the business world as it is in the homes. A large portion of these lives are helpless babies in cribs and young children who have been left at home or who have access to matches. It is the parents who can help put a stop to this needless waste of human lives.

Be fair to yourself and your family. Instead of trying to inspect your home in your mind while seated in a nice comfortable chair, get up and make a personal tour. See just what conditions actually do exist that would cause a fire or help it to spread. All hazardous conditions should be remedied at once.

For the most part, a building or furniture can be replaced, but the lives of those dear to us, taken needlessly by fires, can never be replaced. Right now is the best time there is to help stop fires from starting in the home or place of business. A fire that is prevented may mean a life, a home or a business saved.

through the mail on or about that time.

In line with the Seal Sale, a vigorous new attack on the Boston tuberculosis problem, worst in the nation, will be launched this month by the newly formed Boston Division of the Massachusetts Tuberculosis and Health League.

The new division, affiliated with the Newton association and other official state TB associations, is sponsored and supported by the National Tuberculosis Association.

It has been specifically designed to replace the former Boston Association which this year withdrew from the state and national association.

As an affiliate, the Newton Association will aid in directing the annual Christmas Seal Sale and in conducting a TB control program in Boston with funds raised.

The only voluntary tuberculosis control program in Newton, the local Association reminds residents that all funds raised through the purchase of seals here will remain in Newton for the support of the local programs.

figures show that more than 11 million men, women, and children in the United States are currently suffering from arthritis and the allied diseases, while in Massachusetts the number of sufferers is placed at approximately one-quarter million.

In the Metropolitan Boston area, where more than a score of individual door-to-door solicitations will be conducted simultaneously, more than 140,000 victims now make their homes.

Angevine added, "Counter to popular understanding, one out of every 100 children of school age has rheumatoid arthritis—the most crippling form of the disease—and that chronic arthritis in children occurs three times more often in girls than in boys."

News of the Day

Over 500 pupils enjoyed themselves last Wednesday night at a Hallowe'en Dance held in the Newton High School gymnasium.

Six pupils were awarded statuettes for their expert dancing. These were: 1st prize, Sue Swartz and Waldo Freeman; 2nd prize, Sandra Smith and Robert Heckman; 3rd prize, Peggy Halloran and Kenny Donovan. The gym was decorated by a commitee of students supervised by Miss Weidenheimer.

The entire affair was supered by William Sullivan, heading a large group of parents, and Miss Crowley and Mr. York, ably assisted by the following Student Council members: Peter Shaer, Edward Swartz, Robert Goguen, Robert Heckman, Sandra Swanson, Patti Leone, Sue VanKeuren, Bonnie Flagg, Pamela Storm, John Bilezikia , Paul Guzzi, William Wallace, Sally Remley, Donna DeMarco, Susan Boyle, Gail Eagerman, Sandra Gibbs, Sally Erickson, Sandra Shane, Leslie Long, Gail Barkley, Arlene Leone, Patricia Rogor , Joan Dalicandro, Leanne Chrisman, Ruth Cooperstein, Richard Lockwood and William O'Connell.

An interesting presentation of both the Republican and Democratic platforms by the Democracy Workshop under Mr. Blount's supervision, was held during the assembly period Friday. Matthew Needle moderated the discussion.

Following speeches by Samuel Black and Jeffrey Green for the Republicans and Ann Gillvan and Paul Guzzi for the Democrats, a panel consisting of Ronald Promer, Leonard Chyet, Janice Boudreau, Jane Loew and Kevin Buckley questioned the speakers.

The seventh graders will elect officers soon. The candidacy of the following people for 7th grade offices has been approved by the Student Council: president, Holly Wilder, Suzanne Tarlin, Leanne Chrisman, Robert Montuori; vice president, Carolyn Oetinger, Donna Resh, Susan Anderson, Nancy Taylor; secretary, Peggy Halloran, Pamela Storm, Marilyn Flynn; treasurer, Marie Russo, Stephen Abrams, Joan Ray.

The Junior Varsity played Weeks Junior Varsity on Thursday. Although the team tried valiantly, the final score was Weeks 20, Day 6.

Graduated from Postal Course

Five Newton men were among the more than 50 postal supervisors who received "Instructor Training Certificates" at graduating exercises held recently in the U. S. Post Office and Court House in Boston under the Postal Training and Development program.

They are Thomas J. Lyons of Newton, foreman in the Newtonville station; John E. White of Newtonville, foreman in the Newtonville station; Elmer J. Rawson of Auburndale, foreman in the South Postal station; Eugene F. Cpunningham of Newton, assistant superintendent in the Brighton station; and William A. Rev. James H. Burns Inducted As Director in Council of Churches

Rev. James H. Burns of 61 Bowdoin street, Newton Highlands, director of the Departments of Social Relations and Pastoral Services of the Massachusetts Council of Churches Sunday at ceremonies held in Newton's First Baptist Church.

Rev. Russell H. Bishop, pastor of the First Baptist Church, gave the invocation at the ceremonies, and the principal address was delivered by Rev. Osgoode H. McDonald, secretary of the department of Homes and Hospitals of the American Baptist Home Mission Boards.

Among others taking part in the services were Dr. Forrest L. Knapp, general secretary of the Massachusetts Council of Churches; Dr. Albert Buckner Coe, president of the Massachusetts Council of Churches and also head of the Massachusetts Congregational Christian Conference; and Dr. Edwin H. Tuller, executive secretary of the Massachusetts Baptist convention.

The new director holds advanced divinity degrees from Andover Newton Theological School and from Boston University ,and is now completing work for a doctorate degree at B. U.

After ordination in the Baptist ministry in 1937 and service in pastorate in Maine and Massachusetts, he was Protestant chaplain to the Massachusetts General Hospital and the Massachusetts Eye and Ear Infirmary for 10 years. He has also been an instructor in the department of psychology and pastoral counseling at Boston University School of Theology.

Oak Hill P.-T.A. To Sponsor Art Panel Nov. 13th

Four experts will conduct a panel discussion "Of What Importance is Art and Music in Everyday Living?" at the Tuesday's meeting of the Oak Hill Parent-Teacher Association at the Meadowbrook Junior High School.

The four experts include Peter Temple, director of Boston Arts Festival; Karl Fortess, artist and instructor at the B. U. School of Applied Arts; Rod Nordell, jazz expert on the staff of the Christian Science Monitor; and Donald March, instrumental music supervisor of Newton schools.

Prior to the main program, a short business meeting at 7:30 p.m. will be held to approve the proposed revisions of the by-laws which were made at the October meeting of the Executive Board. The revisions were prepared by Maurice Perlman and his committee.

At this same board meeting, the committee voted to support station WGBH-TV, the educational non-profit TV station in its current drive for funds.

Begin Plans For NHS-Pittsburgh Exchange Visits

The school and school exchange at Newton High School is "steaming fu . speed ahead" with plans for the exchange with West Fairview High School in Pittsburgh, Pa.

Thirty boys and girls from Pittsburgh are arriving in Newton on November 25 for a 7-day visit. Thirty Newton High School students will visit Pittsburgh in April. Newton exchangers have been divided into the following commitees:

Seek Two Types Of Volunteers For Red Cross

The Newton Chapter of the American Red Cross is in great need of two types of volunteers:

Men or women who are willing to give a few hours weekly, either driving their own cars or the Chapter vehicles — transporting patients to hospitals or clinics — helping on Bloodmobile visits and with volunteers—

Women who like to sew can assist in Production —

Women with a flair for office work, with or without typing, to assist the various Chairmen —

Women who like Home Economics to work in Canteen — Canteen serves on the Bloodmobile visits — veterans' hospitals coffee hours — and Chapter activities occasionally.

The second type of volunteer needed are those who are willing to take responsibility and head up certain services — the woman who has administrative ability and can work well with others.

If you can give even a few hours weekly and are interested in serving your Community in peace times as well as disasters —through your Newton Red Cross — please call the Chapter House between 9:00 a.m. and 5:00 p.m. — LA 7-6000 — and apply to the Office of Volunteers for an interview.

2nd Wellesley College Concert Monday Night

The second event of the 1956-57 Wellesley Concert Series will take place at Alumnae Hall, Wellesley College, Monday at 8 p.m. It will be a song recital by Martial Singher, leading baritone of the Metropolitan Opera Association. His recitals are unusual and satisfy the most exacting musical tastes as well as give maximum pleasure to those who delight in hearing a beautiful human voice.

Singher, whose famous romantic opera roles range from Pelleas to the dashing, sinister, multiple characterizations in the Tales of Hoffman, has selected an outstanding program for this his first Wellesley appearance.

He will sing the entire cycle of Schumann's "Dichterliebe" as well as the cycle of Faure's "La Bonne Chanson." He will also present a group of songs by Harvard-trained Irving Fine as the concluding portion of the program.

There is no question, however, that the GOP State ticket was injured to some extent by political dissension within its ranks and that it was hurt by mistakes that were made.

The ouster of Elmer Nelson from the chairmanship of the Republican State Committee last spring was a major blunder. Regardless of who did or didn't like him, Nelson was missed badly in the Republican campaign which ended in Tuesday's GOP debacle.

It would be ridiculous to maintain that he could have turned defeat into victory for the Republican State ticket, but he certainly would have made some difference.

The GOP in Massachusetts now faces a tremendous rebuilding task. The likelihood is that there will be a move to return Nelson to the State Committee chairmanship to undertake that job.

At the moment guessing is that Attorney General George Fingold, the lone member of the Republican State ticket to survive Tuesday's election, will be the GOP candidate for Governor two years from now, and that his party will build its plans around him.

Lieutenant Governor Sumner G. Whittier, who certainly for four years and perhaps longer had been pointing for this election, now presumably faces retirement from public life unless he is given an appointive position either by Governor Herter or President Eisenhower.

Whether he will undertake a comeback two years from now is uncertain. The Republican party in Massachusetts is not in the custom of renominating defeated candidates, although it has done so upon occasion.

Foster Furcolo has proved himself one of the wonder boys of Massachusetts politics. Virtually unknown a little more than four years ago, when he came out of the western section of the State to accept an appointment as State Treasurer, he missed a seat in the U.S. Senate by a political eyelash two years ago and now has achieved the Governorship by defeating one of the most energetic and colorfu Republican gubernatorial candidates in Massachusetts history.

McCormack Lost Fight in Berkshires . . .

Boston City Council President Edward J. McCormack, Jr., lone member of the Democratic State ticket to be defeated Tuesday, lost his fight in Western Massachusetts.

McCormack ran well enough in Greater Boston to win election, but he fell down badly in the area from Worcester to the Berkshires.

Where President Eisenhower's popularity did not rub off on the members of the Republican State ticket, neither did McCormack benefit from Furcolo's great strength in the western end of the Commonwealth.

McCormack was cut down in cities such as Springfield, Northampton and Pittsfield. Had he polled a normal Democratic vote throughout that area, he would have won election.

It is a political paradox that a candidate such as McCormack would be unable to ride the Democratic tide to victory, while State Treasurer John F. Kennedy, whom Democratic leaders have been trying desperately to purge, won by a comfortable margin.

McCormack presumably was just not well enough known in western Massachusetts to muster the necessary votes to defeat Fingold, and it seems clear that his primary fight with Representative Joseph D. Ward left some scars in Worcester County.

In view of the general pattern of Tuesday's voting and the swing to the Democratic State candidates by thousands of persons who backed President Eisenhower, McCormack's defeat was one of the surprises produced by the election.

Only a few really prominent Republicans are now left in office in Massachusetts. With Governor Herter retiring from office at the end of the year and with Lieutenant Governor Whittier, Republican House Leader Charles Gibbons and State Senate President Richard I. Furbush all defeated in Tuesday's election, the GOP must look to new faces for party leadership at the State House.

Fingold, of course, is one top Republican figure who rode out Tuesday's political storm. Executive Councillor Charles J. Gabriel, senior GOP member of the Governor's Council, is another. Ex-Representative Christian A. Herter, Jr., son and namesake of the Governor, is a third.

Cong. Curtis Now in Political Spotlight

As the Republicans start surveying the job of building their battered political fences, one man on whom the political spotlight inevitably will turn is Congressman Laurence Curtis.

Curtis' record of victories in the 10th congressional district is following much the same pattern as that of Governor Christian A. Herter whom he succeeded on Washington's Capitol Hill from that sector.

The popular Congressman not only withstood the impact of the Democratic trend, but he won reelection over a formidable opponent, former Assistant U.S. Attorney Jackson J. Holtz, by a bigger plurality than in 1954.

What Curtis' political plans are for the future is something that only time will determine. At the moment, however, he looms as a logical Republican candidate for either Governor or the U.S. Senate in 1958. Whether Curtis is willing to give up a reasonably sure seat in Congress to gamble on political promotion is a question that only he can answer.

In viewing the gubernatorial race in retrospect, it seems fairly clear that Whittier had the contest won after the two pre-primary State conventions last June but then proceeded to lose it.

Furcolo gained tremendous momentum by the spectacular victory he won in the September primary over Thomas H. Buckley. The public attention he attracted and the impetus he gathered from all the indications carried him into a big lead over Whittier.

Then Whittier put on a big drive during the last fortnight before election but didn't come quite fast enough or far enough to make up the ground he lost in September and early October.

It also is probably safe to state that Whittier lost some votes through his appearances on television, particularly in the early stages of the campaign. He did not make nearly as good an impression on TV as did Furcolo. That was one of the very important factors in spelling his defeat.

It is interesting to speculate on how the election results might have been affected if President Eisenhower had wound up his campaign with a huge election eve rally at the Boston Garden. The opinion of this onlooker is that it would not have made much difference.

Adlai Stevenson came to Boston the day before election, and he undoubtedly lost votes by doing so. His plain implication in his address at the Hotel Statler that President Eisenhower might not live through the four years of his second term unquestionably offended many thousands of voters.

Newton Gives Curtis Big Plurality . . .

Newton, West Roxbury and Roslindale provided the resounding pluralities by which Congressman Curtis decisively defeated former Assistant U.S. Attorney Holtz.

Newton gave Curtis a margin of 7562 votes, and the Ward 20 section of West Roxbury and Roslindale went into his column by 3315 votes.

Those two areas between them gave him a plurality of 10,877 votes and a comfortable cushion to withstand losses in other parts of his district.

Mayor Vernon Anderson of Hammond, Ind., decided earlier this year that he would retire from office. He changed his mind when 18,000 persons signed a petition urging that he run again. In the recent election he polled only 15,937 votes, losing to his opponent who polled 16,359.

• • • •

Mrs. Ina M. Gillett, 52, seeking a divorce in South Bend, Ind., testified that her husband had spoken to her only once a year during the past eight years. That she said, was when he was making out their joint income tax return and asked her how much money she was earning.

• • • •

Lawrence D. McDermott testified in a Detroit court that the reason he crashed into a parked police cruising car was that he was absorbed in boasting to a passenger about the wonderful police protection in Detroit. The police were unimpressed, and so was the judge who fined Lawrence $100 and suspended his license for six months.

NEWTON HIGH

Parents of Newton High School students are invited to meet teachers and inspect the school Wednesday between 7:30 and 9:30 in the evening.

"We wish to extend a special welcome to fathers who are not able to come on regular parents' afternoons," said Miss Katherine Curtis, acting principal.

"This open-house evening is an important link between home and school. Most teachers feel that a student's work is greatly helped by interest and understanding on the part of his parents. Faculty members and administrators join in urging parents to see the places their children study and the teachers who work with them," Miss Curtis stated.

UNDERWOOD

The Underwood School P.T.A. will hold an Open House Wednesday starting at 7:45 p.m.

Parents are invited to visit their childrens' teachers and classrooms. Refreshments will be served during the evening in the Auditorium.

COUNTRYSIDE

During American Education Week, Countryside PTA will have as its speaker next Wednesday, at 8:00 p.m., in the school auditorium, Dr. M. Virginia Biggy, assistant professor of education at Tufts University and director of instruction in the Massachusetts Public Schools. She has chosen as her topic "Modern Trends in Education".

A Discount Fair is to be held in the gymnasium Wednesday, during the following hours: 3:30 - 5:30, 7:00 - 8:00; and also at 9:00 - 10:00 following the PTA meeting.

Items included in this Fair are children's books, records, social stationery, desk accessories, "Countryside" jerseys, cakes and notions. Much of the merchandise was donated by members of Countryside community, and bargain prices will prevail.

Meadowbrook

The Meadowbrook Junior High School, Newton Centre, invites all taxpaying residents of the district who do not have children in the Newton public schools to visit the school Tuesday from 9:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. Pupil guides will help visitors explore the new building be a leader or intelligently to choose his leaders.

Another source of continuing strength and spirit lies in our philosophy that sooner or later, youth must have access to as many facts as he can discover, and from them make his own decisions and hi own discoveries — our idea that diversity of opinion represents healthly mental competition from which truths old and new will emerfg, having won the test of the market place.

True, when children are little, it is almost impossible to avoid giving them the impression that the answer is in the book; but as they grow older and learn to think for themselves, we dare to give them access to material that we cannot endorse, in order that they may recognize the devil when they meet him, and we let them make little mistakes that they may avoid those that might be fatal.

Above all, we earnestly encourage our youngsters to look toward a world which will ever be better — if they will make it so.

Tigers in 3rd Tie of Year, 13-13 vs. Lynn

Last-Period English Score Erases Newton High Margin

The explosive running of Lorne "Tippy" Johnson salvaged a 13-13 tie for the Bulldogs of Lynn English in a bruising battle with Newton High's Tigers before 3,000 fans at Lynn's Manning Bowl Saturday.

Johnson, who scored all 13 of his team's points to bring his season's total to 104, crashed over from the Orange and Black one-yard line with three minutes left to play, and grabbed a pass for the extra point.

Employing everything from a five to nine man line, the Tigers bottled Johnson's running attack and took a 13-6 lead in the late stages of the game.

Newton won the opening toss and elected to receive, bringing the ball back to the 21-yard line. On the first play from scrimmage Newton lost possession on a fumble, and the red-jerseyed Bulldogs lost no time in taking the lead.

In three plays they moved to the Newton three yard line, and Johnson bulled over for the score. The attempt for point was low and English led 6-0.

The two teams battled with no sustained drives 'till Newton got the ball late in the second quarter. A Lynn English punt gave Newton possession on their own 26 yard line and then the Tigers began to move. With Pete Nelson and Manny Connerney carrying the load, Newton marched on the ground.

Brian Kenny broke over tackle to carry into English territory, and a pitch-out to Connerney brought the ball to Lynn's 35-yard line. Nelson smashed to the 25, then with less than a minute left in the half, quarterback Charlie Vento faded back and pegged to lanky end Johnny Beggs for the score. Jimmy Yancey booted the extra point and Newton led 7-6 at the half.

By overloading the line, Newton was forcing Lynn to take to the air, which is not their forte, and completely contained the running of All-Scholastic back, "Tippy" Johnson.

English failed to move the ball at the start of the third quarter and punted to Newton's Pete Nelson, who returned the ball to the English 20-yard line behind brilliant blocking by Jimmy Yancey.

Brian Kenny belted to the 17, and a pitchout to Nelson sent the fleet halfback driving to the English 4-yard line. A Newton offside penalty sent them back to the nine, but Nelson personally polished off the drive by circling right end, and slamming over for the second Orange and Black TD. The PAT was low, and Newton led 13-6.

Early in the fourth quarter, Johnson started to move, and English marched to the Newton 9-yard line before a strong forward wall turned them back. Jimmy King played a great defensive ball game, as did the whole Tiger line.

Newton failed to move from deep in their own territory, and punted to English. Carying on six of the following nine plays, Johnson ripped holes in the Tiger defense and drove to the Newton 2-yard line. After the line held for one play, "Tippy" leaped off left tackle for the score, and English lined up for the all-important point after.

George Lumsteadt, who holds the ball for Johnson on his placements, stood up and began to run with Johnson leading the interference. Just as he was to be thrown for a loss, Lumsteadt flipped a basketball, shovel pass with both hands to Johnson, who piled over for the tying point.

With time running out, the Tigers made one last bid to win the game, and drove to the English 35, where their attack stalled and English ran out the clock.

This was the third stalemate the Tigers have appeared in this season. They opened the season with a 20-20 tie against Chelsea, tied Medford 7-7 last week, and battled English to a 13-13 deadlock. The heavily-favored Lynn team began rolling in the fourth quarter, but Newton's line should be credited for a strong showing.

Vento kept his team on the ground most of the time in an attempt to wear down the lighter English line, but passed effectively when necessary.

Next Saturday the Tigers invade Waltham, in their last contest before the Thanksgiving Day classic with Brookline. This past Saturday, Brockton wallopped Waltham 25-7. Newton edged the Shoe City boys 6-2 earlier in the year.

A 33-14 victory over Malden opened the season for the Waltham powerhouse, and then whacked Brookline 39-20. Two scat-backs in Kenny Kezer and Jimm. Falzone should give the Tigers plenty of trouble. Waltham has a strong offensive unit and a top ground gainer in co-captain Dick LaRosee.

Waltham beat Arlington by one touchdown, a team which handed Newton its only loss of the season. It will be a tough game for the Orange and Black, but the prediction here is a Newton win, and then on to Brookline.

Board of Carr Nursery School Meets Tonight

The first meeting of the 1956-57 board of directors of the Carr Nursery School will take place tonight (Thursday) at 8:15 o'clock at the home of Mrs. William Ranger Farrell in Newtonville.

Officers recently elected to serve during this current year include president, Mrs. William Ranger Farrell; vice president, Mrs. Maxwell G. Breslau; treasurer, Mrs. Lester Stern; recording secretary, Mrs. Murray Jacobson; and corresponding secretary, Mrs. Edward Josephson.

The nursery school started its third year this fall with a capacity enrollment. Indeed, this year, for the first time, the school had a lengthy waiting list of applicants when classes opened.

Mrs. Mary Kimball, the teacher, spent this past summer in Europe, and brought back a number of very interesting new ideas from her study of nursery school techniques and curricula in Denmark.

Savings and Loan is 125 years old

Yep, 125 years old in 1956. I don't mean Watertown Federal itself.

But the first savings and loan in this country was started with $350 in Philadelphia in 1831. Today there are over 6,000 savings and loan associations, and their assets total around $40 billion.

Watertown Federal is 67 years old and its assets are over $20 million. It has grown greatly in recent years, because it offers the same attractive things that have made the business as a whole endure and grow.

"What I Saw in Russia" will be the subject of the lecture to be delivered by Dr. Morris Kertzer, rabbi and executive of the American Jewish Committee, at Temple Emanuel, Newton Centre, at Friday evening services, November 16 at 8:15 p.m.

This lecture, sponsored annually by the Temple, is known as the Sol Rotenberg Memorial Lecture, memorializing the former president of the New England Region of the United Synagogue of America and member of the Board of Trustees of Temple Emanuel.

Dr. Kertzer's lecture will deal directly with Russian Jewry and its problems as he saw them in his recent tour of Russia at the invitation of the Russian government. A question-answer period will be proveded at the Oneg Shabbat.

John Ward School PTA

Members of the Parent-Teacher Association of the John Ward School will join in their first meeting of the 1956-57 season Tuesday at 8 p.m.

Due to construction now under way at the school, the meeting will take place at the Bigelow Junior High Auditorium.

Following a brief business meeting, the parents will hear an informal talk by Miss Madeline E. Bartell, new principal at Ward. There will be an opportunity for the parents to have a discussion period after the talk. In order that the parents may meet the new principal, new faculty members and other parents, a reception will follow the meeting.

Social Science Club of Newton

The Social Science Club of Newton will meet for its annual tea at the home of Mrs. Maurice W. Dennison, on Wednesday, Nov. 14, between 3:30 p.m. and 5:30 p.m.

Hostesses for the afternoon, besides Mrs. Dennison, will be: Mrs. Warner Eustis, president; Mrs. Isaac G. Swope, vice president; and Mrs. Eldred M. Peterson, vice president.

Tuesday Evening Club

Mrs. William S. Taylor, assistant to the president, Berea College, Kentucky, will be guest speaker at the Tuesday meeting of the Tuesday Evening Club at Church of the Messiah, Auburndale.

Mrs. Taylor will show colored slides accompanied by comments on the college's work-study program, which includes weaving, making brooms, developing pictures, typing, playing the college chimes and making ceramics.

Report On Regional Girl Scout Conference Given By Mrs. Derr

Mrs. Thomas S. Derr, president of the Newton Girl Scout Council, who headed this community's delegation to the recent three-day Regional Girl Scout Conference in Springfield, has returned home and reported on the conference proceedings.

Among the major problems discussed at the conference were the need for more Girl Scout volunteers to serve as troop leaders and to take on other "behind the scenes" jobs in Girl Scouting and ways to improve the Girl Scout program so that it will provide more opportunities and challenges for girls. As a result of the conference, the Newton Girl Scout Council is planning in the future a leader recruitment program, new activities for girls, and development of neighborhood service teams.

In addition to Mrs. Derr, other Girl Scouts from this area who attended the conference were: Mrs. Earl Alban, Mrs. Carl H. Alvord, Mrs. Russell Broad, Mrs. J. Bernard Everett, Mrs. Arthur Gregorian, Miss Ursula Hayden, Mrs. Stanley Johnson, Mrs. Janis Kalnajs, Mrs. Joseph S. Kaufman, Mrs. Guy King, Mrs. Thomas J. Lepore, Mrs. Dwight P. Merrill, Miss Elizabeth Richardson and two Senior Girl Scouts, Miss Nancy Derr and Miss Linda Farley.

Dr. Harold B. Gores, Superintendent of Schools, was a member of the panel discussing Community Relations at the Conference.

Central Church Woman's Ass'n

The regular meeting of the Woman's Association of Central Congregational Church in Newtonville, held on Wednesday, featured the gathering of handwork groups in the morning, followed by luncheon served by co-chairmen Mrs. Henry Myers, and Mrs. Edward Carl with their committee.

Mrs. Raymond A. Dudley, guest speaker, chose "India Revisited" as her topic.

A brief devotional period after luncheon was led by Mrs. Carl H. Holdridge. Mrs. J G. Brinkley was in charge of the dining room.

TELE-VIEWING THE NEWS

By LEE LOUMOS

Every once in a while you hear stories about television picture tubes exploding and causing a lot of damage. And you have probably noticed the manufacturer's sign pasted on your picture tube saying something like: DANGER! DO NOT HANDLE! So maybe you've wondered just how dangerous this tube is.

Accidents rarely occur. The tube is made of strong glass that's not easily broken. However, it's true that glass does contain a vacuum . . . which means there is tremendous air pressure on the OUTSIDE of the tube. A sharp blow could cause it to explode inward. Air would rush in to fill the vacuum and glass would be flying.

That's why every set has a safety glass to protect the face of the picture tube. This safety glass is accurately named. It provides a barrier . . . so there's no possibility of sticking the handle of a carpet sweeper through the face of the picture tube. This protective glass is very strong, and even if it were broken there would be little danger of the picture tube also being penetrated. In other words, in normal use there's no danger of your picture tube exploding unless you throw a wrench at it.

Removing the TV chassis, however, or any other handling of the picture tube should be done with care by an experienced technician. When you need service, call us. You can be sure we'll handle every phase of the service job with care and safety.

Our Lady's HNS To Hear Blind Speaker Sunday

William F. Gallagher, superintendent of social service at St. Paul's Rehabilitation Center, will be guest speaker at the regular monthly meeting of Our Lady's Holy Name Society which will follow holy communion at an 8 a.m. Mass on Sunday, Nov. 11.

He will speak on the extensive work done at the Center, located within the limits of Our Lady's Parish, in rehabilitating people of all faiths and races who have lost their eye sight.

A native of Maynard, Gallagher himself lost his eyesight at an early age, and became a pupil at the Perkins Institute for the blind where he completed his high school education.

He was graduated from Holy Cross College in 1948, and subsequently completed courses at the Boston College School of Social Work in 1950. Since then he has been engaged in social work for the city of Boston, and has been with the Catholic Guild for the Blind since 1953.

Lexington Sees 20 Paintings By Newton Artists

Twenty paintings by members of the Newton Art Association are being exhibited this month by the Lexington Society of Arts and Crafts t its gallery at 130 Waltham street, Lexington.

Anyone interested in viewing these paintings should call CRestwood 4-6379 for information on hours the gallery will be open.

The Newton Art Association, formed in the spring of 1949, now has 125 active members and 75 associates. Meeting twice a month at the Newtonville Library, except for the summer, the Association is composed of amateur artists who paint as a pastime or hobby. A few of the members teach art or are connected with art.

Throughout the year, programs are planned to interest a variety of artistic tastes. Painting demonstrations, lectures and criticisms by well known artists are offered.

In addition to the customary fall exhibit at the Newton Centre Woman's Club and the annual spring show at Stearns in Chestnut Hill, there is a program of rotating one-man exhibits at banks and libraries throughout Newton.

Top event of the year is the "Artists at Work Night," when 25 members give a mass painting demonstration for the public. Other activities include the fall painting picnic, Christmas party and the annual dinner.

Father and Son Sports Night at S. H. School Sun.

The annual Father and Son sports night sponsored by the Holy Name Society Men's Club of Sacred Heart Parish, Newton Centre, will be Sunday at 8 p.m. in the school auditorium.

Carling's Conservation officer will show a film on "Hunting and Fishing". There will be door prizes for the children, including a Fishing Rod, Football, Hockey Stick and many other sports articles.

Jack Maloy is in charge of the program, assisted by John Hynes as co-chairman.

Cabot Halloween Amuses Children

This Halloween children at the Cabot school had no auditorium since the addition of a new wing is in progress. Consequently, all the Halloween grade parties were held and supervised by room mothers in the class rooms.

Thanks to the able planning by Mr. and Msr. Ezra Hershkovitz, Halloween chairmen, the children were kept busy every minute with costume parades, talent shows and typical Halloween games.

Newly-elected room mothers are: Kindergarten, Mrs. Stewart Wilbur, Mrs. Bernard Horovitz, Mrs. Richard Feffer, Mrs. Melvin Goran, Mrs. Abraham Feldberg, Mrs. Melvin Spritz; Grade 1, Mrs. Sidney Nissenbaum, Mrs. Irving Wecker, Mrs. Bernard Rome, Mrs. Irvin Gahm, Mrs. Roy Olton and Mrs. Bernard Lichter; Grade 2, Mrs. Donald Blair, Mrs. Sidney Sticker, Mrs. Domenic Kaizzi, Mrs. Arthur Gershman; Grade 3, Mrs. Carnig Thomason, Mrs. P. L. Davis, Mrs. Paul Isenberg, Mrs. Monte Basbas, Mrs. Neal Gross, Mrs. Frank Silver; Grade 4, Mrs. Leon Martel, Mrs. Henry Willis, Mrs. Maurice Polner, Mrs. Maynard Petkun, Mrs. James Mosher, and Mrs. Frank Lindahl; Grade 5, Mrs. Solomon Abrahams, Mrs. Harold Leeder, Mrs. John Zabaski, Mrs. Edward Wishnow, Mrs. Raymond Wolfson, Mrs. Jack Shapiro; Grade 6, Mrs. Edward Wasserman, Mrs. Richard Wright, Mrs. Robert Oxnam and Mrs. Earl Alban.

College Notes

Three local students have been honored with scholarships at Simmons College for outstanding scholastic achievement.

Recipients were Miss Gretchen Kimball, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Kimball of 1772 Beacon street, Waban, a Simmons College Scholarship.

Beverly Parsons, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Bickum of 275 Lexington street, Auburndale, the Stevenson Scholarship.

Correction

In an item last week regarding the Temple Emanuel Golden Agers, the name of the Golden Age co-chairman was incorrectly listed. It should have read Mrs. Max Kramer.

First Meeting By Mason-Rice P-TA Tuesday

Open house in all classrooms will be held at the year's first general meeting of the Mason-Rice Parent-Teacher Association Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the school auditorium.

Following regular business, teachers will meet with parents in classrooms for discussion of progress to date.

Also at the meeting, a committee of room mothers under the leadership of Mrs. Victor Baer will present a children's Book Gift Fair in all classrooms after the business meeting. Part of the proceeds from the sale will go to the P.T.A. for school use.

Serving on the Book Fair committee will be: Mrs. Norman Feinberg, Mrs. Emanuel Goldman, Mrs. Ronald Adams, Mrs. Paul S. Onthank, Mrs. Abbott Spear, Mrs. Julian J. Klein, Mrs. George Hite, Mrs. Harold Brown, Mrs. R. W. Smith, Mrs. Paul M. Sidel, Mrs. Stanley Schreider, Mrs. H. M. Strong, Mrs. Wilfred Rounseirlle, Mrs. Raymond Smith, Mrs. Irving S. Canner, Mrs. Henry D. Epstein, Miss Mayo and Miss Wilmot, teachers, and a large group of volunteer assistants.

All parents in the Mason-Rice district are invited to attend.

Day JHS Plans Military Whist

Plans for the annual military whist party to be sponsored by the Frank A. Day Junior High School P.T.A. on Friday night, Nov. 30, are now being processed by the association's entertainment and fund raising committees.

The affair will be held at the school auditorium on Walnut street, Newtonville, under the direction of Ervin Dushuttle.

Assisting on the refreshment committee will be Mrs. Dana Sprague, Mr. and Mrs. Osten Anderson, Mrs. Stanley Gibbs, Mrs. A. G. Concannon, and Mr. and Mrs. William O'Connell.

Mrs. Robert Walsh, the association's hospitality chairman, and her co-worker, Mrs. George W. Taylor, Jr., will supervise a large number of hostesses.

In charge of prizes are Mrs. Wayne Schell, Mrs. Patrick Testa, Mrs. Paul Oetinger, Mrs. Harriet Clapper and Mrs. Luke Dohanian. Mrs. George Angier, Mrs. William Robinson, Mrs. Carlyle Williams, and Ralph Werman are handling publicity for the event.

Tickets for the party may be obtained from Mrs. Edward Josephson of 127 Withington road, Newtonville.

At V.F.W. Drive-In

"The Best Things in Life Are Free," with Gordon McRae, Dan Dailey and Ernest Borgnine, is being shown at the V.F.W. Parkway Drive-In Theatre thru Saturday. The co-feature is "Magnificent Roughnecks" with Jack Carson and Mickey Rooney.

Sunday through Tuesday "The Halls of Montezume", in color, starring Richard Widmark and Jack Palance, will be shown. On the same bill will be "Crash Dive" with Tyrone Power and Anne Baxter.

Recent Deaths

Edward J. Pendergast

About 400 persons attended the Solemn Requiem Mass celebrated Monday morning for Edward J. Pendergast of 18 Wauwinet road, West Newton, a director of Jordan Marsh Company.

Most Rev. Eric F. MacKenzie, auxiliary bishop of Boston, was celebrant of the Mass in St. Bernard's Church, West Newton. Rev. Daniel F. Quinn was deacon and Rev. Robert E. Brennan was subdeacon.

The honorary pall bearers, all officials of Jordan Marsh, were Edward R. Mitton, president; Cameron S. Thompson, vice-president; William Everett, Newton Waltzer, Isadore Jacobson, Silas Guggenheim, Thomas Duffy, Henry Coyne, Jams Fainclough, James Hagan, Carroll Robinson and Jere Connors.

Twenty members of the Jordan Marsh Half Century Club and 50 students from Emmanuel College were among those present.

Burial was in Newton Cemetery.

He died Thursday at Newton-Wellesley Hospital.

Mr. Pendergast began his career at Jordan's 64 years ago as a clerk, and advanced through the ranks as salesman, assistant buyer, buyer and merchandise manager.

As a silk buyer, he made 34 trips to Europe for Jordan's. For many years he managed the Basement Store. At his retirement in 1941 he was president of the Jordan Marsh Half-Century Club.

He was born in Woonsocket, R. I., and attended LaSalle Academy in Providence. He joined Jordan's shortly after graduation from St. Michael's College in Toronto, Canada.

He leaves a son, Edward H. of West Newton, and a daughter, Mrs. Arnold E. Grade of Dorchester.

Thomas J. Dwyer

A Solemn Requiem Mass was celebrated yesterday (Wednesday) in Corpus Christi Church, Auburndale for Thomas J. Dwyer, 46 of 24 West Pine street, Auburndale. He died suddenly Saturday of a heart attack.

Mr. Dwyer was a self employed electrician and lived in Auburndale since 1945. He formerly lived in Waltham and Cambridge. He was a former member of the Newton Lions Club and a member of Newton Lodge of Elks.

He leaves his wife, Evelyn (Helm) Dwyer, a brother, Joseph Dwyer of Waltham and a sister, Mrs. Herbert Stienhour of Somerville.

Thomas M. Conley

Thomas M. Conley, 67, of 222 Derby street, West Newton, died in his sleep Thursday.

He was born in West Newton. Until his retirement nine years ago, he had been employed as a roofer with W. A. Conley Roofers of West Newton.

He is survived by two sisters, Margaret J. and Nora E., and two brothers, James A. and William A., all of West Newton.

A requiem mass was celebrated Monday in St. Bernard's Church, West Newton.

John W. Barrett

John W. Barrett of 1593 Centre street, Newton Highlands, husband of Katherine L. (Haggerty) Barrett, died Saturday at Newton-Wellesley Hospital following a short illness.

Born in Newton, he was employed by the Cotton Yarn Company of Newton.

Besides his wife, he leaves two daughters, Mrs. Katherine Scheizel of Temple City, Calif. and Jean M. Barrett of Newton Highlands, and a sister, Miss Margaret Barrett of Newton Upper Falls.

Funeral services were held from his home Monday with a High Mass of Requiem in Sacred Heart Church, Newton Centre.

Burial was in Calvary Cemetery, Waltham.

Mrs. William Hopkins

Mrs. Mary Ann (Gorrill) Hopkins of 299 Centre street, Newton, died Friday at Newton-Wellesley Hospital after a long illness.

Widow of the late William Hopkins, she was born in Prince Edward Island, and had lived for 55 years in Newton.

She leaves a sister Miss Priscilla Gorrill with whom she lived; and a sister, Mrs. Virginia McLellan of Newtonville.

Funeral services were held Monday at the Rich, Bellinger and Mackay Chapel, 30 Centre avenue, Newton. Burial was in Newton Cemetery.

38-Page Booklet Describes Eliot Church Buildings

A 38-page booklet describing the three houses of worship occupied by Eliot Church of Newton and the new building planned by the congregation will be placed on public sale next week for the first time.

The opening sale will take place at the Phoenix Fair Festival of the Woman's Association at the Hunnewell Club in Newton.

Author of the pamphlet is Arthur H. Lord of Ginn and Company, a prominent member of the church. Its title is "The Eliot Church of Newton: Its Houses of Worship." Included in the booklet is an account of the memorial windows of the church edifice completely destroyed by fire last winter.

"Circus Bazaar" At Church of Good Shepherd

The Church of the Good Shepherd in Waban will produce an old-fashioned "Circus Bazaar" Wednesday beginning at 10 a.m.

Acting as "ringmaster" will be Mrs. George J. Brookhiser, who will preside over "stalls" run by the following: Mrs. Raymond L. Knight and Mrs. Horace P. Morton, arts and crafts, Miss Sylvia Meadows, Mrs. Alfred L. Felch and Mrs. James C. McDonough, knitted goods; Mrs. Charles J. Cawley and Mrs. Ellsbree D. Locke, foods and delicacies; Mrs. George Winch and Mrs. Albert H. Stitt, aprons and household articles; Mrs. Robert Gibson and Mrs. Frederick W. Atherton, Christmas wrappings; Mrs. Manning Williams and Mrs. Archibald Price, garden shop; Mrs. Stanley W. Ellis, books and magazines.

There will also be a "White Elephant Ring", under the direction of Mrs. Gordon B. Gifford. Clowns, balloons, and grabs, arranged by Mrs. Richard Husher, will amuse the youngsters present. Mrs. William H. Raye, Jr., artist, will snip out silhouettes of guests and will provide cut-outs of circus animals for decoration.

Coffee and doughnut vendors will make the rounds in the morning, and a snack bar, open at noon, will be administered by Mrs. Paul G. Anderson and Mrs. Alexander Marshall.

Teatime will feature a fortune teller, reading tea leaves, and assisted by Mrs. J. Dexter Harris and Mrs. Charles C. Marran, hostesses.

A "circus supper" at 6:30 p.m. will be produced by Mrs. A. E. J. Owen, and Mrs. J. Ernest Gwilliam, and followed by a surprise thriller, "The Purple Door Knob", put on by Miss Edith May.

As a grand finale, Edward C. Uehlein and Albert H. Stitt will officiate at a giant auction.

American Home

The American Home Class of the West Newton Women's Educational Club will meet Wednesday with a 12:30 p.m luncheon. Mrs. Werner Nelson, 14 Westview terrace, will be the hostess, assisted by Mrs. George H. Hayden. The program will be sponsored by the B.&D. Wallpaper Co., and there will be a door prize.

HONORED AT LUNCHEON—Cited last week at the annual membership luncheon of the Newton-Chestnut Hill Chapter, New England Women's Division of the American Jewish Congress, was Mrs. Charles Brown of Newton in recognition of her work as membership chairman. Mrs. Jay Gilfix of Newton (left) is shown making the presentation to Mrs. Brown.

Church Women Change Name Of Group

United Church Women of Newton formally became the title of the women's organization of 23 local Protestant churches recently by vote of 60 delegates at a meeting at the Newtonville Methodist Church.

New by-laws were ratified by the delegates, formally changing the organization's name to United Church Women of Newton, a department of the Newton Council of Churches. Other organizational changes were made to keep this group in line with the World, the National and other local groups of United Church Women. All women from the participating churches are members of the United Church Women of Newton. In addition individuals from participating or non-participating churches, may now hold individual memberships, and their memberships are solicited.

Mrs. Leonard A. Monzert, member-at-large of the Board of Governors, told delegates that the mid-winter Inter-Faith Meeting will be held on Friday afternoon, Jan. 11, at the Unitarian Church in West Newton. Dr. Albert I. Gordon of Temple Emmanuel will speak on the subject, "Is There a Religious Revival?" Women of the sisterhoods of the three Newton Temples, Protestant and Catholic women will all be invited.

Mrs. Wallace M. Ross announced that the new pastor of the Central Congregational Church, Rev. Benjamin A. Andrews, will be the speaker for the World Day of Prayer Service to be held on Friday, March 8. "Free Schools in a Free America," the subject which United Church Women are being asked to consider at their spring meetings this year, will be discussed by Dr. Wendell Yeo at the May Fellowship of the United Church Women of Newton on May 3, 1957. Mrs. Harvey Kazmier, Chairman of Christian Social Relations, is in charge of this meeting and reported to the delegates.

The women from the hostess church in charge of the coffee-hour were Mrs. John R. Ballou, President of the Woman's' Society of Christian Service, Mrs. Hamilton Gifford, wife of the pastor, Mrs. George Tracy and Mrs. Arthur Gregorian.

Heaters Bring Warmth, May Also Bring Death

Heaters which bring warmth to your household this winter may also bring death.

This warning comes from the American Mutual Liabilit. Insurance Company's Institute for Safer Living. Hundreds die from fires every year in the United States. Many of these deaths are the direct result of faulty heating equipment.

Have you checked your heater this year? If not, a cry of alarm in the night or a loud explosion may be the result of your failure to make a timely discovery of defective equipment.

Portable kerosene stoves used in many congested city areas and some rural communities are especially dangerous, the Institute cautions. Many are moved from place to place in a household even while burning. On chilly nights they are pulled close to the bed often igniting blankets and bedclothes. A child stumbling to the bathroom at night may knock it over spreading flames throughout the house. Frequent filling also presents a fire hazard when the burner overflows and floors are saturated.

If you find it necessary to use this type of burner the Institute advises it should be checked for holes or weak spots where punctures can easily occur. Rusting and corrosion are also factors to be considered in checking the equipment.

Oil space heaters and kitchen range burners can also be hazardous. Here again you have the difficulty of frequent refilling. But you should also check to make sure burners are leveled, you have proper draft, and the tank is correctly positioned.

If you use a portable heater as a makeshift clothes dryer you may have more than damp socks to worry about in the morning, the Institute warns.

In power burners, the biggest cause of fires is delayed ignition. With oil pouring into the burner an explosion can occur anytime. At the start of each heating season your burner should be checked by a licensed burnerman to make certain that the heating system is in proper working order.

A big cause of fires in heating equipment is the "do it yourself" burner installation man. The Institute warns only an expert knows the proper clearances for various heaters and keeps in mind the closeness of combustible materials.

"Bottled Gas" such as propane and butane can be dangerous if your tank springs a leak. Heavier than air, the gas could settle under your house — just ripe for an explosion.

The Institute points out there is no nation-wide requirements that heating equipment be checked for fire safety before being sold. Some have their products approved by reputable testing laboratories, but others just start manufacturing.

Everyone likes to gather around a warm fire during the cold months, but not if the heat's coming from your burning house.

April Visit Of Metropolitan Opera To Boston

Opera lovers will be happy to learn that the Metropolitan Opera of New York will make its twenty-third annual visit to Boston next April, according to word received today from Harriet O'Brien, promotion manager of the Boston Opera Association.

At a recent meeting Talcott M. Banks, Jr., was elected president of the Boston Opera Association; Harrison Keller, vice president; John G. Cushman, treasurer, and William Bradford Trafford, secretary.

The board of directors includes Robert Cutler, Bradford M. Endicott, James Lawrence, Jr., Russell B. Stearns and Oliver Wolcott.

HUMAN WEAKNESS

The trouble with good intentions is that they seldom are put into action enough.

---the informed citizen---

A Weekly Column written and prepared by the Newton League of Women Voters and devoted to the principle that an informed citizen is a good citizen.

Would you use an antique buggy for efficient transportation on a modern superhighway?

Massachusetts has one of the first and probably one of the finest state constitutions in the country—but it is an interesting fact (perhaps at first a startling one) that in many fields where this state first asserted leadersip, our present laws still represent the finest crystallization of 19th not 20th century thought and attitudes.

Thoughtful people have been comparing the efficiency of our state election laws wtih the antique buggy on a superhighway.

Some of these state election laws have an interesting history which helps to explain their survival. For example, the history of the present two-year term for the Governor of Massachusetts can be traced to colonial times.

It was the king who appointed the Governor and gave him broad powers over both houses of the legislature. When the colonists became freemen, they provided for the election of the Governor by the people. However, they still mistrusted the power vested in a strong executive and curtailed his powers and limited his term to one year. An additional check on the gubernatorial power was created in the form of the Governor's Council (which, incidentally, is still in existence).

It wasn't until 1918 that some of the great distrust of power in the hands of the state's chief executive could be diminished to the extent that a two-year term for governor became the law in Massachusetts.

Meanwhile, other states had been providing four-year terms for their governors since 1888. Thirty of our 48 states and four territories now 'give their chief executives terms of four years. In many of these states, this has been in effect for 50 years or more. In our federal government, the term of the president is for four years.

2-Year Term — Pro & Con

In defense of the two-year term, it has been argued that a power-hungry or bad governor could use longer tenure to establish a "machine" and to cement his power. Proponents of constitutional reform feel that longer tenure for the governor would give him more time to work out effective planning and would disrupt the political scene less drastically and expensively than does the present two-year program. The "two-year" electee, they maintain, spends so much time merely setting up his office and worrying about the next campaign that there is barely enough time to embark on any long-range policies.

Though there is substantial agreement that this change is necessary, in principle, one of the most serious problems involved in the contemplated change from the two-year to the four-year term has been the timing of the election.

In Massachusetts, this point has marked partisan impiications—with some members in both parties claiming advantage for the opposition in the choice of a presidential or non-presidential year.

In the National Municipal League's Model State Constitution, there is provision for the election of a Governor to a four-year term in a non-presidential year. It is felt that a state election held in a non-presidential election year stimulates greater public interest in state issues. Statistics seem to indicate that the effects of timing of gubernatorial elections differ from time to time and from state to state. Most authorities believe that the cycle of four years irons out, in time, what appears to be advantages to one party.

In line with the national trend, there has been a growing support for the four-year term for governor (and other constitutional officers) in Massachusetts. However, an election reform like the term of office for governor, requires a constitutional amendment. To become law, such an amendment must be approved by a majority of all the members of two successive General Courts and must then be affirmed by a majority of the voters.

4-Year Term Beaten

A bill providing four-year terms for the governor and other top officials of the state, with election in non-presidential years, was approved by the 1953-54 joint session of the legislature. It failed, however, to get the required majority approval in the 1955-56 General Court by a mere 29 votes, for partisan reasons.

Last year, the League of Women Voters of Massachusetts studied the proposal for a four-year term for governor, in line with the League's interest in "a system of government which is responsive to the will of the people and which enables the voter to carry out his obligation as a citizen". Because it seemed to promote this principle of good government, the four-year term, with election in a non-presidential year, was endorsed by the League.

The timing of the gubernatorial election has proved such a stumbling block to the passage of an amendment giving the governor longer tenure, that Leagues throughout the State will study this year the advantages and disadvantages of eliminating the controversial issue of timing from future sustitute bills.

In other words, is the principle of longer tenure so important that it does not matter whether a gubernatorial election in a non-presidential year is made a condition of such an amendment? Should the four-year term also be extended to members of the General Court? to the Governor's Council? Some of the objections in the last General Court which helped to defeat the four-year term were due to the fact that provision was not also made in the bill for the General Court and the Governor's Council.

These and other questions relating to the four-year term will be discussed by members of the Newton League of Women Voters at their unit discussion meetings during the week of November 26th. Mrs. Martin Greenberg is the Leagues chairman of the committee on State Election Laws.

Early Copy Next Week

As Thanksgiving Day falls on next Thursday, The Graphic will go to press a day earlier than is its usual custom. This is necessary in order to have the paper delivered to the homes on the first mail next Wednesday morning, instead of Thursday as is the usual practice.

Therefore, advertisers and correspondents are urged to send their copy in Friday and Saturday of this week, if possible, in order to insure its insertion in the issue of November 22.

The deadline for news copy for next week's edition will be Monday at noon; for general advertising copy, Monday at 5 p.m.; for classified advertising, Tuesday at 2 p.m.

News correspondents are urged to make every effort to send their copy in on Friday and Saturday of this week. It will greatly facilitate the work at this office.

Traffic Survey of City To Be Completed Soon

Toll Road Problem and Other Basic Factors Being Studied

Engineering study of traffic conditions in this city, which will include recommendations for a coordinated traffic improvement plan, has been underway for about a month and is progressing satisfactorily. The survey, which is being conducted by the firm of Wilbur Smith and Associates of New Haven, Conn., for the city, will also include studies of problems associated with the Massachusetts Turnpike for the purpose of minimizing possible adverse effects on the city.

Considerable basic field data has been collected by the consultants during the last few weeks and summarization and preliminary analyses have already been initiated. Traffic counts and studies of the composition of traffic have been conducted on all major arterials and at special locations, where traffic congestion is particularly critical.

Detailed parking inventories and studies of curb usage have been made in all business centers in the study area and extensive studies have been made of travel speeds and relays on principal streets. Basic data concerning existing traffic regulations and traffic control devices have also been collected as well as detailed information concerning physical conditions affecting traffic at complex intersections.

Assistance has been provided by Chief Philip Purcell

Red Feather Fund Now at 82 Percent

With five days remaining in Newton's biggest campaign for recreation, health and welfare agencies, Campaign Chairman Franklin N. Flaschner urged all citizens of the Garden City to be a part of this year's victory for the Red Feather.

"Newton now stands at 82 per cent of its goal," Mr. per cent of its goal," Mr. uFlac Flaschner announced following Tuesday (Nov. 12) report night in the village headquarters. Total amount subscribed was $246,557 of the overall city goal of $300,000.

"The 1957 Red Feather drive has a real chance of going over the top and with vigorous effort in these closing days II hope to announce successful achievement for Newton at the final report meeting in Boston next Tuesday night," he stated.

The final "Dutch Treat" dinner will be held at the Sheraton Plaza Hotel on November 20, closing date of the Greater Boston drive for $6,567,000.

Newton residents not yet contacted by a volunteer solicitor and others who may wish to increase their 1957 pledges already made, are asked to telephone or mail their subscriptions to the Newton Red Feather Campaign headquarters, Bray Block, 93 Union street, Newton Centre, LAsell 7-5120.

Greater Boston's biggest campaign to raise funds for the combined needs of 277 hospitals, recreation centers and family counseling agencies, includes thirteen Red Feather services located in Newton. The campaign slogan: "The Future of Youth Depends on You" is an appropriate one. Due to unprecedented demands on youth and children's agencies in recent years, more than 50 cent of the money allocated to Red Feather agencies goes to serve young people.

Gifts to Red Feather strike at the core of juvenile delinquency, held to build healthy minds and bodies in our youngsters today who will be the parents and adult citizens of tomorrow.

Official Presents Address On State Taxes

Edward C. Wilson, Associate Commissioner of Corporations and Taxation addresed a meeting of the League of Women Voters of Newton last Friday, on the subject of "Our Share of the State Take in Taxes". First appointed to the Department in 1942, Mr. Wilson is now in charge of Local Finance, which includes assessments and budgeting.

In her introductory remarks, Mrs. John W. Locke, Economic Policies Chairman quoted the Supreme Court as saying the power to tax is the one great power that underlies the whole fabric of government. Taxes are to government, she said, what food is to the individual. However, even a good tax sys-

Visiting Nurse Association Adds Five New Members To Its Staff

Five new nurses have joined the staff of the Newton Visiting Nurse Association this year to aid the agency in providing skilled nursing care for the sick in their homes on a part-time basis, Miss Katherine MacDonald, Executive Director, announced today. The nurses will also assist at the Well Baby Conferences sponsored by the Newton Visiting Nurse Association in eight neighborhoods of the city and in the agency's health education program.

All of the new nurses are graduates of outstanding hospital training programs. They include Miss Elaine Quinn, graduate of Holyoke Hospital and Boston University whose career has included service in the U. S. Navy; Miss Georgia Terriberry, graduate of Cornell University School of Nursing who previously was a staff nurse at New York Hospital; Mrs. Eleanor G. Claus, who graduated from the five-year program at Mt. Holyoke College affiliated with Hartford Hospital; Miss Mary E. Keenan, graduate of New England Deaconess Hospital and Miss Therese Dionne, graduate of Carney Hospital who has served on the staff of the New England Hospital and the Veterans' Hospital, Jamaica Plain.

The Newton Visiting Nurse Association, a Red Feather service, is located at 1990 Washington street, Newton Lower Falls. With your doctor's permission, you may obtain the services of a Visiting Nurse when needed by calling BIgelow 4-4880.

By JAMES G. COLBERT

Hynes-Powers' Feud Cost Democrats Control of Senate . . . State Republicans Must Find Leader to Rebuild Party . . .

A political feud between Mayor John B. Hynes and State Senator John E. Powers which is still simmering a year after Boston's mayoralty election may have cost Powers his chance to be president of the Massachusetts Senate during the coming session of he Legislature.

No less than three Democratic nominees for the State Senate, who had supported Powers against Hynes in the 1955 mayoralty battle, were defeated in last week's election. All three were apparently cut by the Hynes followers.

They were Isadore H. Y. Muchnick of West Roxbury who ran in the West Roxbury-Roslindale-Brookline district, John F. Melia of Brighton who stood for election in the Brighton-Newton district, and Peter J. Cloherty of Allston, who carried the Democratic banner in the Back Bay-Allston sector.

If one of the three had won election, the incoming Senate would be evenly split with 20 Democrats and 20 Republicans. If two of the three had emerged victorious, the Democrats would have had a 21-19 margin in the Senate.

Although the districts in which they were running had always been represented by Republican Senators, Muchnick, Melia and Cloherty all appeared to be involved in close contests, and the indications were that at least one of them and possibly two of them would come out as winners.

Sooner Than You Think!

Can you believe it?

There remain only 32 shopping days before Christmas!

The Joyous Season of the year is approaching fast and for those who have not yet started their Christmas shopping, it might not be a bad idea to start now to do it.

Local merchants now have their attractive gifts on display and are fully equipped to serve your needs. Here in Newton the shopper will find a wide variety of gifts, comparable both in price and quality, to those in the larger metropolitan shopping area.

You will find it much more convenient to do your shopping right here in Newton and you will be able to obtain the item which you are seeking.

Shop early, and now, while a large variety of stocks exist. Don't put it off until the last minute. Christmas will be here before you realize it.

New Eliot Church To Be Erected

Colonial Style Edifice Will Be Built at Cost of $624,000

Eliot Church will rise again —soon.

That was the good news which came from the meeting of the membership held last Friday evening. After listening to the reports and recommendations of the building committees the members gave the go ahead signal to the Prudential Committee to start work on the new building at once.

Frank A. Day, Ray E. Johns, and Earl P. Stevenson, chairmen of the committees, told the meeting what had been accomplished since approval was given to the preliminary plans last June. The architects worked hard to have the final plans ready early in October. Minor changes were made in a few details which will improve the appearance of the building by lessening the height of the spire, and make the interior arrangement more serviceable, at the same time effecting economies.

Several contractors submitted bids for doing the work, the most favorable being from the George B. H. Macomber Co., which has been awarded the contract. The total cost of erecting the church, including the firm bid for construction and the cost of furnishing it, will be about $624,000. This is somewhat less than the preliminary estimate, and at the same time it was reported that the funds in hand for re-building had risen to $575,000.

The several speakers all expressed their faith that the additional sum needed, $49,000, could be raised in the coming year from interested persons and without anoter campaign, and that the value of the church of finishing the whole job now was so great that it justified trying to meet the challenge. The eagerness of Eliot Church members to have their new church and their confidence in their ability to achieve it was shown by the unanimous vote in favor of the recommendation.

It was nine months ago last Sunday that fire destroyed the familiar stone edifice of Eliot Church. These months of waiting have been one of the busiest and most active times the church has ever had. Many scores of people have worked as never before to help in the planning of the new building, to help in raising money, and

Newton Girl Crowned Boston Univ. Homecoming Queen

A pretty 19-year-old Boston University co-ed from Newton was crowned Homecoming Queen during half-time ceremonies last Saturday at the Boston University-Holy Cross College football game at Boston University Field.

Miss Laura Sugarman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis E. Sugarman of 59 Stuart road, Newton, was chosen queen from 10 candidates in the fourth annual Homecoming queen contest co-sponsored by the Boston University "News" and the B.U. Rally committee.

Proceeds from the contest, in which B.U. Students cast "penny votes," totaled close to $1,000 ($989.93), all of wnich will be donated to the Jummy Fund, money-raising agency of the Children's Cancer Research Foundation.

This year's total was double the amount collected in the three previous contests, and topped last year's record total by more than $350.

Miss Sugarman, who was crowned by Miss Pauline Fleming last year's queen, is a sophomore at B.U.'s School of Nursing. Active in student activities at B.U., Miss Sugarman is a member of her school's student governing body; and Alpha Epsilon Phi sorority.

of the Police Department in the compilance of traffic accident facts in a form suitable for the special investigations. The extensive field studies required to obtain the data which are essential to an objective study of Newton's street and highway needs are still in process and will be continued as the development of the traffic improvement plan requires.

Preliminary reports of the analysis of Newton's traffic problems will be presented to Mayor Howard Whitmore, Jr., and the Board of Aldermen before the end of the year. The problem of efficiently handling the huge volume of traffic which will be brought onto Newton's streets by the turnpike is a matter of particular concern to the Mayor and local officials and will receive early study.

Analysis will be made to produce a program of improvements to cope with both the already serious traffic problems of today and those of the future.

her wonderful work in scouting began.

In an interview, she disclosed that her interest and desire to help the young children living under the very poor conditions in these camps were initiated by the idea of "Girl Guilding," as it was referred to in Europe. The Communists had banned scouting so there was no Girl Scout Organization. She struggled for a year to get started and sent messages to the British Girl Guides for help. Finally the British Girl Guide Service teams were sent there to train leaders in Girl Guiding. Women came together from different towns to receive training and they formed Service Teams to teach scouting in their camps which were in the British Zone of Germany. She remained on the Training Team for three and a half years, setting up courses, teaching and forming troops at all levels in Scouting: Brownie, Intermediate and Senior, and when she left, the Girl Scout program was in full swing.

She came to the United States in November, 1949, when her husband, who is a scientist, was invited to do research work at Massachusetts Institute of Technology. On arriving in the United States, she made her home in Newton and has continued her deep and enthusiastic interest in Girl Scouting. She formed a Latvian Girl Scout Troop in Boston and served as their Leader for several years.

In the Newton Girl Scout Council she served as a Volunteer Trainer for two years, in the out-of-door program field, and has taught adults and girls many camping skills. She was a member of the Council Board, and was chairman of the Troop and Trip Camping Committee. She also assisted the Senior Girls in the preparation for the Senior Roundup in Michigan last June. She has also served as a Nurse's Aide in the American Red Cross. She has two children, a son who is a freshman at M.I.T. and a daughter who attends Day Junior High School.

Mrs. Kalnajs has appeared as guest speaker at many meetings in Newton and Boston. Her rich background of experience in her work with the Newton Girl Scout Council has been of great help to this community. There are 1050 active volunteer adults, 1450 Brownies, 900 Intermediate Scouts, and 150 Senior Scouts—a total Newton Girl Scout Membership of 3550. Miss Elizabeth Richardson is the Executive Director of the Girl Scout Council and Mrs. Earl Alban is the other Field Director. The headquarters are located at 6 Hartford street, Newton Highlands. This is a Red Feather Agency.

Mrs. Robert McGlone, the former Field Director in the Girl Scout Council, was given a surprise "stork Shower" recently at the home of the Council president, Mrs. Thomas S. Dorr. She had been associated with the Newton Girl Scout Council for several years and many of her friends in Scouting attended this meeting which was in the form of a coffee hour, and was arranged by Mrs. Edward Axelrod. Coffee pourers at the table were Mrs. Earl Alben and Mrs. Janis Kalnajs. Assisting as hostesses were Mrs. Robert Pettit and Mrs. E. Tyler Parkhurst Co-chairmen of the Field Committee.

In his World War II service, Goldberg was in the antiaircraft branch of the Coast Artillery Corps, and served with the 580th AAA (AW) Battalion. Later he spent more than two years overseas, achieving the rank of captain, and becoming area press censor, U. S. Army, for Calcutta, India, and Kunming, China.

He ultimately succeeded to acting chief press censor for the China theatre under Gen. A. C. Wedemeyer, but his final overseas post was a business manager and last officer-in-charge of the China edition of "The Stars and Stripes".

While in China, he was awarded the Bronze Star medal and served on the Theatre general court-martial board. A disabled veteran, Goldberg is now in the honorary reserve corps.

A former resident of Lynn, he is a graduate of the Classical High School there. He also holds the degree of bachelor of science (cum laude) from Boston University, and the degree of master of arts from the University of Wisconsin. Two years of study toward the doctorate degree in government at Harvard University graduate school of arts and science are also part of his educational background. He is a member of Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalistic fraternity, and Kappa Tau Alpha, national honorary scholarship society.

With his wife, the former Paula E. Masicov of Boston, and their daughter, Betsy Rae, 7 months old, he resides at 85 Hyde avenue.

tem can be ruined by poor administration.

Mr. Wilson described the three principal "Aid-Programs" whereby the cities and towns in the Commonwealth share the state take in taxes. The first program is one of direct reimbursement to localities for such things as welfare aid and school transportation.

The distribution of state collected revenue from the corporate and income taxes was the second "Aid-Program" described. Recently and additional sum of $11,300,000 was distributed to the communities, over the amount originally estimated by the Tax Commissioner.

Grants-in-aid for specific purposes, such as highways was the third major "Aid-Program".

Still in use for determining the distribution of state funds are out-of-date formulae, which have little bearing on the present community needs. Some of these are based on assessed valuation. Inasmuch as there is wide divergence on assessment practices, ranging from assessments of 18% to over 60% of fair cash value, it is difficult to achieve state-wide equalization in the distribution of state funds. He said that if all communities assessed on a fair cash value, the average state-wide tax rate would be cut in half, from the present average of $60 to $30.

In conclusion, Mr. Wilson said that it was up to the state legislature, the "Keepers of the Conscience" to provide for just and equitable means of distributing state funds. However, he said, "Any future program . . . must reckon first with community resistance to their alleged rights."

During the question period which followed the Commissioner's address, he said that more good than bad has come out of revaluation throughout Massachusetts. He also described the Massachusetts tax on unearned income as the only one of its kind. The income tax, he said was really four different taxes, and was at present, with the tax on corporations, yielding its limit. Additional income, he said, should come from better enforcement.

Mrs. Seymour Getter, President of the Newton League introduced League members from neighboring communities who were guests of Newton. Leagues represented included Framingham, Needham, Sudbury, Medfield and Watertown.

exploring means of financial support for the channel.

He also stated that two cities in another part of the country had obtained funds for their educational channels from New York foundations, and suggested the Newton Council investigate the possibility.

The executive board was also told that it is feasible to run a coaxial cable from Channel 2 to the Science Museum, a project which ,if accomplished, would make the cost of a half-hour program from the Museum about $50.

A Channel 2 committee, formed at the meeting, has Frederick Ford as chairman and Mrs. Louis Homonoff as co- chairman, asisted by Mrs. Charles Robinson, Mrs. A. E. J. Owen, and Mrs. Benjamin Arac.

Another facet of the project for school television was brought up during the second part of the meeting in an exchange of ideas on programming for the individual schools. Among the possibilities proposed were use of string quartet to introduce classical music to children at their own level, a get-together supper, a festival of nations, scholarship funds, book and cake sales, and a picnic supper.

in the task of keeping the activities of the church going strong while it is without a church home. They have been tremendously encouraged by the abundant support and good will of the community in helping them meet this crisis.

The new building will have a sanctuary seating 400 people on the floor and 72 in the balcony. It will have a chancel choir and the beautiful toned organ given by Mr. and Mrs. Edward Dane. There will be a chapel adjoining to accommodate 5 people. There will be a sizeable fellowship hall with kitchen and serving room, a church lounge, church school rooms, and the necessary offices. It will be a handsome edifice, colonial in style, without frills or extravagances, and has been carefully planned to fully serve the needs of the church now and for many years to come.

The contractors will begin at once to tear down the old walls that have been standing. It was not indecision or indifference that left them standing but the desire to achieve every economy possible. By waiting until the contractor was ready to start building, many thousands of dollars were saved which can be used to better advantage in the new structure. The foundation will be laid immediately and construction proceed as fast as possible. Barring serious delays from adverse weather conditions or from other unforeseeable contingencies, it is expected that the new church will be ready for occupancy early next fall.

Bank Sends Out Over $330,000 In Tax Payments

Warren W. Oliver, president of the Newton Co-operative Bank, announces that real estate tax payments by the bank have amounted this year to over $330,000.

These tax payments are made on behalf of home owners whose properties are mortgaged with this bank. The neighboring cities and town sharing in this tax payment include Newton, Wellesley, Needham, Watertown, Wayland, Waltham and Lexington.

This modern way of handling real estate tax payments is a great help to home owners, enabling them to break up their tax bill into twelve parts, paying one-twelfth of the bill with each monthly mortgage payment. Ordinarily, this is much easier for the home owner than trying to "corral" the full amount when the bill becomes payable.

Obviously, this procedure is a tremendous boon to the tax collector's office in each locality. It eliminates the necessity of hundreds of people coming to the office to make payments in person or mailing individual checks. Instead, the bank sends to the respective collector's office a neat pile of approved tax bills and one check covering their total amount.

Although this involves extra work on the part of the bank, points out Mr. Oliver, "it is a service which we are glad to render because of its great convenience and value to the individual home-owning mortgagor."

Fashion Tea To Be Held For Retarded Tots

A flying trip to New York and two tickets to "My Fair Lady" will reward some lucky purchaser of a "share" in the Nursery School of the Boston Association for Retarded Children.

The Friends of BARC, a women's auxiliary now in its third year, is selling "shares" in the Nursery School at 42 The Fenway, run by BARC for preschool retarded children, and supported as its project by Friends of BARC.

The Nursery School was opened this fall to provide classes and training for retarded children between the ages of four and seven. Proceeds from the sale of shares in the School by Friends of BARC will help to expand the School's facilities.

The selection of the fortunate "shareholders" will take place at a Fashion Tea to be held by BARC on December 8 at the Hotel Somerset. Mrs. James H. Buskirk of Belmont is Chairman of the Friends project, and Mrs. Irving Groper of Brookline is Co-Chairman. Mrs. George Swartz of Brookline and Mrs. Anthony V. Taurasi of Medford are Chairmen of the BARC Fashion Tea. "My Fair Lady" fashions will be presented at the Tea by Stuarts of Newbury street.

My most sincere thanks for the wonderful vote of confidence given me on November 6th by my friends and neighbors in Newton.

Senior Class Play To Be Given This Week-end

The High School Senior Class will present tomorrow (Fri.) and Saturday, November 16 and 17, in the auditorium, its annual play, entitled "Double Door."

Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock, and 8:15 Saturday evening the performances will be held. Tickets have been on sale for the students in school but will also be sold at the door Saturday evening.

"Double Door" differs greatly in type of story from previous Senior play productions. It is felt, however, that the play will receive as much or mor acclaim as any other dramatic presentation. The cast, under the direction of Mr. William B. Spink, is enthusiastically preparing this play of suspense and mystery which will keep the audience at a high emotional peak until the final suprise ending.

Although the participants in the play and on the committees are Seniors, the entire student body is encouaged to attend the affair.

The members of the "Double Door" cast are:

Nightmare Of Reality

James M. Barrie's charming fantasy "Peter Pan" has been delighting both young and old for generations. But for millions of parents throughout the nation, the Peter Pan legend is a nightmare of reality.

These are the parents of the nation's five million mentally retarded children. This week has been set aside by President Eisenhower to remind us of their plight.

These parents have been forced to accept a disturbing truth—their children will never grow up mentally. They will remain forever in the world of childhood, ironic twists to the Peter Pan story, rejected by a society that is frightened by its capacity to produce gross inperfection.

Here in Massachusetts, we have an estimated 140,000 such youngsters. Some suffered an injury at the time of birth or early in childhood. Others were afflicted because their mothers contracted a seemingly slight disease, such as German measles, during pregnancy.

Or perhaps, as a normal child struggled for life in his first moments in the world, his oxygen supply was cut off for a few brief seconds. These seconds without oxygen may have damaged his brain forever, sentencing him to life in a confusing world which he will never understand without special help.

These innocent victims of childhood's most heartbreaking handicap will continue to require assistance through all or most of their lives. It was on their behalf that the Massachusetts Association for Retarded Children was formed just four years ago.

Our community is served by one of the 24 local units of the association. This organization of parents and professional workers is attempting to provide for mentally retarded children the social, educational and medical services which they so desperately need if they are to live, happy useful lives.

All of these services cost money. Lots of it. And the parents of retarded children cannot carry the financial burden by themselves.

Only 7,000 of the state's mentally retarded are cared for in institutions. The remainder are served through such community facilities as nursery training classes, vocational training, young adult social adjustment groups and diagnostic and counseling clinics supported by the associations for retarded children.

The mentally retarded children in our neighborhood are our problem. With each life that is salvaged for useful, gainful living, the whole community gains, both socially and economically.

Retarded children need more than your sympathy and pity and understanding. They need your financial support. They need it now, during the Thanksgiving Crusade for Retarded Children.

Thanksgiving

"Enter into His gates with thanksgiving,
And into His courts with praise;
Be thankful unto Him, and blessHis name."
—Psalms 100,4.

Church attendance in our Heaven-blest land reached an all-time high last year, nearly 50 million adults a week, and indications are that 1956 attendance will exceed even that great multitude.

The highest attendance, a survey showed, was found in America's hometowns.

Easter Sunday church attendance was greatest, with six out of every 10 adult Americans present at services. In the Thanksgiving services being held this year, may even that wonderful outpouring be far exceeded in number.

Surely 10 out of every 10 Americans have bountiful reason to thank our God for blessings received, not just once a year, but daily, hourly. Let our thankfulness be expressed in our chosen houses of worship, if at all possible, but most certainly and universally let it be expressed in every surely grateful heart.

Instead, all three went down to defeat, at least partly because of their inability to draw support from the Hynes adherents.

Still another State Senator who had backed Powers for Mayor in 1955, Daniel Rudsten of Dorchester, was defeated in the primary when the Hynes supporters rallied behind his opponent, Senator-elect A. Frank Foster.

It's unusual for the bitterness to exist 12 months after an election that still prevails between the Hynes and Powers camps. What amounts to a running feud, however, has continued between them for a full year.

Mayor Hynes himself took no stand on the contests involving Muchnick, Melia and Cloherty. It's quite possible that he was completely unaware that some of his followers were giving a political cold shoulder to the three Democratic Senate nominees who had battled them a year ago.

The results, however, make it clear that Muchnick, Melia and Cloherty all suffered because of the Hynes-Powers feud.

State Republicans Need Leader . . .

Who will be the leader of the Republican party in Massachusetts during the next two years?

Who will direct the rebuilding job that must be done in the Bay State's GOP before 1958?

Those are questions which are not easily answered.

In theory, the candidate for Governor is the titular leader of his party, but it rarely works out that way in practice when the gubernatorial standard-bearer is defeated. Certainly, no one recognized Robert F. Murphy as the head of the Democratic party during the months following his 1954 election downfall.

Sumner G. Whittier is not likely to be the figure around whom the Republicans will rally. He did not have the solid support of his party in the recent campaign. His influence, of course, diminished tremendously as a result of his defeat.

That doesn't mean that Whittier might not attempt a political comeback two years from now. It's entirely possible that he might. But it is unlikely that he can be the rallying point for his party as it undertakes to restore its fallen fortunes in the State.

The logical leader to guide Republican affairs during the coming 20 months are Governor Christian A. Herter, Senator Leverett Saltonstall and Congressman Joseph W. Martin, Jr. Their attention, however, will be centered on happenings in Washington rather than in Massachusetts.

Saltonstall and Martin will be too absorbed in their own duties on Capitol Hill to devote much, if any, time to Massachusetts politics. Herter also is planning to move to Washington in January and presumably will accept a position in President Eisenhower's cabinet.

What probably will happen is that Herter, Saltonstall and Martin, who will wield a tremendous amount of influence, will run the GOP through a proxy and that the rebuilding job will be directed by the man they decide to place in the Republican State Committee chairmanship.

The guessing in political circles is that the new GOP State head will be either former Chairman Elmer C. Nelson or Charles Gibbons, the unsuccessful candidate for Lieutenant Governor.

Nelson was one of the best political organizers in the history of the Republican party in Massachusetts. There is no certainty that he would be willing to return to the GOP State Committee chairmanship. A drive to try to get him back, however, already has been started by Governor's Councillor Charles J. Gabriel.

If Nelson refuses to come back or if the Whittier forces made a sufficiently strong stand against him to block his return, which is unlikely, Gibbons might be the choice. Also being mentioned as a possibility is Daniel Tyler, Jr., of Brookline who was the State Committee chairman in 1952.

The politically shrewd and astute Nelson expressed the opinion last winter that Whittier would not be a strong candidate for the Governorship and that if he were nominated he would be defeated. That provoked the clash between Whittier and Nelson.

Nelson sought to persuade Gibbons to seek the Governorship. When Gibbons decided to run for the Lieutenant Governorship instead, Nelson tried to induce Executive Councillor Bruce Crane of Dalton to enter the gubernatorial field.

Ironically, when Nelson had resigned himself to the realization that he could not find any candidate to back for the Republican nomination for Governor and that Whittier was going to head the GOP State ticket, Whittier then decided to oust him from the State Committee chairmanship.

That was one of the actions which set the stage for the defeat of the Republican State ticket in last week's election. It not only deprived the GOP of its most effective organizer but it also offended many of the Republican grass roots workers out in the towns and villages who had looked to Nelson as their leader.

If Nelson was a prophet as to what would happen in Massachusetts in the event of Whittier's nomination as the Republican candidate for Governor, former President Truman also was quite a long-distance prognosticator concerning the fate which awaited Adlai Stevenson if he were selected a second time as the Democratic party's Presidential standard-bearer.

While Truman has been virtually forgotten in the aftermath of the election, the fact is that when he was supporting Averell Harriman against Stevenson at the Democratic national convention in Chicago last August, he foretold pretty accurately what would happen if Adlai were given the right to make a second run for the Presidency.

A big flaw in Mr. Truman's position is that Harriman probably would not have polled any more votes than Stevenson if he had been the nominee.

Young Herter Bright GOP Prospect . . .

Republicans, who already are thinking in terms of the 1958 election and the State ticket they must put together for it, are eyeing the vote-getting performance turned in last week by Executive Councillor-elect Christian A. Herter, Jr., son and namesake of the Governor and one of the GOP's brightest prospects.

Ex-Representative Herter did what most of the political experts believed it was impossible for any Republican candidate to do. He ran ahead of President Eisenhower in some sections of the big third councillor district in which he was standing for election.

In his home city of Newton, for example, Ike rolled up 29,546 votes, but Herter topped him with 29,808. Where the President carried Newton by a margin of 12,896 votes, Herter took it with a plurality of 14,175.

The longer the political sages analyze the showing of the Governor's son, the more remarkable it becomes. Consider these figures. Sumner G. Whittier carried Newton over Foster Furcolo by 6837 votes. Charles Gibbons, in a strong run, bested Robert F. Murphy in the Garden City by 9666 votes. Attorney General George Fingold bested Edward J. McCormack, Jr., by 12,774 votes.

But Christian A. Herter, Jr., well down on the ballot, where the vote totals usually dropped off, carried the city by 14,175 votes and ran ahead even of his party's champion, President Eisenhower.

It is almost inevitable that the Republican party will tap the younger Herter for some position on its State ticket two years hence.

A movement already has been started within the GOP to persuade UN Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., to return to Massachusetts in 1958 and stand either for the U. S. Senate or the Governorship. It is generally felt that Lodge is one Republican who could give a real battle to Senator John F. Kennedy who defeated him in 1956.

Attorney General Fingold is likely to move up to bid for the Governorship if Lodge runs for the Senate. Should Lodge instead set his sights on the Governor's chair, Fingold would have a choice of standing for the U. S. Senate or re-election.

The likelihood is that the men around whom the GOP will build its 1956 ticket will be Lodge, if he is willing to return to politics; Fingold, the lone member of the GOP State slate to survive the election, and Gibbons, who made a strong run for the Lieutenant Governorship, and Herter.

Where they will fit into the picture may depend largely on Lodge. If Lodge runs for the Senate, his companions on the Republican ticket might include Fingold for Governor, Gibbons for Lieutenant Governor and Herter for Attorney General.

Should Lodge decide either to remain out of politics or to become a candidate for Governor, the GOP may be hard pressed to find a sturdy standard-bearer to back against Senator Kennedy.

There are not too many public figures who could stand up to the formidable Kennedy in a battle across the State. Lodge might do it. So might Governor Herter or Attorney General Fingold. The only other possibilities are Congressman Laurence Curtis and Governor's Councillor-elect Christian A. Herter, Jr.

Curtis, incidentally, cannot be overlooked in any consideration of the prospective gubernatorial candidates. He started to run for the Governorship in 1952 but then shifted his plans when the then Congressman Christian A. Herter was persuaded to make the fight.

First Meeting, Nursery School

The Oak Hill Nursery School, Inc., Newton, a private, non-profit organization of parents with pre-school children, held its first general meeting recently in its classroom at the Meadowbrook Junior High School. Mrs. Eunice Rowe, of 532 Parker street, Newton, a founder of the school, presided.

Principal speaker was Miss Ruth Clapp, supervisor in charge of student teaching at Wheelock College, Boston, who told of the origin of nursery schools in America and their importance in the educational development of children.

Also present at the meeting were Mrs. Edith Clark, principal of the Oak Hill Elementary School, and Miss Bettina King, principal of the Meadowbrook Junior High School. Miss King made a few brief remarks.

A coffee hour followed the meeting.

May Look to Washington for Leadership

One Massachusetts newspaper publisher, whose political judgment is respected, believes that in the future the two political parties may look to Washington's Capitol Hill rather than Boston's Beacon Hill for their candidates for Governor.

He bases that opinion on the fact that Herter came out of Congress to win the Governorship over Paul A. Dever and that Furcolo is a former Congressman.

While it is a fact that the Governors who preceded Herter achieved their prominence on the Massachusetts political scene rather than in Washington, there may be a solid foundation for that conviction.

For one thing men who serve their political apprenticeship in the Massachusetts Legislature must take a stand on controversial issues and often make enemies for themselves, however, they vote.

Their votes also can often be distorted and misrepresented. Congressmen, on the other hand, are remote enough from the people so that they ordinarily do not build resentment against themselves and at the same time they manage to entrench themselves in their districts. It's unusual to see a Congressman defeated for re-election.

* * * *

Foster Furcolo's No. 1 political objective was a seat in the U. S. Senate, not the Governorship. From the time he first went to Washington as a young Congressman, his aim and ambition were to become a Senator.

He just missed achieving that realization in 1954 when he was nosed out by Senator Leverett Saltonstall. Furcolo now is hopeful that he will be able to use the Governorship as a stepping stone to the Senate, as Saltonstall did before him.

There will be no opportunity for him to run for the Senate until 1960, when Saltonstall's term expires. Senator Kennedy will be up for reelection in 1958, and Furcolo faces the problem of gaining a second term in the Governorship before he can set his fights on the Senate.

His immediate problem is how to solve the financial problems confronting him and still maintain his popularity. It is almost inevitable that he will be forced to raise the State income taxes in order to get the necessary money to finance the operation of the State government.

Cadillac's renowned stylists have created a new Cadillac beauty . . . majestically graceful of line . . . wonderfully exciting in spirit . . . and with a new balance of chrome and glass and steel.

Cadillac's master coachcrafters have brought a new measure of luxury to the car's interiors . . . with gorgeous new fabrics and leathers . . . with new colors and patterns . . . and with marvelous new appointments on every hand.

And Cadillac's world-famous engineers have introduced a sensational new concept of automotive performance . . . with two great new engines . . . with an even smoother, more responsive Hydra-Matic Drive . . . with greatly improved power steering and power braking . . . with a revolutionary new frame design . . . and with a host of other vital engineering advancements.

These dramatic Cadillac achievements are being presented for 1957 in ten individual body styles, including the breath-taking Eldorado series. Each is a Cadillac masterpiece . . . a brilliant tribute to the men who design and build the Standard of the World.

We invite you to see . . . to inspect . . . and to drive the brilliantly new 1957 Cadillac at your very first convenience. You'll be welcome at any time.

Obligation of Student Stressed to Educators

"The student, upon entering the business world, is morally obligated to conduct himself in such a manner and with such wisdom so that his behavior will serve to maintain a progressive economy and enhance the general welfare of the people. The obligation of the business school to the student and the business community is to train the prospective executive in why it is important to try to succeed within the bounds of his moral obligation, as well as mastering the mechanics necessary to financial success in the business world."

These are the words of Joseph Alexander of the Economics Department at Babson Institute of Business Administration in Wellesley. They were heard by approximately 50 secondary school educators attending a conference at the famed business college. The conference was sponsored by the Boston Chamber of Commerce in conjunction with its annual Business Education Day which was held today throughout Massachusetts. Babson Institute stands out as the only educational institution visited by groups of educators involving more than 5,000 in all. All groups, other than the one assigned to Babson, visited industrial organizations scattered throughout the state.

The visit to Babson consisted of a tour of the Sir Isaac Newton Room and the Babson World Globe (the largest in the world), a luncheon, and the conference. Speakers at this conference ,in addition to Dr. Alexander, were Nicholas Rasetzki, Associate Director of Admissions at Babson, who briefly discussed the aims and operation of Babson Institute, and Everett W. Stephens, Director of Personnel and Placement, who spoke on Placement in Industry. Dr. Alexander's topic was Industry Looks to Education.

Entertained at Halloween Party

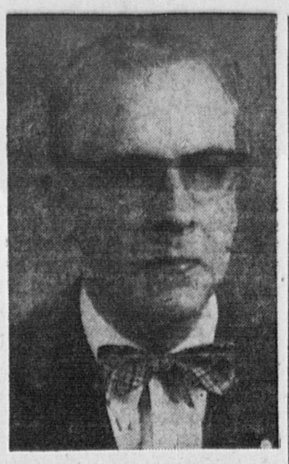
Close to 200 pupils of Hamilton School enjoyed a gala Halloween party produced by 40 parents under the chairmanship of Mrs. Harry Friedman.

Parties were held for each grade under the leadership of room mothers, and each child received a take-home prize. Awards were also given the following children for costumes and games: kindergarten — Cynthia Leeland, Meredith Reynolds, Karen Vigoda, Albert Watson, Tommy Keyes, Peter Garfinkle.

First grade — Allen Malcolm, Richard Borison, Kenneth Borison, Christopher Woodruff, Raschel Herson; second grade — Diane Spooner, Joseph Schneider, Jeff Clevenger, Arnold Holden.

Third grade — Karen LaRue, Sarah Brink, Nadia Mahfuz, Peggy Clinton; fourth grade — Kathy Gleason, Helen Moreau, Suzanne Nichols, Marty Glickman, Peter Woodruff, Peter Morrison.

Fifth grade — Ricky Schofield, Glendon Smith, Peter Reynolds; sixth grade — Meredith Howard, Judy Lee, Mary Ellen Schiavone, Noreen Simene, Bobby Marulli, Danny McMillen, and Billy Huminik.



JOHN B. G. PALEN, trust officer of the Newton-Waltham Bank and Trust Company, recently addressed the Rotary Club of Watertown. In his remarks, Mr. Palen spoke of the ever increasing need for estate planning. He discussed the unfortunate consequences which often result when a plan has not been established or when it has been established incorrectly. Businessmen in particular, he stated, should be most careful in their estate planning.

Bits From Bigelow

BIGELOW SPORTS SCENE
By Jeffrey Cohen, 9th Grade

John Lansed sparked unbeaten Bigelow to a 12-0 win over highly-rated Day Junior High School.

The game started off very sloppily. The first quarter was filled with fumbles, Bigelow losing the ball a few times. However, in the second quarter, the red and blue settled down to play good defensive football. Lansed and Peter Wallace played brilliantly as the half ended without a score.

The third quarter was somewhat uneventful. Then in the last period, Bigelow's offense really started to click. Lansed recovered a Day fumble on the Day 20-yard line. A few plays later quarterback George Pappas threw a strike to the fullback John Lansed who stumbled over the goal-line. Later Brooks Burlingame carried the ball over for the second touchdown of the day and Brooks' third of the season.

Ralph Guzzetti, who was used only sparingly by Coach Frost, made two magnificent runs to round out a very happy day for all those (Bigelowites, that is) concerned.

John Lansed, who played a gruelling and spectacular game both on the offense and defense, finally had to be helped off the field late in the last quarter. John will play in the next game.

STUDENT COUNCIL
By Doris Axelrod, 9th Grade

The Inter-school Council is an organization consisting of members from the junior high schools in Newton. Its purpose: to promote good inter-school relationships. The Bigelow Student Council has just elected their Inter-school Council representatives. They are: 9th grade, Richard Perlmutter, Alan Copeland; 8th grade, Hiram Gordon, Stephen Sacks; 7th grade, Jerry Cohen, Kenny Kasarjian.

Two weeks ago the council was privileged to have Mrs. Shrader representing UNICEF, visit and talk about this organization. We enjoyed having Mrs. Schrader and look forward to another visit. UNICEF envelopes, for Hallowe'en, were distributed to homerooms. The money collected will be used for children the world over. The council has been selling the new order of book covers and beanies, and is doing very well.

The parliamentarian and his assistant were chosen by the executive board and the advisors. He is Harvey Creem, and his assistant is Kenny Galner.

HALLOWE'EN
Renee Bresniak, 9th Grade

At last Hallowe'en eve had arrived and with it a mass of dancing and fun. For several years now the Newton Recreation Department has sponsored dances on Hallowe'en to keep the youngsters out of mischief. Likewise we, the ninth graders, attended a dance, which was held at the Hunnewell Club.

The evening included music via the juke box with the records supplied by pupils, decorations put up by the chaperones of our Hallowe'en dance committees, and games and prizes galore. The ninth grade math teacher, Mr. Ring, was a genial master of ceremonies.

All summed up, this wonderful party was an excellent way to put fun into a spooky mystifying Hallowe'en eve.

EIGHTH GRADE
By Charlene Maguire

The eighth grade Hallowe'en dance started off with a bang as all joined in for a Grand March. The party took place at Bigelow Junior High School and a seventh grade math teacher, Mr. Whitney was chaperone, along with several parents.

Dancing to the tunes of all the currently popular hit songs, the eighth graders enjoyed snowball, broomstick, and many other variety of dances.

The halfway mark brought delightful entertainment by many of Bigelow's hit performers.

At the close of the dance, happy but tired, eighth graders went home to await the phone calls for the door prizes.

To Observe TB Sunday In All Churches of City

Clergymen of all faiths will mark this Sunday, as TB Sunday in bulletins and announcements to their congregations this weekend.

Again this year, the clergymen will call attention to the year-round work of the Newton Tuberculosis and Health Association to fight tuberculosis will be given to the Christmas Seal which supports our local association, because many Newton residents have this year received a new seal from the Boston Tuberculosis Association which has withdrawn from the State and National Association and which will conduct a private program in Boston and Chelsea only.

The Christmas Seals of the Newton Association is readily distinguished by the familiar red double-barred cross they bear. This cross is the registered trademark of the National Tuberculosis Association and all of its bonafide affiliates.

Of the money raised by the Newton Tuberculosis and Health Association in Newton, 85 cents of every dollar remains in Newton for direct local programs of health education, chest X-raying, and rehabilitation. The other 15 cents per dollar is split, 9 cents going to the Massachusetts Tuberculosis and Health Association and 6 cents going on to the National Tuberculosis Association. The 15 cents taken from each dollar raised by the sale of Christmas Seals by each local association is the sole supporting income of the National and State associations, which do not themselves conduct a Seal Sale or engage in any kind of fundraising.

In contributing to the support of its state and national associations, the Newton Tuberculosis and Health Association helps to maintain programs which it could not itself administer locally. Two specific examples of such programs are the medical education program being conducted at Harvard, Tufts and Boston University Medical Schools and the Boston chest X-ray screening program being carried out in conjunction with the Boston Health Department and the State Health Department.

The state and national associations serve the local association to coordinate it with the other local affiliated TB associations in joint programs of benefit to all residents of the Commonwealth and to direct it in tuberculosis prevention and control programs on all levels, local, state and national. This affiliation greatly strengthens the local association and enables it it obtain broad benefits for local residents, even while carrying on a very direct program in the community.

The Newton Tuberculosis and Health Association is one of about 3,000 voluntary tuberculosis associations affiliated with the National Tuberculosis Association throughout the United States, Alaska, Guam, Hawaii, Virgin Islands, Canal Zone, and Puerto Rico. These associations are all supported by the Sale of the Christmas Seals, now marking their fiftieth anniversary, which bear the red double-barred cross.

Working together for the past 52 years, they have been credited with the 90 per cent decrease in deaths from tuberculosis, and they are now leading the way to the eventual eradication of this dread disease, still the number one killer among infectious diseases.

Pack 27 Enrolls 27 New Members For Total of 77

Twenty-seven new members who make a total of 77 registered boys were enrolled at the first meeting of Pack 27, held at the Countryside School in Newton Highlands.

To Demonstrate Hand Spinning

Mrs. Finley Matheson of 90 Court street Newtonville, will demonstrate the almost forgotten art of spinning by hand at the Town Square, 1856, Fair of the Newtonville Methodist Church on Thursday and Friday, Nov. 15 and 16. Here she shows her little neighbor, Nancy Lockwood of 84 Court street, how she does it. Her spinning wheel was made for her as a bride fifty years ago.

98,737 New Cases of TB Were Reportd In Country Last Yar

The Newton Tuberculosis and Health Association reports that records of the Tuberculosis program of the United States Public Health Service show a total of 98,737 newly reported cases of tuberculosis in the continental United States during the calendar year 1955. The majority of these cases, 76,177 were active or probably active cases, a decline of only 3 percent from the 78,592 active cases reported in 1954.

The percentage decline in tuberculosis mortality continues to be more pronounced than the decline in newly reported cases. However, in 1955, 11 states and the District of Columbia reported an increase in the number of deaths, whereas in 1954 there were only 4 states reporting an increase in tuberculosis deaths. Although there has been a small but steady decline in tuberculosis incidence over the past few years, 15 states and the District of Columbia reported an increase in the number of new active cases reported in 1955.

In Massachusetts, 2,058 new cases were reported in 1955 of which 2,036 were now reported active and probably active cases. There were 460 deaths from tuberculosis in the Commonwealth last year.

In Newton, according to the most recent report of the Massachusetts Department of Public Health, Division of Sanatoria and Tuberculosis Control, two people died from tuberculosis and 17 new cases were reported in 1955. These figures are exclusive of cases and deaths registered among inmates or patients of Federal and State, Penal, Mental and Welfare Institutions.

The State report points out that 48 per cent of the known active cases in Massachusetts are not hospitalized. There are 5,105 known active cases according to the State Health Department's current records.

The Newton Tuberculosis and Health Association emphasizes that, even though these statistics are surprising to many people because of the misconception on the part of some that tuberculosis is no longer a problem, the statistics hardly begin to measure the real seriousness of the tuberculosis problem today. Once tragically simple, when its victims almost surely died, tuberculosis is now tragically complicated, for it has been transformed from an outright killer (still the foremost killer among infectious diseases) to a chronic, contagious disease.

TB patients today need not fear death as they once might have, but they must face long term treatment, countless financial and emotional problems, the social stigma still attached to this dreadful disease, and numerous other hardships.

The Newton Tuberculosis and Health Association, affiliated with the National Tuberculosis Association and the Massachusetts Tuberculosis and Health Association, is attempting to eliminate the presence of tuberculosis in Newton, by sponsoring year-round programs to aid and abet all efforts of our local government to keep this disease under control.

The Newton Association is supported solely by its annual sale of the National Association Christmas Seal, bearing the red double-barred cross, to Newton residents. Money raised by Newton's Christmas Seal Sale remains in Newton for our own local voluntary tuberculosis control programs.

SIMONS of Chestnut Hill, who was elected president of the Congregation of Temple Shalom of Newton at their annual meeting and election held Sunday evening, November 11, at the new Temple, 175 Temple street, West Newton. In addition to the election of the new president, the following officers were elected: Vice presidents, Robert Leventhal, Bertram H. Loewenberg, Dr. Meyer Ritvo; treasurer, Joseph S. Gilbert; secretary, William M. Glovsky; financial secretary, William Scheft; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Bernard J. Bloom.

CHAIRMAN. Howard W. Cole of Bostor., prominent Baptist layman, who will be general chairman of the $350,000 campaign of the Baptist Home of Massachusetts, located at Chestnut Hill. The project consists of two new wings and an infirmary so that the 28-year-old home may double its guest facilities from 59 to 110. A large committee of Baptists in all Greater Boston cities and towns is being organized.

How long would Dad's insurance last if your family had to live on it? Would there be enough to provide food, shelter, clothing, schooling?

Budget experts say that the very minimum insurance a typical father of young children needs is THREE TIMES his annual income. But few carry that much. Why? Some don't know; others think they can't afford it.

But Savings Bank Life Insurance has a plan especially for Dads with young children, called the Family Provider Plan. Here's how it works:

A man age 30 buys $5,000 Straight Life Insurance — pays $9.50 monthly (less dividends). But for just $1.95 more each month he can get Family Provider Plan coverage that gives him $16,910 additional IMMEDIATE protection, which decreases as his responsibilities lessen, each year.

Think of it — the same man, age 30, using the Family Provider Plan gets a great deal more immediate life insurance protection for just a little more cost.

So if your husband has said: "I know I need more life insurance but we can't afford it now", tell him about Savings Bank Life Insurance FAMILY PROVIDER PLAN. We will be glad to explain the plan to you — give you free folders. Remember, no one will call.

Dr. Yeo Addresses Annual Newton YMCA Dinner

One hundred and seventeen committeemen and women attended the seventh annual committeemen's dinner held recently at the Newton YMCA. The dinner and meeting, presided over by President George R. Strandberg of the Newton "Y," is a yearly affair with the primary purpose of recognizing lay volunteer leadership on committees and groups closely associated with the planning of Y.M.C.A. programs and activities.

Dr. Wendell Yoe, vice-president of Boston University, spoke to the gathering and stressed the responsibilities, attitutes and attributes of good committeemen. He pointed out the "it is laymen working together with a professional staff that build movements such as the Y.M.C.A."

Special guests at the dinner were three representatives of the Newton Community Chest: Franklin N. Flaschner, general commander of the 1957 Red Feather Campaign in Newton; Victor M. Kamin, residential chairman, and Chester E. Borden, representative of the Chest Budget Committee to the Newton Y.M.C.A.

The dinner was a smorgasbord served by members of the Y.M.C.A. Women's Auxiliary, Mrs. Raymond Garonfi president. Members of the dinner committee were Mrs. Alex R. Miller, Mrs. Benjamin Shattuck, and Mrs. Fred A. Hawkins.

Following the dinner the board of directors of the "Y" met for their monthly meeting.

Newton Centre Woman's Club

The American Home Committee of the Newton Centre Woman's Club will hold it's regular monthly meeting on Monday, November 19, at 12:30 p.m. at the club house. Mrs. John P. E. Dempsey and Mrs. James A. Downing will be the hostesses for the occasion.

An interesting feature of the days program will be the luncheon when Mrs. Clarissa Tisdale will serve a variety of delicious foods to the guests. She will give new ideas in menu planning and in methods of preparation. Lucky numbers will be drawn for the many prizes she will give.

At 2 o'clock, Mrs. Samuel H. Back, chairman, will present the program entitled "'French Viewpoint" by the Celanese Corporation of America. Color slides will be shown offering suggestions on how to give an old room the "new look." A door prize will be awarded.

Reservations for the luncheon must be made by Friday, November 16, and may be obtained by calling Mrs. Downing, BI 4-6208 or Mrs. Dempsey, LA 7-1486.

Waban Woman's Club

Mr. Harry B. Ellis, Middle East correspondent for the Christian Science Monitor will discuss "Foreign Affairs and You." Because he has lived in the Middle East he can speak with authority about "on the scene" happenings like some of which have not been reported heretofore. Mr. Ellis will have the answers to many questions prevalent today about the Middle East.

Liberal Religious Youth

Two Newton High School seniors, Peter Cobb and Bessa Whitmore, are serving as president and secretary respectively of the South Middlesex Federation of Liberal Religious Youth.

Residents of West Newton and members of the Unitarian Church of West Newton, Mr. Cobb aand Miss Whitmore were recently elected to office by the Federation, which embraces young people of high school age from Unitarian and Universalist churches.

Dr. Lionelle Wells of Auburndale spoke at the group's first meeting last Sunday. A practicing psychologist, Dr. Wells discussed the "Pitfalls of Prejudice."

Temple Emanuel Club Dance Sun.

The Emanuel Club, young adult club of Temple Emanuel 385 Ward street, Newton, is sponsoring another dance this Sunday evening, November 17, at 8 p.m. in the Vestry of the Temple. Jeff Carlton's Orchestra will play and refreshments will be served.

Students of the graduate schools of Harvard, M.I.T., B.U., Brandeis, Radcliffe and Simmons will be guests of the club at this dance. Chester Feldman is chairman of the dance and the committee consists of Harry Marks, Bob Richmond, Stan Gordon, Wilma Shuman, Irene Ezer, Sylvia Baker and Doris BBerlow. Mel Diamond is president of the Emanuel Club and Chaster Rubin is the advisor. The Emanuel Club presently has the largest Y.P.L. membership in the entire New England area.

Carroll School PTA

Mrs. Frederick E. Sears, Jr., principal of the Carroll School in West Newton, spoke to parents at the recent P.T.A. meeting about the school's status and plans. The meeting was held at the school with Carl J. Marold of Newton Highlands, P.T.A. president, presiding.

Frederick E. Sears, Jr., treasurer of the Carroll School, told of the school's history and a few of the changes that have taken place in its seventy-two years.

Members of the P.T.A. voted to have the first and second grade rooms redecorated and relighted during the Christmas vacation and to finance this project. The financial success of the recent P.T.A. sale, together with funds pledged from the floor at the P.T.A. meeting, have put the school close to the amount needed for the two rooms. The paint for the rooms is being donated by a parent.

"Operations Mittens" was announced to the parents. For a reasonable price parents and friends of the school may order children's handknit mittens from Mrs. Albert Kevorkian, LA 7-0081. The proceeds will go to the school's Development Fund, and the yarn for mittens has been given the knitters at cost by a Carroll School parent.

Teachers and parents enjoyed a pleasant social hour after the business meeting adjourned.

West Newton Community Center

The directors of the West Newton Community Centre, in celebration of the first anniversary of the Centre's new building, were hosts and hostesses at a supper and swap auction held at the Second Church in West Newton Tuesday evening.

The chairman of the supper was Mrs. Melvin J. Dangel, with Mrs. Ernest Kuebler as auctioneer.

ANGIER P.T.A.

October 23 the Angier P.T.A. held its first meeting of the year with a repeat performance of the Get-Acquainted Supper and Open House. The idea of the Get-Acquainted Supper originated wtih last year's program chairman, James Voss. So successful was the original program that this year's program co-chairmen, Mr. and Mrs. Shepard Yesley, together with their committee, adopted and extended the activity.

Parents donated savory dishes of their choice in quantity to serve six. Tables laden with tempting casseroles, salads, and desserts converted the school gymnasium into an elegant buffet of gourmet's delight.

This was a truly porfitable and enjoyable group endeavor which could not have been realized without the fine cooperation, generous contributions, and hard work of the entire P.T.A. membership.

Proof of the success of the total cooperative endeavor lay in the fact that over 300 people were served quickly, adequately, and easily.

The children contributed to this gala event by making special name cards for their parents. Each class had its own group symbol so that parents could easily identify each other.

After supper the members gathered in the auditorium for a community sing under the direction of James Remley, Supervisor of Music, assisted at the piano by Angier parent, Warren Rohsenow.

A business meeting followed. President George Mason addressed a vote of thanks to all who worked to make the supper such a success and establish it as an annual event on the calendar. His comments were enthusiastically affirmed by a rousing round of applause. He commented on this year's more comprehensive P. T. A. Board and enlarged parent participation as provided by the new by-laws as of last June. At present there are 90 parents serving on the commitees.

Clark Fisher, Vice President, spoke of the need for cooperation and participation by all in the work ahead to meet the fulfillment of high but attainable goals for Angier P.T.A. this year.

Carlon Ray, Principal, extended his greetings to the parents and commented on this being a particularly heartwarming occasion to see so large an attendance that outnumbered the seating capacity of the auditorium. He then introduced the new teachers.

Shepard Yesley, program chairman, outlined the agenda for future meetings which seem stimulating and varied in scope. He introduced the main speakers of the evening, Frank Simmons, Supervisor of Physical, Health, and Safety Education. and Miss Helene Breivogel, Supervisor of Girls Physical Health, and Safety Education. Frank Simmons spoke on the need for recreation and physical fitness to better fit our children for a satisfying, wholesome life and equip them with the stamina to face the mounting tensions of life. Miss Breivogel summarized the results of the Newton children's performance in the physical fitness test administered to European children in a recent study.

The parents adjourned to the classrooms to meet the teachers and so conclude an enjoyable evening's program.

FOOD SALE

The Angier School had more to offer than just a polling place on November 6. The Angier P.T.A. sponsored a cake sale which netted the treasury about $150.00. Many voters purchased samples of wonderful home cooking all for the good cause of the P.T.A. Just one more successful group endeavor of the Angier P.T.A. under the leadership of the Ways and Means Committee and the tireless faithful Room Mothers.

Religion in American Life Month Endorsed by Council of Churches

The program in Newton initiated by proclamation of the Mayor to emphasize the importance of religion in everyday life during the month of November—as part of the national Religion in American Life program—is enthusiastically endorsed by the Newton Council of Churches. President Ernst O. Seyfarth said today, "The goal of the program in member churches will be to increase attendance and support thereof.

"When a family attends worship together, they are in a real sense safeguarding their future happiness", Mr. Seyfarth said. "For the family that walks side by side on God's day, walks side by side every day along a path that will stand as the foundation for the whole of life."

Similar campaigns will be repeated in hundreds of communities across the country throughout November as part of the annual non-sectarian program conducted by The Committee on Religion in American Life, Inc. The national program is sponsored by a committee of laymen from the major faiths with twenty-four national religious bodies participating.

"Locally", Mr. Seyfarth continued, "the Newton Council of Churches is engaged in this type of project full time throughout the year".

Mr. Seyfarth stated that the purpose of the Newton Council of Churches is to act as the accredited agency through which six denominations and twenty-four churches cooperate in common tasks. It is the central organization through which these separate bodies are united in undertakings that can be carried out better together than separately. The Newton Y.M.C.A. is also a valued member.

The Newton Council of Churches is governed by 180 delegated representatives meeting twice a year, an executive committee of 15 members meeting for supervision of the Council's work in the interim. There are now over 600 local Councils of Churches in America. A World Council of Churches was founded in Amsterdam in 1948 which enables the churches to transcend national frontiers and to function more truly as "one Body of Christ throughout the world". In the United States twenty-nine national religious bodies render united service through the National Council of Churches of Christ.

Locally, in all corporate church life, by villages and city-wide, the Newton Council of Churches gives leadership and encouragement. Among community services maintained by the churches together, the Council sponsors, and in many instances finances, numerous valuable projects that help to keep the city a good place in which to live and in which to bring up families.

The Newton Council of Churches sponsors and finances a Protestant chaplain for Newton - Wellesley Hospital, who together with a rotating staff of clergymen, one of whom is always on duty in the hospital three hours daily for five days a week, with two others on call at all times provide solace to many in time of hospital confinement and crisis.

It maintains and finances the salary of, a Scout chaplain to the Nobscot Boy Scout Reservation who there conducts the "Scouts own" religious services on Sunday mornings, assists Scouts who through their own individual churches are working toward their "God and Country" church Scout awards, and doubles as liaison man between the Scout office and the Church Council.

In accordance with its policy that it is the duty and privilege of the church to go to those unable to come to it, it maintains and finances a Protestant chaplain to the homes for aged, and the nursing homes in Newton, including a rotating staff of clergymen who conduct regular vesper services every Sunday afternoon at Stone Institute in Newton Upper Falls. It sponsors and is responsible for the salary of a Youth Director o work with the Council of Church Youth.

It conducts a four-week summer Daily Vacation Bible School at Andover-Newton Theological School for small children assuming the payment of the Director and teachers therefor. It co-ordinates leadership training for the churches, particularly at the point of teacher training programs; conducts such special services as the Fall Rallies with headline speakers, the Easter Sunrise Services, and encourages special observances on such occasions as Worldwide Communion Sunday and Reformation Sunday, etc.; sponsors and conducts the United Canvass; provides church welcome pamphlets distributed through the cooperation of the Welcome Wagon hostess; acts as liaison between the churches and various community agencies; co-ordinates the united work of the women of member churches through the Council of Church Women; and is engaged in the establishment of a visual aid library whose resources will be available to all member churches.

Lecture To Be Presented Here Monday Evening

ELLA H. HAY

How spiritual understanding of God brings freedom from discord and fear will be the topic of a public lecture in Newtonville next Monday evening by Ella H. Hay of Indianapolis, Indiana.

A member of The Christian Science Board of Lectureship, Mrs. Hay will speak in the church edifice, 391 Walnut street under the auspices of First Church of Christ Scientist, Newton. Her subject will be "Christian Science: The Way of True Freedom Now." The lecture is free, and no collection will be taken. Local members of the church have invited the public to attend.

While active in education, Mrs. Hay held prominent positions in the National Education Association, the American Association for Childhood Education, and various women's clubs. She is an author of a number of school textbooks and other books for children. Since 1942 she has devoted her full time to the public practice of Christian Science healing and service to the Christian Science organization.

Dr. Oxnam State Archery President

At the annual meeting of the Massachusetts State Archery Association at Worcester, Dr. Robert F. Oxnam was elected president. Dr. Oxnam is president of The Newton Archers and vice chairman of the National Archery Association. At the M.S.A.A. meeting The Newton Archers were presented with the George De Lahaye Trophy for having the most new members of any club in the state this year. There are 171 members of The Newton Archers and many of these are family memberships. Dr. Oxnam is particularly pleased to see the family interest in the sport. Enthusiasm for archery is not just local as it is becoming one of the most popular sports in the country.

Archery is not just an outdoor sport. The Winter Program for The Newton Archers begins this Friday night for the Senior Members at the West Newton Armory. The program for Junior members will be on Saturday afternoon. Kenneth Ladd, chairman of the Winter Program, feels that this should be one of the most exciting seasons for indoor archery in the history of the club. Henry Jackson III, Tournament Committee Chairman, is responsible for organizing the Olympic Tournament which is an indoor competition with clubs all over the United States. Mr. Jackson will be working during the winter to organize teams of archers to be ready to send to the State, Eastern, and National Tournaments in 1957.

Newly appointed chairmen of The Newton Archers are: publicity, David Crowley III; instruction, Arthur Trickey; scoring, Robert Linnell; target and field, William Houghton; tournament committees, Ben Jackson, and winter program, Kenneth Ladd. The present officers of the club are Dr. Robert Oxnam, president; John Robinson, vice president and chairman of the trophy committee; Mrs. Robert Oxnam, secretary; and Mrs. Henry Hall, treasurer.

DR. ROBERT OXNAM, president of the Newton Archers and the Massachusetts State Archery Association directing one of the major tournaments at Newton, with Victor Lemay, senior member of the club who was captain of the Green at that event.

The Newton Archers held a championship tournament recently to determine the champions of the club. At the awards party, trophies, medals, novelty prizes, ribbons, tassels and certificates were presented to the membership. Mrs. Robert Oxnam retained her title as ladies' champion and Dr. Robert Oxnam his as men's champion. Judy Brockert became the intermediate girl champion and Jon Haven the intermediate boy champion. Gretchen Robins is once again junior girl champion and Robert Oxnam held his title of junior boy champion. Barbara Nissen, beginner girl champion and Philip Oxnam, beginner boy champion won their titles for the second time, also.

Dr. Oxnam has been particularly impressed with the fine sportsmanship in all classes. Every archer is ready to help a beginner and proud of his success. Competition is arranged throughout the year so that the archers are really competing with themselves at the Handicap Tournaments. This gives the beginning archer an opportunity to win if he improves. It is very difficult for the archers who shoots continuously high scores to win at these events. The president feels that this gives every archer a chance for recognition for his improvement in his archery skill. He is glad to see families having fun in one of the oldest of sports. Families should take time to play together and he can not think of any more enjoyable way to relax than archery. He recommends that those who are interested join a club and shoot under supervised conditions. Instruction is necessary and supervision is partiularly important. He makes it perfectly clear, when he speaks before Scouting groups, that the bow and arrow is a weapon and should be treated accordingly. If they join a club and learn how to shoot they can have lots of fun. Backyard shooting he does not recommend for even the experts.

Former Resident Gets Promotion In Book Firm

A former Newton area resident, William F. Callahan, Jr., has been named the assistant vice president of the Dell Publishing Company, Inc., according to recent announcement from the book firm.

Callahan, who has been with the company 14 years, is the son of Mrs. Florence E. Callahan, of 6 Fairway drive, West Newton. He now makes his home in New Rochelle.

Junior College Seeks Funds To Aid Students

William C. Fleming of Gilmanton Iron Works, New Hampshire, became the first alumnus of Newton's publicly-controlled Junior College to contribute to the Unrestricted and Scholarship Fund as the College inaugurated the first financial appeal in its ten-year history. It seeks funds to assist needy able students and to enable the College authorities to meet emergency and long-range needs not included in its regular budget.

The college is in the process of mailing appeals for support to its 800 alumni and to 500 friends of the college. "The object is not to set up endowment funds for expansion programs or tc put the college into competition with those that do," Walter M. Taylor, director of the college, declared. "It is rather to focus attention on the fact that the public community college is a worthy object of tax - deductible educational gifts."

"Too many poor but able students are lost to society. To them $100 scholarships at Newton are as important as $500 awards at a traditional four-year college," he said.

Mr. Fleming, Bachelor of Divinity candidate at Andover-Newton Theological Seminary in 1957, was president of the class of 1951 at the college. He holds a B.A. degree from Boston University and is chairman of the alumni committee for the college.

Julia Wight '48, of 10 Gail road, Newton Lower Falls and Baird Associates Atomic Instrument Co., is alumni secretary. A large group is assisting her with the mailing of letters and alumni directory questionnaires, including plans for an Open House for alumni at the college's new quarters, Walnut street, at Washington Park, Newtonville.

For the first time in its history, the college's first-year class enrolls more students from outside Newton than from Newton itself. The college will hold its 10th commencement exercises in June, 1957.

2 Staff Members Are Given Scholarships

At a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Newton Tuberculosis and Health Association, held last night at the Association's headquarters, the Scholarship Committee reported that two scholarships have been awarded to two staff members of the Newton Visiting Nurses Association. The scholarships will be used to help defray the costs of a special course the nurses are taking in Occupation Nursing at Boston College.

The Newton Tuberculosis and Health Association hopes to work with these nurses in the future for the improvement and expansion of their industrial health education program. At present the tuberculosis association conducts a year-round program for local industries which provides them with free health literature every month. The Association also maintains a program of screening chest X-rays of industrial employees, arranged by request on a co-operative basis with the individual industry.

These programs, as well as the other year-round programs of the Association, are financed solely by the one annual Newton Christmas Seal Sale of the seals bearing the red double-barred cross.

Highlands Congregational Church Activities

Mrs. Canaan Sithole of Mt. Silinda, Southern Rhodesia, Africa, Ndebele Christian, will speak on "What the Christian Churches are doing in Africa" at a meeting sponsored by the Business and Professional Women's Organization of the Newton Highlands Congregational Church, on Monday, November 19th, at 8 p.m. in the Parish Hall. Mrs. Sithole has worked with Miss Abbie Andrew, of this church, who is at this moment returning from missionary work at Mt. Silinda.

Mrs. Sithole is the wife of Ndabaningi Sithole, an Ndebele educator from Mt. Silinde Institute now studying for the ministry at Andover Newton Theological School in Massachusetts. She flew into America from Africa, February 23, 1956, to be with her husband until he finishes his theological studies two years hence.

It was a big sacrifice when Canaan Sithole gave her husband the moral support he needed to leave her in Africa a year ago and come to America for three years. It was an equally great sacrifice that she has made in joining him and leaving in Africa their four children: Sinikelelo, 9; Dingindela, 6; Zibonele, 4; and Sifiso, who is about 18 months old.

Like her husband Mrs. Sithole has the far vision. She believes in independence of thought and action, a significant characteristic in a society, as if Africa, where it is customary for all the relatives in a family to give approval before one follows any course of action.

Canaan Sitnole was born in Hogo, Southern Rhodesia. She began her life as did her husband tending goats and cattle and carrying water from the river and firewood from the forest. Hers, however, was a Christian home and her father is a local preacher in the Brethren in Christ Church. Her great-grandfather was King Mzilikazi's captain and her grandfather was King Lobengula's captain who led the Godlwayo Regiment that fiercely but unsuccessfully resisted British penetration into what is now called Southern Rhodesia.

After attending a kraal school Mrs. Sithole worked her way through the teaching course at Dadaya Mission School where she later became Girls' Matron. It was here she met and married Mr. Sithole.

The names of the Sithole children have special significance and were so chosen by their parents. Sipikelelo means "Perseverance," in memory of the educational struggles of both Mr. and Mrs. Sithole. Dingindelela means "Find the Way"; Zibonele means "See it for Yourself" and Sifiso means "Wish."

In 1948 Mrs. Sithole felt the need of broader contacts to keep up with her husband. She asked him if he would mind if she went ton Johannesburg for a while to "see the world a bit." Although all the relatives frowned on this, Mr. Sithole was willing and Mrs. Sithole spent a year with Rev. and Mrs. Lee Bergsman, in Johannesburg.

The second child, Dingindlela, "Find the Way," was so named because he represented the solution of Mrs. Sithole's problem. The youngest member of the family, Sifiso, "Wish", was born just after Mr. Sithole achieved his desire to become a Christian minister and had been accepted by his church.

Mrs. Sithole has been on the teaching staff of Mt. Silinda Institute but also since 1955 she has been matron of the girls' boarding department. She accompanies her husband on her bicycle when he goes out to preach in the villages. He calls her his "strong vessel" because he fears that without her he would never have acocmplished his present goal. Although she helped him decide on the American venture, even though it meant three years of separation, friends in the Congregational Christian Churches of America made possible funds to bring here here to join her husband.

Refreshments will be served directly after the talk, and an opportunity will be provided for all who wish to meet Mrs. Sithole. Mrs. Rufus A. Soule, of the Business and Professional Women, and Miss Laura Ward of the Missionary Committee are in charge of refreshments.

High School Activities

At the Ford Motor Co.'s annual Industrial Arts contest, boys from Newton Technical and Vocational High School won the first two places. James Smith won a check for $100 for an unusual table lamp, and Richard Reeves won a check for $80 for an all-metal weather vane. These two boys, first year students in the trade school, were competing with 40,000 boys. Newton Trade School received a hand-cut Swedish vase, engraved in gold. Instructor Nicholas Penta received an award of merit.

Many clubs at Newton High School have elected their officers for the coming year. The officers of the English Club are President, Carrie Rothstein; Vice President, Jean Lewis; Secretary, Carol Goldberg; Treasurer, Reiner Beewkes. The purpose of the English Club (as stated by its new advisor, Miss Riedout) is to promote a deeper and more pleasurable interest in and appreciation of literature, creative writing, and related arts." The English Club is the oldest club in the school.

The new officers of the French Club are as follows: President, Judy Bond; Vice President, Wendy Fox; Secretary, Willa Myerhoff; Treasurer, Eva Horvitz.

In the Hunting and Fishing Club, the officers are: President, Roger MacDonald; Vice President, John Chesbro; Secretary, Phil Cook; Treasurer, Roland McEldowni. At the first meeting this year Mr. Don Marten spoke on Kentucky rifles, and he used a genuine sample.

Officers in the Junior Red Cross Council are President, Dave Schell; Vice President, Louise Farnham; Secretary, Josie Kaplan; Treasurer, Susan Maguire. Soon the Junior Red Cross Council will have an extensive drive for members.

Alpha Gamma Tau, the math club, has a new advisor — Mr. Stephens. The officers are President, Barry Sacks; Vice President, Walter Bernheimer; Secretary, Patricia Gordon; Treasurer, Julian Prince.

The week of November 12 is designated as Education Week at Newton High School. This program endeavors to make available to the public knowledge of what education is doing and why. Parent's visiting day will be Tuesday, Nov. 13, from 2:30 to 4:30. The highlight of Education Week will be Open House on Nov. 14 from 7:30 to 9:30 Miss Curtis says, "The Open House will provide the parents, especially those who work during the day, the opportunity to meet the teachers at a more convenient time." As a climax to the evening, the parents will witness a sneak preview of "Double Door," the Senior Play.

Peter F. Strauss, who graduated from Newton High School in 1951, has the leading male role in the forthcoming Amherst College production of Ibsen's "Hedda Gabler."

Martin J. Loeb, who graduated from Newton High School in 1953, has been named to the Dean's List at Colgate University.

Newton Girl Scout Activities

Many Newton Girl Scouts did help in their community as good citizens at Election time last week by serving as baby sitters at the polls while others distributed pre-election flyers which were prepared by the Newton League of Women Voters. Not only were they doing their civic duty, but were also working towards their badge on Community life. They were fulfilling the third law of the Girl Scout pledge, "to be useful and to help others".

Troop 150, Auburndale, were baby-sitters at the Burr-School and the Auburndale Library. Mrs. Richard Cleveland is the leader of this troop.

Troop 8, Angier School, Waban, had Sally Williamsson, Madeline Shames, Melanie Cooper, Pamela Shaw and Marjorie Price serving as baby sitters from 2 to 4 p.m. Mrs. Jerome Cooper and Mrs. Albert Shames, Co-leaders.

Troop 129, Ward School, Newton Centre, were wearing their arm-bands they made reading "Aid-to Voters" and displaying their posters offering their services as baby-sitters, from 12 to 3 p.m. Mrs. Rosendorf and Mrs. Resnick, Co-leaders of this troop. This troop also assisted in folding pre-election literature for the Candidates meeting sponsored by the League of Women Voters.

Troop 44, distributed pre-election literature. Leaders are Mrs. Shriber and Mrs. Woodworth.

Brownie Troop

Brownie Troop 218, were conducted on a tour of the USS. Albany by Lt. J. D. Pian at the Navy Shipyard, South Annex. The brownies were very impressed with the size of the Cruiser. (The mess hall seats 1300 men.)

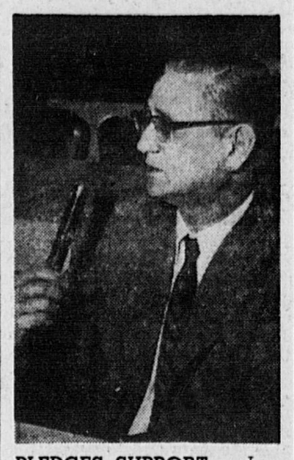
After the tour of the main deck, galley, and the offices below deck, they were escorted to the Captains cabin where as guests of Captain Siegloff, they were served refreshments. Mrs. Robert Hughes, Leader, was assisted on the tour by Mrs. P. E. Davidson and Mrs. Stephen Mandile.

Troop 129

The girls of Troop 129 look forward to the fourth Saturday of each month when they give service at the Boston Aid to the Blind. They help the Blind people bowl at the Huntington Bowling Alleys. They tell them when it is their turn to bowl, keep the score and tell them what pins are standing, such as center left, or extreme right. This is the second year they have been helping the group and everyone enjoys doing this service work. The leaders who assist this group are Mrs. Charles Schlosberg, Mrs. Arthur S. Kaufman, and Mrs. Louis Love and Mrs. Harold Falcoff.

Troop 211

Troop 211 at their third meeting this season were learning how to make bow and square knots and how to use the compass for the treasure hunt they were going to have. Assisting as leaders are Mrs. Wise and Mrs. Kozol.



PLEDGES SUPPORT — Joseph G. Deitz, Cotton street, Newton, president of Temple Emanuel, who promises the aid of his temple in the home to home campaign to sell State of Israel Bonds on Sunday, December 9. Deitz spoke at a meeting of Israel Bond leaders from throughout Greater Boston held at the Hotel Statler, Boston.

College Notes

Newtonians

John West Wheldon, of 26 Park street, Newton, cost estimator with Raytheon Manufacturing Company has been elected to the membership of the Boston Chapter of the National Association of Cost Accountants. The Boston Chapter is one of the Associations oldest, having been organized over 35 years ago.

H. S. Music Club Holds Election

At the first meeting of the Music Club of Newton High School the following officers were elected: president, Irving Krasner; vice president, Kathy O'Donnell; recording secretaries, Marie Giordano and Willa Myerhoff; corresponding secretaries, Bethel Bilezikian, Louise Farnham, Alice Brookings; treasurer, Elaine Ramley. Before the formal program, a student concert, Sue Stone sang a piece composed by faculty advisor Henry Lasker, set to the text of "The Lord Is My Shepherd" in memory of Dr. Leo Barry. The audience stood respectfully in a moment of silent tribute.

The next meeting of the Music Club will be held on the afternoon of Thursday, Nov. 29. Herb Pomeroy, formerly jazz trumpeter-arranger for Lionel Hampton and Stan Kenton, will conduct student musicians of the Berklee School of Music in a program of original modern jazz compositions.

To Bring Gifts For Needy Tots

Children of the Unitarian Church in West Newton will present gifts of good, clothing and money at the altar this Sunday to be distributed on Thanksgiving to youngsters at the N. E. Home for Little Wanderers in Boston.

Sunday School members have been given special bags to fill for this project, which the Unitarian Church here annually undertakes in conjunction with many other churches throughout the state. In this way the Home is provided with a food supply for the entire year. Harry B. Taplin, assistant to the minister, is in charge of the project.

Special music for this Thanksgiving service will be provided by the primary choir, who will sing "For Autumn's Golden Days" under the direction of Mrs. Elizabeth T. Sweetser of West Newton. New members of the primary choir this year are Marian Crawford, Victoria Prescott, Carolyn Gurry and John Newton.

Explorer Post 42

The recently chartered Newton Highlands Explorer Post 42 Boy Scouts of America held a "Dad and Son" bowling night at Needham Recreation Center.

This was one of the many events planned for the ensuing season. Included in the plans are weekend trips, cabin building, camping and hunting at Marlboro, Mass., and the White Mountains in New Hampshire. Additional "Dad and Son" nights are planned for Bruin hockey and Celtic basketball games.

As a community service project, the explorers are collecting cast off toys which will be presented to needy families at Christmas time after they are repaired and refinished.

The new Explorer Post is sponsored by a group of business and professional men of Newton Highlands, John Hartnett is chairman of the committee, Theodore Lewis is secretary, and Duncan Cotting is the treasurer. Other charter members include Sam Roberts, Francis Woodbridge Sr., Harry Walen, Dave Lewis, and Ed Traynor.

Advisor for the Explorer Post is Erne Henrichon, assisted by Ray Mabey.

Jaycettes Plan Winter Calendar

Newton Jaycettes presented a "Cooking Caper" at the Workshop in Newton Highlands, during which all members participated in the demonstration and distribution of dishes prepared.

The culinary evening followed closely the recent regular monthly meeting of the Jaycettes at the home of Mrs. Nathan Clark with Mrs. Thomas Fazio, president, presiding.

Several activities were planned at the meeting for the month of December. First will be a business meeting at Mrs. Albert Horton's residence on Dec. 6, where Christmas gifts will be wrapped for two dozen small girls from Rebecca Pomeroy House on Dec. 15. Chairman of the event will be Mrs. Richard Egan, who is also heading a project to contribute monthly to the Metropolitan State Hospital in Waltham, in the children's unit.

A spaghetti dinner, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Vaughn, will be held on Dec. 8. On Dec. 8, Santa Claus will be at the Vaughn's home to pass out gifts to children of the Junior Chamber members as he did last year.

WEST NEWTON

Turkey Whist To Be Held Nov. 19 At Parish House

Plans for the annual turkey whist on Nov. 19 at the Parish house, were reported by the Ways and means committee at the regular meeting of Garden City Grange No. 364. The meeting was held recently in the parish house of the Tercentenary Methodist Church in Auburndale.

Reports were also made by the delegates to the state grange held in Worcester, including the program for the year 1956-1957 as it applies to subordinate granges.

Following the business meeting, the evening was turned over to Mrs. Eleanora C. Taintter, who presented the Cape Players of Yarmouth Grange under the direction of Averill Look, master.

With the hall set up as a cabaret, refreshments were served at tables while the program was being presented by the following committee:

Mrs. Ethel Bertram, Mrs. Edith Kappler, Mrs. Blanche Hunt and Mrs. Chester A. Tainter.

Carlon Ray Retires As Principal, Angier School

Announced as effective last week was the retirement of Carlon Ray of Waban, after 25 years as principal of Angier School. His resignation was made it is reported, upon the advice of his doctors.

A well-known administrator and educator, Ray currently has been principal of Angier and Hamilton Schools, and served prior to this as head of Beethoven and Pierce Schools.

The retiring principal's wealth of school administrative background and experience has been outstanding since graduation in 1918 from the Bridgewater State Normal School. He received his Bachelor of Science and Master's degree from Boston University, and did graduate work at Columbia, Harvard and the University of Maine.

Before coming to Waban, Ray was principal of the Elementary School in Epping, N. H., Liberty Street School in Adams, the Oakdale Schools in Dedham, the Heath School in Brookline, and the Bradley Park School in Neptune, N. J.

He directed the organizing of the PTA's in the Angier, Beethoven, Hamilton and Pierce Schools in Newton, served as liaison officer for the Newton Schools during World War II in behalf of the War Bond Drive.

Instrumental in the establishment of the Angier School Exchange, he saw other schools in Newton come to use it as their model. Under his leadership Angier School was the first to pioneer the Peterboro trip which has proven to be a worthwhile educational and conservation experience for sixth-graders. He also contributed valuable assistance in organizing Newton School skating program.

His work as one of the authors of a handbook, "The Superior Teacher," gained national recognition in 1938, and he also assisted in the preparation of the booklet, "Partner-

POLITICAL OVERTONES

By JAMES G. COLBERT

Whittier Slated for Administrative Post in Capital . . . Contests for Leadership of Mass. House and Senate . . .

Sumner G. Whittier will go to Washington to accept a position in President Eisenhower's administration when his term as Lieutenant Governor expires early in January.

That answers the questions hundreds of people have been asking as to what Whittier will do when his long career at the State House come to a close.

The specific post to which he will be appointed has not yet been revealed, but Senator Leverett Saltonstall has been working to line up a position for him.

There is no foundation for the reports which have been circulated in political quarters that Registrar of Motor Vehicles Rudolph F. King is to retire and that Whittier will be named to succeed him.

* * * *

One of the questions political observers now are asking is whether Governor Herter might be persuaded to return to Massachusetts in 1958 to challenge Senator John F. Kennedy. There is a growing belief that President Eisenhower may request him to do so if UN Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., does not desire to make a fight to regain his old Senate seat.

More Raised In Feather Drive Than A Year Ago

Newton's Red Feather drive ended Tuesday night with Chairman Franklin N. Flaschner's report at the final meeting indicating that more money was raised this year than a year ago.

In his message to the more than 2400 volunteer workers in the 1957 drive, Mr. Flaschner lauded them for their vigorous efforts in behalf of the 277 health and welfare agencies supported through this once-a-year appeal.

"In the spirit of Thanksgiving, I would like to express my warmest appreciation and gratitude to all Newton residents and workers who have given so generously to Red Feather this fall. I want particularly to commend the volunteers, who in addition to their generous financial support, gave so unstintingly of their time and energies to make this campaign a success," the campaign chairman stated.

In reviewing the factors which contributed to this year's drive, Mr. Flaschner spoke highly of the community response given the Ten Plus Club which signified the importance of increased giving. He reported the support given this year by labor and management in Newton industries as responsible for new contributions in the Newton drive.

Early this week, Mrs. Frederick J. Wood of Newtonville, chairman of Women's Retail division became the first of the seven division leaders to gain 100 per cent of goal. Following village chairmen in the Retail group reported oversubscription of their goals: Mrs. Randall C. Kean, Auburndale; Mrs. Morgan S. Tigers Are Favored to Win On Basis of Comparative Records

The Orange and Black of Newton is expected to take the Red and Blue of Brookline into camp in the 56th annual gridiron contest between these two arch rivals in the game which will be held this morning (Thursday) at 10:30 a.m., in Dickinson Stadium here.

On the basis of the records compiled by the two teams this year, Newton, with its 4 won, 1 lost and 3 tied should take care of Brookline with its 1 won, 7 lost and no tie games, easily. Yet the interest in this annual Turkey classic between the two schools may make the record book look silly and Brookline might rise up and take it out on highly favored Newton.

The game is expected to draw a capacity gathering and Newton adherents, having tasted bitter defeats by Brookline in the past two seasons, are hoping to see their eleven run up a high score against their traditional rivals and thereby atone for their defeats suffered in the past two years.

Newton will field a far more experienced eleven than will Brookline which possesses only one veteran linesman from last year's team, with the other positions filled by juniors and sophomores. Bud Hawkes' Tigers, on the other hand, have a good team with several veterans in the lineup.

Captain Walt Convey holds down the center position for the Red and Blue and is the mainstay of the forward wall along with ace guard George Moses. Downes employs the two-platoon system at his tackle positions but has yet to find a satisfactory combination. Paul Bagley, Pete Titus and Dave Nelson usually play the ends, and have carried out their assignments well.

The backfield is the strong point of Brookline, sparked by speedy halfback Donny Hootstein. The quarterback, Pete Varnum, is a clever ball handler and runs his team on the ground for the most part; however, on occasions he has switched to the airwaves and displayed a strong air game. His chief target is back. Dave Troy, who is also a threat to break away on every play. Fullback position is alternated between Larry McNulty and junior Marty

Jazz Program Is To Be Presented At Music Club By Noted Group

Herb Pomeroy, former jazz trumpet and arranger for Lionel Hampton and Stan Kenton, will conduct his twenty-piece jazz band in a program presented by the Music Club of Newton High School Thursday, Nov. 29, at 2:45 p.m. Toshiko Akiyoshi, famous international Japanese jazz pianist, and Father Norman O'Connor, noted jazz authority, will take part in the program. Each number played will be discussed by a panel consisting of student members of the jazz committee. They are Mark Eastman, Chairman, Martin Bialow, Co-Ordinator, Robert Kellaway, Dick Gordon and Walter Bernheimer. The discussants will be Father O'Connor and Herb Pomeroy. Mr. Henry Lasker, Faculty Adviser of the Music Club, will act as Moderator.

Herb Pomeroy will conduct student musicians of the Berklee School of Music in this premiere performance of original modern jazz compositions, which were composed specifically for presentation at Newton High School. Three groups, representative of the jazz styles, will be featured; big-band jazz, jazz quintet and experimental jazz octet.

Stocklan. There is little depth at any positions, but Brookline has been lucky in keeping the injury jinx to a minimum.

They opened their season against potential Class A champion Weymouth, and were trounced to the tune of 25-0. Losses to a weak Quincy squad and Leominster followed. Brockton and Watertown completely outplayed the Red and Blue, but the team looked better in a tough loss to Waltham. Last week they finally broke into the win column with a 20-6 victory over Saugus. The team has been slightly better than their 1-7 record indicates.

On the other side of the ledger, the Orange and Black have been inconsistent throughout the season. In the opener they blew a potential victory as Chelsea came from behind to salvage a 19-19 tie. The following week, Newton exploded to wallop Cranston, 30-0, and then squeezed by powerful Brockton, 6-2. A 33-6 romp over Watertown put the Tigers right up among the leaders in Class A, but then they fell apart. In the final minute of play, Arlington beat the Tigers, 12-6, and the next week an underdog Medford team played the Tigers to an upset 7-7 deadlock.

Things looked brighter, when Newton fought powerful Lynn English to a 13-13 tie, and then whacked archrival Waltham, 32-20. Except for lapses in the late stages of the game, Newton has shown a powerful offense and a strong defensive club, sparked by quarterback Charlie Vento, and a host of fine running backs.

Brian Kenny, the workhorse of the Tiger offense, rips holes in the opponents line and can pick up that all-important yard when needed. Pete Nelson, Manny Connerney, Fran Zolli and Donny Christenson round out the backfield.

Offensive end has been a strong position for the Tigers this season, and the defensive work of end Jimmy Yancey has been very encouraging. Captain Leo Hughes has played a great tackle all year, and kept the Newton line on its toes.

Although comparative scores are often misleading, here they are for what they are worth. Arlington took Newton in a 12-6 contest while beating Brookline, 14-0. Newton eked out a 6-2 win over Brockton, and Brockton whacked Brookline by 20 points. The same thing occurred when the two teams met Watertown, as Newton romped and Brookline was swamped. Versus Waltham, Newton had to come from behind three times before they took Waltham, while Brookline lost by two touchdowns although Waltham did not score until the final minute of the second period.

All statistics point to an overwhelming victory for the Tigers, but let's not be too quick to forget this Brookline team.

This is a traditional game and anything can happen, while a victory would salvage the whole season for the Red and Blue. Their fine backfield can catch Newton's, but if this line arises to the challenge it could be a very interesting contest. The guess here is that Newton will bring the turkey home for the first time since '53, but it could be close!

Total Freedom Possible Now Says Lecturer

Never doubt the power of a spiritual understanding of God, said Ella H. Hay of Indianapolis, Indiana at a public lecture here Monday evening, Nov. 19.

No matter what your needs may be, she told her audience, through spiritually correct thinking you can learn how to cope with fatigue, fear, loneliness, and insufficiency. Freedom from the bondage of sin, sickness, and other discords can be experienced now, Mrs. Hay declared.

A member of The Christian Science Board of Lectureship, she spoke in the Church edifice, 391 Walnut st., Newtonville, at the invitataion of First Church of Christ Scientist, Newton. Mrs. Hay's subject was "Christian Science: The Way of True Freedom Now." She was introduced by George G. Broadhead, First Reader.

The way of true freedom is set forth in the inspired Word of the Bible, the lecturer stated.

As Christ Jesus was a student of Scripture, she said, "it is natural for us to turn wholeheartedly to the holy record for correct information concerning the nature of God and man, for the spipritual light and understanding which heals disease and reveals the way of freedom."

The Bible, she went on, reveals that there is but one God, changeless and eternal, and that the real man is His image and likeness.

Understanding the spiritual relationship between God and man enabled Christ Jesus to prove by his mighty works of healing, that truth makes free, she observed.

"His clear view of the naturalness and nowness of good," she explained, "dispelled beliefs of sickness, limitation, insufficiency, and impairment as promptly and naturally as darkness dispels light. Spiritual light dispels mental darkness, whether the darkness appears as injury, disease, failure, fear, or discouragement."

Today's problems can also be met through the light of spiritual understanding, she empha sized.

Commenting on the statement from 'Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy (p. 494); "Divine Love always has met and always will meet every human need," she said: "Your need is to know God, to feel His presence and acknowledge His power . . . and to recognize your true selfhood as the child of God."

How such understanding has worked in actual experience to ensure freedom from business worries, fatigue, sickness, and strife was described by the lecturer.

Mrs. Hay told of the experience of a man, who, when faced by business failure, turned to a Christian Science practitioner for help. The practitioner, she said, explained to him what his real business actually was.

"True business is knowing the truth that makes free, and this spiritual activity is always joyous, intelligent, wise, and successful," the lecturer declared.

Never stagnant or failing, true business, she said, is spiritual love expressed in efficient, profitable service.

The practitioner urged the man to see business as "divine activity, fully equipped, eternally established, and abundantly nourished," she said, noting that the man promised to cooperate "by rejecting fear and human outlining and by accepting the true idea of business as the basis of his thinking.

"Within a week," she continued, "an idea came to him for an invention which would greatly improve his business and his opportunity for service. All details connected with obtaining the patent, a manufacturer for the product, and the sales force, proceeded harmoniously."

She added that his business "has greatly enlarged, and is continuing to bless himself and others."

Turning to the problem of fatigue, the lecturer emphasized that freedom from weakness and weariness is attainable now. "Through prayer, persistent affirmations of the presence and power of God, we come to the true understanding of God, and demonstrate our God-given heritage of joy, rest, strength, and true freedom," she declared.

According to the lecturer, fatigue is "an error of belief" to be overcome "on the same basis as sin and sickness—by rejecting it as temptation and by claiming spiritual strength as the heritage of man." Thoughts based on self-pity, self-righteousness, and self-will are the enemies of true rest, she held.

"Since God is never weary, man in His likeness cannot be tired," she explained, adding that to "realize that man lives in eternity, not in time, is effective prayer, and this realization operates to increase strength."

Stressing the importance of scientific prayer, the lecturer said that Christian Scientists, like the early Christians, accept their religion as effective in overcoming sin, sickness, and sorrow.

"Humble prayer, steadfast affirmation of the reality of good and the unreality of evil, ensures healthy and secure concepts of life ,substance, and intelligence," she declared.

In the practice of Christian Science, she said, prayer alone is used in healing the sick and reforming the sinner.

"Healing in this religion," she explained, "is purely spiritual and has nothing in common with mental manipulation or mortal mind analysis." A metaphysical statement may sound like Christian Science, she said, but only those utterances based on the Christ, Truth, are rightfully classified as scientific.

Calling upon her audience to "watch, work, and pray earnestly for the attainment of peace," Mrs. Hay emphasized the need for individual responsibility.

"Consecrated effort to lift individual and world thought to the ideal of peace on earth, good will to men, is never wasted," she declared.

The discipline of thought which spiritual understanding brings, she went on, is essential in overcoming strife and establishing peace in the home, the community, and the world. "More is being done by alert spiritual thinkers to forward world peace than is evident to the casual observer," she added.

Senator Wall Is Man Without Party . . .

The Massachusetts Senate, lone remaining Republican citadel on Beacon Hill, but seething with political feuds, will be the centre of more than ordinary attention when its members hold their organization meetings at private party caucuses next month.

One Senator-elect may find himself at least temporarily cast in the role of a man wtihout a party.

Two GOP Senators are engaged in a bitter fight for the presidency of the incoming Senate. While that battle ordinarily would be settled on the Republican side of the political fence, Democratic Senate leaders are watching closely to determine whether theer will be any opportunity for them to intervene to affect its outcome.

Two Democratic solons won their seats over the determined opposition of Democratic Senate Leader John E. Powers who will be the spokesman of the minority party in the upper legislative chamber.

Aside from all that, the Senate will be the bitterest battleground on Beacon Hill, for it is there that the Republicans will make their stands against the bills they want to kill.

Senator-elect William X. Wall of Lawrence is the solon who at this moment is in the position of being a politician without a party. His status is an unusual one, although it is not unprecedented in the history of the Senate.

Wall was deefated in the September primary for the Democratic Senate nomination in the Lawrence-Methuen district but won the Republican endorsement on stickers.

A popular member of the House of Representatives and a lifelong Democrat, Wall ran as the GOP candidates in a senatorial district which is so overwhelmingly Democratic that the Republicans ordinarily don't even bother to enter a candidate in it. He won in the November election on a combination of Democratic and Republican votes.

It now develops that Wall considers himself a Democrat, that on the basis of his own statements the chagrined Republicans also regard him as a Democrat but that the Democratic chieftains in the Senate view him as a Republican.

Wall has declared that he will vote with the Democrats to organize the Senate. That is understandable because he would have little chance of gaining reelection unless he functioned as a Democrat, and when he runs again it presumably will be in a Democratic primary.

However, the Democratic Senators will hold their organization meeting at a party caucus behind closed doors, and Democratic Senate Leader Powers declares that as of this moment Wall is not entitled to attend the Democratic caucus.

Powers asserts that he regards Wall as a Republican Senator who would attend the Republican caucus. He says that he has no authority to invite Wall to the Democratic caucus and that neither does any other Democratic Senator.

The only way Wall can get into the Democratic caucus, according to Powers, is to make a formal request that he be admitted and then wait for the Democratic Senators to vote on his request.

That would leave the matter strictly as Democrats. If they voted to accept up to the 18 Senators who were elected him into their fold, he could then enter the caucus. But if they should vote to keep him out, he would be barred.

"He can't walk into our caucus without a ballot being taken by the Democratic Senators on whether he should be admitted," explained Powers.

Ordinarily, the Republicans would welcome Wall into their caucus, but they can't very well do so if he is going to vote with the Democrats to organize the Senate.

That is one extraordinary situation waiting to be cleared up, and until it is cleared up it would seem that Senator-elect Wall is not actually affiliated with either the Democratic or Republican wing in the Senate.

Battle Looms for Senate Presidency . . .

Meanwhile, a stiff fight is being waged between veteran GOP Senator Newland H. Holmes of Weymouth and considerably younger Republican Senator Philip A. Graham of Hamilton for the presidency of the next Senate.

Graham appears to have a slight edge over Holmes at the moment, but the Democrats are waiting and watching to determine whether any opportunity will develop for them to throw their support behind Holmes.

The Democratic Senators headed by Powers have much more interest in the outcome of the Holmes-Graham struggle than they ordinarily would have in a clash between two Republicans because they know that Holmes would give them far more consideration than would Graham.

Both Graham and Holmes could technically be classed as conservative Republicans. There usually is no difference in the way they vote on the matters to come before the Senate. But there is a great diffeffrence in their temperamental makeup and the way they handle themselves in public arguments and debates.

Holmes, who is now completing his 27th year in the Senate and has a longer record of service behind him than any other member in the history of the body, is a master of diplomacy and the art of political compromise.

He has disclosed that if he is elected the Senate president he would depart from custom and name some Democratic Senators as committee chairman on the basis of seniority and ability.

Graham, who is unbending in the stands he takes and invariably spurns compromise, would give the Democrats nothing he didn't have to give them and would rule the Senate with a strong, stern hand, conceding nothing to the Democratic minority.

A pugnacious and aggressive advocate of conservative Republicanism, he would have no "soft" policy toward the Democratic Senators over whom he presided. Some of the GOP Solons may rally behind him for that very reason.

It was Graham, incidentally, who in 1954 led a movement to deny Richard I. Furbush a tradition-shattering third term as president of the Senate. Graham at that time was characterized as the "leader of the young Turks" in the Senate. Furbush is now undertaking to even political scores and is endeavoring to block Graham's election. There is some doubt that he will be able to do it.

Under the procedure followed in the past, the Republicans settled the contest for the Senate presidency at a party caucus behind closed doors. The Senator who polled the greatest number of votes at the caucus was the winner. Even though the margin were as tight as 11 to 10, the loser would withdraw, and the GOP Solons would vote unanimously on the Senate floor for the contender who emerged on top in the cacus.

It may not be that way, however, when the Senate convenes in January. Holmes has intimated to other Senators that he may remain in the fight, regardless of what happens in the caucus. Should he do so and persuade one or two other Republicans to stand with him ,the Democrats could swing the balance of power and elect him.

Powers, who believes with some justification that the Senate will be the setting for bitter, unending political warfare with Graham in the president's chair, is waiting to determine whether there will be an opening for the Democratic Senators to make their weight felt and control the presidential election.

Ordinarily, a GOP Senator who refused to be bound by a party caucus would be risking swift and stern paprty discipline. Holmes, however, is in a position where he is virtually immune to any such political punishment. He is strongly entrenched in his district and for all practical purposes is unbeatable there.

Now 65 years of age, his political aim is the presidency of the Senate. If he can't achieve that goal on Republican votes alone, he may not close the door on the opportunity to realize it with Democratic help.

His big problem may be to find one or two Repubican colleagues to join with him in defying the edict of the GOP caucus. Right now Senator Holmes and Graham are the principles in a clash that is weighted heavily with political implications.

While Powers is certain of election as the Senate's Democratic leader and minority party spokesmen, two of the solons who will vote with the Democratic wing won their seats over his opposition.

One is Wall, and the other is Senator-elect A. Frank Foster of Dorchester. One thing that can be said for Powers is that he has the courage of his convictions and that he stands by his friends.

He campaigned for retiring Senator Daniel Rudsten against Foster and for retiring Senator Albert S. Previte, Jr., against Wall.

That action conceivably might have cost Powers the presidency if the Democrats had gained control of the Senate by a 21-19 margin instead of losing it by the same count. There is some doubt that either Wall or Foster would have voted to make Powers president under those circumstances, but that was a calculated risk Powers took when he went out and campaigned for Rudsten and Foster.

Democratic Feud over House Speakership

Not all the political feuds have erupted on the Senate side of the Legislature. Ruggled battles also are in progress for the Speakership of the House of Representatives and for the post as Republican floor leader in the body.

Speaker Michael F. Skerry, who is seeking a second term as the presiding officer of the House, is being challenged by Representative Charles J. Artesani.

Skerry is generally expected to prevail over Artesani. It would be a surprising turn of events if the Democrats, after retaining control of the House in the recent election, were to replace Skerry with Artesani.

There have been only two Democratic House Speakers in Massachusetts history. The first was Congressman Thomas P. O'Neill, Jr., who presided over the House for four years before moving on to Washington. Skerry is the second.

Artesani opposed Skerry for the Speakership two years ago. He had been one of Robert F. Murphy's top campaign directors in the 1954 election and undoubtedly would have defeated Skerry if Murphy had been successful in his bid for the Governorship.

But when Murphy lost to Governor Christian A. Herter, his influence diminished, and he was unable to give Artesani any really effective help.

Skerry has the very important advantage of being in the Speaker's office and in control of its machinery.

Representative Frank S. Giles of Methuen had more than enough pledges from Republican legislators to boost him into the Speakership if the GOP regained control of the House. Now, however, he is faced with a fight for the post of Republican floor leader, although he is expected to come out of the showdown test the victor.

Football enthusiasts can enjoy a really rugged game at Fenway Park next Sunday and at the same time help an extremely worthy cause. The Chippewas of South Boston and St. Paul's of Dorchester will meet for the championship of the Boston park league, with the proceeds to be used to help finance the operation of Nazareth in Jamaica Plain.

Hard-working Park Commissioner Frank R. Kelley and Patrick J. Ryan of West Roxbury, head of the city's recreation division, declare that the game will be worth far more than the price of admission.

How Are We Doing?

Forty years ago, towns and cities gave generous financial aid to state governments. In Massachusetts, in 1918, these localities paid 46 per cent of the $23 million spent by the State. They did this through the "State Tax" which the Legislature levied each year to cover the ever-present deficiency in revenue raised. Only since 1948 has this tax been unused. The law permitting its use is still on the books.

Today, the towns and cities are geting about a quarter of their support from the Commonwealth. Some get less funds, some more, even above 50 percent. For the average community, state aid supplies one dollar out of each four spent. Newton, on the lower side, gets around 17 percent of its revenue from the State.

How has this reversal of financial procedures come about? An important reason for it is the fact that the State has taken over certain sources of revenue formerly used by the cities and towns. It did not do this with a predatory intent, but with the conviction that it was being helpful.

In the early part of the century, the general property tax, the chief tax used in the North, has become a problem in all the states using it. It was easy to tax tangible property, visible property, locally. But how could assessors tax what they could not find, or what they didn't know existed? And, in any case, who wanted to drive the rich men of the town to a more lenient community, or one with a lower local tax rate? Great injustice was being caused by erratic assessment and by non-assessments, and heavy loss of possible revenue was resulting. Owners of this intangible property, sometimes mere evidence of wealth, such as stocks and bond certificates, declared that regular property rates on it were confiscatory. This was their way of justifying their tax evasion.

Two chief methods were tried by the states to solve this problem.

One was the use of a lower rate for intangible property; the other was the taxation of income instead of principal. Massachusetts could use neither method because of a Constitutional requirement of uniform rates on all property — income was considered property. In 1916, the Constitution was amended to permit the division of property into classes, and the use of different rates on different classes of property, but only uniform rates within them.

The Legislature passed a law giving the State authority to collect the new tax, but decreeing that all revenue above costs of administration should go to the towns and cities. The State could give a uniform administration, and it has facilities not available to the localities for getting information about incomes. It is true, too, that many people who are unwilling to give information about their incomes locally, would be willing to disclose it to the more impersonal State.

This was the origin of our present personal income tax law, a step forward in its day, but long since left behind by practically every other income-taxing state, since we vary our rates according to the source of the income and they vary theirs according to the amount. It will take another amendment to bring this up to date. After all, a dollar is only a dollar when you come to spend it, but lower rates for lower incomes tend to equalize the burden of taxes.

The taxing of corporations, also, except for their real estate, has been taken over by the State. Even the definitely tangible machinery is State taxed. The corporations had shown continual dissatisfaction with the way this was treated, because of the wide variation in local rates and because they believed valuations were often distorted by the assessors.

At present, $9 million is deducted each year from the corporation tax revenue to be sent back to the localities, presumably to make up for their loss, but it is still distributed according to the location and value of that machinery in 1935 — did someone mention Rip Van Winkle.

After deduction of expenses for administration, the communities get five-sixths of what remains. The State also distributes one-third of the money received from the meals tax. This goes for welfare in the manner determined by the Commissioners of Taxation and Welfare.

In addition to these state-collected locally-shared taxes, the State makes Highway grants to the communities, and, since the depression days, it re-imburses them for a large part of various welfare expenditures, partly from its own and partly from federally contributed funds. Also it contributes to veteran help, and for 16 different kinds of educational aid. The two largest are the School Foundation and the School Building Assistance Program. Money for both of these is taken from the income tax revenue, as is the $2½ million dollars for school transportation and half as much for school lunches. This is a case of re-routeing income tax money by new formulas, not of additional money.

As the Legislature gives, so it can take away, in either case by passing laws. At various times, it has reduced the amount to be distributed from both the income tax and corporation tax revenue by diverting part of it to other purposes than aid to the localities. Surtaxes and temporary taxes were pyramided on the other taxes. They were for State use and go to the General Fund, or other State Funds. The State has almost as many of these Funds as a bride has envelopes for her household expenses. Is this good modern business procedure?

Newton—Nov. 12 McD

In 1954, the total State distribution to the towns and cities, including $53 million in federal funds, amounted to $203 million. As a percentage of total general expenditures, this was the eighth largest in the country. These millions are given out according to "forty complex formulas" said a Special Commission on Taxation. These mean expensive account-keeping and involved calulations in forecasting revenue receipts. Is such complexity desirable or necessary?

Moreover, in the case of personal income tax and the corporation tax the amount to be distributed varies from year to year, even if the Legislature makes no changes. It depends upon what is taken in, and this, in turn, depends upon economic conditions. As long as revenue rises continuously, no one suffers, but if revenue began to go down, there would be trouble, serious trouble, if the drop were sharp. In time of greatest need, the communities would get such a time, the State has many more rsources for raising and borrowing money than the towns and cities. For this reason, among others, many who have studied the problem of state aid advise that communities be given fixed funds by the state and that all tax revenue go into the General Fund.

With such large sums of money to be shared by the state with the towns and cities, it would seem certain that the Commonwealth and these localities would have worked out some clear and equitable plan of procedure. Yet, in 1945, a Commission commentd on th mthods of distribution used as follows: "They constitute an unrelated, arbitrary set of procedures — There is not in the entire picture one element, which in its present form, would serve as an element in a coherent, logical and equitable plan."

Except for the large school programs little has changed, and one is forced to ask how well the school programs have fulfilled their purpose. They were intended to apportion their aid according to the relative need of the communities, giving most aid to those in greatest need.

The chief factors for determining the number of children and the equalized assessed valuations. The number of children can be easily counted, though which children should be counted to give a true result was a disputed matter. Should it be only public school children, or all school children?

The assessed valuations are a still more controversial matter. Towns measure their financial positions by the use of amazingly varied percentages of the value of their property. Percentages actually vary from 18% to over 60%. None of the communities use the "fair cash value" indicated by the law, so tax rates are artificial and have little meaning for comparison.

According to a study made by the Fiscal Survey Commis- the smallest towns need have sion, if this value were used, no more than a $22 tax rate, the cities might have from $31 to $35; Boston alone a rate of $50. This consistent picture of the localities would mak judgment as to their need reasonably accurate, yet in raising the same amount of revenue, no higher taxes would ve necessary. 4 times 2 makes 8; so does 2 times 4. Why do we not insist on true equalized valuations for the whole State?

At present, both the Tax Commissioner and the Legislature have the right to equalize assessed valuations, but neither have adequate facilities. Besides, the Legislature makes the last move, and it can change anything the Commissioner has done, and legislators are under pressure to favor their communities.

The terrific distortion possible when highly imperfect valuations are used can be judge from the fact that the 1951 p capita distribution of aid va ied from $8, $9 and $10 for thr localities to $129, $90 and $ respectively for three others

There is one small town, a cording to authoritative repor which today has a tax rate the 20'- and a surplus whic could run the town for a yea and a half. It gets 85% of it revenue from state aid. A other town, with a large sum mer population has a tax rat of around $30 and a valuatio of about 20%. It its aid apt t be realistic? A member of th Tax Administration has sug gested the possibility that ai might be adequate to the need of the localities, if it wer locally distributed on a tru basis. Now the placs with dy namic growth fare badly.

There is another aspect to th need situation. While about of the shared taxes are give on basis of need, the other is given on the principle of he who - has-the-most-gets-the-most For every dollar that goes t supposed poverty, two go t supposed wealth. It is as if th State with one hand tried t equalize local conditions, an therefore opportunity, whil the other, it was twisting them Rip Van Winkle here; perhaps still furthr out of shape. N Alice, who went through the looking-glass.

Yet Rip is still around. $4 million of the shared taxs i distributed on the basis of as sessed valuations of 1945. These by law, were supposed to have been reviewed every two years but not until 1955 did the Legislature set up the Commission for Equalization and Apportionment to do this. This Commission made a careful and comprehensive report, but the Legislature did not accept it because, it is said, many localities would have lost money — but money that they should not have been getting. Is there an ethical problem here? — Each year that reform is delayed makes change more difficult and most costly. Should it not not begun at once but imposed by gradual steps to lessen any hardship? Certainly many communities have changed almost beyond recognition since the end of the Korean War in 1945.

How are we doing? How do you like the picture? Many of the defects can only show up with a closer examination, but doesn't it seem obvious that right now is the time to make a determined move to set up a system of taxing, and of giving aid to the towns and cities, which shall be "coherent, logthorough-going revision can do ical and equitable?" Only a this. That would be something new under the sun for Massachusetts where, for untold decades, the custom has been to add another tax patch, or another formula.

N. C. Garden Club Hears Talk On Dried Flowers

Mrs. Louis E. Phaneuf, well-known flower arranger who is past president of the Newton Centre Garden Club, told club members her ideas on "Flower Arranging with Dried Material" at a Tuesday morning meeting at the Newton Centre Woman's Club.

A business meeting, conducted by Mrs. Gustav R. Breitzke, president, preceded the speech.

Peace and plenty

America is indeed a land of peace and prosperity. We're free to work and earn . . . and to enjoy the fruits of our own labors.

Recognition of this freedom has always been an important part of our Thanksgiving tradition.

We hope you and your family find much to be thankful for this Thanksgiving Day.

MERRY CHRISTMAS BAZAAR BY CENTRE WOMAN'S CLUB, NOV. 28

The Merry Christmas Bazaar of the Newton Centre Woman's Club will be held on Wednesday, November 28 from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the clubhouse. Mrs. Wasom M. Hyde, Chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, will be general chairman for the fete.

Visitors to the Bazaar will find fourten tables laden with a variety of articles designed for Christmas gift shoppers—everything from toys for the children to a perfume-scented handkerchief for grandmother, plus a beautiful assortment of gift wrappings and holiday greetings.

Mrs. Walter D. Stewart will be in charge of the Bakery Table which will offer an appetizing array of foods prepared by club members famous for their culinary skill. Mrs. Stewart will be assisted by Mrs. Harold E. Tingley as co-chairman and Mmes. Kurt Schorr, LeRoy Gould, Arthur Johnson, Charles Brooks, Elmer Kling, Charles Supper, George Pfannenstiehl, John Watts, Edmond Foster, and Maurice Hungerville. At the Jewelry Table beautiful costume jewelry will be sold by Mrs. Amos Kent, Mrs. Franklin Fullerton, and Mrs. James A. Downing. Mrs. Edward Levine will preside at a table of handmade articles designed and made by herself.

The Collectors' Corner will have treasures galore — rare glass, antique silver, Haviland and Limoges china. Shoppers will be afforded an opportunity to find that missing piece from a discontinued china pattern. Mrs. Fred Dumont Fowler, chairman, will be assisted by Miss Alice Smith and Mmes. Edwin B. Goodall, R. G. Duffield, G. A. Stanchfield, Horace Williams, Ernest Wilkins, James Linden, Louis Marks, W. R. Martineau, George Taylor, E. B. Ferguson, E. R. Foster, David Golditch, Milton Grayson, W. L. Wilson and David Ditmore. Dozens of unusual Christmas garlands and wreaths will be on sale at Mrs. Henry S. Cummings' table, and at a nearby table, Mrs. Otis E. Stephenson will have everything necessary for wrapping beautiful Christmas packages.

At the Household Table, Mrs. Harry A. Wansker, club president, will feature a collection of hostess aprons and an extensive display of practical and decorative items for the home. Mrs. Wansker will have as her assistants Mmes. Joseph McKey, John P. E. Dempsey, James A. Downing, and Miss Cecil Hollis. The Candy Table, Mrs. Arthur E. LaCroix, chairman, will have delicious homemade candies as well as the packaged variety. Toys to provide a Merry Christmas for the small fry will include dolls, stuffed animals, and stocking gifts. Mrs. Hyde will take personal charge of this table. Mrs. Anthony Leone and her committee will have many lovely handkerchiefs for sale at their table—ones to please every taste and pocketbook.

Exciting new features at the Bazaar will be the Silent Auction Table where Miss Katherine Cutter will preside, and the Chance Table with Mrs. Samuel H. Back as chairman. The Art Table, under the supervision of Mrs. Harold R. Keller, will offer many attractive items collected by the Arts and Crafts Committee. Last, but not least, the T'n'T Table—treasures and trash—where everybody will find a knick-knack or a treasure at a bargain price. The three chairmen at this table will be Mrs. John Metz, Mrs. Edward Davis, and Mrs. Harvey Jenks.

A respite from shopping will be afforded by the refreshing treats at the Snack Bar in the recreation room at the noon hour. Warm dishes, sandwiches, desserts and beverages will be available. Mrs. Osbert L. Rafuse, chairman, will be aided by Mmes. Robert Purinton, Kurt Schorr, Louis Marks, John P. E. Dempsey, A. R. Leahy, Ann G. Casanave, and Ronald Vincent.

Mrs. Harry A. Wansker, president of the Newton Centre Woman's Club has announced that club members, their guests and the general public are all cordially invited. Admission is free.

IT'S ALL OVER NOW but these young Girl Scouts did their part at the recent presidential election to bring out the vote. They acted as baby sitters for parents who wanted to cast their ballots. The girls are from Troop 190 of the Ward School and used the library of that school for headquarters. Mrs. Milton J. Rosendorf of 535 Commonwealth avenue, Newton Centre, is shown talking to these public spirited young ladies. The above group included Dionne Kagon, Barbara Sternfeld, Donna Needham, Arlene Rosendorf, Ellen Goldsmith, Leni White, Donna Resnick, Barbara Beckwith, Laura Cerf, Nancy Short, Nancy Gelberg, Ellen Matalsky, Shelly Modfis, Missy Weinneb, Sandy Soble, Roberta Lewer. Miss Sarah N. Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Wilson of 22 Southwick road, Waban, a junior at Connecticut College for Women, was named to the Dean's List for excellence in study based on the academic work of the last semester. She is a graduate of Newton High School.

Lists Program For This Season

The following is a list of dates of the Cabot School PTA program for the year 1956-57. Wednesday, November 28, 1956: Dr. Leland Jacobs, Professor of Education, Columbia University Teachers College, and authority in the field of children's literature, will speak on "What Johnny Should Read." Saturday, December 1, 1956: the Wheelock College Drama Group will present a delightful play entitled, "The Emperor's New Clothes." This play is carefully keyed to the level of the elementary school children.

Saturday, April 6, 1957: Miss Eileen Kneeland, TV's "Lady of the Bookshelf" and Bob Munstedt, puppeteer, magician and ventriloquist will present a thrilling program.

Monday, May 13, 1957: "The Preparation and Education for Life in a Scientific World," will be discussed by an able panel including: Miss Eleanor Johnson, Elementary Science, Newton Schools; Mr. Clifford Nelson, Junior High consultant for Newton Schools; and Dr. Albert Navez, head of Science Instruction, Newton High School. The moderator will be Dr. John Reed, Head of the Science Department, Boston University Teachers College.

Saturday, May 25, 1957: Square dancing and folk dancing for three separate age groups, will be led by Mr. Dudley Briggs. Refreshments will be served.

Monday, June 3, 1957: A "Spring Music Festival" featuring the Cabot School Orchestra led by Mr. Alvin Parker, and the Cabot Choral Group under the direction of Miss Mildred Fahey and Mr. Lowell Bee. Also at that time an annual business meeting.

Looking Back Over 55 Games

The game today will mark the 56th meeting between the two high school elevens. Being a traditional battle, there is a good possibility it will shape up as a hard-fought contest. Thus far Newton leads in the series with 27 wins as compared to 23 for Brookline, with five games ending in a tie. Here are the scores of the previous 55 meetings.

Middle East To Be Topic Of Sermon Friday

"Understanding the Middle East Situation" will be the topic of the sermo nby Dr. Israel J. Kazis Rabbi of Temple Mishkan Tefila at the opening late Friday Eve Services in the Roxbury Temple November 23 at 8:15 o'clock. Cantor Gregor Shelkan will officiate at the Service assisted by an augmented Temple choir under the direction of Professor Solomon G. Bravlavsky.

Immediately following the Service, the Temple Board of Directors is sponsoring a social hour where many new affilliants, particularly from suburban areas, will be welcomed.

YES! Automobile Insurance Costs More Today . . . BUT--

—so does every single thing you buy. With 58,000,000 cars and trucks on the roads, more accidents happen. Cars are fancier and more costly to fix—wages for repair men have gone way up—hospital and medical fees are higher than ever—judgments in damage suits are unbelievably high. All of these factors mean higher premiums for automobile insurance. But even with recent rate increases, automobile insurance is one of the few truly low priced services today.

MISS MAGUIRE, MR. CODY ON BERMUDA WEDDING TRIP

At an eleven o'clock ceremony performed last Saturday morning by the Rev. Arthur McClory in the Sacred Heart Church in Newton Centre, Miss Kathleen Mary Maguire became the bride of Mrs. Thomas Gerald Cody, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Francis Cody of Holyoke. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Edward Maguire of Newton Centre and was given in marriage by her father. The reception was given at the Hotel Longwood Towers.

The matron of honor was Mrs. John Edward Walsh of Scituate. John Francis Cody, Jr., of Easthampton was best man and those serving as ushers were Richard A. Cody of Holyoke, William F. Cody of New York City, William A. Maguire of Newton Highlands and John E. Walsh of Scituate. The bride had her nephew, Mark Brian Walsh, for the ringbearer.

Mrs. Cody is a graduate of Framingham State Teachers' College and studied at Regis College. Her husband was graduated from Holy Cross College and Boston College Graduate School. He is now studying at the Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration.

Newton Junior Community Club Has Seventeenth Birthday

A spaghetti supper was held November 13, at the Newton YMCA, to celebrate the 17th Birthday of the Newton Junior Community Club.

Miss Joan Schilpp, president of the junior club, presided at the business meeting which followed supper. Head table guests were: Mrs. John L. MacNeil, founder of the Newton Junior Community Club; Miss Doris Drescher, 12th District Chairman for the Massachusetts Federation of Women's Clubs, Jr. Membership; and Miss Margaret Magoley, President of the Newton Community Club, Inc.

Yearbooks made up by Miss Beverly Thornton and her committee were given to each member.

The Club has accepted with regret the resignation of Miss Joan Pettigrew, as vice-president. Miss Mary Fitzsimmons has been elected to serve in her place.

Mrs. Dawn Shannon, chairman of arrangements for a Christmas party for children, brought up the possibility of adopting a needy family for Christmas giving. It was decided that the Club would do this through United Community Services. The December program will also include a Christmas party with the Evening Division of the Newton Community Club, to be held at the Hunnewell Club.

Alan J. Finley, 1 Channing street, Newton, is presently enrolled as a senior at Bentley School of Accounting and Finance in Boston. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Finley.

Hospital Aid Association

The regular November meeting of the Directors of the Newton-Wellesley Hospital Aid Association was held Tuesday, in Allen Riddle Hall at the hospital.

Following the business meeting conducted by Mrs. Worthing L. West, President, Mrs. Herbert G. Dunphy reported proceeds from the Village Bridge Parties. This series of parties, held throughout Newton and Wellesley, brought in $5,048.10, the largest total in the history of this annual event. Mrs. Dunphy expressed her appreciation to her hard-working committee members, and to those hostesses who opened their homes.

Mrs. Paul T. Babson of Wellesley and Mrs. John Fox of Newton Highlands reported on the progress of the Pinky Puppets project. Many Aid members and friends have been busy making these small inanimate companions which will be given to all young patients in the hospital's Children's Ward.

Mrs. Hubert L. Carter was the speaker of the day, taking for her subject, "The Hospital Aid and Social Work." She reported on the activity of the Aid and this important aspect of hospital service.

Coffee hour hostesses were Mrs. Henry T. Patch, Mrs. Herbert T. Anderson, and Mrs. John E. Gale.

Aid members from Newton Centre were invited to attend the meeting in order that they might observe the functioning of their Board of Directors.

Jaycees Hear Address On Insurance

The November meeting of the Newton Junior Chamber of Commerce was held at the Pillar House, Newton Lower Falls. Edward V. Gartland, president, presided and introduced the guest speaker, Charles B. Scott, general manager of MacIntyre, Fay & Thayer Insurance, of Needham.

Mr. Scott described and discussed new and streamlined forms of insurance such as coverage on business earnings, accounts receivable, comprehensive general liability, Mercantile Block and business expense liability.

Several questions were asked from the floor on the demrit system, interpretation of policies and the insurance rates for 1957.

Following Mr. Scott's interesting and informative talk a business meeting was held during which we discussed new projects undertaken such as Voice of Democracy, Safe Driving Day, Christmas Lighting Contest, and Miss Newton Pageant.

Al Horton, membership chairman, discussed our accelerated membership drive and suggested anyone interested in Junior Chamber work call him at BIgelow 4-1316.

The December meeting will be held at the Pillar House on Tuesday, December 11, at 7 p.m.

Highlands Garden Club

The Newton Highlands Garden Club will hear Dr. Malcolm E. Agnew deliver an illustrated lecture on Egypt Wednesday evening, November 28, at the Newton Highlands Workshop. Preceding Dr. Agnew's lecture, a food sale will be opened at 7:30 p.m. under the charge of Mrs. Ward Cornell, Mrs. Harris Gray, Mrs. Emil Naberetrob, and Mrs. Ross Langill.

Dr. Agnew, Professor of Classics at the College of Liberal Arts, Boston University, spent the academic year 1955-1956 as a Fulbright Lecturer in Classics at the University of Cairo. The Kodachrome slides used in Dr. Agnew's lecture feature Egyptian antiquities in the vicinity of Cairo, Luxor, and Asshuam.

Mrs. John Jenkins, president, announces that the flower of the month is the chrysanthemum.

Refreshments following Dr. Agnew's lecture will be served by: Mrs. Carol Smith, Mrs. Hubert Dennie, Mrs. Lowell Trowbridge, and Mrs. Raymond Wisner.

Holy Name Club Host at Recent "Sports Night"

Sons and daughters of members of the Sacred Heart Holy Name Men's Club heard as speaker Ralph O. Seaman of Cleveland, Ohio, secretary of the Carling Conservation Club, at a "Sports Night" program recently in the school hall.

Introduced by chairman John D. Maloy, the nationally-known sportsman showed a film dealing with hunting caribou and depicting a northwoods partridge preserve. He explained the purpose of the international conservation club as that of preserving the nation's natural resources and wildlife.

During the evening, a number of youngsters won basketballs autographed by members of the Celtics, and hockey sticks autographed by Bruins, and casting rods.

Dr. William Egan, president, announced that the next meeting will be held Sunday, December 9, with refreshments served following business.

Naval Hero In Talk to Pack 72 Cub Scouts

At the meeting of the Oak Hill Cub Scouts held at the Meadowbrook Junior High School, Commander George Bottjer, in charge of the Naval Reserve at the South Weymouth Air Base, gave a talk on the duties of this group.

Commander Bottjer is a member of the Naval Air Reserve Advisory Council and is a holder of the Navy Cross and Air Medal earned in World War II in the Pacific.

He also showed a film, "New Jet Combat Fighters," and in appreciation of his fine talk, he was made a honorary member of Cub Pack 72 of Oak Hill.

Following the showing of the picture, a Puppet Show, directed by Mrs. Bea Krim was put on by Den 4, and under the guidance of Mrs. Dot Kirsner, Den 3 presented a short skit displaying Halloween puppets.

Den 10, the oldest group of Cub Scouts, then presented their project demonstration, "What Makes Cars Run."

This year Pack 72 is fortunate in having a fine group of Den Mothers who devote their time and effoffrt in making the Pack program a success. They consist of the following: Den 1, Rose Kaplan; Den 2, Jeannette Epstein; Den 3, Dot Kirsner; Den 4, Bea Krim; Den 5, Helen Senior; Den 6, Grace Stein; Den 7, Evelyn Cohen; Den 8, Lois Levine; Den 10, Ruth Blank and Ann Hahn.

Cabot School P-TA

The Cabot School PTA is fortunate to have Dr. Leland Jacobs as guest speaker at the next meeting Wednesday, November 28, at 7:45 p.m.

Dr. Jacobs, Professor of Education at Columbia Teachers College, is a recognized authority on children's literature, and and written several books on the subject. He has been invited by Dr. Bernard Everett, head of the division of instruction for Newton Public Schools, to speak to all Newton elementary principals and teachers on Wednesday morning, November 28th. The Cabot PTA was able to make arrangements with Dr. Jacobs to speak to their parent group Wednesday night. All interested parents and teachers are invited to attend this interesting meeting.

Because Cabot School auditorium is still under construction, the PTA meeting will be held at the Claflin School auditorium.

Dr. Jacobs subject of the evening will be "What Johnny Should Read."

Oak Hill Hadassah To Entertain Paid-up Members

Oak Hill Group of Hadassah will issue invitations to all paid-up members for a gala evening Thursday, November 29, at Meadowbrook Junior High School on Meadowbrook Road, Newton Centre.

The highlight of the evening will appeal to all who want to be glamorous and to all who would make the most of their appearance.

Jack Stein is recognized as the foremost make-up artist in New England. His extensive knowledge in the art of grooming for society, stage, screen and television has helped to improve the personal appearance of homemakers as well as celebrities.

Many women are under the impression to be attractive takes too much time and is too expensive. Mr. Stein proves that women can be attractive with a minimum of time and expense. The fact that beauty is his business is emphasized by his motto "Your face is my concern."

Make-up artist for television, stage and screen, in New York and Boston and an instructor of make-up at Emerson College, Mr. Stein is make-up artist for leading model agencies and charm schools.

Hadassah will bring this fascinating evening to all paid up members absolutely free of charge as well as a Chanukah Cafe Celebration.

Party hostesses are Mrs. Henry Adelman, Mrs. Henry Schrier, and Mrs. Louis Swartz.

Temple Reyim Sisterhood

Temple Reyim Sisterhood of Chestnut street, West Newton, is happily looking forward to a Supper Party Wednesday, November 28 at 6:30 p.m. at the Temple for Sisterhood members, their husbands, and friends. An overwhelming amount of reservations have been reported by Reservation Chairmen, Mrs. Abraham Rosenthal and Mrs. Irving Berman.

Mrs. Philip Cohen, Supper Party Chairman, announces a delicious catered meal and a very exciting program. The program was arranged by Mrs. Edward Milhender, Program Chairman, and will feature Mr. Edwin T. Shore, humorist, in his laugh packed "Magic of Laughter."

The Chanukah Festival will also be observed by the lighting of the First Candle by Cantor Manuel Zymelman, who will also sing an appropriate hymn.

Auburndale Woman's Club Nov. 14 Meeting

The Auburndale Woman's Club meeting Wednesday, November 14, heard Mrs. Edward F. Patterson give outlines on many recently published books. Presiding at the meeting were Mrs. D. William Lovell, 1st vice-president. Mrs. Lovell conducted the meeting because of the illness of Mrs. J. Howard Littleton, president. Mrs. Richard F. Cleveland, 2nd vice-president, acting day chairman, introduced Mrs. Patterson and also read Mrs. Lovell's full and comprehensive report on the State Federation of Women's Clubs annual and fall meetings. Mrs. Albert E. Holdridge, recording secretary read minutes of previous meeting.

Home baked food was donated by the ladies of the Auburndale Woman's Club and sold for the Food Sale by the Veteran's Service Committee: Mrs. Lucy A. Turner, chairman; Mrs. William H. Count, co-chairman; committee, Mrs. Willian E. Bailey, Mrs. Raymond D. Brewer, Mrs. Milo G. Clark, Mrs. Rufus Estabrook, Mrs. Arthur T. Freeman, Mrs. Charles P. Hulin, Mrs. Malcolm N. Jackson, Mrs. Russell R. Mather, Mrs. John B. G. Palen, Mrs. Byron H. Peirce, Mrs. Hugo W. H. Wellington and Miss Jane Wyman.

An Art Corner was set up in the auditorium at which were displayed compositions made with dry or dormant materials. These beautiful arrangements were sold for the benefit of redecorating the upstairs lounge. Mrs. Albert E. Everett is art chairman.

Pourers were—Mrs. Gregory J. Samoylenko and Miss Anne E. Bunker, Mrs. Thomas E. Crosby, hostess.

'Night School' Program Held At Bigelow

Monday evening, Bigelow Jr. High School held a "Night School" program for all parents. The evening was arranged by H. Edgar Pray, principal, and Miss Marion Hamilton, his assistant.

The parents attending "Night School" followed the same procedure of changing classes as their children do during the day; thus they met all their children's teachers and sat in a typical class. At 9:30 there was a coffee hour in the gym, prepared by the refreshment chairman, Mrs. Fred Hawkins, and hospitality chairman, Mrs. Edward Schneider.

Chairmen of the Bigelow Committees for the current year are: President, Dr. and Mrs. Samuel M. Epstein; first vice president, Mr. and Mrs. John Swanton; second vice president, William Nichols; third vice president, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Love. Advisory chairmen are Mr. and Mrs. William Diman, and Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Stam; membership, Mr. and Mrs. Sarley Feldman. Delegates to Community Council, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Brenner. Delegates to Newton P.-T.A. Council, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Wolbarst.

Support the cause distinguished by the double-barred cross, international symbol of the crusade against tuberculosis. Watch for it on your Christmas Seals.

Claflin School P-TA

The PTA of the Claflin School in Newtonville will hold its next meeting on Monday November 26, at 8 p.m. Parents are invited to visit the classrooms, meet the teachers and room mothers during the half-hour preceding the meeting. A timely subject, "Your Child in a Changing World" will be discussed by Dr. W. Linwood Chase, Dean of the Boston University School of Education. He will relate how methods of education have changed to prepare the child as a good citizen in this atomic age. Parents will have an opportunity to participate in a question and answer period. Dr. Chase received his A.B. and LL.D. degrees from the University of Maine and his A.M. and Ph.D. degrees from Teachers' College, Columbia University. He has had a wide background in the field of education, including working as a "one-room" teacher, elementary and junior high school teacher, principal, superintendent of schools, and professor of education. Dr. Chase has been a delegate to the World Conference on Education and has traveled extensively. He is well known for his articles on child-training and as author of history books used by elementary school.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Sullivan, presidents of the PTA will conduct the business meeting, followed by a social hour and refreshments served by the Hospitality Committee. Mrs. William Paul, chairman.

Grade 9 Pupils In Tour Of Historic Boston

After completing the study of "Johnny Tremain," a novel of a young silversmith apprentice at the time of the Revolutionary War, members of III-5 and III-8, Miss Walsh's English classes at the Warren Junior High School in West Newton, went by bus to see the historic land of "Johnny Tremain."

En route to the older part of Boston, they visited the mapparium at the Christian Science Publishing House, the Public Library, past the old aristocratic homes with the stained glass windows of Beacon Hill, and on to King's Chapel, the Old State House, and the site of the Boston Massacre.

Most of their time was spent at Paul Revere's Home, the Old North Church (where they sang "America the Beautiful"), Bunker Hill, and the Old Frigate "Constitution" in the Charlestown Navy Yard. The pupils feel that it is a day long to be remembered.

KEEP FILLED SERVICE

We keep you warm automatically because we keep a WEATHER EYE on your fuel supply

Here's how our Keep Filled Service works. We chart the temperature degrees every day. This tells us how much heating oil your burner is using—and when your oil tank needs a refill.

If your tank is in the basement, we install free of charge a Ventalarm system which automatically tells when tank is full.

And remember, your Shell Certified Comfort driver always leaves a metered delivery receipt showing the exact record of delivery.

To Symbolize Golden Deed Crusade

Charles Meil Gibbs Jr., a handsome blue-eyed blond-haired Massachusetts boy who has had cerebral palsy since birth, will herald the 1957 Golden Deed Crusade for United Cerebral Palsy Association, according to Sue Studley, Executive Secretary, a delegate from the United Cerebral Palsy Association of Newton-Wellesley-Weston.

Miss Studley, along with other New England Delegates met the youngster at UCP's Seventh Annual Convention which ended in Cleveland, Ohio, Sunday, November 12, 1957.

The boy is the son of U. S. Marine Corps Master Sargeant Charles Neil Gibbs Sr. and Mrs. Gibbs of Cambridge, will symbolize the UCP $12,000,000 appeal which opens May 1, 1957.

Born at the U. S. Naval Hospital in Quantico, Va., Charles was suspected of having cerebral palsy when he was only 30 days old. A partial confirmation was made nine months later, and an official diagnosis was made when he was 2 years old.

Charles has been under treatment at UCP-sponsored facilities since 1950. Until two years ago, he was unable to walk, but he now gets around with the aid of crutches and braces.

Commenting on the boy's selection, Miss Studley said: "Little Charles is symbolic of the more than 550,000 children and adults in the United States who have cerebral palsy and who need help so desperately. We are confident that when we open our campaign in Newton-Wellesley-Weston the public will respond generously with Golden Deeds in the form of financial contribution to help the Cerebral Palsied locally and to finance research to stop this crippling condition."

News Of Servicemen

Naval Aviation Officer Candidate Leonard Singer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Singer of Waverly avenue, Newton, has received his commission to Navy Ensign at Pensacola, Florida. He is now undergoing primary flight training at the Whiting Field Auxiliary Air Station, Milton, Florida.

—o—

Pfc. Richard A. Spear, son of Mrs. Lillian M. Spear of 32 Hale street, Newton, participated in "AGLEX 57E" during the period October 29 to November4 at Camp Pendleton, Calif.

The six-day AGLEX (Air Ground Landing Exercise), involving 15,000 Marines from the 1st Marine Division, was highlighted by a combined land, sea and air assault on "aggressor" territory on D-day, November 2.

The attack featured a conventional amphibious landing, a helicopter-borne troop assault launched from an aircraft carrier against inland objectives and Marine jets flying close air support.

CAPTAIN KANGAROO will herald the opening of the Christmas season in the annual Grover Cronin Santa parade this coming Sunday at 2 p.m. He is seen daily over Station WNAC-TV at 8 a.m. The captain will act as honorary marshal of the parade.

Santa To Arrive In Waltham By Helicopter This Sunday

Thousands of youngsters of all ages are anxiously awaiting the return of Santa Claus back to his favorite holiday location! Looking forward with much delight to his return, Santa has chosen a new mechanized sleigh, the helicopter, to speed his travels. You'll be as eager as Santa, when everyone turns out to welcome the old gentleman from the North Pole.

Awaiting Santa's arrival this year will be a very special Honorary Marshal of the Parade, none other than Captain Kangaroo, famous children's TV personality, seen coast to coast and locally through WNAC-TV every morning at 8 a.m. Captain Kangaroo, (so called because his enormous magic pockets in the famous jacket, bulge with many exciting things that delight all the children), is a modern Pied Piper who guards a treasure house full of fun and wonderful surprises. His live pet lamb which has become one of his "trade marks" will also make an appearance at the colorful parade.

Santa will land at the Reece Corporation on Prospect Street in Waltham at 2 p.m. And to make him really feel at home, we've arranged to have eight live reindeer waiting to carry Santa along the parade route, starting at Reece Corporation on Prospect street, over Main street and down Moody street to the Grover Cronin store. Chief John Steed will then assist Santa to the chimney on the roof top of the Grover Cronin store, with the aid of a hook and ladder.

Amid welcoming cheers, Santa and his reindeer will set out along the parade route, escorted by a dazzling array of floats, marching units and clowns. Phi Beta Kappa trained dogs from the Weston Dog Ranch return as one of the most unusual features of the parade, under the direction of Lee Schulman. A special eight-hitch pony brigade will be another exciting feature to thrill the children along the line of march.

Throngs of spectators will crowd together along Prospect street, Main and Moody streets as Santa and his entourage take over the town. Store windows, roofs of parked cars, and every available vantage point will be packed with Christmas-happy people, both young and old! The Santa Claus parade promises to be the biggest, brightest and most fun parade of them all—packed full with color and excitement!

Herb Taylor, nationally famous clown, will be along for the ride to delight the crowds as they wait for the arrival of the parade. He'll be in front of the store to make everyone delighted with his antics. Old fashioned bicycles and antique automobiles will be rolling along the parade route. The Waltham Mounted Auxiliary Police will also take place in this annual event.

Dr. Morris Ringer Will Open New Office Here

Morris Ringer, M.D., announces the opening of his office at 851 Beacon street, Newton Centre, for the practice of internal medicine.

A native of Cleveland, Ohio, he received his A.B. degree from Wesleyan University. His M.D. was received at Western Reserve University School of Medicine, Cleveland, Ohio.

Post graduate work in internal medicine was done at Boston City Hospital on the medical services. He served in the U. S. Navy in World War II and for 24 months during the Korean War. For the past three years he has practiced on the south shore, particularly in Hingham and Hull.

He is an assistant physician at the Beth Israel Hospital and is an assistant physician to the fifth and sixth medical services of the Boston City Hospital. He has just joined the staff at the Newton-Wellesley Hospital and is also on the staffs of the Massachusetts Memorial and Faulkner Hospitals.

He is Diplomate of the National Board of Medical Examiners, a member of Phi Beta Kappa, Phi Delta Epsilon, the American Heart Association, New England Cardiovascular Society, the New York Academy of Sciences, the American Medical Association, (Charles River Medical District Society-Massachusetts Medical Society).

Waban Student Named Captain of Norwich Corps

Cadet Robert H. Metcalf, son of Mrs. Edith E. Metcalf, 328 Quinobequin road, Waban, is a captain in the Norwich University Corps of Cadets. This appointment is significant, because only the outstanding cadets of the senior class are promoted to this position.

Cadet Metcalf is an active member of several other organizations at the university, such as Sigma Alpha Epsilon, social fraternity, Alpha Kappa Psi, business fraternity, Society of American Military Engineers, and the Cantebury Club. He is also a distinguished military student.

Captain Metcalf graduated from Cambridge School, Class of 1953, in Weston. While a student at Cambride, he was captain of the football and basketball teams during his senior year. He was also chairman of the Athletic Committee.

Metcalf, a Business Administration major, plans to enter the regular army upon graduation from Norwich. After his tour of service, he hopes to enter the MIT Graduate School and study industrial management.

CHRISTIAN A HERTER, JR.

Herter Jr. Says All Will Work For Victory

The following is a statement from Christian A. Herter, Jr., Republican nominee for the Governor's Council from the 3rd district:

"I want to express my sincere thanks and heartfelt appreciation to the voters of Newton for the reassuring confidence they have placed in me at the State primary election on September 18. I could not have won the Republican nomination for the Governor's Council without the untiring efforts of my friends and workers throughout the city, and I am confident that, regardless of which side individuals were on before the primary, we will all work together for a Republican victory in November."

Plans Call For Florence Street Reconstruction

Engineering plans to cost over $100,000 when carried out, have been completed for the reconstruction and widening of Florence street, Newton Centre, City Engineer U. M. Schiavone reported last week.

The new road, scene of extensive development during the past year, extends from the Worcester turnpike to the Brookline line. It will be expanded to a width of 50 feet with grave sidewalks, and will be 2350 feet long.

Sealed bids for the contract will be opened at 10 a.m., Oct. 3, in the office of the Purchasing Department at City Hall. The contract provides that the work be completed within 200 days of its signing. It is expected that much preliminary construction work can be done before cold weather and that the contract will be completed in the spring.

Among the new developments on Florence street are the Suburban Sidney Hill Health Club, the new Stop and Shop, and Seltzer's Garden City Flower Shop. Another block of stores is being constructed near the supermarket, the rear of which may be entered from Florence, which leads from the Hammond Pond parkway.

LARGE GATHERING EXPECTED TO ATTEND CITY TOLL ROAD INFORMATION MEETING

MISS CAROLYN JOBES, center, Newtonville, has won the 41st annual Sarah Streeter prize at Mount Holyoke College. The award, made each year to the senior with the best general health record and posture, was announced Tuesday night, November 20, at the fall awards program of the athletic association. Miss Jobes, president of the Mount Holyoke water ballet, is shown with Miss Susan Breitzke, Newton Center, and Miss Brenda Bruce, Newton Lower Falls, freshman members of the Swimmerettes, a synchronized swimming group at Mount Holyoke. Newtonville Girl Wins Health Award

Good health and good posture have won the 41st annual Sarah Streeter prize at Mount Holyoke College for Miss Carolyn Jobes, 145 Kirkstall road, Newtonville. The winner is selected from the senior class by the college physicians and physical education department on the basis of excellence of posture and medical record. Miss Mildred Howard, chairman of the department, presented the silver cup tonight at the fall awards program of the college athletic association.

Miss Jobes and Miss Betty Linton, 85 Berkeley street, West Newton, also were cited for outstanding interest in, and contribution to the athletic association.

An active member of the senior choir and glee club, Miss Jobes is president of the Mount Holyoke water ballet. She is majoring in economics and sociology, and is preparing an honors thesis on the influence of consumer credit on the business cycle. For three summers she taught swimming at Camp Quinibec, Vermont and for one summer worked in the field of consumer credit at the First National Bank of Boston. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Harold D. Jobes.

Miss Linton, also a senior, is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Robert Linton.

Rev. Thomas Reed Youth Director

Appointment of Rev. Thomas A. Reed, pastor of the Church of the Open Word (Swedenborgian in Newtonville) as Director of the Council of Church Youth of the Newton Council of Churches has been announced by Ernst O. Seyfarth, president of the parent council consisting of 24 churches and the Y.M.C.A. in Newton.

Last spring, young people of the member churches with Youth Counselors met for the purpose of organizing a Council of Church Youth with definite purpose in mind. Appearing before the annual meeting of the Newton Council of Churches in May, the young people presented the proposed Council of Youth program. Enthusiastic endorsement and authorization to proceed was voiced by the senior organization.

Rev. Reed was formerly pastor of the Church of Christ in

By JAMES G. COLBERT
Former Boston Post Political Editor

Curtis Proved He Can Get Votes from Both Parties . . . Gibbons Weighing Decision to Head State GOP . . .

An analysis of the vote cast in the 10th congressional district definitely points up Congressman Laurence Curtis as an unusually bright prospect for a place on the Republican State ticket in 1958.

Curtis made a substantially stronger showing in his district than did either Sumner G. Whittier or Charles Gibbons, the GOP candidates for Governor and Lieutenant Governor, respectively, and he demonstrated tremendous vote-pulling power in the Boston end of his district.

Congressman Curtis established beyond any question that he can get Democratic and Independent votes. The inability to do that is what cost some of the other GOP standard-bearers the election.

It was from the district Curtis now represents that Governor-elect Christian A. Herter emerged to restore the fortunes of the Republican party in Massachusetts when they had dipped to their lowest level in the modern history of the State.

For that reason Curtis' vote is now being studied by the experts with more than ordinary interest and attention.

Fund Drive Over Top First Time In 9 Years

For the first time in nine years, Newton's Red Feather Campaign oversubscribed its goal. At the closing report night in Boston last week, Franklin N. Flaschner, campaign chairman, reported Newton had raised $300,173.20 or 100 percent of quota. This report included returns then turned into campaign headquarters and those anticipated from volunteers whose assignments were not complete at the campaign's official end.

Newton residents who were away at the time of solicitation or who were missed are asked to contact campaign headquarters, 93 Union street, Newton Centre, Telephone LAsel 7-5120 and a solicitor will call.

Eleven more team captains in residential divisions reported over the top in their solicitations. Villages and captains are: Auburndale: Roger W. Cabot and James A. Boudreau; Chestnut Hill: Mrs. Lewis F. Perry; Newton Corner: Mrs. Albert Lewis; Newton Centre: Miss Eileen McDevitt; Newton Highlands: Mrs. Robert Steinsieck; Farrell; Oak Hill: Mrs. David Newtonville: Mrs. William R. Krongard; Waban: Robert W. Ficken and Mrs. Luella B. Pontius; and West Newton: Mrs. Ferdinand A. Salzman.

Annual budget conferences with representatives of the 13 Red Feather Services will take place next Monday, December 3 from 9 a.m. through 5:45 p.m. Member agencies will present requests for financial aid in their 1957 operations. The funds available come directly from the 1957 United Red Feather Campaign just completed. Conferences will be held in the Community Chest office, Newton Centre.

H. Donald Norstrand of Waban is chairman of the Chest Budget Committee. Committee members are Albert R. Beisel, Jr., David Berkman, Chester E. Borden, G. R. Breitzke, Joseph W. Chevarley, Rev. John O. Fisher, Edward A. Green, Mrs. Arthur T. Gregorian, Mrs. Matt B. Jones, Jr., Norman B. Krim, Kenneth W. Rogers and Dr. Neil W. Swinton.

Hospital Will Not Appeal Verdict

Found guilty of violating public health regulations in connection with the June 10 poison deaths of two patients, the Newton-Wellesley Hospital, through its president Mark C. Wheeler, has announced that there will be no appeal from the finding.

In a jury-waived session of Middlesex Superior Court, Judge John G. Meagher fined the hospital $500, the maximum allowed under the law.

Victims of the poisoning were Mrs. Marion du Mont, 55, of Glenelyn road, Brighton, and Gordon McMullin, 53, of Oak terrace, Newton Highlands.

Investigation brought out that the sodium nitrite, a sterilizing agent, was improperly stored with medicines at the hospital.

In a statement issued following the court verdict, President Mark C. Wheeler of the hospital said:

"Since the conclusion of the Hospital's own independent investigation into the circumstances surrounding the tragic deaths of two individuals at our Hospital last June, we have reached the firm opinion that these most unfortunate occurrences were solely the result of human error. We have further concluded that these tragic accidents were not caused by departure from generally accepted and approved hospital standards. We find it difficult to accept a finding of guilty against our Hospital. In the opinion of the Hospital, there was compliance with the regulations of the Department of Public Health.

"The Hospital has followed the recommendations of outstanding experts in a thorough and thoughtful evaluation of its pharmacy's physical plant and procedures. All possible steps have been taken to preclude the recurrence of this type of tragedy. The Hospital fully endorses the recommendations made for redefinition and clarification of existing laws as they apply to Hospital pharmacies.

"It has however, been a matter of considerable concern to the Hospital that each successive public review of this matter has produced renewed apprehension, not only among patients in our Hospital, but in other hospitals as well. We feel that no useful purpose will be served by again contesting what has become a point of legal semantics.

"As in the past, the Newton-Wellesley Hospital pledges that it will maintain and improve those high standards and practices on which it has built its reputation for three-quarters of a century."

Scholastic Magazines Names Miss Walsh to Editorial Board

MISS AVIS WALSH

Scholastic Magazines, nationally-known weekly junior and senior magazines, have honored Miss Avis C. Walsh, well known English teacher in the local schools, with a recent appointment to their Editorial Board.

Miss Walsh is the Consultant for the Communication Arts (Reading, Writing, Speaking and Listening) in the five Newton junior high schools. Born near Boston, she lived as a young girl on Beacon Hill, opposite Louisburg Square on Pinckney Street, in the shadow of Boston's golden-domed state house.

Miss Walsh graduated from Wellesley College and received her M.A. in Education (magna cum laude) from Boston University. She also has thirty-four additional credits towards her doctorate. She attended Somerville College, Oxford University, one summer, Newnham College, Cambridge University, during another summer, and recently attended summer school at Boulder, Colorado.

Since one of her hobbies is traveling, Miss Walsh has toured in all the countries abroad for five different summers, during one of which she took a complete Mediterranean cruise, returning via the North Cape and Scandinavian countries. Her traveling in the United States and Canada has also been extensive. She has covered all the states as far as Seattle, Washington, twice, and has spent one summer visiting all the universities in the Canadian Provinces, ending the experience in the Canadian Rockies. She plans to go to Mexico this summer.

For thirty-three years (twenty-five years of which have been in the Newton schools) Miss Walsh has dedicated her life to the teaching of the language arts. Her experience outside Newton has been as Head of the English Department at Braintree (Massachusetts) High School for four years and Head of the English Department at Manchester (Connecticut) High School for four years.

VNA Names 3 New Group Chairmen

Three new committee chairmen for the year were announced at the recent Newton Visiting Nurse Association board meeting. Mrs. Ernest F. Dietz is the new Public Relations chairman. Mrs. Henry Plimpton has been named the chairman of the Well Baby Conference and Mrs. Abbott Spear accepted the chairmanship of Volunteer Services.

Mrs. William Walker Coles of West Newton was welcomed by the board as a new member. She replaces Mrs. Winslow R. Howland who has resigned.

Mr. Robert F. Cahill, Executive Director of the Newton Community Chest spoke briefly on the progress of the Red Feather Campaign. Miss Katherine MacDonald, Executive Director of the Newton Visiting Nurse Association reported that the nursing staff contributed one hundred percent to this year's campaign by October the seventeenth. Also that eighty percent of the nurses contributing belong to the Ten Percent Club.

The Newton Visiting Nurse Association participated actively this month during the annual convention of the State League for Nursing. Miss Mary Steinkraus, Nursing Supervisor, was Co-chairman of arrangements. Mrs. Worthing West served on a panel discussion of lay members. Other staff and board members who attended were enthusiastic about the excellent quality of material presented at this two day convention.

Hospital To Hold Annual Meeting Dec. 4

The annual meeting of the Trustees of the Newton-Wellesley Hospital will be held at the Hospital in Usen Auditorium at 4:45 p.m. on Tuesday, December 4. As chairman of English in the Newton Junior High Schools from 1935-1946, Miss Walsh achieved the following:

The organization of a junior high school English Department.

A book of 27 Supplementary Teacher-Made Units of Work.

A Newton Spelling List for Grades 7, 8, and 9.

A Cumulative Reading Record Card for Grades 7-9.

A List of Minimum Essentials for each grade.

A City-wide Testing Program that included diagnostic tests, unit progress tests, and final achievement tests.

Publication of the English Digest, giving excerpts from articles in English and Education and the best thinking of specialists in the field of the language arts.

As Consultant for the Communication Arts from 1946-1956, Miss Walsh has acted as Chairman for a Spelling Committee, which produced a Teacher's Guide, Toward Better Spelling, for Grades I-XII, and a Guide for the Teaching of Written Expression for Grades I-XII. Both guides are in use in the schools of Newton today. At the present time, Miss Walsh is working on a third guide, A Reading-Literature Developmental Program in the Newton Junior High Schools. She also holds city-wide meetings for the discussion of pertinent problems and the exchange of ideas and methods of teaching the language arts in a social studies-English-guidance program. Her publication periodically of "A Fair Exchange," giving actual teaching lessons and devices found successful by Newton teachers, has been very helpful, especially to new teachers.

In addition to her work in Newton, Miss Walsh has served as an active member of the Steering Committee of the English Section of the N. E. School Developmental Council and has conducted group meetings several times at Hotel Statler conferences. She was a member for many years of the Warren English Project at Boston University and taught one summer on the faculty of the B. U. Summer Session. Recently she served as a valuable member of the Junior High School Course of Study Committee for the New England Association of Teachers of English. She has had articles published in the English Leaflet (N. E. Association of Teachers of English) and in The English Journal (National Council of Teachers of English).

Miss Walsh has always taken an active part in Newton community affairs. She is at present an active member of the Second Church in Newton, the College Club, the Wellesley Club, the Republican Club, the League of Women Voters, and the Community Service Club, of which she is Chairman of the Education Committee. In the past year, she has been a member of the West Newton Educational Club and of the West Newton Hill Neighborhood Club, where she was on one of the bowling teams.

In a statement with regard to his appointment Mr. Reed stated, "The young people themselves, their individual church youth counselors and I all feel that our organization will help the Youth Fellowships of each member church of the Newton Council of Churches to do together what it is impossible to do individually. We have in mind such projects as leadership training programs for better leadership in all our fellowships, and more uniform leadership for our Eastern Sunrise Services, our summer programs and other activities. Our program will strengthen the local youth groups of the council's member churches. This will help each group to become individually stronger, more useful, and more rewarding for the young people within the membership."

Volunteers from these groups hope to reach every family in the state.

Local units of the Massachusetts Association for Retarded Children sponsor nursery training classes, recreation centers, social adjustment classes and vocational training courses for the retarded.

On the state and national levels, the organization supports diagnostic clinics and medical centers, provides scholarships for professionals in the field of mental retardation, and sponsors research projects to determine the cause and possible cure of mental retardation.

Boston raised $6,600,064 on its goal of $6,567,000 in support of 277 Red Feather agencies. At the closing report dinner, Augustin H. Parker, Jr., president of United Community Services of Metropolitan Boston, announced the possibility that the 1958 drive would be a United Fund for the 48 communities, including Newton. In line with this possibility, no general chairman was named for next year's Red Feather campaign.

A United Fund would combine several appeals, in addition to Red Feather, in one drive. The recent Red Feather drive in Wellesley was part of a three in one campaign. Red Feather was joined by Salvation Army and Red Cross in that town. To a smaller degree, a similar operation has been underway in the town of Lincoln for three years.

Meadowbrook PTA Announces New Venture

The P.T.A. of the Meadowbrook Junior High School announces the start of a new venture to raise funds necessary for improving the cultural and educational needs of the school's students.

Under the leadership of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kruger of Newbrook Circle, the Meadowbrook P.T.A. Ways and Means Committee will open an attractive novelty store, right in the school, Thursday, December 6, at 11:00 a.m. This store, open for business every Thursday from December 6 until the end of the school year, will be called "Meadowbrook Culture Corner."

"Meadowbrook Culture Corner" will be stocked, managed and operated by the parents. Regular merchandise will include the latest book and record releases of all categories, all current magazines for subscriptions or renewals, personalized stationery and paper needs, plus gifts and toys.

On opening day, next Thursday, a special Art Exhibit will be on display. Favours will be given out to all customers. Door prizes will be given to lucky winners.

The policy of "Meadowbrook Culture Corner" will be to offer all merchandise at real discount savings, with all profits being used for the improvement of the school's facilities.

The Meadowbrook P.T.A. invites all parents and neighborly Newtonites to visit "Meadowbrook Culture Corner," to browse around, and to patronize the store each Thursday for real savings to themselves as they help build the P.T.A.'s funds.

It therefore comes to pass that everyone is fond of relating his own exploits and displaying the strength both of his body and his mind, and that men are on this account a nuisance one to the other.

To Re-organize Ward Cub Pack

A special meeting to reorganize Cub Pack 25, which is sponsored by the John Ward School Parent - Teacher Association, will be held tonight (Thursday) at 8 p.m. in the Ward School kindergarten.

All parents of boys who wish to become Cubs and are not already members of Pack 17, are urged to attend. This includes boys in the third, fourth and fifth grades, as well as old and new Cub Scouts.

THE SPORTS SCENE

By Jeffrey Cohen
9th Grade

Bigelow, capitalizing on two fumbles, extended their record to 4 wins against no defeats by out-playing St. Sebastian, 12-9.

All the Bigelow scoring occurred in the first half. Early in the first period John Lansed recovered a fumble on the St. Sebastian 20 yd. line. Eight plays later Bob Beauregard bowled his way over for a touchdown. The try for extra point was no good.

In the second quarter, Paul Stenberg recovered a fumble around the mid-field stripe. After moving the ball to the 45, George Pappas threw a spectacular 30 yd. ball to Brooks Burlingame who took it over his shoulder and out-ran two defenders to score.

St. Sebastian scored in the third period. The extra point was good. St. Sebastian also threatened to score in the last quarter when, with less than two minutes remaining, they had the ball on the Bigelow 7 yd. line, first down and goal to go, but Bob Beauregard recovered a fumble and Bigelow controlled the ball for the rest of the game.

Bigelow's All-Star fullback John Lansed, as well as the whole rampaging Bigelow varsity played excellent football.

FOR US THE LIVING

By Carol Levi
8th Grade

Sponsored by the Student Council, a nall school assembly was held to commemorate Veterans Day. This assembly, however, had a greater significance than just the reading of the Veterans Day Proclamation. It meant something to every student, because we had all participated in it.

Two weeks previous to the assembly the whole school had been asked to write an essay entitled For Us the Living and containing our thoughts as to how we as young Americans could insure that "these soldiers have not died in vain."

The essays were handed in to the English and Social Studies teachers of each class, and from there, the five or six best were given to a group of teachers, who had the difficult job of choosing the two winners from each grade.

The winners of the contest were:

Seventh Grade—Jane Carmen and Robert Hicks.

Eighth Grade—Jason Fredman and Hans Hinteregger.

Ninth Grade—Ellen Cerf and Molly Sheriff.

When interviewed, Mr. Grainger, the Student Council advisor, said that the Council chose this topic to make the student body aware of why we celebrate Veterans Day. We celebrate the day to honor the soldiers who gave their lives for our country since the Revolutionary War, not just to get a day off from school.

The six essays chosen really express these feelings. Several of the main ideas brought out in the essays were:

1. We don't take enough time to think of others.

2. In order to make this world a better place in which to live, we, as young Americans, should join such civic activities as Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, and Junior Red Cross.

3. Our wars haven't been won by one person, it takes millions of people from every walk of life to achieve what they set out to do.

The assembly ended with the induction of the Student Council officers; Richard Pearlmutter, President; Hiram Gordon, Vice President; Doris Axelrod, Secretary; and Alan Copeland, Treasurer. Also the representatives of the following organizations: Assembly Crew, Norman Garon; Bigelow Bee, Eve Epstein; Cheer Leaders, Leslie Wolbarst; Boys Leader Corps, Harvey Creem; Girls Leader Corps, Brenda Baker; Library Staff, Barbara Hayes; Music Organizations, John Merrill; Glee Clubs, Joye Donald; Noon Patrol, Sue Norton; Student Patrol, Dennis Demerjian; Projector Club, George Marcus; Red Cross, Barbara Olans; and Bits from Bigelow, Barbara Hunter.

In closing we wish to congratulate the winners of the contest, and the officers and members of the Student Council, for the fine job that they have done.

GIRLS' SPORTS
By Sue Hern
9th Grade

On Monday, November 5, Bigelow's girl field hockey team visited Warren for a playday.

The team from Bigelow consisted of these selected players: Doris Axelrod, Carolyn Barrette, Renee Breznick (captain), Joye Donald, Martha Draper, Sandy Glickman, Barbara Hayes, Sue Hern, Priscilla Hopkins, Christine Lansed, Paula Legere, Gretchen Lillis, Jean McGuffin, and Joan Myers. Congratulations go to these girls for a fine showing.

The field hockey team began at approximately 2:45. Every moment from then on was spine-tingling and exciting. Warren's varsity football team acted as a cheering section for the Warren girls.

Warren's teams were coached by Miss Willy, a former All-American goalie, and her associates. Bigelow's team was coached by Miss Mitchell.

The girls of Warren graciously presented the Bigelow girls with ice cream sandwiches at the conclusion of the game. They were enjoyed by all.

The playday was termed successful by all participants. Bigelow hopes to have many more such games with different schools.

BIGGER BIGELOW BEE
By Roberta Books
9th Grade

Our school publication, the Bigelow Bee, is undergoing large expansion under the supervision of Mr. Clark, our new advisor. A Board of Directors has been chosen, each to have a committee covering specific items.

Our editor this year is Eve Epstein. Her job is to write the editorials.

Elcha Shain will handle school dances, clubs, and assemblies. Her staff consists of May Beth Rosenberg, Ellen Giman, Paul Eisman, Martha Love, Barbara Rigelhaupt, and Sue Miller.

The sports department is headed by Paul Levenson. Jeffrey Cohen, Billy Albert, Stephen Greenblatt, Jill Colpak, Teddy Schell, Larry Rittenberg, and Rachel Davis will serve under this department.

Molly Sheriff heads the publicity department. This department makes posters and writes poems and songs to be relayed to the students by means of the public address system. Toni Pompeo, Rita Lombardi, and Roberta Books are members of this department.

The seventh and eighth grade mystery girl ad boy, the mystery teachers, the Aunt Gertrude Column (advice to the lovelorn for girls), and the Television '56-'57 Style will be assigned to Joanne Fiumara's group. The members of this group include Brenda Kelly, Gretchen Lillis, Eleanor Osterberg, Milton Tatelman, Catol Gould, Sandy Glickman, Franny Gandosfo, and Mary Layton.

The school gossip and social activities, ninth grade mystery boy and girl, interviews, and mystery people in the news are covered by Sue Goldsmith's committee. Charlotte Berman, Renee Brezniak, Barbara Olans, Robin Kaufman, and Nancy Lurensky are included in that group.

The special features group is headed by Barbara Hunter. This committee covers Newton events, the guidance page, graphic arts, interviewing new teachers, and Uncle Jim for the boys. They also report on surveys, space travel and atomic energy, and other factual subjects. Lois Novack, Peggy Rosenbaum, Bonna Pass, and Marjorie Rosengard are members of this group.

Newton's Children

In a world where half the children go to bed hungry, thanks to you somewhere in the world tonight children will go to bed well fed. For, translated into food, the $1500 you gave to the United Nations Children's Fund (UNICEF) will provide 300,000 bowls of rice or 142,500 glasses of milk.

In a world where half the children suffer from some disease that can be cured or are exposed to some disease that can be prevented, thanks to you somewhere in the world tomorrow children will face a brighter future because they will be well and strong. For translated into medicine the $1500 you gave to the United Nations Children's Fund will provide enough penicillin to cure 15,000 youngsters or enough vaccine to protect 150,000 babies from tuberculosis.

As each envelope was opened and counted, the pennies, nickles and dimes that represented the coke or candy or ice cream that you have given up, a bond of friendship stretches from you around the world to the children of all races and colors and creeds. For from your homes in Newton, where you have so much for which to be thankful, you have sent more than money to help other children everywhere. You have sent them friendship and the knowledge that you care.

Thank you children of Newton from the children of the 107 countries where your UNICEF pennies have been sent to fight, not a war, but the two deadly enemies no child can fend off for himself—hunger and disease.

Because of your gifts, today's children who will be tomorrow's adults will have a beter chance for a happy survival.

The returns show that while Curtis was defeating former Assistant U. S. Attorney Jackson J. Holtz by 10,445 votes, Whittier was trailing Governor-elect Foster Furcolo by 4483 votes in the 10th district. In the same area, Gibbons topped Robert F. Murphy by 2173 votes.

It should be remembered that Curtis was facing in Holtz an opponent so formidable that many observers regarded their race as a tossup. Holtz was extremely strong in Brookline and had a big organization behind him in Newton.

While Curtis made a very impressive all-around showing, it was in the seven Boston wards of his district that he made a run which caused the students of politics to mark him as a possible gubernatorial or senatorial contender in 1958.

The only two Republicans to top their Democratic opponents on the totals from the seven Boston wards in the 10th district were Eisenhower and Curtis. The spread between Curtis and even the strongest members of the Republican State ticket was astonishing.

Curtis topped Holtz by 3701 votes in the Boston end of his district. In the same wards Whittier trailed 13,281 behind Furcolo, Gibbons 11,986 behind Murphy and Fingold 7086 behind McCormack.

These were the vote totals for the Boston sector of the Curtis district: for President—Eisenhower 58,391, Stevenson 47,687; for Governor—Furcolo 58,764, Whittier 45,483; for Lieutenant Governor—Murphy 53,302, Gibbons 42,216; for Attorney General — McCormack 53,559, Fingold 46,481; for Congress—Curtis 51,572, Holtz 47,871.

Both Democratic and Republican politicians are likely to be studying those figures for some time to come. They point clearly to Congressman Curtis as a pretty potent vote-getter.

GOP Leaders Back Gibbons for Chairman

By the time you are reading this, Republican House Leader Charles Gibbons of Stoneham, who was defeated in his quest for the Lieutenant Governorship a little more than three weeks ago, probably will have made a decision of great importance both for himself and his political party. He will have decided whether or not he will accept the $12,000-a-year chairmanship of the GOP State Committee.

If Gibbons assumes the direction of the official Republican organization and the pob of rebuilding the GOP in Massachusetts, it will mean that he has abandoned any idea of seeking high public office in 1958.

If, on the other hand, he turns down the post, it will mean that his political gunsights are set on the Governorship and that he will be in the thick of the contention for the GOP gubernatorial nomination 18 months from now.

Should Gibbons decline the job, a new drive will be launched to place Elmer C. Nelson back in the chairmanship, and it undoubtedly would touch off another bitter dispute within the Republican party.

A group of GOP leaders, headed by Executive Councillor Charles J. Gabriel of Hingham, who have been pressing for Nelson's appointment, have been at least temporarily stymied by the anti-Nelson forces. But they're certain to swing back into action if Gibbons eliminates himself from the picture.

Gibbons was selected to head the Republican State Committee at a meeting of top party leaders, including Governor Herter, Senator Saltonstall and Attorney General Fingold. It was agreed, however, that in offering Gibbons the position one string would be attached. That was that he would not be a candidate for State-wide office two years hence.

There is no question but that Gibbons is an excellent choice for the GOP chairmanship. He is an able politician, an articulate spokesman and is on good terms with all the factions within the Republican party.

The task confronting him as chairman would not be an easy one, but it would be no more difficult than the role in which he found himself in January, 1955, when he was forced to step down from the speakership to the position of minority floor leader and then guide the Herter program through the House with his own party in the minority.

He could move into the chairmanship with a minimum of friction and dissension and probably without opposition. If he doesn't take the job, a furious battle is almost certain to erupt.

Fingold Undecided as to Future Plans . . .

Attorney General George Fingold has told party leaders privately that he will not decide for about a year whether he will make a bid for the Governorship in 1958.

Fingold declared that he will concentrate on being as good an Attorney General as possible for the next 12 months. Then, he said, he will make up his mind what course he will set for himself in the next State election.

One of the things which undoubtedly will influence his decision will be the political trend prevailing early in 1958 and his own judgment concerning his prospects for success in the event he did stand for promotion to the Governor's chair.

At the end of 1958 Fingold will have completed three terms and six years as Attorney General. That is as long a period as any man has held that office in the last quarter of a century.

As the only member of the Republican State ticket to survive the recent election, he will be regarded as a potential contender for the GOP gubernatorial nomination until and unless he himself declares he is not one.

* * * *

Volpe Possible Senate Candidate . . .

Former State Public Works Commissioner John A. Volpe is being mentioned more and more as a possible candidate against Senator John F. Kennedy in 1956.

Persons close to Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., say it is unlikely that he would be interested in returning to Massachusetts 18 to 20 months from now to run for either the Governorship or the Senate.

They declare that Lodge is absorbed in his work at the United Nations and that he would be extremely reluctant to give it up.

Whether Lodge will have the same attitude a year and a half from now is, of course, another matter. By that time top Republicans will be giving more than passing thought to the selection of a Presidential standard-bearer for 1960 and to the fight they will face to hold the White House without Dwight D. Eisenhower at the head of their ticket.

It's possible that Lodge might view the matter altogether differently then than he does now. But if he does not wish to make a fight for his old Senate seat, then the GOP quite conceivably might turn to Volpe.

It is becoming very clear that the Italo-American vote is now a very potent factor in Massachusetts elections, and Volpe would be a formidable contender if he could draw from the Democrats of Italian descent.

Volpe is now serving as the federal highway administrator in Washington. It is understood, however, that early in the New Year he will return home to resume the direction of his own contracting firm. It would not be at all surprising if he were in the middle of the Bay State's 1958 political picture.

Chief Secretary Necessary Aide to Gov.

Governor-elect Foster Furcolo caused quite a flurry of comment in political circles last week when he told reporters that he does not intend to have a chief secretary and that here would be no J. John Fox in his administration.

What he apparently meant was that no secretary in his official family will be vested with the power and the authority that J. John Fox, now a judge in the Boston municipal court, possessed as chief secretary under ex-Governor Paul A. Dever.

Other men who have sat in the Governor's chair shook their heads in astonish at that statement and predicted that Furcolo will be building headaches of migraine proportions for himself unless he changes his mind. Their attitude is understandable.

For one thing a Governor vitally needs a chief secretary who directs the running of his office and handles a thousand and one details in connection with its operation. For another he desperately needs a buffer who will take some of the pressure off him and will handle a portion of the people, including politicians, who want to talk directly with the Governor.

If Furcolo is going to be his own chief secretary, in addition to being Governor, which seemingly is what he intends, he is mapping a program for himself which spells trouble in capital letters. The professional politicians will wager that he will not hold to it very long after his inauguration.

The likelihood is that Furcolo did not intend any slight at Judge Fox but merely referred to him to explain what he meant.

In a sense, the reference was a compliment, for Fox did such an exceptional job while serving under Dever that he has come to be regarded as a symbol of a gubernatorial chief secretary.

If there was an indispensable man in the Dever administration, it was J. John Fox. He spared Daver hundreds of problems and thousands of worries. To a degree he functioned as a deputy Governor. But if he had not done that, he would not have been the highly successful buffer that he was for Dever.

Furcolo will not be Governor very long before he realizes that his own task would be made far less difficult if he had a chief secretary to do for him what J. John Fox did for Dever.

Furcolo May Favor Pre-Primary Conv.

Foster Furcolo is likely to change his mind about a number of things atfer he assumes the duties and responsibilities that go with being Governor. One of them is the advisability of holding a Democratic pre-primary State convention.

Furcolo was strenuously opposed last winter to staging any pre-primary convention. He strongly preferred that the contests for places on the Democratic State ticket be settled by the voters in the September primary.

Even when other top Democratic leaders took the position that it was necessary to call a pre-primary convention in order to nominate their party's Presidential electors, Furcolo dissented.

Long after it was established that a convention would be conducted, Furcolo was undecided whether he would be a candidate at it or bypass it.

As it eventually turned out, he was something of a reluctant contender at the Worcester conclave last June, and he went into with the definite understanding that if he were defeated there, he would still run in the primary.

It is a safe guess that Furcolo will have an altogether different attitude toward a pre-primary convention in 1958 and that he will serve notice on the members of the Democratic State Committee that he desires such a conclave.

Where the last two Democratic pre-primary assemblies saw hard fought contests for places on the Democratic ticket, the one in 1958 will be pretty much cut and dried.

Only one Democratic nomination will be open. That will be for Attorney General, and Furcolo himself presumably will decide who will get it.

That, incidentally, is based on the assumption that Democratic leaders will not make another attempt to purge Treasurer John F. Kennedy.

They tried without success to give Kennedy the heave-ho this year only to have him win in the primary after being snubbed and rebuffed at the convention.

It would not appear that the Democratic chieftains have little choice but to bow to the inevitable and accept Kennedy as a member of their slate two years from now.

It would be ironical if the unpredictable Treasurer Kennedy didn't bother to submit his candidacy to the '58 convention. Under the law by the way Kennedy can serve only three terms. He will be starting his second in January.

---the informed citizen---

A Weekly Column written and prepared by the Newton League of Women Voters and devoted to the principle that an informed citizen is a good citizen.

THE PRE-PRIMARY CONVENTION

Now that the election furore is over, a little stocktaking of the voter's role in the nominating process is perhaps in order. As voters — "independent" or partisan — we were confronted with the choice, in the election booth, between the two men for each office who were nominated by their respective parties. Of course, if we were displeased with the choices, we could either: 1. vote for neither candidate, or 2. insert our own choice on the ballot. Realistically, the chances of our getting "our man" elected in either of these ways was quite remote. It seems quite apparent then, that, as voters, we have a real stake in the nominating process.

In spite of the obvious importance of the nomination, however, only about 20 to 30 percent of the voters actually participate in the primaries (18.9 per cent in Newton) and less than one-half of one percent actually participate in the nominating process before the primaries. The so-called "independent" voter does not participate at all.

The League of Women Voters, as a matter of principle is interested in "a system of government which is responsive to the will of the people and which enables the voter to carry out his obligation as a citizen." The League has, therefore, concerned itself with the nominating process. As citizens, we are all concerned that all the election machinery shall be:

1. responsive to the will of the voter, and
2. that it shall be conducted as democratically as possible.

Our tele-view of the two party conventions gave us an opportunity to see a combination of several kinds of nominating processes in actual operation. We saw the workings of a party convention, the caucus within state delegations and the results of what were "direct" and "indirect" primaries which had previously been held in the various states.

The first of these methods to be adopted as a democratic reform was the party nominating convention. It was a natural outgrowth of the earlier caucus. By the late nineteenth century, a great movement for reform which aimed to make the government more responsible to the people, discarded the party convention in favor of the direct nomination of candidates, or the "direct primary."

The intent of the direct primary system was to end the excessive domination of the party leaders by letting voters, as party members, make the selections for the party nominations directly. Anyone who wished to be nominated could secure a certain requisite number of signatures and pay a nominal filing fee.

It soon became apparent that there were serious defects in this system, too. Because the primary permitted anyone meeting the most limited requirements to be placed on the party ballot, the results were often wild scrambles among unqualified candidates, with the party leadership too weak to exert any control. How could the voter then place responsibility for the actions of officials who wore the party label?

The non-partisan commission investigating the direct primary in 1932 felt that "the strength (of the two-party system) is directly proportional to the strength of the two great parties whose conflicting policies provide political issues to be decided by the voters. Formerly, the parties acting through representatives, determined not only the policies for which they stood, but the selection of candidates to uphold those policies."

It was also pointed out that the expense of individual campaigns gave advantage to the wealthy, that there was marked advantage in a name early in the alphabet, that appeals to religious, racial and sectional prejudices were prevalent and effective, that party platforms meant little, as the candidates did not necessarily hold any allegiance to the party. The final result, it was alleged, was not a two-party system but government by "organized blocs and pressure groups."

These serious inadequacies resulted in the recommendation of a pre-primary endorsement of candidates by pre-primary conventions, or committees of responsible party officers. These conventions were to be authorized by law to select and propose candidates for nomination by the party at a subsequent direct primary election.

The proposition was submitted to the voters of Massachusetts in a referendum which they approved in 1932. Conventions were held in 1934 and 1936. Charges of boss-control and vote-buying arose from the conventions in both years. In 1937, the General Court repealed the pre-primary law on the ground that it did not produce party solidarity, but personal cliques and organizations whose sole interest was the success of their leader. Other states also repealed their pre-primary conventions after periods of experimenting.

By 1953, the pre-primary convention was again back on the books. In a state as complex as Massachusetts, with its large percentage of foreign language groups, the direct primary system faces the problem of providing representation for minority groups. There was some feeling that the pre-primary convention helped to produce a "balanced" slate, that is, a slate containing representation of major nationality groups and geographical areas. There is still some question about the advisability of a "balanced" ticket — should not the party nomination be based on the caliber of the candidate rather than on his racial or home-town background?

In June, 1956, the two major parties in Massachusetts each had a different approach to its convention. The Republican convention produced a slate of officers which had no opposition in the September primary. Was this good?

The Democratic slate endorsed by the convention was challenged by candidates who either by-passed the convention or refused to abide by its decisions. Did this go beyond the limits of healthy primary conmpetition?

During the week of November 26, the Newton League of Women Voters will try to evaluate the pre-primary system. These discussions will take place at seven different discussion meetings in different sections of the city.

College Notes

For the sixth year, President and Mrs. Harold C. Case of Boston University, have opened their home again to students in casual sessions they term "Adventures in Conversation." These informal afternoons provide an opportunity to establish a more personal contact between the President and the students.

Recent guests at one of the current series were B. U. students; Naomi Cohen of 405 Commonwealth avenue, Newton Centre, Sharon Scotch of 20 Prospect avenue, Newton, David Ficle of 50 Paul street, Newton Centre and Judith Hyde of 1169 Commonwealth avenue, West Newton.

SWEDISH CONSUL. Honorable Arthur J. Anderson, purchases first ticket from Aquiloites Edith Sundquist and Alice Arvidson, for the New England Jul-bal Luciafest to be held Friday evening, November 30 at the Sheraton Plaza Hotel in Boston. The aged old Scandinavian tradition of selecting a Lucia Bride is sponsored by the Aquilo Club, Junior League of the Swedish Charitable Society, and benefits the Swedish Home for the Aged in West Newton.

Mark Chanukah In Roxbury Sun.

Because of the rapid growth of Temple Mishkan Tefila's Newton School, Chairman Joseph Lasoff of the School Committee announces that the Chanukah (Feast of Lights) celebration of the school will be held in the vestry of the temple in Roxbury.

Pupils and their parents will attend the festival celebration Sunday at 10:30 a.m. The program is under the direction of Leon Kramer, principal, with musical selections written by Cantor Gregor Shelkan. Rabbi Israel J. Kazis will address the assembly on "The Significance of Chanukah."

The Parent-Teacher Association and the Temple Forum are in charge of distribution of Chanukah gifts and goodies to the pupils.

Bloodmobile At Unitarian Church Dec. 11.

The Newton Chapter, American Red Cross, announces that 159 pints of blood were contributed November 19 by employees of the Gamewell Company, Sherman Paper Products and Stowe Woodward Company.

The Bloodmobile will again visit Newton Tuesday, December 11 from 1 to 7 p.m. at the Unitarian Church, 1326 Washington street, West Newton. Appointments for this day may be made by calling the Chapter House, LA 7-6000.

Temple Shalom To Observe 3rd Night of Hanukah Festival

The Sabbath Eve of Friday, November 30, is the third night of the eight day Hanukah Festival which celebrates the rededication of the Temple by the victorious Maccabees (in 167 B.C.E.). In honor of the occasion, the Sabbath Eve Services at Temple Shalom of Newton will include a special musical rendition by the full choir. This music entitled "The Joy of Dedication", was written by the late Cantor Hugo Adler. Rabbi Murray I. Rothman will conduct the services for the congregation which will begin at 8:15 p.m.

On Saturday, December 1, the first, second, and third grade students of the Temple Shalom Religious School will have a special Hanukah assembly, geared to their age group. There will be a candle-lighting ceremony, a Hanukah playlet and singing by the entire junior group. In addition, on December 1, grades eight, nine, and ten will be host to the First Unitarian Society, the Second Church of Newton, the Lincoln Park Baptist Church and the Myrtle Street Baptist Church at their assembly. The members of the Confirmation Class will take their guests on a guided tour through the new Temple at 175 Temple street, West Newton, and an explanation will be given during the Assembly of the historical significance of Hanukah as well as its meaning today. After a candle-lighting ceremony, they will all join in community singing of Freedom Songs from film.

On December 2, the religious school students in grades four through seven will have a similar assembly program with the addition of a playlet given by one of the fifth grade classes. Individual parties and the exchange of Hanukah gifts will be held in the classrooms following assembly both Saturday and Sunday mornings. The Junior high school group, "The Jots" will hold a Hanukah Hop, Sunday evening December 2 from 7 to 9 p.m.

On Sunday, Dec. 9, Rabbi Rothman and a representative group from the school will explain the significance of Hanukah to the television audience on Station WBZ-TV. These students and the Rabbi will make their appearance with participation in the program "Our Believing World" on Sunday morning from 9:00 to 9:30 a.m. A group of girls from the Hebrew Department of the Religious School will perform the candle lighting ceremony for the Sisterhood of Temple Shalom at their annual Hanukah luncheon, to be held Dec. 15.

Bank Shows Real And Counterfeit Money This Week

The Newton Highlands Office of the Newton Savings Bank will offer the public an unusual opportunity to try its hand at distinguishing counterfeit from genuine money.

According to David R. Donald, manager of the office, a "Know Your Money" display will be in the bank's lobby as a public service through this week.

The display will feature an assortment of bills ranging in denominations from $1 to $50, some genuine, some counterfeit. Below each bill is a number. This same number appears on one of 14 switch keys along the front of the display. To test one's skill a person simply selects what he believes to be a counterfeit or genuine bill, then pushes the corresponding switch key. This in turn will flash a signal light on the back panel which correctly identifies the bill—red if counterfeit, green if genuine.

Mr. Donald stated that he hopes that people will avail themselves of this opportunity to become better informed as to the defects in counterfeit money and thus perhaps lessen their chance of being victimized in the future.

EMANUEL GOLDBERG of Newton, above, has been appointed to the Massachusetts Commission Against Discrimination by Governor Herter. He will complete the 32 months remaining of the term of George W. Cashman of Wellesley who resigned from the MCAD to fill a vacancy on the bench of the Boston Juvenile Court. Mr. Goldberg served on the staff of Governor Herter for the past four years.

Local Residents Named Officers Girl Scouts, Inc.

Two Newton residents were elected to office in the corporation of the Massachusetts Girl Scouts, Inc. at the annual meeting held Tuesday in Waltham.

Named a vice president of the corporation was Mrs. Harry M. Myers of Newton. Mrs. Henry C. Kneppenberg of Newton was elected treasurer.

Main theme of the meeting was "Camping", with reports being presented from all groups during the morning and afternoon sessions.

A CORRECTION

In the list of names under the photograph of Troop 190, Girl Scouts from the Ward School, the name of Donna Freedman was given as "Donna Needham." This typographical error rightly made Miss Freedman unhappy and we are only too glad to correct this error.

an important message to Dads with YOUNG CHILDREN

Few of us are able to save enough money today to provide for our families after we are gone — and our income stops. So life insurance becomes an absolute "must" for young family men.

The typical Father of young children needs insurance equal to THREE TIMES his annual income as a minimum! Few feel they are able to afford this so the problem is to get the MOST protection at the LOWEST cost. That's why low-cost Savings Bank Life Insurance has become so popular. For example:

A man age 28 can get $5,000 of 5-Year Renewable Term Insurance for only $3.20 a month, less dividends. He can get $10,000 for $6.40 ... $15,000 for $9.60 a month.

Ask your Savings Bank exactly how much protection you can get at your age, for whatever you can afford to spend. Don't put it off — act today.

-- High School Activities --

Herb Pomeroy, formerly jazz trumpet-arranger for Lionel Hampton and Stan Kenton, will conduct student musicians of the Berklee School of Music in a program of original modern jazz compositions at the meeting of the Music Club on Thursday, November 29. This will be the premiere of these students' works which were composed specifically for presentation at Newton High School. Three groups representative of different jazz styles will be featured; big band jazz, jazz quintette, experimental jazz octette. Toshiko Akiyoshi, famous Japanese pianist, who made her first public appearance in this country at Newton High School, will be seen again at the high school—this time as a member of the octette and quintette. Father Norman O'Connor, noted authority on jazz, will be a participant in a panel discussion on the music presented.

This past summer Josie Kaplan, a senior at Newton High School, attended a ten-day Junior Red Cross convention at Hood College, Maryland. While there, Josie met teenagers from eleven different countries.

Five representatives from Newton High School, Susan White, Dena Evans, Judy Goldstein, Barbara Whiting, and Bodil Westergren went to Beaver Country Day School to discuss North Atlantic Tretay Organization with members of thirty three other schools and representatives from foreign nations.

Michael Teitelman, who graduated from Newton High School last June, has been appointed a sports writer on the staff of The Albrightian, student newspaper at Albright College, Reading, Pennsylvania, after a month of competitive try-outs against other members of the freshman class. Mike was an active member of the staff of The Newtonite, Newton High School's paper.

Highlands Congregational Church Notes

Two hundred and fifty members and givers to the Church Budget have accepted invitations to an Every Member Canvass dinner given by the Newton Highlands Congregational Church on Friday, November 30, at 6:30 p.m. in the church dining room. An old-fashioned Hymn Sing after the dinner will be followed by a program arranged by the Prudential Committee, R. Alan Chesebro, chairman. Friends of the church who can find it impossible to attend the dinner are invited to come to the program afterward.

Canvassers for the church will participate in a commissioning ceremony at the 10:45 A.M. Service on Every Member Canvass Sunday, December 2nd, in preparation for their work that day.

Spotlight On Weeks

Weeks Junior High is very proud to have won the title of Junior High School City Champion, in football, this year. Led by coaches Mr. Finan and Mr. Nathanson, the team went on to victory after victory. Perhaps one of the reasons for their triumph is the enthusiasm shown by students and cheerleaders at the rallies preceding many of the games.

A dance, The Varsity Drag, was held on Friday, November 16th, at Weeks to celebrate the victory. The high spot of the evening was the awarding of letters to the Varsity team by its coaches.

The ninth grade class, under the leadership of President Jon Barron, conducted its first grade assembly of the year on November 14th where the officers and members were sworn in. Speeches were given by the principal, Mr. Davidson, the assistant principal, Miss Glenn, the faculty advisor, Mr. Henderson, and Jon Barron.

The extra-curricular activities at Weeks are once again underway. The Drama Club, under Mrs. Bender's supervision, is currently making preparations for a Christmas-Chanukah program to be presented to the school in a few weeks.

NEWTON

Miss Joan Mueller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman F. Mueller of 124 Elmwood road, Newton, was recently named to the Dean's List of Western College for Women, Oxford, Ohio. Miss Mueller is a senior this year majoring in Elementary Education. This is the second time her name has appeared on the Dean's List.

HIGHLANDS

Miss Polly Veinott of 9 Carver road, Newton Highlands, who was graduated from Newton High School in 1954, has completed her studies at the Katharine Gibbs School in Boston and has secured a position through the Placement Department of the school with Ludlow Manufacturing and Sales Company in Needham.

Fans of the horror films may really be horrified when they see one of their favorites, Boris Karloff, doing a song-and-dance routine with Rosemary Clooney in a forthcoming teen film. They forget that before he started his scare-em career, Karloff was well known on the dance stage in London.

Sid Caesar has a Dollar a Year club going to help finance the cancer research project of the City of Hope Hospital . . . The 20,000th stunt on Art Linkletter's "People Are Funny" was to send a man hitchhiking to Texas to cash a $1000 check — written on a huge watermelon.

Cornel Wilde portrays himself in one of the "Father Knows Best" episodes made recently. It concerns what happens in a small town when a celebrity becomes involved in a local incident.

June Havoc is bubbling over about a new series, "My 70 Sons," being prepared for her by writers Nate Monaster and Al Ahlsberg. In it she plays the mother of a teenage daughter who inherits a military academy.

Student Bazaar

A trio of students from the Newton are in charge of the International Bazaar to be held from 2 to 4 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at the Beaver Country Day School in Chestnut Hill. The Misses Melinda Baster, Sherry Redd and Penelope Warren have organized the sale of Christmas gifts, home-made food, books, games and toys that will replenish the coffers of the International and the Social Welfare Committees.

Through the American Field Service, Miss Barbel Sohr of Germany has come to spend her senior year at Beaver; a project financed by the students through their International committee. Miss Sohr is spending the winter as the house guest of Dr. and Mrs. Allan P. Joslin of 99 Franklin Street in Newton.

Miss Baster and Miss Redd, daughters of Mr and Mrs. J. Dell Baster and Mr. and Mrs. William S. Redd, are neighbors on Stoney Brae Road in Newton Highlands and Miss Warren lives with her parents, the Frederick J. Warrens, at 62 Gammons Road in Waban.

Carr PTA Hobby-Science Exhibition

The Carr PTA meeting November 13, consisting of a Hobby-Science Show, and a lecture on hobbies by Mrs. George Ekwall was a tremendous success. Booths with displays were held over until Friday, November 16, to give representatives from other schools an opportunity to enjoy them and make notes.

Much credit for the fine show goes to Mrs. Alex Jigger and her assistants, Mrs. Herbert Wall, Mrs. Parker Lord and Mrs. Joseph Farina. Sam Patriacca, custodian, was aided by Lou Beckman, Al Marzilli, Alex Jigger, Ranger Farrell and Robert Burkhardt. Mrs. Paul Levine and Mrs. Jerry Berman served refreshments after Mrs. Ekwall's lecture, and many others contributed their efforts and talents to the attractive and informative exhibits.

Doris Bramson At Waban Woman's Club

The Waban Woman's Club will meet next Monday, December 3, at the Waban Neighborhood Club House at 2 p.m. when Mrs. Doris Bramson Whitehouse will present "Broadway to You!"

Mrs. Whitehouse presents reviews of the current New York plays, with dramatized scenes, and stories of the actors and authors. She has an enviable theatrical background, and is known in the theatre as Doris Bramson. As a child actress she worked with such great stars as Sarah Bernhardt, Joseph Jefferson, Richard Mansfield and others. She knows her theatre, both as an actress and director, and is well equipped to bring the New York stage to the Waban Woman's Club, Monday.

Christmas Tea This Wednesday

A beautiful program has been planned by the Woman's Society of Christian Service for the annual Christmas Tea to be held Wednesday, December 5, at 1:45.

It is primarily arranged as a reception to the new members, and is in charge of Mrs. Theodore Koch.

The program will consist of a Christmas play reading, "The Other Wise Man," by Henry Van Dyke. This will be directed by Mrs. Arthur Gregorian and Mrs. John Rambeau, and the leading part will be taken by Rev. Hamilton Gifford. Following will be unusual Christmas carols sung by Mrs. Kenneth Bernard and accompanied by Mrs. Hamilton Gifford.

The festive tea will be headed by Mrs. John Newton, hostess.

STAMP AND COIN CLUB
Reporter: JOAN HOOPS

A stamp and coin club has recently been started by Mr. Manning, a Junior II social studies teacher. This interesting club has been formed for the purpose of giving an opportunity to eighth graders to swap stamps and coins, exchange methods and techniques of improving their collections, and help stimulate beginners with their collecting.

Officers of the club are: President, Phil Palisoul; vice president, Joe Schneider; secretary, Carolyn Caruso. Other members are: Robert McLean, John Prescott, David Nixon, Stephen Hecht, Thomas Harney, Gerald Berman, Richard Barry, Ed Lipof, Alan Witty, John Forrest, Joe Leary, Peter Ingham, Marie Paul, Ann Price, Nancy Wallman, Bradford Thurston, Thomas Shelley, David Fazio, Dan Kent, Jay Lavely, Ken Burns, Tom McMammon, Baxter Gray and Elliot Sherman.

Future plans of the club are to have informal discussions with community dealers and other seakers who will come. It is also planned to have a display of stamps and coins in the office floor showcase.

WARREN LOSES
Reporter: SCOTT SILLIMAN

At Warren Junior High School on Friday, November 9, Bigelow's Varsity won over Warren's Varsity by the slight margin of 7-6, Warren's downfall came when they failed to get the extra point after the touchdown. Fullback Tony Lavely tossed four consecutive passes to right end, Fred Lundberg, but Warren lost the ball to Bigelow before they could get the six points necessary to win the game.

Bigelow's touchdown came in the first period when the right halfback plunged through into the end zone. The winning point was made on a quarterback sneak.

RED CROSS ASSEMBLY
Reporter: EDITH PRENTICE

On October 30, 1956, an assembly about the Red Cross was presented. Roseline Rizza, the president of Warren's Junior Red Cross, Dorothy Derrick, David Fox, Vincent Cokely and Mrs. E. Dana Kendall, director, Junior Red Cross, Newton Chapter, spoke. A film, "Disaster in the West," about the floods on the Pacific Coast and the work of the Red Cross was shown. To end the assembly Warren's cheerleaders, Peggy Wells, Jill Schofield, Cindy Bishop, Judy Mara, Roxie Sanderson, Linda Covich, Carol Lovell, Melanie Mootrey, Nancy Blacher and Beverly Warren cheered for the Junior Red Cross and for Mrs. Priscilla Daudelin, head of Warren's Junior Red Cross.

MIDDLE EAST
Reporter: Edith Prentice

On November 13, an assembly was presented to the pupils of Junior II-III by Mrs. Ann Kerr, a social studies teacher at Warren. Mrs. Kerr spent a year in Lebanon as an exchange teacher. While teaching in Lebanon she traveled extensively in the Israel and the Arab countries.

The country, climate and conditions under which the people in that part of the world live were explained by Mrs. Kerr. She then showed colored slides which were taken during her travels.

The assembly was particularly interesting because it provided some background material for understanding the problems that exist today in the Middle East.

WARREN DEFEATS DAY
Reporter: SCOTT SILLIMAN

In a close battle between Warren Junior High School and Day Junior High School on Thursday, October 25, Warren outscored Day on an interception by Robert Johnson on the Day 15-yard line and ran over for the touchdown to clinch the game. The extra point was made by Charlie Nelson on a quarterback sneak.

The game was played at Warren. Both teams showed good defense on the playing field.

DOING SHARE

On Election Day many members of Junior I did their share in "getting out the vote." They offered their services free as baby sitters while their parents went to the polls to vote. Those who performed this service were James Rivers, Dee Reilly, Frank Macusty, Bonnie Burkhart, Diane Hussey, Anna Johnson, Fred Tobio, Donna Bloom, Dorothy Murray and Barbara Capello.

NEW TEACHER
Reporter: JOAN CARUSO

The following is a biographical sketch of Mrs. Ann Kerr, social studies teacher, who joined the Warren faculty this September: Educational background: Oxford College in Santa Monica, Cal., exchange student for one year in Lebanon. Teaching experience: one year Beymouth, Lebanon. Home state: California. Travel: Europe and the Middle East. Family: Mrs. Kerr's husband is a student at Harvard University where he is completing work on his doctorate. Comments on New England; Mrs. Kerr misses the mild climate of California and finds it hard to adjust to the crisp fall weather of New England.

FORD MOTOR AWARDS
Reporter: EDITH PRENTICE

At the weekly assembly on Nov. 6 awards were presented to Warren Junior High School students from the Ford Motor Company's Industrial Arts Program. They were presented by Whitman S. Brown, Alan Morrison received honorable mention in the Graphic Arts Department. H. Ward Manghue received a certificate of award and achievement as did the Warren Junior High School. Sue Haake, Allen Zelman, Peter Arnold, Sam Appel, Sam Tower, Baxter Gray, Alan Seeler, Steve Rosen and Barry Bean received certificates for paticipating in the program.

Following the presentation of the awards a news film was shown to the members of Junior I and Junior II.

Woman's Association

The regular meeting of the Woman's Association of Central Congregational Church, Newtonville will be held Wednesday, December 5. Sewing and surgical dressings groups will meet at 10 o'clock as usual, and luncheon will be served at 12:30.

Newtonville Woman's Club To Discuss Law

Women—and the Law, will be the topic discussed by Mrs. Norman Alden Downs at the regular meeting of the Newtonville Woman's Club, Monday afternoon, December 3. Mrs. Downs is an experienced lecturer, who brings to her subjects a fresh charm and vivacity that is interesting, with an instructive, entertaining approach illustrated with dramatic examples. She was educate at Boston University and received the L.L.B. degree from Northeastern University School of Law.

Mrs. Elmer W. Littlefield and Mrs. Leon L. White will be cohostesses for the coffee hour at 1:30 p.m. Serving on their committee are Mrs. John M. O'Donnell, Mrs Carl J. Grip, Mrs. Allen Sexton, Mrs. Thomas Blair and Mrs. Henry M. Whitney. Pourers will be Mrs. Wilbur J. Witty and Miss Lisette Henderson. Mrs. Frank Simmons, president, will preside at the business meeting.

About fifty members of the club recently enjoyed a guided tour to the Isabella Stewart Gardner Museum in Boston. A most entertaining program of operatic arias was presented in the music room by Richard Gilley, tenor, accompanied by Delores Rodriquez. The guests were invited to tea in the Dutch Room. Here Mrs. George Tracy and Mrs. Walter F. Burt presided at the urns. Arrangements for the affair were made by Mrs. F. M. Simmons.

Newell Club News

"What Books Shall I Give for Christmas?" will be the subject of a talk to be given by Mrs. Edward F. Patterson to the Newell Club December 3, at 2 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Henry C. Jones, 48 Ruthven Road, Newton.

Following a business meeting and the program tea will be served by Mrs. Jones, assisted by Mrs. Nelson R. Scott and Mrs. Henry R. Condon.

The Mass. State Board of Directors of U. S. Junior Chamber of Commerce met at Framingham on Nov. 18. It was announced at the meeting that the "Miss Massachusetts" contest would be held in Boston in 1957 and the Junior Golf Tournament would be held in Lowell. The next monthly meeting of the Newton Junior Chamber will be held on Tuesday, December 11, at the Pillar House, Newton Lower Falls.

Sauce for the Goose

"Why mama," cries Susannah Piffin, with a note of awe in her voice, "you look so different today! Tell me, what have you done?"

"Very simple, my dear," replies her mother with obvious pleasure. "In an unguarded moment our father promised that if Mr. Eisenhower were elected I might have anything I want at The Country Store. So I have chosen this yummy cashmere sweater.

"And I am sure when your father sees mine he will want one of the men's kind too."

Unitarian Church Notes

This Monday evening, all the teachers, officers and assistants of the Unitarian Church of West Newton's Sunday School will meet in the parish house to hear a report by Mr. and Mrs. John Stackpole, and to complete plans for this season's Christmas festivities.

The Stackpoles will talk on their experiences as delegates to the Star Island Unitarian conference last summer.

Members of the religious education committee, under Harry B. Taplin and Edward Y. Walker, will discuss the Christmas pageant presentation, while co-chairmen Mr. and Mrs. David Jackson of Auburndale and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Samberg of Waban will arrange for the annual Christmas party.

Re-elected

Jeanette A. Tempesta, 49 West street, Newton, has been re-elected Secretary-Treasurer of the Student Council at Northeastern University.

Miss Tempesta is a College of Liberal Arts third-year student majoring in biology.

A dean's list student, Miss Tempesta is active in student activities participating in the Husky Key, school spirit organization, Student Union, Biology Club, and Drill Team.

Miss Tempesta is a graduate of Newton High School and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donato Tempesta, Newton.

Newtonian

Army PFC Robert C. Osterberg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Osterberg, 13 Brooks st., Newton, recently qualified as expert in firing the M-1 rifle in Munich, Germany. Osterberg, assigned to Company B of the 11th Airborne Division's 127th Engineer Battalion, entered the Army in January 1955 and completed basic training at Fort Campbell, Ky. The 19-year-old soldier is a 1955 graduate of Newton High School.

N. H. Woman's Club Plans All-Day Meeting

Two one-act plays, "The Six Wives of Calais" by L. duGarde, Peach, and "Culture" by Mirjane Strong were presented by the Drama and Literature Committee of the Newton Highlands Woman's Club yesterday, at the Newton Highlands Congregational Church Parish House.

Hostesses for the dessert and social hour preceding the meeting were Mrs. Theodore J. Hoppe, and Mrs. Donald Root. Mrs. James Zimmer presided at the business meeting. Mrs. N. Henry Larson, 12th District Representative, and Mrs. W. Stewart Garniss, Chairman, Division of Drama, Massachusetts State Federation, were special guests.

On Wednesday, November 5, the American Home Committee has planned an all-day meeting at the Workshop, starting at 10:45 a.m. During the morning, a film entitled "The Spud and You" will be presented by the First National Stores. Then "The If in Thrift" will be discussed by William G. Read, of the Savings Bank Life Insurance Council. At noon, coffee and dessert will be served by the committee. Members are asked to bring a box lunch. At 1:00, a slide lecture entitled "Celanese Fresh Viewpoint" will be presented, giving new ideas for room decorating in the Do-it-with Fabrics. At 1:45, Mrs. Robert Comfort, formerly of Dennison Manufacturing Company, will demonstrate trimmings for mantle, windows, and doors, in a lecture entitled "Holiday Greetings at Your House." A door prize will be given. Chairmen for the day are Mrs. Lloyd A. Patrick, and Mrs. George S. McManus.

Hyde School PTA

Robert Ward, president of the Hyde School P.T.A. opened the first meeting November 15 to an audience that outnumbered the seating capacity of the auditorium.

After a short business meeting, the parents adjjourned to their respective children's classrooms to hear the teachers describe the curriculum and progress to be made during the school term.

Everyone felt it was a most informative evening and left with a feeling of admiration for the teaching staff and their goals.

Unique 'Investment' Plan Aids Women's Society at N. C. Church

Last spring each member of the Women's Benevolent Society of First Church, Newton Centre, was given a dollar and asked to invest it in a productive talent. On Wednesday the results of this investment will be tallied.

The Ways and Means Committee has planned a full program of activities for this important day. The coffee and social hour will be at 10 a.m. arranged by Mrs. Nathan Pearson, followed by a fun hour at 11 a.m. under the leadership of Mrs. Walter H. Dietz, Jr. Luncheon will be served at noon with Mrs. John H. Nichols Jr. and Mrs. Paul H. Pierce acting as hostesses, followed by bridge from 1 until 3 p.m.

Members have invested their dollars in flour, sewing materials, garden produce, cider apples, etc. Some have sold their services as ironers, seamstresses and typists. One member has sold frozen fish caught by her husband. Last year's Women's Benevolent Society president, Mrs. Walter C. Tong, has sent her contribution all the way from Malaya, where she earned it by teaching English to the natives. The first contribution was turned in by Mrs. Albert E. Bloom, who made and sold many beautiful knitting bags out of scraps of upholstery materials. Many members, instead of working, have acquired their contributions by saving.

This is a new venture for First Church and takes the place of the annual bazaar held for many years. It has been enthusiastically accepted and great expectations are held by the Ways and Means Committee for the achievement of their goal. The co-chairmen are as follows: Mrs. Duncan A. Brash, Mrs. James R. Cobb, and Mrs. Samuel H. Back. The President of the Women's Benevolent Society is Mrs. L. Sumner Pruyne.

Northeastern Faculty Wives Club Party Sat.

Northeastern University Faculty Wives Club will sponsor an evening of games for faculty members and guests Saturday evening, December 1, at 8:00 in the University Commons, Student Center Building, 360 Huntington avenue.

Proceeds from the party will be used as a Scholarship Fund for a deserving coed attending the University.

Entertainment will consist of bridge, canasta, scrabble games, and an auction. Attendance and table prizes will also be awarded.

Members of the committee from Newton include: Mrs. Stanley O. Robinson, 46 Lafayette road, Newton Lower Falls; Mrs. Chester P. Baker, 31 Bow road, Newton Centre; Mrs. Louis Cooperstein, 44 Whitney road, Newtonville; Mrs. James T. Barrs, 166 Chestnut street, West Newton; Mrs. Warren C. Dean, 213 Jackson street, Newton Centre; and Mrs. Norbert Fullington, 15 Lawn avenue, Newtonville.

Chestnut Hill

George Stephan Pransky of 126 Manet road, Chestnut Hill, has been elected co-captain of the soccer team of the Holderness School in Plymouth, N. H. He is also on the basketball and track teams. Before attending Holderness, George attended the Weeks Junior High School.

Day PTA To Sponsor Whist Tomorrow Eve

The Military Whist Party to be held tomorrow, November 30, in the auditorium of the Day Junior High School, Walnut street, Newtonville, will help provide funds for additional material for the school reading program, according to G. Dana Sprague, president of the Day Parent-Teacher Association.

Parents and teachers alike have become increasingly aware of the necessity of making available to the young teenage students more books to cover various needs. The individual classes need remedial reading materials. In addition, the library budget cannot possibly provide all the desirable supplementary books in which the students are interested, including fiction, biography, career books, and scientific works

At a recent Day PTA Board meeting this was explained by Ralph Morse, school principal, and it was decided to allocate money to his discretionary fund for this purpose. The chief money-raising activity of the Association will be the Military Whist Party, arranged by the committee under Mrs. Wayne Schell. Mrs. Osten Anderson, and Mrs. William O'Connell.

Tickets for the whist party may be obtained from division room mothers, from members of the Day PTA executive board, or by calling Mrs. Edward Josephson at BIgelow 4-4648.

MISS MARION NUTTER

Miss Nutter's Engagement Is Announced

At a luncheon, Dr. and Mrs. Denton Gove Nutter of Newton Centre and Pocasset, announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Marion, to Mr. Bruce Bradford Bredehoft, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence C. Bredehoft of Springfield, Illinois.

Miss Nutter was graduated from Lasell Junior College in 1955 and is a senior at Lesley College. Her fiance was graduated from Massachusetts Institute of Technology in 1956 and is secretary-treasurer of his class. Mr. Bredehoft enters active service in the U. S. Air Force next June.

Community Chorus Notes

Rehearsals are in progress as Newton Community Chorus prepares for its annual Christmas concert, on Dec. 16. Several choruses from "The Messiah" will be featured on the program. Assisting the 60-member chorus will be the 150-voice "A Cappella Choir" of the Newton High School, and the Newton Community Orchestra. James H. Remley, director of music, Newton public schools and Lasell Junior College, is conductor and the chorus is accompanied by Mrs. John Ogden Fisher.

From Alaska comes this word of interest as we learn that two of our former members are now singing many miles away. Recently at Anchorage, the community chorus presented a festival of music, conducted by Robert Shaw. Mrs. Benita Colyer participated in this concert. Then in Fairbanks, Miss Edna Dalbert took part in the presentation of Elijah, conducted by Keneth Weaver. We congratulate you anchorage community chorus and Fairbanks Community Chorus.

Modern Trends In Education Topic At Countryside PTA

Dr. M. Virginia Biggy, assistant professor in education at Tufts University and director of instruction at the Concord public schools, spoke on "Modern Trends in Education", at Countryside School, Wednesday, November 14, to about 200 parents. She brought out the point that in elementary education there is a shifting of goals. A change in attitude has put more emphasis on teaching tolerance and friendliness, and in recognizing the differences in the needs of individual children. As for method, the biggest strides have been made in the teaching of reading and arithmetic. Following Dr. Biggy's speech, refreshments were served in the gym.

The Countryside Discount Fair held at the school gym both in the afternoon and evening of November 14, was arranged by Mr. and Mrs. Yale Goldman. There were eight booths at which articles could be purchased at a discount. Dancing was available to those who desired it.

"Bud" Hawkes Tigers Outplay Turkey Day Rival, Winning By 32 to 13

"Bud" Hawkes powerful Newton Tigers completely dominated and outplayed a hapless Brookline squad in posting a 32-13 Thanksgiving Day rout, before 8,200 near-frozen fans at Dickinson Stadium. The contest was hard fought all the way, and featured a wild, old-fashioned donnybrook in the second period which involved some dozen players from both sides.

A heavy Wednesday rain and a cold, icy wind throughout the day, forced the game to be played under adverse conditions, but it did not have any noticeable affect on the Orange and Black.

Brookline won the toss, but elected to kick-off in hope of using the strong wind to their advantage, but this strategy backfired as Newton returned to their 33 yard line, and in less than two minutes marched for a touchdown. After three ground plays gave the Tigers a first down at their 47 yard line, Donny Christensen broke over left tackle into the Red and Blue secondary, and behind tremendous blocking raced to a 53 yard TD. The try for point was wide and to the right, so the score remained 6-0.

Neither team could produce a sustained march for the rest of the period, and exchanged punts until early in the second quarter. With Christensen ripping holes in the Brookline line, Newton marched into Red and Blue territory. Christensen picked up five over guard and then drove to the forty yard line. Mixing up his plays beautifully, Vento slipped back behind great protection and fired down the middle to halfback Manny Connerney, and Connerney neatly cut to the sidelines and raced twenty more yards for the second Tiger TD. The attempt for point was partially blocked, and the score remained 12-0.

At this point tempers flared, for when Brookline took possession and had begun to drive, the game suddenly broke into a wild melee of fists and punches. As fans started to pile out of the stands the police, coaches, officials, and several players who kept their heads, moved in to break it up. The two captains gave gestures of apology, but the game continued to be a rough tough contest all the way.

When the Brookline ground attack began to roll behind the savage running of little Donny Hootstein and Lee Munsen, Newton moved into a tight defensive formation which was so effective versus Lynn English. This places a tough seven man line with two linebackers less than a yard in back of scrimmage against the runners, with the defensive backs about seven yards back of the line of play.

When the running attack stalled, quarterback Varnum attempted to throw, but his first aerial was intercepted by Ronny O'Laughlin and he returned it to the Brookline thirty yard line.

Vento kept the action in the air, as he hit Johnny Beggs on the eighteen yard line, and two plays later threw a great pass to O'Laughlin in the end zone for the third Tiger TD. Vento then passed to Johnny Beggs for the extra point, and Newton walked off at half-time with a 19-0 lead.

Christensen and company wasted little time in moving that pigskin toward pay dirt at the start of the third quarter, and finally Christensen broke around the flank for an electrifying 40 yard touchdown run.

With Hootstein and Munsen picking up two and three yards at a plunge, Brookline began to move against the second string Tiger unit. Finally, Dick Steele piled over center for the needed yard and Brookline had broken into the scoring column. Newton quickly sent the first unit in once more, and with Vento taking to the air, Newton marched for a quick score. Johnny Beggs latched on to a short aerial and picked up his blockers to race 35 yards for the score. Tommy Gaffney kicked the extra point to give the Orangemen a 32-6 lead.

Brookline then took the kick-off and drove sixty odd yards in thirteen plays for their second score, with Lee Munsen bucking over tackle from the seven yard line stripe. Larry McNulty split the uprights, and soon after the game ended.

This victory gave the Tigers a record of 5-1-3, which is their finest effort since the state champions of 1953. The Tigers scored 178 points this season, while their defensive unit allowed 92 points in nine games.

The big difference in this Thanksgiving game was passing and depth. The obvious lack of an aerial attack from Paul Varnum enabled Newton to set its defenses accordingly, while Vento was brilliant in the passing department. Meanwhile the hard hitting Tiger line, finally wore down Hootstein in the third period, and that took care of the Red and Blue offense. Even the second and third stringers moved well against the inexperienced Brookline squad.

It has to be considered a good year for the Tigers and next year's team looks very promising to say the least. But now we focus our attention on the Newton basketball squad, which will be very lucky to survive with a record equal to that of the football team.

$1500 Is Contributed To UN Children's Fund Here

The children of Newton for the second year, through their contributions to the United Nations Children's Fund (UNICEF), have demonstrated their concern for the children of less fortunate countries than ours. The sum of just under $1500.00 was brought in "Trick or Treat" envelopes to the parties given in the thirty elementary and junior high schools on Halloween and turned over to "UNICEF Mothers" Miscellaneous contributions from individuals and from church and civic groups have since brought the amount to over the $1500.00 mark. In terms of "UNICEF pennies" this means that, as a gift from Newton's children, 150,000 children may receive vaccine that will imunize them against tuberculosis, or that 300,000 youngsters will receive a bowl of rice.

The Newton Committee for UNICEF, headed by Mrs. E. Tyler Parkhurst and sponsored by the World Affairs Council of Newton in cooperation with the School Department, conducted an educational program in the schools prior to the distribution of the 14,000 envelopes. Mrs. Ralph R. Shrader was in charge of the presentation of information regarding UNICEF. Films, film strips, posters, and booklets were made available to all principals and social studies teachers in the public and parochial schools, and will be obtainable from the Committee or the Visual Aid department of the High School throughout the year for use in United Nations projects. Twelve schools held programs during which the film "The Children", which tells the story of UNICEF, was shown. In these schools, where Mrs. Shrader also spoke before classes or Student Councils, there was a marked increase over last year in the amount contributed. The envelopes depicting what "UNICEF pennies" can do were printed by the Print Shop of the Newton Technical-Vocational High School as their part in the "Treat for the World's Children."

In participating in the UNICEF program, the children of Newton have joined over two million children in every state and as far away as Alaska and the Panama Canal Zone in helping the 600 million children who suffer from malnutriition and disease. Approximately one-half million dollars was collected last year in over 6000 communities—all by children. When the children of Newton brought their money for UNICEF to the parties given to them by the citizens of Newton, they were giving a "Treat" as well as receiving one.

The youngsters in sixteen of the thirty schools gave more this year than last. In round figures the amounts given were as follows:—Angier $67; Beethoven $100; Bowen $81; Burr $30; Cabot $57; Carr $35; Claflin $33; Countryside $27; Davis $33; Emerson $17; Franklin $48; Hamilton $22; Horace Mann $18; Hyde $27; Lincoln Eliot-Stearns $17; Mason-Rice $93; Memorial $41; Murray Road $14; Oak Hill $80; Peirce $81; Spaulding $46; Underwood $49; Ward $52; Williams $43; Bigelow Jr. High $112; Day Jr. High $17; Meadowbrook Jr. High $52; Warren Jr. High $63; Weeks Jr. High $67; Sacred Heart $25; and Centenary Methodist Church Sunday School $50.

The "UNICEF Mothers" who collected the contributions at the school parties were the following:—the Mesdames Annis Asaff, James A. Burns, George S. Cherniak, Robert Coleman, Hubert Corliss, William A. Diman, Herbert Downs, John A. Duane, Warren Dutton, M. T. Gallagher, Jon Gilbern, Jerome Grossman, Harry H. Ham, Sam Hedrick, Irving Hellman, Robert Hull, John G. Kuhns, Joel Leighton, Richard Lovel, Robert Mitchell, John Moriarty, Harry Mushlin, Frank Neal, Jr., Pauline Patriacca, Gordon Reynolds, Esmond S. Rice, Charles Robinson, George Sherman, William Sullivan, Allard Valentine, Joseph Weinreb, Ralph Werman, Harvey White, Herbert Wiezel, and Wendell Wilson.

MRS. JOAN CHRISTENSON has been appointed a case worker in the Medical Social Service Department of the Newton-Wellesley Hospital. She and her husband are making their home in Boston while he is a student at the Andover Newton Theological School.

Pass Resolution In Memory of Dr. Leo Barry

At the November meeting of the Newton Community Council Governing Board the following resolution of sympathy on the death of Leo Barry was passed and incorporated into its permanent records:

"Whereas: The Newton Community Council has lost, through death, a former member and past president of the Council,

Be it therefore resolved: That the officers and members of the Newton Community Council record with deep sorrow the untimely death of Leo Barry, on October 3, 1956. A board member from 1949 to 1956, he served three years as vice-president and two terms as president, always championing the Council's cause in his quiet, thoughtful and unwavering manner.

His masterful presentation convinced the United Community Services Membership Committee of the vital importance of the Newton Boys Club in this community, resulting in its membership as a red feather agency. His willingness to give so generously of his time and energy on various Council committees, his deep understanding of the philosophy and purposes of a Community Council, and its importance in our community earned him the respect and admiration of all who knew and worked with him. The Council feels deeply the loss of a valued and honored friend.

Camera Session To Be Held Here Monday Night

Monday evening, December 3, at 7:45, Cameracades, Inc. will hold another get-together for camera enthusiasts and their friends. This meeting, at the Newtonville Public Library Auditorium, is open to the general public. At this time, "Cameracaders," or camera enthusiast will bring in slides taken on some of the trips sponsored by the organization, for screening and analysis.

Dr. and Mrs. Nathaniel Pulling, members of the Boston Camera Club will be the commentators. Dr. Pulling's courses on Color Photography have been highlights of the Camera Club's programs these past two years, and he is an entertaining and constructive speaker.

Cameracades, Inc., is an organization which sponsors weekend trips and longer tours for anyone interested in color photography. At this time, announcements will be made concerning winter weekends. Sugaring-Off Parties and an outstanding Southern trip later in the spring. The public is cordially invited to attend this meeting.

Miss Judith Rothman of 133 Waban avenue, who was graduated from Newton High School in 1955, has completed her studies at the Katharine Gibbs School in Boston and has secured a position through the Placement Department of the school at Yale University in New Haven, Connecticut.

Proprietor of the shop is Sumner Garber who has had extensive experience in picture framing and art circles. Having attended the School of Practical Art in Boston, he has for the past eight years advised and sold art supplies to retail establishments throughout New England. He is still a manufacturers' representative for leading art material and picture frame manufacturers in the country.

Sumner Frame Shop offers a free estimate of the framing and restoration of any picture. The shop is open Monday through Saturday fro m9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Evening appointments may be made by telephoning the Sumner Frame Shop at DEcatur 2-9851.

Boston Catholic Directory To Be Issued Sunday

The 1957 edition of the Boston Catholic Directory will be on sale in all of the parishes of the Archdiocese Sunday, December 2. Established by His Excellency, the Most Reverend Richard J. Cushing, D.D., to fill a long-felt need for an authoritative handbook of diocesan information, the directory enters its 10th year of publication under the editorship of Rt. Rev. Ralph J. Gallagher.

Statistics given in the current issue show that the Catholic population of 1,511,144 reside in 382 parishes. The name, address, telephone number and ordination year of the 1,222 diocesan priests and the 874 religious order priests now serving the Archdiocese are included in one of the Yellow Sections and is a comprehensive telephone listing of churches, institutions and convents.

One section of the issue includes parish personnel and services; another pinpoints institutions; a third lists organizations of the laity. A second Yellow Section contains a Buyers' Guide.

A feature of the 1957 edition is the picture of the four archdiocesan Golden Jubilarians of 1957: Rt. Rev. Peter Abouzold, B.S., Rt. Rev. James F. Cassidy, Rt. Rev. Charles N. Cunningham, Rt. Rev. Joseph F. McGlinchey, P.A., D.D., LL.D.

Army 2d Lt. Robert J. Fee, 27, son of Mrs. Sadie MacKerrun, 46 Park street, recently was graduated from the field artillery officers basic course at the Artillery and Guided Missile Center, Fort Sill, Okla. Lt. Fee entered the Army in June of this year.

Bid Awards Made by Mishkan Tefila Temple at Meeting

Opening of the bids for the construction of the new Mishkan Tefila Temple and School House on Hammond Pond Parkway in Newton featured a special meeting of the Steering Committee at the School House on Walnut street in Newton.

Various phases of the bids were outlined previously at a special meeting by Percival Goodman, architect in charge of the project, who detailed the methods proposed under the alternate bid plan by which various stages of construction were contemplated.

Upon completion of the opening of the bids, awards were made to the lowest qualified bidders and it is expected that construction will start immediately.

Nathan Yamins, president of the Temple, presided at the meeting called at the direction of Robert Goldstein, chairman of the building fund drive, where discussion was concentrated on the bids and the construction stages, and the procedure for raising the required building funds.

Under Mr. Goldstein's direction, immediate solicitation of funds was started, following a temporary suspension in deference to the Combined Jewish Appeal drive, and members are now being urged to meet their pledges with cash, and additional pledges are solicited from unpledged and new members.

The building construction will proceed without delay on the 23-acre site which has already been cleared and ready for building following a contract which was let during the summer in preparation for the actual building construction. Barring unforseen delays occasioned by poor weather during the winter, construction will proceed uninterruptedly.

The design of the new Temple and School House has been acclaimed by the architectural world for its unusual treatment of the traditional elements of Jewish religious life, and yet is a highly practical and utilitarian design. The schoolhouse should accommodate all of the needs of the expected membership, and the Social Hall should serve the needs of at least 1000; plus the combined expected capacity of the sanctuary and social hal, the High Holidays services will accommodate close to 2,000 seats. The Chapel with its 100-seat capacity will highlight the architectural design keynoting the theme behind a beautiful setting of natural wooded landscape.

New Temple Youth Group in First Meeting

The newly-formed Youth Group of Newton's Temple Mishkan Tefila met for its first organizational session recently at the Newton schoolhouse on Walnut street to appoint David Selib as temporary chairman.

Present were 46 young men and women, ranging in age from 13 to 17, who heard brief remarks by Rabbi Israel J. Kazis on the role the group will play in Temple programs of the future.

Under the professional direction of Arnold Borofsky, former Youth leader at the Roxbury Temple, the new Temple group is patterned along United Synagogue Youth lines and expects to attain a membership of about 80, which will work toward final affiliation with the nationwide organization.

Social programs as well as cultural activities have been designed for the participating age groups by leaders. Currently under arrangement is a tea dance meeting for the next Sunday gathering.

Announcement has been made that regular Sunday meetings will be held henceforth at 4 p.m. at the Schoolhouse on Walnut street in Newton. Further inquiries may be addressed to the Temple office in Newton.

The following Newton area girls have resumed their professional training at Bouve-Boston School, which is affiliated with Tufts University, Medford: Margaret E. Canty, a senior in the physical therapy course, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Canty of 44 Shaw street, West Newton; Roberta Cooper, a sophomore in the physical therapy course, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert M. Cooper of 37 Burr road, Newton Center, and Barbara DeLuca, a junior in the physical education course, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. C. DeLuca of 350 Kenrick street.

At the beginning of the fall term it was announced that Miss Canty and Miss Cooper had been named to the Dean's List for the previous semester's work.

NAVY NEWSPAPER HONORS—While Editor James L. Harrington, Cohasset, of the Boston Naval Shipyard News watches, Assistant Editor Ruth L. Kaplan, Newton Center, of the publication accepts a huge Red Cross Feather Oscar from General Chairman Joseph W. Lund of the Greater Boston United Community Services Fund Drive. The award was presented to the News, official publication of the Navy Yard for the third successive year for the best industrial newspaper coverage of the Red Feather "story." A well-known public relations consultant and former Boston newspaper reporter, Editor Harrington is also affiliated with Acorn Films, a Boston organization sppecializing in television newsreels. Miss Kaplan, a syndicate writer for New England weeklies, has done extensive free lance writing for Miami, Philadelphia and New York newspapers.

"Meddiebempsters" Concert At Waban Neighborhood Club Saturday

Saturday, December 1, the Bowdoin College Glee Club, featuring "The Meddiebempsters," their famous augmented double quartet, will give a concert at the Waban Neighborhood Club at 8:30 p.m. sponsored by the Women's Association of the Union Church in Waban. The Glee Club is directed by Frederic Tillotson, Professor of Music at Bowdoin College.

The Meddiebempsters derive their unusual name from a town in northern Maine, Meddybemps, which was chosen by a group of undergraduates in 1937 because it was the first town in Maine to pay a federal tax. This group has toured Germany and other European countries for the past six summers under the auspices of the U.S. Army, Special Services.

Mrs. Fred G. Stritzinger is chairman of this event, assisted by Mrs. Shepard Williams and Mrs. Joseph C. MacDonald and their committees. Tickets at $1.50 may be purchased from Mrs. Raymond W. Blaisdell, DE 2-9344, Mrs. Warren G. Reed, DE 2-4669 or at the Union Church office.

NEWTONVILLE

Elizabeth Cornelia Waters, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold J. Waters of 744 Watertown street, has entered Pierce Secretarial School, 9 Arlington street, Boston. Miss Waters was graduated from Newton High School last June. She is enrolled in the two-year collegiate course at Pierce.

WABAN

Nancy Concannon of 46 Collins road, has been appointed assistant personnel director for the John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Company.

Miss Concannon joined the company's auditing department in 1945, shortly after her graduation from Regis College. Following a brief stay in that department, she was transferred to the policy department, and in 1946 was made an interviewer in the employment division of the personnel department. She was made assistant manager of employment in 1949, and became a staff assistant in 1952.

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS LAND COURT
Middlesex, ss.

To the Honorable the Judges of the Land Court for the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Respectfully represents George W. Hinman of Newton, in the County of Middlesex and said Commonwealth; that he is owner of a certain lot of land with the buildings thereon, situate in Newton, in the County of Middlesex and said Commonwealth, bounded and described as follows:

Easterly by Harrington Street forty-nine (49) feet;

Northerly by Lots B and C as shown on plan hereinafter mentioned seventy-two and 83/100 (72.83) feet;

Westerly by Lot C forty-two (42) feet;

Southerly by land of owner unknown seventy-two (72) feet.

Containing thirty-two hundred and seventy-six (3276) sq. ft. of land more or less. Being shown as Lot A on a plan made by William E. Leonard, dated November 4, 1926 and being the same premises now known as numbered 9 Harrington Street. Being the same premises conveyed by Hugh A. MacDonnell to the said George W. Hinman by deed dated April 5, 1927 and recorded in Book 5082, Page 31, Middlesex South District Deeds.

That the record title to said lot of land is clouded by a mortgage given by George W. Hinman, to Frank G. Hinman, dated April 5, 1927, and duly recorded Book 5084, Page 145, purporting to secure a note for $2000., payable in four years with interest annually, which mortgage appears to be undischarged, unassigned and unforeclosed on and by the record—or not properly or legally discharged of record:

That for more than twenty years after the expiration of the time limited for the full performance of said condition no payment has been made and no other act done in recognition of said mortgage; and

That the mortgagor named in said mortgage and those claiming under have been in uninterrupted possession of said land for more than twenty years after the expiration of time limited in said mortgage for the full performance of the condition thereof.

WHEREFORE your petitioner pray that after appropriate notices a decree may be entered on the foregoing allegations as authorized by Section 15, Chapter 240 of the General Laws as amended by Chapter 20, of the Acts of 1924.

GEORGE W. HINMAN.

On this first day of November 1956, personally appeared before me the within named George W. Hinman, known to me to be the signer of the foregoing petition, and made oath, that the statements therein contained so far as made of his own knowledge are true and so far as made upon information and belief that he believes them to be true.

Before me,
STEN G. NYBERG, Notary Public.

A true copy,
Attest:
SYBIL H. HOLMES, Recorder.

MORTGAGEE'S SALE OF REAL ESTATE
16 Kerr Path, Newton

By virtue of and in execution of the power of sale contained in a certain mortgage given by William M. Ellingwood and Eileen C. Ellingwood to Blanche Goldberg, dated August 9, 1956, and recorded with Middlesex South District Registry of Deeds, Book 8787 Page 466, for breach of conditions of said mortgage and for the purpose of foreclosing the same will be sold at public auction on the premises hereinafter described on Thursday, December 20, 1965 at 2:00 P.M., all and singular the premises described in said mortgage, to wit:—

A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon now known as and numbered 16 on Kerr Path in said Newton, and shown as Lot No. 3 in Block 79 on Plan entitled "City of Newton, Mass. Veterans' Housing Development Oak Hill Subdivision of Land" dated June 8, 1948, made by Ashley Q. Robinson, C.E., recorded with Middlesex South District Registry of Deeds in Book 7274, Page 431, bounded and described as follows:—SOUTHWESTERLY by M roadway by three courses, 12.10 feet, 33.58 feet, and 37.01 feet; NORTHWESTERLY by Lot 2 in said Block, 140 feet; NORTHEASTERLY by Kerr Path, 85 feet, and SOUTHEASTERLY by Lot 4 in said Block, 114.91 feet. Containing 10,238 square feet of land, being more or less. The above premises are conveyed subject to easements, restrictions and stipulations of record, if any there be, insofar as the same are now applicable and in force. Being the same premises conveyed to us by Deed of John L. Kelley et al Trustee of Kelley Realty Trust dated December 16, 1948, recorded with said Deeds in Book 7386, Page 411. Subject to a prior mortgage to Brookline Savings Bank for $9,000.00 dated August 26, 1954, recorded with said Deeds in Book 8315 Page 448. Said premises will be sold subject to unpaid taxes, tax titles and municipal liens if any there be. TERMS OF SALE: $500.00 to be paid in cash by the purchaser at time of sale. Balance to be paid in cash 10 days thereafter.

BLANCHE GOLDBERG,

Forty Red Cross Units in World Aid Hungarians

More than 40 Red Cross societies throughout the world are helping to care for wounded and suffering Hungarian peoples behind their border and other thousands who are streaming into refugee centers in Austria.

Gen. Daniel Needham, Boston Metropolitan Red Cross Chapter chairman, reported that the American National Red Cross has allocated more than $250,000 for the purchase of sorely needed food, medicines and clothing in Europe for distribution by the International Red Cross.

Repulsed at first by Russians, the neutral Swiss citizens of the International Red Cross have been able to begin a flow of relief supplies by truck convoys into Austria.

In Austria, some 500 Red Cross workers from 40 nations are helping to care for some thousands of Hungarian men, women and children who have sought asylum in Austria. They are registering for help at camps set up there.

With practically all of the windows in Budapest broken, a report from the International Red Cross says that fuel and clothing in the cold climate are especially needed.

The Red Cross met some of the partial needs for medicines by shipping a ton of medical supplies by barge from Vienna to Budapest.

The U. S. Army in Germany has contributed through the Red Cross some $180,000 worth of cots, blankets and other items for use of the Hungarian refugees in Austria.

High School Activities

The Newton High School A Cappalla Choir will join with the Community Choir on December 16 to present the famous oratorio, The Messiah, by Handel. A Hammond organ will be used to accompany the more than two hundred voice choir. The approach that the Choir has used in undertaking this work with the direction of Mr. Merritt and Mr. Realey is of special notice. Most of the students bought their own scores. Considering the many other activities of the pupils, sectional rehearsals held after school have been well attended. Some members even attended the Community Chorus rehearsals on Tuesday evenings.

One of the most important problems facing Newton High School is the parking problem. This situation concerns both students and teachers, because there is no municipal parking lot for the automobiles near the school. Except for a small parking lot behind Building I, along Lowell Avenue, Hull Street, Elm Road, Walnut Street, and various side streets is where teachers and students must park their cars. (It is necessary for most — if not all — of the teachers to drive to school because they live in other cities.) A recent poll taken of Newton High School students shows that about 40% drive to school, arriving from 7:35 to 8:10 in order to find a space. Most of the students drive to school because they want to get there early, live far away, or work after school. About 50% of the pupils would agree to have part of the athletic field utilized as a parking lot.

"I may be prejudiced, but I think our yearbook will be the best yet,'" say Harris Funkenstein, the editor-in-chief of this year's Newtonian. With Mr. Little as their advisor, Harris and the other editors have been working since last spring and by now have completed the senior section of the yearbook. Many new features will surprise the purchasers of the yearbook, such as an extended faculty section and the use of bright colors.

The Senior Supper will be held in the gym on December 8. A lively evening consisting of dinner and square dancing will be waiting every senior. Dick Beat and his orchestra will supply the music.

Davis P.T.A.

The Davis School Executive Board met on Monday evening at the Davis School. Mrs. Carl E. Hartbower presided and Mrs. Wayne V. Schell read the secretary's report.

Mr. J. Ellis Bowen discussed the very successful "Parade of Horrors" and the Halloween party. He listed helpful suggestions made by Mr. William J. Jones and him, to aid future Halloween chairmen.

Mr. Anthony J. Farrington and Mr. Max Greenberg were commended on their successful Chamber of Horrors and Mrs. Max Greenberg, the room mothers, Mrs. J. Ellis Bowen, the teachers, the principal and all the parents who assisted were thanked. The candid pictures taken by Mr. William H. Bright at the party will be shown at a future P.T.A. meeting.

The chairman of the Program Committee, Mrs. George B. Rubin discussed plans for the next general P.T.A. meeting, which is to be held on Monday evening, December 3. A timely program on the selection of worth-while toys is scheduled. Miss Burckhart of Wheelock College is acting as commentator and discussion leader.

Mrs. William H. Bright, chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, reported that the "Bake Sale" held on Election Day had been most successful. Mrs. James A. Warner gave the treasurer's report.

Mr. Paul F. O'Donnell, representing the Davis Boy Scouts brought the group up to date on Scout activities. Davis School P.T.A. sponsors the Troop.

Mrs. Charles Munson's report on the recent Community Council meeting was presented to the group. Miss Pauline A. Larson and Miss Janice A. Leporati, teacher representatives on the Board, listed the ways that Davis School has endeavored to enhance the appearance of the school and community.

Mrs. Henry A. Weiner is also a Community Council delegate from Davis P.T.A.

The report of the Health and Safety Committee was given by Mrs. Anthony J. Farrington, chairman. The recent school safety film, shown to the children had been well received and it is hoped a lasting impression has been made. Parents were urged to caution their children to be careful and to advise them to avoid West Newton Square when using their bicycles. Mr. Wayne V. Schell and Mrs. John S. Carder offered suggestions as to ways and means of minimizing hazards in the vicinity of the school.

Miss Mary J. Nugent, principal, pinpointed current Davis School activities.

Mr. Thomas F. A. Flynn, it was announced, is serving as Davis representative on the Human Relations Council.

Mrs. Hartbower expressed the appreciation of the group to Mr. and Mrs. Warren Houston who have attended to the P. T. A. correspondence, so promptly and capably.

The skating program at Davis is very popular with the boys and girls and Mrs. Donald B. Lawson reported that the youngsters are enthusiastic and well-behaved.

Mrs. Thomas F. A. Flynn stated that the deadline or the Davis Dateline is December 1. Items of interest from teachers and parents are solicited.

All parents are reminded to reserve Monday evening, December 3 and to be present at the P.T.A. meeting. A most worthwhile evening is promised.

David Lewis, who graduated from Newton High School, has recently received the Class of 1952 Premium at Brown University. The award is made annually to an outstanding student.

John Wadman, who also graduated from Newton High School, has been named to the Dean's List at Amherst College.

Miss Anderson Planning August Wedding

At a family party November 22, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Anderson of 5 Grayson lane, Newton Lower Falls, announced the engagement of their daughter, Alice Eunice Anderson, to Charles David Gordon, Jr., son of Mrs. Eleanor M. Gordon and the late Mr. Charles David Gordon of 35 Lindbergh avenue, West Newton.

Miss Anderson is attending the University of Massachusetts. Mr. C. David Gordon Jr. graduated from Dartmouth College in 1955, received a Master's Degree from Harvard, and is now teaching.
